KANSAS CORRESPONDENCE.

FORT RILEY, K. T., 5th Nov.

Messrs. Editors:—Strangely enough, Kansas remains "The observed of all observers." The heated strife over Slavery has subsided, only to be succeeded by another emulation among different Relief Committees, (as they are called) to decide which can be loudest in their outcries to the East for help. In a few words, Kansas is said by these wise doctors to be in a state of starvation.

At some principal points in the territory, committees have been formed, (or have formed themselves,) whose appeals are urgent for aid of all kinds. Their appeal is comprehensive. They want money for the starving poor of Kansas. They want clothes. They want food of all kinds for their use during the winter. They want seed also for the farmers to sow in the Spring. The Leavenworth Committee saw fit to end their appeal with this naive suggestion—that in all cases, it was hoped that the freight would be prepaid. How thoughtful! We call this pretty sturdy begging.

But the question arises—Is there great want in Kansas? Yes: great want of money, and of everything else usually craved by the people. There is probably not a man in the territory but what would assure you he is in great want of money. Your correspondent could mention many things of which he is in great want. So can all but savages, whose wants are supposed to be few and soon supplied. But it does not follow, with an inevitable ergo, that your correspondent should send a begging appeal eastward.

The drought has been general through Kansas. And unquestionably many fall short of their expectations. But there is supposed to be corn enough now in the territory to carry the people through the winter and spring. As for wheat, it has not yet been raised, for want of mills. Corn is now being sold to government and transported West. Vegetables have been raised in very considerable quantities. As for cattle and hogs, they graze on every slope, and run through every ravine. Countless herds of buffaloes are ranging fifty miles west of us. And, indeed, all winter domestic animals can find pasture.

The fact is: it is going to be very hard work for an industrious and prudent man to starve in Kansas the coming winter. As for those who spend all their money in traveling to idle conventions and in sitting at street corners, they are just as likely to starve as the same class East.

You know there have been contradictory reports on these matters from Kansas—dictated on both sides, partly, by self-interest. Our opinion is, there will be less suffering here this winter than among an equal number of inhabitants of New York. Of course the pioneer's life is a hard one. He is exposed to many inconveniences, and often has to wait long for prosperity. But all these burdens and delays are incident to his enterprise of making a home. He must bear them like a man. In five years' time he hopes to have a richer farm than any of you. As Young says:

"Pardon a thought that seems severe."

But in five years, when many of those who now deny themselves to give to the "Kansas poor," have nothing to fill but a garden patch, these same "poor" will rejoice in wheat fields and corn-fields, in sheep and oxen. But we bow to the authority of Hudibras, who assures us:

"Doubtless the pleasure is as great
In being cheated as to cheat."

We are very sorry the famine which is said to prevail here, has not affected the price of horses, and such superfluities. We know we bought one a while ago, and could not get the benefit of the famine at all, but had to pay his usual value, to the last dollar. WESTWARD.

NEWSPAPERS.—The Saco Democrat, a Douglas print, thinks,

It is a pity that there is not enterprise enough among the democrats in Rockingham county, to sustain a democratic paper upon business and political principles; in place of a pensioned press, that must expound democracy to suit its masters, even when they turn against the people and the democratic faith.

The editor of that same Democrat has sucked no little of Government pap, and would have had more if his candidate had been elected. It is hard for the partisan prints to go straight—either the paper don't suit the party, or the party don't suit the paper.

By the way, the Chronicle is the only paper in these parts, that never asked or expected any patronage from any party, and fears and favors none.

☞ Henry Ward Beecher lectured in Portland this week on "Young America," at 50 cents per head.

QUATTLEBUM.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The newspaper reports that Fort Moultrie has been occupied by a Charleston military company, is the only intimation of such an occurrence that has been received here. The War Department has given no order, and has no information on the subject.

The five thousand stand of arms recently mentioned as having gone South, were purchased here by the authorities of Virginia for the use of that State. They were of inferior quality.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Letters have been received from leading politicians in all the border slave States against secession.

The mercantile and monyed interest are almost unanimous for union.

Virginia depreciates the precipitate action of South Carolina. Senator Hunter is opposed to secession.

The seceding Convention of South Carolina is to meet on the 17th of December at Columbia.

Charleston, Nov. 14.—The excitement continued intense. The people are determined to send delegates to the Convention pledged to secession at any cost.

Volunteers including the German companies, parade daily with State colors.

Dispatches from the neigboring States are numerous, offering the services of ready equipped military companies, who will pay their own expenses, to aid the State in the event of coercion by the general government.

The banks have not yet suspended, but are expected to be compelled to do so within a week. A large amount of northern paper has been laid over, but none has been protested. The merchants scorn the idia of repudiation, confident of being able to meet their liabilities.

The Money Market is very stringent, the banks refusing to discount.

The ladies of the State have opened a subcription for a testimonial to General Cushing. It is proposed to be a silver miniature of the brig James Gray.

Mr. Lincoln has been burned in effigy at Aiken, S. C.

Charleston, S. C., Nov. 14.—The Mercury says the report of the taking of Fort Moultrie is unfounded, and that unless northern journals send out more reliable correspondents they must expect to have their fears excited by unfounded apprehensions.

Milledgeville, Ga., Nov. 14.—The bill appropriating a million of dollars to be used at the discretion of the Governor to put Georgia in a state of defence, has passed the House unanimously.

Milledgeville, Ga., Nov. 14.—Speeches are made nightly by Toombs, Thomas R. Cobb, and others, in favor of secession.—Stephens, Johnson, and others, are speaking in opposition to disunion.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 13.—The Union men are making vigorous efforts to send Commissioners to South Carolina and Georgia to induce them to abide the action of a Southern Conference.

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 14.—The South Carolina Legislature before adjourning removed all the restrictions against bank suspensions in that State.

WASHINGTON, NOV. 14.—Business men of Boston should not be deceived nor alarmed by reports of financial distrust and trouble here. There is no basis for them whatever. They are all manufactured by reckless and designing sensation correspondents.—Atlas.

SECESSION.—The telegraph and correspondents send long dispatches and letters to the Boston papers, giving rumors of conventions for secession, resignation, reprisals, and such like things in the South; but we have no room for many of them, and they are not worth publishing if we had. If it is always to be "heads I win, tails you lose," with the South, and they are always to have the turkey, no matter how soon the game is up.

SECESSION.—We go for yielding all the Constitution gives the South, to the last pound of flesh, but not a drop of blood unless it is in the bond. We have rights too, and we must maintain them. We are tired of this blaster; and if we cannot elect a President and inaugurate his administration because he does not own niggers and believe in the divine right of slavery, then let worse come to worst at once.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ Rev. Charles W. Reding, Representative elect to the Massachusetts Legislature from the Essex and Manchester district, was a native of Portsmouth, and in early life a printer, having worked at the Journal office. The Salem Gazette says that Essex County will have at least three of the printing craft (rather say profession) in the next Legislature. Is printing dull, that way?

☞ Mr. S. W. Mason, of the Boston Traveller, is reporting the "Auburn Poisoning Case," now on trial in this city,—for that paper. He, with one of the editors of the Chronicle, are the only reporters present. The Weekly Chronicle of Friday morning, will contain full record of proceedings to that time. Price 3 cents; in wrappers for mailing, 4 cents.

☞ It is probable that the "Auburn Poisoning Case," now on trial in this city, will occupy the whole week. Our report shows that the evidence for the Government was concluded on Thursday noon; and that for the defence was begun.

☞ The Douglas Democratic Congressional Convention, held in Dover last Tuesday, nominated Hon. Daniel Marcy as their candidate to be voted for at the next election.

GARIBALDI IN FAVOR OF RELIGIOUS TOLERATIONS.—The Messina correspondent of the London Times says that—"An interesting and welcome piece of intelligence will be that Garibaldi has granted permission to the English to build a Protestant church. A request was made by some of the resident English to that effect, and a piece of ground was suggested for purchase; the Dictator, however, in a most complimentary manner, acceded to the request, and presented the ground as a gift. Some forms will, I take for granted, have to be gone through in order to the confirmation of it, but the thing has been decreed by the Dictator."

☞ Not long since a man in Sauk Co., Wisconsin, married for his second wife his own step-mother, who, singular enough, was sister to his first wife. The lady is therefore not only step-mother and aunt to her husband's children, but also their grandmother, while the husband is step-father to his step-sisters. Her issue by this marriage will not only be own cousins to their step-brother, but uncle and aunts also. And the lady herself, being grandmother to her children and nephews, may be regarded as mother to herself, and child to herself, and therefore her own grandmother.

DEATH FROM EXPOSURE.—A Mr. Dow of Philadelphia, was found on the Railroad near the residence of Benjamin Doe, Esq., in Durham, on Sunday last. He was in an almost senseless state, and was removed to Mr. Doe's, where he expired in a few moments. The account that he gave of himself at the Public House at the Newmarket Junction was this—that he was born in Allenstown, N. J., but had resided in Philadelphia for years past,—that he was on a visit to his sister, who lived in Candia or did five years ago. The deceased was a cordwainer by trade and had a shoemaker's Kit and about two dollars in money about his person—also a ticket of the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad from New-Market Junction to Candia. It is supposed that he took the wrong train, and came as far as Durham or New Market. The deceased was about sixty years old.

A coroner's inquest was held before Benjamin Doe, J. S. Burnham and Moses Thompson, as Jurors, and the verdict was in accordance with the above facts.—Dover Enq.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION.—It seems almost incredible, yet is none the less a fact, that of twenty thousand persons who applied for inlistment in the U. S. army, only eighteen hundred were physically qualified for admission! Nine-tenths physically unfit for the service! Not more than one in nine of the applicants is accepted! This shows with what care war picks out its tools for the work of blood.

IS COTTON KING?—Look at it a moment, and it will be seen that this staple possesses no superiority over several others, and in truth is not of half so much consequence. The average cotton product is annually about seventeen hundred million pounds, and its value nearly one hundred million dollars, of which, as we have said, about two-thirds is exported for foreign consumption. But the wheat crop of the United States is worth annually, on an average, one hundred million dollars, the hay crop one hundred and fifty millions, the corn crop two hundred million, and the growth of live stock one hundred and fifty million. Now without instancing any other items, it is evident, that cotton is not king so far as actual value is concerned.—Atlas.

"MUM IS THE WORD."—Mr. Cass slaughtered himself by too much talk. Gen. Scott did not benefit himself by the tour for locating hospitals. Douglas would have received more votes had he refrained from his tortuous journey to his mother, and the "grave of his grandfather," and even the mild and persuasive eloquence of Breckinridge has annoyed his friends. In contrast with these, Fremont the gallant leader of 1856, and Lincoln the champion and the successful leader of 1860, have avoided all annoyance, by leaving the people to take them as they were, without qualification.—Atlas.

GOVERNOR'S HORSE GUARDS.—We understand that arrangements are in progress for a grand Ball, to be given by the "Horse Guards," in Concord, on the occasion of the annual meeting of the corps in January. The new members should hurry up their uniforms.—N. H. Patriot.

A new plan of lighting the coast has been suggested. Let every man who has applied for the situation of lighthouse keeper, stand on the shore with a Wide Awake torch in his hand. There will be no need of government oil.—Providence Jour.

INDIANA.—Official returns from 82 counties in this State give Lincoln 107,081, Douglas 84,531, Breckinridge 11,235, and Bell 5300. Lincoln's majority will probably be 5000.

NEW JERSEY.—The Presidential electors chosen in this State are Cook, Parker and Bunyon, Douglas Democrats, and Hornblower, Elmer, Evins and Scudder, Republicans.

GEORGIA.—Augusta, Ga., Nov. 14.—The popular majority in this State against Breckinridge is 2000.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.—From the Patriot we learn that Lincoln's majority in New Hampshire is about 9000.

GOOD COUNSEL.—Always be at work for the attainment of an object. If the object itself is not important, the pursuit is. The fox, when caught, is worth nothing—he is followed for the pleasure of the following.

MERCANTILE LYCEUM.—We think no more popular speaker than the Hon. Edward Everett could be announced to open the course of lectures before this Association. No "bush" is needed to induce the sale of tickets, to those who know the lecturers already announced. The gentleman who opens the course is one of the most eloquent orators in the country, and we think he will not fail to draw a full house. We learn that a limited number of tickets have been issued, and those who would secure them should apply immediately at the usual places.

☞ If you wish to spend a pleasant hour this evening, attend the Brodhead Society Festival at Jefferson Hall. Numerous attractions, with refreshments in abundance. It closes this (Friday) evening.

☞ At the recent Elgin (Canada West) Assizes, John Murdough, convicted of administering poison to his wife, with intent to kill, has been sentenced to be hung on Friday, December 22d. The wife recovered from the effects of the poison, and is now in good health.

Mr. Freeman Manter of Plymouth, Mass. was accidentally shot Tuesday, while on a deer hunt. The wagon in which he was riding with some other gentlemen, struck a stone causing his gun to explode. The charge of buck-shot passed through his thigh, severing the main artery, and causing his death in a short time.

A QUESTION.—At best, life is not very long. A few smiles, a few more tears, some pleasure, much pain, sunshine and songs, clouds and darkness, hasty greetings, abrupt farewells—then our little play will close, and the injurer and injured will pass away. Is it worth while to hate each other?

The Portland Courier says that in a certain female-woman case once tried in Bangor, a witness on the stand was asked by counsel if, to his knowledge, the woman was chaste. "I should think," said the interrogated young man, "she was chased about a quarter of a mile!" This was rather against the defendant.

☞ It is said that negroes have fallen 30 per cent. in value since the Southern revolutionary scheme began. We doubt it.

THE FIRST WIDE AWAKE.—Gideon, who, took 300 men with lanterns, and defeated the enemies of Israel, was the first Wide Awake of whom we have knowledge.

MELODEON FOR $35.

One of Prince & Co.'s Melodeons for sale for $35. CHAS. C. HARVEY.

To the Hon. Judge of Probate for the County of Rockingham, in the State of New Hampshire.

Respectfully shews George Annable, of Portsmouth, in the County of Rockingham, that he is the Guardian of Florence S. Annable and Robert W. Annable, both of said Portsmouth, minors, and heirs at law of Anna M. Annable, late of said Portsmouth, deceased, by the appointment of the Judge of Probate for the said County of Rockingham; that his said Wards are seized as tenants in common of one undivided fifth part each, in all two fifth parts, of a certain lot of land, with the buildings thereon, situated in Dover, in the County of Strafford and State of New Hampshire, and bounded northerly by Spruce Lane, (so called,) easterly and southerly by land of Isaac Twombly, and westerly by the old road leading from Dover to Piscataqua Bridge, containing ten acres, be the same more or less, being premises formerly owned by Eunice Sperlin, late of said Dover, deceased; and that it is necessary for the support of his said Wards, and will be conducive to their interest to have the premises sold; wherefore he prays that he may be licensed and authorized to sell the same, or any interest said minors have therein, at public auction, according to the statute in such case made and provided.

GEORGE ANNABLE, Guardian.

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 12, 1860.

State of New Hampshire, Rockingham, ss. Probate Office at Exeter, in said County, November 12th, A. D. 1860.

Upon the foregoing Petition it is Ordered, that a hearing be had thereon at the Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in said County, on the second Tuesday of January next; and that the Petitioner notify all persons concerned to appear at said Court, and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted, by causing said petition and this order thereon to be published three weeks successively in the Rockingham Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth, in said County, the last publication whereof to be at least thirty days prior to said Court. By order of the Judge,

S. D. WINGATE, Register of Probate.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heart Burn, Water Brash, Sour Stomach, Jaundice, Flatulency, General Debility, &c., find a ready relief and speedy cure in this great remedy.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS

Are believed by many who have been cured of the above diseases to be the only medicine which the materia medica affords for their infallible cure. It is not an alcoholic preparation, which, while giving a momentary stimulus, reduces the system in the same ratio; but one distinct and different from any medical preparation ever compounded, and one which will, in most cases, extract the disease by the roots and restore the patient to pristine health. In proof of which, testimony of the very highest and unexceptionable character is presented.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 8, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & CO., Boston.—

Gents:—Please send me by express two dozen OXYGENATED BITTERS. With us there is no increasing demand for this excellent specific for Dyspepsia and its attendant evils, and we know of no remedy more fully entitled to the confidence of the public. This much we say, disclaiming any intention of puffing the article, as its own merits are a sufficient guarantee of all that it purports to be. Very respectfully yours,

WM. H. PRESTON.

Messrs. SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston:

Gents:—Please to send me a new supply of the OXYGENATED BITTERS by the Eastern Express. So far as I can learn, these Bitters give the best satisfaction to the dyspeptic invalid, and afford relief not hitherto found in the list of the numerous specifics before the public at the present time.

Very respectfully yours, GEO. D. H. FAY.

S. J. COURT, PORTSMOUTH, Wednesday.

The Auburn, N. H. Poisoning Case.

Trial of Richard S. Richardson and Mrs. Sarah Ann Healey for the Murder of Stephen Healey.

Continued.

Mrs. Eveline Webster,—was present with Mrs. Richardson in her last sickness, and when she died. On the night of her death, witness, Mrs. Healey and Richardson, were present. R. and Mrs. H. went into an adjoining room, between 9 and 10 o'clock.—R. came out at half past 12, at the call of witness, by request of his wife; and Mrs. H. came with him. After attending to Mrs. R.'s wants, witness lay down in another room, staying two or three hours. On her return, R. and Mrs. H. left the room together, and were in another room three quarters of an hour, when Mrs. Richardson had breathed her last, and witness called R. and Mrs. H. They came out together. Saw no improper intimacy between the two, then, or ever. Mrs. H. had a cough, and was rather feeble.

Dr. Hayes, recalled—

Half a grain of strychnine is a mortal dose. Death usually ensues in about two hours after the commencement of the peculiar spasms, sometimes called Satanic spasms, peculiar to poisoning by strychnine.

Barzillai Currier,—of Amesbury, Mass. Witness' wife is the sister of Stephen Healey, deceased. Know Sarah Healey; have seen her write her name once.

Cross-ex.—Saw her write her name the day after the post mortem examination;—was three feet from her; she wrote a very firm, plain hand, for one so feeble. Took notice of her writing—but might not—[A letter was presented t witness:] he said "I think she wrote that letter." The Court asked—Do you judge by the hand writing? Ans. By that, and by the contents. Witness received this letter from my wife, the Friday night after Mr. Healey's death. When at Auburn, Mrs. H. said she wrote a letter for me to come down; think she said she felt so bad she did not write much. Saw Healey, July 4, 1859. He told me he had 75 acres of land; horse, cow, farming tools, &c.

Mrs. Mary Ann Currier, wife of the last previous witness. She identified the letter; says she received it from her son William; there was an envelope on it when she received it; but does not know where it is now; it was directed to her husband.

Cross ex.—Destroyed the envelope, burnt it, at the time of its reception. Why? Ans. Because I supposed I should not want it. [The letter was put in evidence,—and read. In it the writer stated that Stephen "died of the palsy," was sick only 24 hours, and would be buried on Thursday, at 10 o'clock, A. M. It was signed "S. A. H."]

AUBURN, March 6.

Dear Sister I have sad news to tell you Stephen is dead he he died this morning a bout ten o'clock—he died of the Palsy he was sick onely 24 ours It will be very suding news to you he will be Beried thursday at 10 O'clock for wecan not kep him eny long er I shall come down and see you this spring I do not feal like writing much

Yours S-A-H

Dr. Hubbard was recalled, and detailed several fatal experiments with strychnine, on frogs, &c., &c.

Cross ex.—Who had charge of the frogs, during the time of the experiments? Was you in the room all the time? No. What kind of a box were they brought in? Ans. A paper box. The Court thought it not very material;—but Mr. Clarke desired to know the condition of the frogs. Witness said they were remarkably active.

Frederick Kimball, of Manchester.—Knew Healey—employed him in chopping and cutting wood shortly before his death, say two or three weeks;—settled with him the Saturday before his death. Quantity 21 1-4 cords, or thereabout,—cut within these three weeks. Was with him twice, in that time; saw no signs of drinking.—Could not say positively that he cut all the wood himself; saw him cut part of it.

Cristy or Christina A. Richards.—Was for a short time at Healey's, with her sister, in the autumn of '59. Mrs. H. was absent for a few days,—and when she came home, brought by her husband, she asked how he bruised his face? She was told he fell down. She said she wished he had killed himself. She said also that instead of my sister's sending her husband for her to come home, she would rather have been sent for to come to his funeral.

Cross ex.—What caused him to fall? He had been drinking, and was quite drunk.—Witness and her sister procured a man in the neighborhood to stay there one night, on account of Healey's drunkenness.

George Sanford, of Auburn;—knew Healey, one year; worked near him, in the wood lot, the winter before his death, and up to that time; he worked very regularly, appeared in good health; did not see him drink intoxicating liquor, nor see him appear as if he was under the influence of such liquor.

[This witness was the man called in, by the last previous witness and her sister, on the occasion of Healey's drunkenness.]

Healey had told witness he drank liquor daily, half a pint in the morning. Witness once bought a pint of new rum for him.

Mrs. Anna E. Chapman—Lives in Manchester; knows Mrs. Healey, and Mr. H.; was at their house 5 or 6 weeks in the autumn of '59. Knows Richardson: saw him at Healey's house frequently, in that time; recollects R. wishing his wife to get liquor for him.

He had been drinking some that morning, and in the afternoon, after Richardson left, Healey wanted witness to get him some liquor, but she refused. He then asked his wife to get some; but she said no, for if he had more he could not work; but if he would drink enough to kill him she would get it for him,—and if she thought he would, she might be tempted to get it, and put something into it. He said he had no doubt she would, for she was tired of him, and wanted somebody else. Her reply was that anybody would be tired of such a man.

This witness testified to several of the things in the testimony of Christiana Richards;—and also that Mrs. Healey said he had made his will, and she was going to make hers.

Cross-ex.—He threatened to make his wife sorry, by shooting himself; saw him have the gun in his hand; threatened to do this as he said because his wife made too much noise, as she and Mr. Richardson were talking and laughing in the kitchen, while H. was in his bed.

Mr. Solicitor Bell here put in the will of Stephen Healey,—dated August 29, 1859, which was read. It gives $100 to his sister, and everything else to his wife. The will was proved by Sarah Ann Healey, executrix, in common form.

This closed the testimony on the part of the State, at 10 minutes before 12.

Mr. Wm. C. Clarke, of Manchester, then commenced an argument in behalf of the defence.

He urged the consideration that it was impossible that Healey died of strychnine; because 1, the body was not stiff; 2, because the left ventricle of the heart was not in the condition produced by that poison; and 3d, that he could not have been made to take such a quantity of strychnine as Dr. Hayes professes to have found, as it is so intensely bitter.

He next urged the liability and probability of his dying in a rum fit, and the consistency of the appearance of the body, with this hypothesis. And urged very strongly that the analysis of the stomach proved nothing.

"Our hypothesis is this: that as the appearances of the body were such as to make it impossible that the deceased died by strychnine,—therefore Dr. Hayes must have made a mistake."

The counsel urged that the buying of strychnine by Richardson was not material or uncommon; and that his story in regard to the strychnine was true; that the parties lived pleasantly; that his farm was not worth more than $500; and no inducement existed for Richardson or Mrs. H. to kill him.

Mr. Small, of Newmarket, followed him, also for the prisoners, commencing at half past 12, and made an eloquent address, or opening plea, lasting till 1 o'clock, when the Court adjourned to 3.

TESTIMONY FOR DEFENCE.

George W. Tappan, lives in Manchester; lived at the Island Pond House, 5 years ending a year ago last October; tended bar there three years. Knew Healey about a year before his death. He was accustomed to purchase liquor at that bar, about every day; I art he drank, and part he took away. Sometimes for three months he would carry some away every day.—Two quarts was the largest quantity he ever carried away. In his drinking at the bar, he drank very hard. Have refused him liquor many times; sometimes because his wife desired it, and sometimes because I thought he had had enough. After being forbidden, I sometimes gave him a glass of liquor out of pity, as he would hang round and beg for it. Have seen him under the influence of liquor a number of times, can not say how many. Drank whiskey, not very high priced. Have seen Healey and Richardson at work together; been at Healey's house once; don't know anything but that he and his wife lived happily.

Mrs. Mary C. Richardson,—Lives at Manchester; lived at J. P. Hones more than 3 years, ending year ago last September;—thinks she has seen Healey under the influence of liquor,—at his house. Used to sell him liquor when no one else was about the house; did so several times. He was at the house for liquor about every day. Visited Richardson's house; have seen Mrs. Healey there, perhaps half a dozen times; don't know how early; saw her making a robe for Mrs. R.'s child, when it died. Visited Healey's house once or twice; thinks he and wife lived happily.

Edgar A. Richardson, of Newmarket, husband of the above; slightly acquainted with Healey; seen him in liquor,—particularly at a party at H.'s house.

Gilman Clough, Manchester; had a short acquaintance with Healey; he came to the mill for rum; told him I had none; he said he wanted some very much; I told him I had some at the barn in a dirty bottle, used to wash horses in, riley and not fit to drink; he asked me to get it and strain it.

Witness did so, and he drank it; a tumbler two-thirds full, or so, of the liquor, after straining. After he drank, he said he felt better.

Cross-ex.—H. worked for witness about 48 days, commencing last December; don't know of his drinking in that time. Don't know positively that the liquor in the bottle was rum.

Chas. Bailey—worked with the last previous witness at teaming; something was in the bottle, to wash horses with; don't know what was in it then; got rum in it sometimes, never got anything else; couldn't swear that there was not new rum in it then.

Wm. E. Eastman, grocer and vegetable dealer in Manchester. Healey dealt with him; had seen him once there when he did not appear natural; could not tell how long before his death. He was in the store many times.

Mrs. Mary Jane Sanford, lives at Auburn, a mile and three-quarters from Healey's; never saw any trouble between H. and wife; saw him often; have seen him a few times when she thought he had been under the influence of liquor; have been at H.'s house but once.

Peter Palmer, of Manchester. Seen H. two or three times; sold him liquor about ten days before his death; don't know how much; put it in a small stone jug; think it did not hold more than two quarts.

Question by Mr. Cilley—Was it not the Sunday before his death? Answer—No, about ten days.

Question by Mr. Bell—Can you say you sold him as much as three pints? Ans.—I think it was exactly three pints.

Wm. Martin, keeps the Island Pond House; have often seen Healey at the bar,—once or twice a day; witness was often away most of the day. Healey continued to come there for liquor, up to the time of his death. Saw him the worse for liquor, either the Sunday before his death, or the Sunday before that. Would carry home liquor in a flask, sometimes a two quart jug. He got a half pint of brandy there, the day before he died.

Some further evidence was given, but we have no room for other testimony this morning. The case will be continued to-day.

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL,

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY

Of Providence, R. I.

In introducing a new Cook Stove, of singularly novel construction and arrangement, it is proper that we speak of its peculiar merits.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven, with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is the most durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires: or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high-priced Air-Tight Cook Stoves, but will barely allude to them, viz:

1st. The double plates each side of the fire prevent any leak of ashes into the oven and make the stove more durable.

2d. The admission of external air between these plates, for the ventilation of the roasting oven, tends also to the preservation of the plates most exposed to destruction.

3d. The durable dump grate, with the ash box of ample size to receive the ashes and coals, is an attractive feature of the stove.

4th. The draft door, at each end of the fire box, is a great convenience when a quick fire is wanted.

5th. The movable ash pan, which, though, it forms a hearth to the stove, need not be used except once or twice a day for taking up and carrying away the ashes.

6th. The stove has but one damper, and but one division of flues on the back of and under the oven, ensuring a very quick bake.

7th The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin; and tin jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

This stove was thoroughly tested before brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial of the stove.

John Trundy, Esq., one of our most practical and scientific mechanics, who has had large experience in the construction of stove patterns in years past, and has for many years been using one of the Stewart Stoves, has purchased one of the MODEL COOKS, and after a fair trial pronounces it far superior to the Stewart or any stove he has ever seen, for economy, convenience and dispatch We might also refer to several other parties who are using the stove, and who award it the very highest praise.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be the stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is wanted.

We have nought to say against any other stove, believing that a man can sell his own goods without depreciating his neighbor's; but this we do say, that we honestly believe this is the best stove that can be found in the world; and what is more, we think others will agree with us after a trial of it. We invite any one to examine the stove, whether they wish to purchase or not.

For sale, with a great variety of

Furnaces, Ranges, Cooking, Office and Parlor Stoves; Coal Hods, Sifters, Funnel, Stove-Repairing Pieces, Parlor Grates, Etc.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,

FOR MAKING

Bread, Tea Cakes,

All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,

MANUFACTURED BY

EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,

Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,

NO. 82 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating house-keepers, bakers, &c., &c.

Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available to persons and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other leaven, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.

Bread is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the substance of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to make the dough light. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Experiments have demonstrated that, from a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 230 lbs., gives, by this process 290 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. In the quantity of flour. In conformity with the directions in each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,

Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

"I have well tested the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in raising the dough and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which have nothing but a vegetable salt, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast, or while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook.

The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and prove this compound worthy of public approval and extended use.

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."

HOW TO USE IT.

We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.

BREAKFAST OR TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour,) to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing through a sieve; add a pinch of a sieve; rub in a piece of butter of half the size of an egg, and make the paste the paste with cold milk or water, (milk is preferable,) into a dough enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.

LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.

GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal, sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.

BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonsful of Leaven in one pint of flour, and one pint of corn meal, all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make one quart of batter; add one teaspoon three teaspoonfuls of Leaven; beat to a froth, and cook quick.

DUMPLINGS.—Sift together one quart of flour and two teaspoonfuls of Leaven; rub in a piece of butter half as large as an egg; mix with cold milk or water, and boil ten minutes.

CHAMBER STREET CAKE.—Sift together two large cups of flour and one teaspoonfuls of Leaven; put in half a cup of butter and a cup and a half of sugar; mix with cold water or milk to a stiff batter, and spice to suit the taste, and bake immediately.

CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs—the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth; then beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water, and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven; flavor with two teaspoonsful of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.

JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three tea spoonfuls of Leaven; add one cup and a teacupful of butter; add a cup and a half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out, and bake quick.

ELECTION CAKE.—One quart of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; add a cup of butter, one pound of currants, two cups of white sugar, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon; mix with cold milk to a stiff batter, and bake in a slow oven.

COIN CAKE.—One pint each of flour and Indian meal, and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, well sifted together; add one gill of molasses and two eggs; mix thin with milk and bake in a slow oven.

CUP CAKE.—Five cups of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one cup of butter, two of sugar, and two eggs, all well beat together; mix with milk; then add a cup of currants, and spice to suit the taste. Bake about half an hour.

LADIES' CAKE.—Three quarters of a pound of flour and four teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; one pound of sugar and six ounces of butter beaten to a cream; the white of eight eggs well beaten, and the juice of one lemon; mix with milk.

WEBSTER CAKE.—Five cups of flour, three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, three cups of sugar, one of butter, one of milk, and two eggs; flavor and spice to the taste. Bake about half an hour.

PROF. WOOD'S

RESTORATIVE CORDIAL

—AND—

BLOOD RENOVATOR.

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of health, and strengthening the stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly pleasant in its effects, leaving no depression or followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and sanative properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no superior skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so painfully fatal if neglected in time, and Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints, Disease of the Kidneys, Scalding or Painfulness of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, Perspiration, Cold Feet, Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but will then upon only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from them, and the disease, and cure the disease at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and all should take a tablespoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not untoned to much outdoor exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial and Blood Renovator, Take a bottle and two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no medicine so well adapted to all we above enumerate. Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would be on the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; if your sons are nervous, feeling dull and unenergetic, put you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.

O. J. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market street, St. Louis, Mo., and sold by all good Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

Dr. Mott's

CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE

PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combination in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTANCY, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise of which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old cordials, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, consuming, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pain, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of Iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly, it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its presence in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, find their nerves become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.
One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.
One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.
A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.
Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaint, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of a potation of liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy; remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the prophetic talk, lies trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

New Photographic Establishment.

Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.

The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.

All work at the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.

Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

NOTICE—TO NEW SUBSCRIBERS.

All persons who may now pay $4 for the Daily Chronicle, or $1 for the Weekly Chronicle, for the year 1861.—will be furnished with the paper without charge, from this time to Jan. 1. tf

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1860.

☞ The result of the recent Presidential election was known throughout the United States the day after it took place! Those who framed the Constitution never dreamed of Morse and the telegraph, or they would not have put the time of the election and that of the inauguration so far apart.

☞ The Boston Trumpet says Dr. Whittemore seems to be gradually sinking. His friends must be prepared to hear of his dissolution. His trust is in the Lord. In a letter this week, he has given his last sentiments. The doctrine he has defended sustains him now. To use his own words: "I am happy, happy, happy."

☞ The Bartlett Mills, Newburyport, have declared a semi-annual dividend of 6 per cent., which makes them 11 per cent. for the year. The past season has been one of prosperity to most manufacturing establishments, and their dividends have tended to bring up the arrears of the past.

"THE HARMONIOUS DEMOCRACY."—From the character of the Democratic Congressional Convention at Manchester, on Tuesday, the American thinks "it is evident that the differences between the two sections of the Democracy in this State, are not in a fair way of reconciliation." John H. George was renominated by only three majority, and was roundly berated for his anti-Douglas proclivities.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE ANNUAL REGISTER and United States Calendar, for 1861,—being vol. 40 of this reliable and all-essential publication,—is just issued by G. Parker Lyon, Concord; printed by McFarland & Jenks; and for sale in Portsmouth by Joseph H. Foster.

A SMART BOY.—The Webster Times says that Jimmy Welch, an Irish boy in Dudley, has gathered eighteen bushels of chestnuts the present season, for which he has received $49 50. The boy has attended school regularly, and the chestnuts were all gathered out of school hours.

☞ Andy Vance went into a bar-room in Augusta Ga., on Saturday, offered to treat the crowd, and taking a bottle of laudanum from his pocket, said it was his last drink, and swallowed it. All attempts to save his life were unavailing.

"It is a common error to suppose that insanity and imagination go oftenest together. I for one have rarely seen them allied.—The boiler seldom bursts that possesses a safety valve. The inmates of lunatic asylums are usually persons of finely strung nerves and limited ideality—the most unfortunate of all combinations. It is the effort of the dumb to speak that oversets the brain. When imagination is true, it is very stable, as well as very demonstrative.—Could anything have driven Voltaire crazy? Was not Byron the coolest of practical self lovers? Who so rational as epicurean Tom Moore? Who so real as loyal Walter Scott? Who so self-prized as Wordsworth and Southey?—Household of Bouverie.

THE LADIES FASHIONABLE SIPHONIA. In consequence of the recent wet weather, many sensible ladies have taken to wearing their crinoline on side of their walking dresses, in the form of a framework of gutta percha tubes, serving the same purpose as the pipes which conduct the rain-water from the roofs of houses. The dress which is worn over crinoline extends to such a circumference, that an umbrella affords it no adequate protection to save anything but the bonnet, so that it can only be defended from the showers by an arrangement of crinoline combining utility with elegance.—Punch.

THE PORT OF CHARLESTON.—The Collector of Charleston has deemed it necessary to contradict certain rumors in circulation respecting the business at that office. The following dispatch has been received:—

CHARLESTON Nov. 13.—To A. Schell, Collector:—It is reported that clearances are refused at this office. Contradict it.—The business of the office goes on as usual.
W. F. COLCOCK.

A VETERAN BELL MAN.—It is said by those who know, the only vote cast last Tuesday in the town of Rehoboth for John Bell and Edward Everett, was deposited by Mr. Joseph Nichols, a man 92 years of age, who first voted for Washington when he was chosen the second time, and has voted regularly at every Presidential election since.—Taunton Gazette.

Let the object of your life be, improvement in what is good. All is good which contributes to the health of your own body and mind, and that of others.

☞ A cold, unhappy pauper crawled into a brick-kiln near Troy, N. Y., to sleep the other night, and was found in the morning roasted to death.

What trees are those which, when fire is applied to them, are exactly what they were before? Ashes.

TONE OF THE SOUTH.

Charleston, Nov. 15.—The Governor of Florida says that State goes for secession with Carolina.

Baltimore, Nov. 15.—The run on the Citizens' Bank again to-day was promptly met.

New York, Nov. 15.—It is reported that the corvette Savannah has been ordered to be in readiness for a trip to Charleston.

Twelve hundred kegs of powder and eighty-four boxes of ammunition were shipped to Charleston to-day.

Senator Hammond's resignation is immediate. His personal effects have been removed to South Carolina.

Collector Beaufort has officially resigned.

The President will not issue an address, deferring it till Congress meets.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 15.—There was a parade of the minute men, military and firemen last night. Messrs. Orr, Keitt and others made secession speeches.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 15.—The Governor advises the people to prepare for secession.

Milledgeville, Ga., Nov. 15.—At a conference of leading men of all parties to day, it was unanimously agreed that a Convention be called. Resistance was recommended.

A bill was introduced to suspend the collection of debts till next year.

A resolution was introduced, giving the Governor power, in case of federal coercion of a seceding State, to employ the military forces of Georgia to resist.

Mr. Toombs made a secession speech.—Mr. Barton followed, urging a Southern Confederacy, the sovereignty to be in the federal power, and State lines to be obliterated.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 15.—The Governor has called an extra session of the Legislature on the 4th of January.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 13.—The feeling here is that South Carolina has been too precipitate. If there is a general movement of the South, Tennessee will take part in a Southern Convention, should one be called.

Gov. Harris will probably convene the Legislature.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 14.—The Governor's letter will be published on Thursday. It is similar in tone to that of Governor Gist of South Carolina. It is opposed to waiting for other Southern States to act, and recommends immediate secession.

The proclamation for a State Convention will be issued Dec. 7. The Convention will meet the first Monday in January.

Charleston, Nov. 14.—The bookseller's of this city and Savannah have returned Harper's publications; and a movement is on foot to return all Northern publications, unless they are known to be sound on the slavery question.

It is reported that the foreign consuls here are awaiting secession to open negotiations with the South.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Patrick Hayes, an Englishman, was arrested in Charleston for incendiary remarks, and hurried off to New York.

A handsome sword is to be presented to Judge Magrath.

The brig James Gray sails for Liverpool to-morrow, and the captain promises to bear the Palmetto flag.

Mr. Bonham has resigned his seat in Congress.

A Washington dispatch says a letter from a strong cotton house in Charleston states that there is really no unanimity, even in South Carolina, for secession. Business and professional men, artisans and mechanics are opposed to secession.

NEW DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE. South Carolina secessionists propose the following as one of the proposed forms of the declaration of independence to be submitted to the convention which is to meet on the 17th proximo:—

We hold these truths to be self-evident: that although all men are created wholly unequal, mentally, morally, and physically, yet they are all equally entitled, under every civilized government, to the full protection of their lives, persons and property, for which protection governments are solely instituted among men, deriving their just powers solely from the consent of the governed. * * *

The history of the present northern States, is a history of repeated injuries, insults and usurpations, all having a direct object in the establishment of an absolute tyranny over the southern States. To prove this let facts be submitted to a candid world.

1. The northern States of this Union have for many long years warred against our peculiar institution of slavery, instigated by the dictates of a relentless fanaticism, which declares that institution to be a moral sin, whilst we hold it to be a divine institution, established by God himself in the following decree enunciated to Moses on Mount Sinai: "Both thy bondmen and bondmaids which thou shalt have, shall be of the heathen that are around about you; of them shall ye buy bondmen, and bondmaids; moreover, of the children of the strangers that sojourn among you, of them shall ye buy, and they shall be your possession; ye shall take them as an inheritance for your children, after you, to inherit them, for a possession; they shall be your bondmen forever." And we farther hold that this divinely established institution was also sanction by our Saviour and his apostles.

The declaration goes on to complain of the violation of the fugitive slave law (sanctioned by St. Paul); of the anti-slave-territory feeling of the North; of the policy of protection to manufactures forced on the South by northern votes; and of the election of Lincoln. And it goes on to state their appeals to northern sense of justice and ties of common kindred,—the deafness of the North, and the terrific announcements about "enemies in war," &c., and the declaration of sovereignty and independence of South Carolina, and the usual mutual pledge of lives, fortunes and sacred honor.

This is one of the best jokes yet—and is said to have originated in the New York Herald office. It was first published as bona fide in the Washington "States" newspaper.

Local.

NOMINATION FOR MAYOR.—The caucus of the Republicans, on Tuesday evening, to nominate a candidate for Mayor, was large in numbers and enthusiastic in spirit. The third formal ballot resulted in the nomination of WILLIAM SIMES, Esq., by the following vote:—Wm. Simes, 148; Jere. Johnson, 33; Jacob W. Thompson, 3; Brackett Hutchings, 1. On motion, the nomination of Mr. Simes was made unanimous, and a committee appointed to wait upon the nominee and request his acceptance. After a brief absence, the committee returned, and reported that Mr. Simes accepted the nomination. The announcement was received with loud applause, and the meeting then adjourned.

POISONING BY STRYCHNINE.—In the account of the trial of the Auburn, poisoning case, at Portsmouth, is a verbatim report of Dr. A. A. Hayes' testimony, which will be read with great interest by all medical men and chemists, since it constitutes of itself an able and concise treatise on the subject of poisoning by strychnine, and the nature of the complicated experiments necessary to detect the presence of strychnine in the stomach. We believe this is the only case of poisoning by strychnine ever tried in this country, where the evidence against the accused has depended in any degree on the result of chemical experiments, as to the contents of the stomach of the deceased. The Weymouth case, which will come up this winter, is in this respect very similar, the principal evidence against the accused being that of the chemists, who found strychnine in the stomach of the young lady alleged to have been murdered.—Traveller.

THE CABINET.—It is very gratifying to us in New Hampshire, who so highly respect His Excellency Gov. Goodwin, to hear him named as a suitable person for Secretary of the Navy. His familiarity with maritime affairs, as well as his prudence and energy, render him well qualified for such a position.—Manchester Amer.

We find the above paragraph in several of the Massachusetts papers, and few persons in this State would question the compliment so justly given our Governor.—Keene Sentinel.

MORNING.

Fresh as winds that sweep the sea,
Blows the breath of morning free,
Over hill, and vale and lea.

And the crimson streaks that lie
Low adown the eastern sky,
Speak the dawning glory nigh.

Hearken to the morning hymn,
Breaking from the shadows dim
Of each overhanging limb.

How the chorus, wild and sweet,
With exultant joy replete,
Thrills us to our very feet.
—Household of Bouverie.

CURIOUS PHENOMENON.

"How is it you raise so large and nice onions?" I asked of an Iowa farmer, as I was sitting at table with him, and observing some on the table.

"Well," said he "we sprout the seed with boiling water, and then plant it early and in good ground."

"Sprout the seed in boiling water?" I exclaimed, inquiringly. "What do you mean, sir, by that? Won't boiling water kill the seed?"

"Not at all," he replied; "but it will sprout them in one minute's time."

"It will! It looks incredible!" I replied, with surprise.

"Will you try it," he replied, grinningly, "when the time comes to plant, and you'll find it just as I tell you?"

And sure enough when spring came, and my neighbor was about planting his onion seed, and being present, I said:

"Jewell, last winter, there was a man told me in Iowa, that to pour boiling water on black onion seed would sprout it in one minute. Suppose you try it?

"Very well," said he. And taking the tea-kettle boiling from the stove he poured the water thus boiling on the seed, which he had in a tea-saucer. Looking closely at it for a moment, he exclaimed, "My conscience! You have told rightly. Only look a-there."

I looked, and behold the little sprouts, about as large as horse hairs were shooting out of the opened ends of the seeds! He did not retain the water on the seed above three seconds, and in less than one-half minute after it was poured off, the sprouts were projecting from the seeds.

My Iowa friend assured me that this process would advance the growth of the onion from two to three weeks beyond the ordinary method of planting without sprouting. Try it, gardners and farmers; much may be gained by it.—Corr. Dollar Paper.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heart Burn, Water Brash, Sour Stomach, Jaundice, Flatulency, General Debility, &c., find a ready relief and speedy cure in this great remedy.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS

Are believed by many who have been cured of the above diseases to be the only medicine which the materia medica affords for their infallible cure. It is not an alcoholic preparation, which, while giving a momentary stimulus, reduces the system in the same ratio; but one distinct and different from any medical preparation ever compounded, and one which will, in most cases, extract the disease by the roots and restore the patient to pristine health. In proof of which, testimony of the very highest and unexceptionable character is presented.

S. J. COURT—PORTSMOUTH, Thursday.

The Auburn, N. H. Poisoning Case.

Trial of Richard S. Richardson and Mrs. Sarah Ann Healey for the Murder of Stephen Healey.

Present, Judges Bell and Doe.

Bell and Wilcox for the State; Daniel M. Christie and Wm. B. Small for Mrs. Healey; Wm. H. Y. Hackett and Wm. C. Clarke for Richardson.

Continued.

Charles C. Griffin, Manchester; have lived at the I. P. House; seen Stephen Healey drink there three or four times in about an hour, and seemed to be drunk.—This was on Thursday, many people were there. Witness left the I. P. House two years ago last spring.

Mrs. Mary E. Dickey, Manchester;—knew Mr. and Mrs. Richardson; have called at their house. Mrs. Healey came to witness to borrow bonnet and collar for Mrs. R. to wear at her child's funeral, in September.

Mrs. Mary F. Adams, Manchester, knew Mrs. R.; visited her; seen Mrs. Healey there.

Stacey L. Plummer, of Brighton, attorney at law; have acted as counsel for Mrs. Healey, at her request, arrived in Manchester on the day of the arrest, at their house in Auburn, shortly before.

Called in Mrs. Langmaid, a former witness.

Solicitor Bell objected to this form of testimony, as Mrs. Langmaid had already testified here that she told a false story to Mr. Plummer, about the purchase of the strychnine. The Court stated that upon a well known rule, Mr. Plummer could be admitted to contradict her statement, but not to confirm it.

Witness called in Mrs. L. and she told him the story about the 15 cents' worth of strychnine bought for her by Richardson, as she told him, to kill rats; asked her if it were true. She said she wished to help him. Witness advised her to tell only the truth. She then said she had not told the truth, as she really got it to kill cockroaches and bed bugs, but thinking it dangerous stuff to have in the house, on the following day she threw the bottle into the stove.—On enquiry for the remains of glass, she said she had thrown the ashes into the street, and the ash-man had taken them away.

Mr. Christie asked this witness what Mr. Wood told him about Mrs Healey's statements to Wood. Witness cannot say whether Wood was present or not, at any conversation between witness and Mrs. Healey. Witness asked Wood if he had seen any thing in the prisoners, or either of them to indicate guilt. In answer to further enquiry, he stated that she appeared desponding, feared she might be arrested [afterwards witness changed it to imprisoned,]—and thought she could not live through it. Witness thinks this was the next morning after the post mortem examination, but is not certain. Witness went to see Mrs. L. at the suggestion of Richardson and Mrs. Healey.

David Swett, Manchester—the husband of Richardson's wife's mother. Called on Mrs. Langmaid, asked her if R. had bought her strychnine and carried it there; she said he did; 15 cts. worth; she got it for one or two purposes; rats, also she was in a delicate way, and thought of taking some herself; but as she thought of it more she thot'l better; and to get rid of it, deposited it in the st ve.

[Witness here exploded with laughter, at a question by Mr. Clarke, as to the reason why he went there.]

Cross-ex.—Witness said he had not told Mrs. L. that Richardson wished her to tell the story about the strychnine being for her.

Mrs. Elizabeth P. Richardson—Question as to Mrs. Langmaid's condition.—Objected to, and ruled out.

John F. Kelley—Manchester, City Marshal. Knew Stephen Healey: saw him under the influence of liquor; was in Feb. 1860, in Manchester.

Geo. Porter—called, but told by prisoner's counsel to stand aside.

Court adjourned to Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

Friday morning.

The Court came in at 9 o'clock; the prisoners soon after; and the Court directed the Sheriff to have the prisoners in the room hereafter before the hour of commencement. Proceedings commenced at 12 minutes past 9.

Mr. Small, for the prisoners, read a letter from himself to Dr. Hayes, requesting a copy of his analysis,—and an answer from Dr. H. dated Boston, July 24, 1860. Also, a letter from Mr. Small to Dr. Hayes, dated Aug. 13, asking for a copy of the minutes of the analysis;—also of the tests applied to the substance found by the analysis, &c., and Dr. Hayes' answer of same date.

Wm. W. Stickney, Esq., introduced to prove the making of a will by Stephen Healey, before his marriage, in which he gave all of his property to the woman afterwards his wife. Witness did not know Healey, but knew Sarah Ann Tuttle,—and had heard the man lived on a certain farm; the will was made four or five years ago;—thinks the will was executed, and that it gave all the property to Sarah Ann Tuttle; does not know what the property was.

Joseph Tuttle, of Lee; uncle to Mrs. H.; knew Stephen Healey; he worked for witness' brother, (Mrs. H.'s father) 8 or 9 years, up to the time of his marriage.

Dr. Frederick S. Ainsworth, Boston, physician and surgeon, 10 years: made many post mortem examinations, perhaps some hundred; has paid attention to strychnine. Usually operates in 5 or 6 hours: in large doses, sooner.

Mr. Small desired witness to state, whether the appearances here testified to, of the body of Healey, in his opinion, justified the idea that he died of strychnine? Question ruled out.

The question was varied, and divided into supposable cases, corresponding with portions of Healey's case. In answer, witness gave various symptoms, particularly spasms and contractions of the muscles, as proceeding from strychnine,—but uniform in all cases. People between the spasms, call for water. How is it as to their ever calling for a stimulant? Ans. I do not know. Is strychnine bitter? Yes, intensely so. If dissolved, would be still more bitter. Should think whiskey might disguise the taste. In a powder, it might be mixed with some substance, and not perceived. Should not expect redness of the stomach as a symptom, and do not think redness of the skin is a symptom. Strychnine is not a preservative of the body. In cases of sudden death, blood does not always coagulate; fluid blood is quite common in such cases. The dark discoloration of the skin in corpses is common.

In death by strychnine, the muscles are very much contracted; if not at the moment of death, contractions would come on in a few minutes afterwards,—if death comes on in spasms, the body remains in its position, whether crooked or straight. Fingers generally contracted; toes generally pointed down; spine bent, so that the body rested on the head and heels.

These symptoms exist in most reported cases, except one or two; I have known or seen reported but one;—and in those cases no strychnine was found.

Don't think frogs were very good subjects to experiment upon,—as some substances have effects on lower animals that they do not have on men. Should not think the left ventricle of the heart could be full of blood in death by strychnine; in death by asphyxia, the right ventricle might be filled. Do not think the post mortem examination in Healey's case was thorough enough to make it certain that he did not die by disease. Witness has seen many bodies which came to death by ardent spirits: the manner of their death and their symptoms present almost an infinite variety;—by convulsions, delirium tremens, &c. Would not often be a smell of rum in the stomach of a person dying in this way; it must have been drank very recently. It is uncommon. Alcoholic poisons are preservative;—but alcohol or rum itself, drank before death, would have no preserving tendency on the body. Does not think chemical analysis, unsupported by symptoms sufficient to decide the cause of death.

Cross-ex.—There are no infallibly uniform symptoms of strychnine: distension of the brain, and fluid blood are common symptoms; should think habits of excessive drinking might modify the symptoms of strychnine, and possibly change the appearance of the muscles after death, making them less firm.

In cases of death by strychnine, between the spasms, the appearance of the body would not be the same as if the death occurred during the spasms. If strychnine were given in small, repeated doses, the death would probably not ensue so speedily as in one dose: it is usual for the patient to die in spasms, but not uniform.

Witness, in reply to questions by the Court, said that finding strychnine in the substance of the stomach is evidence of death by poison, but not always conclusive.

Dr. Geo. W. Kittredge, of Newmarket,—25 years Physician and Surgeon; made many post mortem examinations;—the post mortem examination as detailed here was not satisfactory to witness; he has seen many cases of death by intemperance. Certain amounts of drunkenness would produce death; and if 1 1-2 ounces of strychnine were found in the stomach, should think that was the cause of death.

Dr. Chas. T. Jackson, of Boston, M. D. in practice; chemist, but not professor. Attended experiments on strychnia, in Paris and at home. It produces its effects, more or less quickly, on account of the size of the dose, quantity, condition of the stomach, &c. Symptoms, many of the same as those detailed by Dr. Ainsworth, with some additions, as abundant sweats, pouring from the body. When the man or animal dies between the spasms, the muscles are flacid, but very soon stiffen, and remain so until putrefaction commences. Patients would drink with difficulty; don't know that they call for rum; don't know why they might not.

The taste is so bitter, that witness thinks no person could take it in solution without knowing something was wrong; in a solid state it would be perceived only by so much as was dissolved on the tongue.

Witness deems the post mortem examination to be a common one, but not complete. A man being down drunk in the gutter, would point towards death from drunkenness. Witness did not think the appearance of the body, as detailed here, was consistent with death by strychnine.

Witness states that the methods detailed by Dr. Hayes, were not the usual approved methods for the detection of strychnine.—It is very difficult to detect strychnine; except the article be obtained pure, the experiments are unsatisfactory; some old tests have been abandoned, and new ones introduced. Is not satisfied with Dr. Hayes' tests; may give us a strong belief, but not certainty; witness does not know of any perfect test. Not so in regard to metallic poisons; they are all perfectly known.—A man may have poison in his stomach, and yet die of disease. Chemical analysis may alone detect the presence of poison; but may not certainly show the cause of death.

Mr. Clarke raised the question, whether analysis by one man, under certain circumstances,—but it was ruled out.

He then inquired, whether there might be a mistake in a chemical analysis? Dr. Jackson did not answer the question; but the Court said the foreman as well as the Dr. knew that mistakes might be made in any thing.

Cross.ex.—Witness thinks there are infallibly uniform appearances after death, of strychnine poison;—and one of these is rigidity of muscle. Had witness made a chemical examination, and found what he deemed strychnine in a stomach, he would have been satisfied of its existence there.—Don't think there is absolute certainty; there is no demonstration of strychnine; but should try the new tests, or new process; knows a new one within six months, but has not yet tried it. Has not seen Wormley's book on the subject, but notices of it in a journal. Is not acquainted with Otto's process of finding strychnine. Was in Europe in 1829 and 1832, and saw experiments there and then. Has had a regular chemical education, from 15 years of age to the present time. Now practice medicine a little, against my will, in a few families; has had no personal medical experience with strychnine, and in searching for it in post mortem examinations, have never found any. Have been employed as a chemist by the U. S. Government.

David Balch, Boston, chemist, a graduate from the Scientific School, Cambridge, testified mainly in agreement with Dr. Jackson.

Mr. Plummer, recalled, testified that Dr. Hubbard testified at the examination, that in the post mortem examination he found blood in the left ventricle of the heart.

Dr. Jackson, recalled.—I have had occasion to examine thirty four human stomachs, 12 within the last year. Ten to fifteen days are required to examine a stomach for strychnine.

Mrs. Whittemore recalled;—nothing of importance stated.

Dr. Hayes, recalled.—Considers the evidence derived from chemical analysis on the causes of death, to be very important and trustworthy, in cases where the physiological symptoms exist, and should be connected with them. But in those cases where the symptoms of poisoning cannot be discovered, a chemical demonstration seems to be required.

The presence of a mortal dose of poison in the stomach, after death, I should deem sufficient evidence of the cause of death.—Witness then gave a brief statement of his mode of examination and analysis. The methods adapted in this analysis, were those recommended by the highest authorities, and practiced by the medical colleges. The form of poison found was not only alkaline, but perfectly pure strychnine. The new test named by Dr. Jackson, has been known to witness about a year and a half; has made experiments with it, and does not consider it a valuable test; it has not been adopted by any eminent chemist, in important cases. Witness described and illustrated at some length, some of the simpler tests, and stated that all knowledge of analytical chemistry is derived from them.—Witness has spent more than 25 years in the Laboratory.

Dr. Perry, of Exeter,—practicing physician for 46 years; have never seen it used to the extent of producing the expiring spasms; but have seen convulsions. Witness deems the effect of poison on the body uniform, till death;—but after death, the condition of the body would depend on other circumstances. Large use of spirits tends to render muscle less firm. In the supposed case, witness would attribute death to the poison.

Dr. Saml. B. Swett, of Exeter, physician and surgeon, 26 years: witness has seen no case of poison by strychnine; but quoted the authorities, briefly; and in the main agreed with Dr. Perry as the effect of spirits on the muscles.

[The Court room was quite full of spectators, among them perhaps a hundred ladies, who came to listen probably to arguments of counsel, but who heard instead rather a warm discussion among the doctors and lawyers,—which, to the common mind, was as dry as it was warm.]

FOR THE GOVERNMENT.

Mrs. Langmaid, recalled.—Knows David Swett; called at my house, and told me to remember what Richardson had told me to testify for him; Harris McIntire was present.

Harris McIntire, Manchester; boarded with Mrs Langmaid at time of Healey's death; Richardson came there Saturday; I was there, and Mrs L; he came in and spoke to me, then said, How do you do, Maria? I asked him if he had seen Friday's paper; answer, No. I brought him the paper; read aloud to what Bragg had said; I asked him if that was true; answer, No, it must be a mistake. Threw down the papers and turned pale, and asked me to read a letter; I read it, and he asked me to get him half a pint of rum; I went to get it and left R. with Mrs L

Before going, Mrs L found fault with R for burying a strange man in her lot. Witness knows David Swett; he was at Mrs Langmaid's the day of the post mortem examination or the day before. Swett said we must excuse him, for he came in disguise; said he wanted her to remember what to testify, that strychnine was bought on the 5th, and referred to an almanac.—Witness looked at an almanac. He wanted her to remember what Richardson had told her.

Cross ex.—Did not see Richardson there within two weeks. He was there once before, fifteen or sixteen days after the death of his wife. [A very lively dialogue here went on between Mr Clarke and witness, in which witness said he had been before a Court, accused of theft. The Court thot this style of question not exactly regular, and the course was changed to asking him about his work. He gave brief account of his work, teaming, and tending stable occasionally, in answer to Mr C's inquiries; but nothing of importance was learned.

Geo D Whitehouse—have seen Mr Richardson write his name once, when he signed a lease, a year ago last spring. [Objection offered, but overruled.] Writing shown to witness, who thinks it resembles R's hand, and was writen by him; cannot swear positively.

The paper was then put in, directed to Carlos Stevens, and purporting to be a request that he would swear the strychnine was got for him if Mrs Langmaid did not swear as desired.

The testimony was here closed, and the Court adjourned to Saturday morning, at half past 8 o'clock.

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL,

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY

Of Providence, R. I.

In introducing a new Cook Stove, of singularly novel construction and arrangement, it is proper that we speak of its peculiar merits.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven, with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is the most durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires: or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high-priced Air-Light Cook Stoves, but will barely allude to them, viz:

1st. The double plates each side of the fire prevent any leak of ashes into the oven and make the stove more durable.

2d. The admission of external air between these plates, for the ventilation of the roasting oven, tends also to the preservation of the plates most exposed to destruction.

3d. The durable dump grate, with the ash box of ample size to receive the ashes and coals, is an attractive feature of the stove.

4th. The draft door, at each end of the fire box, is a great convenience when a quick fire is wanted

5th. The movable ash pan, which, though it forms a hearth to the stove, need not be used except once or twice a day for taking up and carrying away the ashes.

6th. The stove has but one damper, and but one division of flues on the back of and under the oven, ensuring a very quick bake.

7th The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and tin jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

This stove was thoroughly tested before brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial of the stove.

John Trundy, Esq., one of our most practical and scientific mechanics, who has had large experience in the construction of stove patterns in years past, and has for many years been using one of the Stewart Stoves, has purchased one of the MODEL COOKS, and after a fair trial pronounces it far superior to the Stewart or any stove he has ever seen, for economy, convenience and dispatch We might also refer to several other parties who are using the stove, and who award it the very highest praise.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be the stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is wanted.

We have nought to say against any other stove, believing that a man can sell his own goods without depreciating his neighbor's; but this we do say, that we honestly believe this is the best stove that can be found in the world; and what is more, we think others will agree with us after a trial of it. We invite any one to examine the stove, whether they wish to purchase or not.

For sale, with a great variety of

Furnaces, Ranges, Cooking, Office and Parlor Stoves! Coal Hods, Sifters, Funnel, Stove-Repairing Pieces, Parlor Grates, Etc.

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1835.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

ATWOOD'S QUININE TONIC BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonic and stomachic r, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in ague, fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "that it is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Soliciter of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, Under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and Opinions rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, not possessing the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind, are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and other works, and full and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."—CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."—EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."—JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made-on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, scientific men, and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing the Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus, and which is identical in its composition with the Hematic Globule, or red blood.—In all diseases accompanied with pale countenance and nervous derangement, analysis of the blood show a deficiency of the red globules. Hardly complexion, and pallid hue of the skin, is always indicative of health; while a pale, wax-like skin and countenance,—which evinces a considerable deficiency of the red globules,—accompanies a diseased organism. Preparations of Iron have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that Iron alone, Sulpur alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, for that a judicious combination of these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This point, never before attained, has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in

DEBILITY,

are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the irritation, stop night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the appetite, and fill the flesh and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific in all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT and LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the voice. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Scrofula, Gravel, St. Vitus' Dance, Fever and Ague, &c., its efficacy is marked and instantaneous. In no class of diseases, however, are the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, such as suppressed or difficult Menstruation, Green Sickness, Whites, &c., especially when these complaints are accompanied with paleness, a dingy hue or pallor of the skin, depression of spirits, debility, palpitation weak of spirits, and nervous prostration. We have the almost confidence in recommending the Blood Food to all who may be conscious of a loss of vitality or energy, and to those whose mental or bodily powers are prostrated through over-use, either of the mind or body, and we deem it our duty to say that in all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, and in all diseases of the Kidneys or Bladder, this preparation has a claim upon the attention of sufferers which cannot be over-estimated. A faithful trial will be found the most convincing proof in regard to its efficacy that could be asked for. With above remarks, and the numerous testimonials we have in our favor, we offer the "Blood Food" to the consideration of the afflicted, knowing that it will be acknowledged as pre-eminent over all other preparations, patent or official, in point of usefulness. Great care giving the Theory upon which this remedy is founded, also certificates of remarkable cures, will be sent free wherever desired. We forward the Blood Food to any part of the United States or Canada upon receipt of price—$1 per bottle, $6 for six bottles. Delivered in all cases to take none but those bearing our fac-simile signature upon the wrapper. None other is genuine.

Humphreys' Specific Homeopathic Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and instructions of Dr. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple diseases of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhœa, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies have a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—PLEASANT, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and harmless under all circumstances, their effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken, and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply demonstrated the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST IN USE, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PLEASANT AND SAFE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, which speaks for themselves. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

PROF. WOOD'S

RESTORATIVE CORDIAL

—AND—

BLOOD RENOVATOR,

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while it invigorates the taste, it is refreshing, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original vigor, and thus restoration and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to not offend or disorder even the fastidious stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly invigorating in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetable, and these thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge of cause of that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of malady the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Want of Appetite, Sinking, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Lassitude, and all that class of diseases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangement or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Sides, or between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting the flow of the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and all should take a table-spoonful at least before eating. As it prevents Costiveness, Dyspepsia, and all other organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men, who all know how much or how much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and effective remedy at hand, which will not rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities exist. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Take a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. Try it—this Cordial is all we claim it.—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, but of your sons, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave, the latter will then be known: in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for your prompting they would travel by a short downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we can confidently appeal to save some your dearer failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be found in time of need.

O. J. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market street, St. Louis, Mo., and sold by all good Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

Dr. Mott's

CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE

PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON, purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States for general family practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, the trial of this invaluable medicine has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long prostrated, that they become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted foreign travel. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for unlike cold solutions it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of constipation, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has in many sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has been extolled by many clergymen and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and the reports from the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects—Good appetite, increased flesh, and acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow the use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free, if any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Horrible Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance, Want of Sleep, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.
One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.
One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.
A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.
Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaint, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstruation and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device is fully accomplish'd, the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

New Photographic Establishment.
Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-sized Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.
The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.
All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.
Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

HAYTI AND EMIGRATION.

The New York Tribune contains various official documents in relation to Hayti and colored emigration. The first article is a circular "to the blacks, men of color, and Indians of the United States and British North American Provinces," signed by James Redpath, as general agent of emigration appointed by the government of Hayti, in which, in its name, he guarantees to all persons of the red and black races in America, who can prove a good character for industry and integrity, several very important and liberal advantages, if they see fit to seek a home in the Republic of which President Geffrard is the enlightened and patriotic chief.

Among these offers and advantages are: A free passage; a free farm; exemption from military duty; perfect religious freedom; equal civil and political rights with Haytiens; the amplest protection; a cordial welcome; a nationality of their own kindred; free schools, sites for chapels, remunerative work, and fair play every way.

He invites all persons qualified to become citizens of Hayti to correspond with him, or visit the Haytien Bureau of Emigration in Boston, for the purpose of obtaining further information as to the country and the character of the government.

Mr. Redpath has opened a bureau in the Washington Building, 221 Washington street, Boston, where the friends of Hayti, and persons desiring information about it, may ascertain all the facts in regard to this important project.

The Traveller is informed that the government of Hayti instructed Mr. Redpath to make Boston the sole port of shipment for the Northern States, as a recognition of the character for anti-slavery fidelity which that city has earned both at home and abroad.

He has also received instructions from the Cabinet to extend a special invitation to Mrs. Leary, the wife of the colored man who fell at Harper's Ferry, to make her home in Hayti, and offering her a home and a house there.

Rev. Mr. Holly, of New Haven, a well-known and talented colored clergyman, has been appointed one of the inland travelling agents of the bureau, and is now on his way to Philadelphia to offer to the exiles of South Carolina an invitation to make their future homes in Hayti.

Other agents will immediately leave for Cincinnati and Southern Kansas, to make similar propositions to the colored families who have recently been banished from Arkansas and Texas.

Preparations have been made on a scale large enough to settle 100,000 persons as soon as they shall offer.

☞ When Lewis and Clark made their exploration to the Pacific shore, at the mouth of the Columbia river, some of the Indians took a liking to a slave in their service, the first African they had ever seen. The squaws especially were delighted with him, and carried him from wigwam to wigwam as the greatest curiosity ever seen in those parts. They had great curiosity to know where they could get papooses of that color; and when the expedition moved on, the darkey, more popular than his master, was in as great danger of being stolen as would one be now among a crowd of abolitionists.

☞ We notice by the Banker's Magazine, that the affairs of the Artisan's Bank, New York, (which closed its doors on the 2d Oct.) are looking up. "Col. Charles L. Frost, of the firm of Frost & Forrest," the Magazine says, "is now a director, and has accepted the Vice Presidency; and with the President will give his personal attention to the liquidation of the Bank. A dividend of 20 per cent. has been declared to depositors and general creditors, payable Nov. 1st. It is said that the Bank will pay all its liabilities, and probably have a capital remaining of $300,000 to $400,000."—The Colonel seems to be an expert hand in straightening out the affairs of weak banks and railroads.

☞ Rev. Mr. Fletcher of Newburyport is to sail for Brazil on a mission for the moral and religious benefit of that people, different from any before undertaken. This mission proposes to reach the youth through the books used in the schools, and for that purpose he is to have a series of books in the Portuguese language, adapted to the wants of the people, to be distributed as the Bible Society circulates the scriptures.

☞ Hon. N. B. Bryant, late Speaker of the N. H. House of Representatives, has formed a law partnership with A. K. P. Joy, Esq., of Boston, and removed his family to Melrose, Mass.

TRADE.—The following, from the pen of Dr. Franklin, while describing the internal state of America, contains truths applicable to our own time:

"There remain the merchants and shop keepers; though they make but a small part of the whole nation, the number is considerable; too great, indeed, for the business they are employed in; for the consumption of goods in every country has its limits; the facilities of the people, that is, their ability to buy and pay, is equal only to a certain quantity of merchandise. If merchants calculate amiss on this proposition, and import too much, they will, of course, find the sale very dull for the overplus, and some of them will say that trade languishes. They should, and doubtless will, grow wiser, and import less.

If too many artificers in town, and farmers from the country, flattering themselves with the idea of leading easier lives, turn shop keepers, the whole natural quantity of that business divided among them all, may afford too small a share for each, and occasion complaints that trading is dead; these may also suppose that it is owing to a scarcity of money, while, in fact, it is not so much from the fewness of buyers, as from the excessive number of sellers, that mischief arises; and if every shop-keeping farmer and mechanic would return to the use of the plough and working tools, there would remain of widows and other women, shopkeepers sufficient for the business, which might then afford them a competent maintenance."

☞ The Philadelphia Inquirer thinks H. R. H. and his suite gave us Americans a wholesome example in respect of attire, and says "if we could now have a visit from some of the female aristocracy of Europe, highest in the ranks of wealth and fashion, it would be an immense saving to our country. It would really pay the husbands and fathers of the land, to give such visitors a reception equal to those just witnessed, in order to teach our women the proprieties of dress. If Queen Victoria would walk down Chestnut street in a pair of thick shoes, with Balmoral petticoat appearing over her instep, and a water proof tweed sack on her shoulders, she would reduce our importations from France at least twenty-five per cent. and probably defer another American crisis for at least ten years."

☞ On Tuesday night last, Messrs. Edward Noyes and Robert Coker left Georgetown with a horse and wagon to go to Haverhill, and while passing the Railroad track at "Harriman's Crossing" in Groveland, the last train from Boston came upon them so suddenly that they had not time to back the horse, but jumped from the waggon, the locomotive struck the horse and knocked him into a culvert, stripping the harness entirely off and killing him instantly.

MR. LINCOLN'S PROWESS.—A correspondent at Springfield, Ill., has the following of the prowess of the President elect:

Legends of his prowess, in the days when he adorned the pursuit of flatboat navigation, are yet current among his early companions. Probably, to his physical courage and daring he was indepted for his accession to leadership, during the early Indian troubles upon the frontier. His capacity as a leader was often tried, during those short campaigns in the wilderness, and was never found wanting. If he carries to the executive chair the pluck and daring which enabled him to hold his own against the rampant flat-boatmen, with whom from time to time, even the most peaceful of the craft would now and then come into hostile collision; if he takes thither the adroit fineness and executive decision which enabled him to invade an ambush of Indians in the Black Hawk war, and to beat the dusky warriors at their own system of fighting whenever they revealed themselves, he will make just such a President as the present crisis demands.

SECESSION.—The accounts of secession at the South are so conflicting that it is impossible to get at the true state of matters there. Many of the dispatches published in the New York press are sensation items, and are not reliable, therefore a large allowance must be made in giving credence to them.

ARREST OF COL. CORCORAN.—Gen. Sanford has caused the arrest of Col. Corcoran of the 69th Irish Regiment, New York, for refusing to order the Regiment out for parade at the reception of the Prince of Wales.

PLANNING OF CITIES. — The London Builder says that a spider's web furnishes a better plan than any yet devised for the laying out of cities. The concentric rings are not circles, but polygons, the radiating lines exquisitely regular and straight, and the regularity of its arrangement is perfectly adapted for the quickest passage from one point to another.

☞ Graffam, who attempted to shoot E. R. Wiggin, Esq., of Saco, was born at Scarboro', and was at one time an overseer in the York Mill at Saco. He plead guilty to the charge of attempting to kill Mr. Wiggin, and in default of $10,000 bail has been committed to jail in Alfred.

☞ Mr. Nesmith, one of the United States Senators just chosen in Oregon, worked on a farm in Claremont, this State, about twenty years ago.

"Adam's slight pomological indiscretion" is the new reading of the "In Adam's fall we sinned all" nursery rhyme.

Local.

A PLEASANT TURN.—Mr. Everett delivered his lecture on "The Early Life of Benjamin Franklin," in Lowell on Wednesday evening. Dr. Huntington, who presided on the occasion, in behalf of the committee, asked the audience during this winter to remain, should any lecturer extend his remarks beyond the nine o'clock bell, which he knew had the bad effect to scatter a Lowell audience. He had no fears that they would notice the bell this evening, considering the ability of the lecturer, Mr. Everett, whom he would now introduce.

Mr. Everett, says the Lowell Courier, was received with loud applause, and commenced by saying that, judging from the remarks just made, the audience had hardly got over associating Bell and Everett, (laughter and applause,) but his theme this evening would be something of a more pleasant nature.

Mr. Everett is to deliver the same lecture before the Mercantile Lyceum in Portsmouth, next Wednesday. Have you secur your tickets yet?

A SINGULAR PROCEEDING.—The Board of Aldermen have voted on petition of Daniel R. Rogers, Esq., to reduce the width of Congress street, by fixing the line on the South side to run from the corner of the tower of the North Church to the corner of Jackson & Co's Express Office, thus giving Mr. Rogers, without consideration, several hundred feet of land when he shall choose to avail himself of it by bringing his buildings out to the line. What inspired the Aldermen with this remarkable fit of liberality, and prompted them to thus reduce the width of an important public street, and give away the land to a wealthy gentlemen, it is dificult to divine. Under the power to straighten and widen the public highways, it would seem certainly that they have no authority to make the streets narrower and give away the land.—we hope this remarkable action of the Board will be explained.—Gazette.

We copy the above without knowing anything of the facts, or merits of the case; but while we have all confidence in the present Board of Mayor and Aldermen, we hope Congress street, and all our other thoroughfares will be widened, rather than made narrower.

☞ The Aqueduct Co. having some time since completed their pipes from the new reservoir near the line of the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad, to the city, the water in the reservoir on Dover street is now four feet higer than it has been for some months before. The advantage of this new line is very sensibly felt throughout the city; and the fire engines have once more access to a liberal supply of water.

Good, so. The old Aqueduct is one of the greatest necessites, comforts, and luxuries we know; and we are glad of this new life infused into its veins—both of the Company, and its logs. But why not have some wells and pumps, too?

NEWSPAPER STEALING.—For several weeks, the "Herald" has been regularly stolen from the door of Messrs. Moulton & Talbot, and on Wednesday morning an officer was stationed in that locality to detect the thief, who was caught in the very act. After being locked up in the watch house for several hours, he was taken before the Police Court, where he was ordered to pay a fine of $2 and costs, amounting to $8,60, which would have paid for two years' subscription. There are other individuals in this city who have been guilty of the same offence, and when detected will be made to suffer for their contemptible meanness as they deserve. We have told them over and over again that if they want a paper they shall have it by calling at our office; but we won't be plagued by their stealing it from the door of a subscriber. This is second person we have prosecuted, and we will stop this species of larceny, if we have to fill the jail full of such reprobates.—Newburyport Herald.

We will give $10 for evidence to convict any one of stealing Chronicles from the doors of subscribers. There are plenty who do it.

☞ The jury having declared that the Slaughter House on South street was not a nuisance, arrangements have been made between the butchers and the City, whereby the slaughter houses are agreed to be properly cleansed, and the suit stopped respecting the Auburn st. building—thus preventing further law expenses to both parties.

☞ In Board of Aldermen, Thursday evening, Nov. 15, permission was granted G. W. Plumer, to open drain on State st. to Isaiah Wilson, to encumber Congress st.; for building purposes; to A. Shackley, to encumber Cabot st., for the same; and to Geo. W. Brown, to enclose a lot in North Burying Yard, under the direction of the committee on Burying Yards.

☞ The proceedings in the Auburn Poisoning Case trial were concluded on Saturday evening. It will be seen by our report, that Mrs. Healey is acquitted, and Richardson convicted of murder in the second degree. Sentence not passed.

☞ A few copies of the Chronicles containing full report of the Auburn Poisoning Case, may be had at the office.

☞ It will be seen that the Ladies' Aid Society (of the Brodhead Church) are to close their Festival at Jefferson Hall tonight, with a good musical entertainment, at an extremely low price.

A PANIC OF SOME SORT —A correspondent of the Boston Transcript, writing from New York, says:

Several of our leading firms engaged in the forwarding and provision trade have received letters from merchants in Charleston, with whom they do business, assuring them in the most positive manner that South Carolina will not secede, and that a reaction will soon occur, which will prevent the ultraists from accomplishing their purpose. Still many of our best financial men are firm in their conviction that a great commercial panic is impending over the Southern States, and they are reluctant to extend their dealings in that direction, till things look better, and the political sky is clearer.

THE PALMETTO FLAG, &C.—It appears that the owners of a private barque instructed the master to raise the Palmetto flag and salute it with fifteen guns, thus evincing a Yankee's disposition and promptitude to make his line 'popular' with the South Carolinians; whereupon the telegraph reports that the "Palmetto flag has been raised in South Carolina." For our part we should not think such an event in any way uncommon.

We have seen the flag of the Empire State raised many a time and oft on our City Hall and on the barge office of our Custom House—it is quite competent for any merchant vessel to display it—and we presume no harm would be done if some patriotic individual were to take a gun down to the Battery and salute it with either fifteen or fifty guns.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

SICKNESS IN HIGH PLACES.—We learn that the usually sound and excellent health of Ex-President Pierce, suddenly gave way on the morning of election day last week, thus unfortunately preventing his attendance at the polls and depriving him of the opportunity of expressing his choice between Douglas and Breckinridge for President.—We are happy, however, to learn that his disease took so favorable a turn that on the next morning he was about town as well as usual.—Manchester American.

TO DYSPEPTICS.—Soda, Magnesia, and all Alkalies, either afford but temporary relief, or confirm the disease into a chronic affection. The Oxygenated Bitters immediately relieve and permanently cure all forms of Dyspepsia, and stomach difficulties.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heart Burn, Water Brash, Sour Stomach, Jaundice, Flatulency, General Debility, &c., find a ready relief and speedy cure in this great remedy.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS

Are believed by many who have been cured of the above diseases to be the only medicine which the materia medica affords for their infallible cure. It is not an alcoholic preparation, which, while giving a momentary stimulus, reduces the system in the same ratio; but one distinct and different from any medical preparation ever compounded, and one which will, in most cases, extract the disease by the roots and restore the patient to pristine health. In proof of which, testimony of the very highest and unexceptionable character is presented.

S. J. COURT—PORTSMOUTH, Saturday.

The Auburn, N. H. Poisoning Case.

Trial of Richard S. Richardson and Mrs. Sarah Ann Healey for the Murder of Stephen Healey.

Concluded.

Present, Judges Bell and Doe.

Bell and Wilcox for the State; Daniel M. Christie and Wm. B. Small for Mrs. Healey; Wm. H. Y. Hackett and Wm. C. Clarke for Richardson.

Saturday morning.

The Court came in at half past 8.

FOR THE DEFENCE.

Mr. Hackett, for the defence, alluded to the growing unwillingness to take human life, as shown by the fact that a majority of the jurors drawn, disqualified themselves for trying this case, by saying under oath, that they could not bring in a verdict that might take human life.

The circumstance of Healey's sudden death, is not of itself, suspicious,—as a woman of intemperate habits, in Manchester, lately committed suicide, and a man of like habits, in this city, died this week in the lock-up.

There is no evidence of the prisoner's guilt, but circumstances are adduced to prove it, and counsel laid down the rule that the law supposes all persons to be innocent till guilt is proved; and in capital cases every reasonable doubt of guilt must be removed for conviction.

The counsel then reviewed the motives, opportunities, and circumstances alleged by the prosecution; and pronounced the attempt to prove a motive, an entire failure. Mrs. Healey's alleged threats were explained by allusions to Healey's wretched intemperance, and to her own disappointed hopes and blasted expectations; and the frustration of Healey's attempt or feint at shooting himself, was adduced as a true development of the wife's feelings, and of Richardson's relations to the deceased.

The opportunities that existed were explained to be of no consequence, in the absence of anything to fix guilt.

The letter of Richardson was accounted for on ground of his peril and fear; wiser and better men have acted no better in such matters:—and it was set off against Mrs. Langmaid's bad character.

They say he bought strychnine; perhaps he did; but too much weight is laid on this circumstance: a new article, sold and used extensively—and counsel warned the jury not to consider the suspicious circumstance of Richardson's buying strychnine, as by itself conclusive; and also not to be misled by newspaper or other impressions; illustrating the position by a recital of the case of the Booms, in Vermont.

They say strychnine was found in Healey's stomach, and therefore these parties murdered him;—but you cannot say that all doubt is removed on this subject. * *

I say the evidence on this subject is balanced. The jury were warned not to consider the chemical evidence conclusive of the fact that strychnine was there; especially as the post-mortem appearances were against the supposition.

The circumstances that two men, (Dr. Hayes and Jackson,) at the head of their profession, disagree as to the tests of the presence of strychnine, was pressed upon the jury as a reason why the jury should not rely upon the supposed deductions,—in making up their verdict.

Counsel suggested that it was more probable that Dr. Hayes made the mistake of analyzing some other stomach for that of Stephen Healey, by taking down the wrong bottle,—and urged on the jury the danger of taking two human lives by such a mistake. He concluded by presenting to the jury the idea that no crime has been here committed; and with the trust that the jurors when released from their confinement, would be satisfied that the prisoners, by their verdict, would also be set at liberty.

Mr. Hackett closed his very able plea at 20 minutes past 10, and the Court gave the jury a short recess.

Mr. Christie, for the prisoner Mrs. Healey, in commencing, laid down the rule, that the government must clearly prove the allegation of guilt;—he next complained of the defect in the criminal law, which shuts the mouth of the accused; and expressed his regret that the prisoners could not have had a separate trial, so that each could testify for the other. But, as the matter stands, law and justice demand that the jury should not convict without full proof, beyond reasonable doubt.

He then proceeded, with his usual skill, to analyze the evidence;—and explained the letter which Richardson unwisely wrote, to procure the perjury of Seavey,—by his danger, his want of intellect, &c.

Counsel alleges that Healey did not die by strychnine; that it is not certain that Dr. Hayes found any in his stomach; and contends that Healey never took any; considering that the chemical analysis is neutralized and destroyed by the symptoms,—and that Dr. H. has probably made a mistake. He then urged, by referring to the great intemperance of Healey, that he died of drunkenness and nothing else;—and added that the appearances after death agreed with the supposition that he died of rum fits.

Counsel argued that the ill health of both parties, the poverty of Richardson, and the deformity of his child, utterly forbid the supposition that Mrs. H. could have had any hopes from the death of her husband and a connection with R.

After arguing the innocence of both,—Mr. Christie urged that if Richardson got the strychnine and poisoned H., yet Mrs. H. may not be, and probably is not, guilty of any agency in the act, or has any knowledge of it; and that her guilt must not be inferred, but proved, even in case R. was found guilty, which counsel did not for a moment believe.

He made a repetition of the points previously stated; and stated that Richardson and Mrs. H. are not to prove their innocence,—but the government to prove them guilty,—or else the jury must acquit.

Healey might have poisoned himself, but counsel thinks he did not. He closed by an appeal to the jury, if they should err, to err on the side of mercy,—and especially appealed to sympathy for the sick woman soon to die.

At half past 12 court adjourned to 2 o'clock.

Saturday Afternoon.

FOR THE GOVERNMENT.

The Court came in at two o'clock, and Solicitor Chas. H. Bell addressed the jury in behalf of the prosecution.

Something had been said in regard to the evidence being circumstantial; this was true; but it was necessary in all cases of poisoning that the evidence should be circumstantial. This kind of evidence can seldom be invented; if one link is wrong, the whole falls to the ground.

That Stephen Healey died of strychnine poison, is apparent from the evidence that he had not been very much addicted to intemperance, during the months previous to his death, and that on the morning previous to the day of his death, was in his usual health. There is some evidence that he had drank too much at three different times—the last, ten days before his death.

The most that the defence had done, was to show that certain symptoms mentioned were not inconsistent with the hypothesis, (viz., that he died of a rum fit) but these symptoms were not all which had been testified to on the stand. But it had been shown that Healey perspired profusely, and the government had shown that this was inconsistent with the hypothesis.

All the witnesses, except Dr. Jackson, had stated that there is no necessary characteristics in such cases. The chief one which had been insisted upon, was, the rigidity of the body; but it had been testified that the influence of alcoholic drinks was exactly the reverse; thus one would tend to counteract the other. The two most common characteristics were, congestion of the brain, and a dark fluid state of the blood; both of which were seen in the body of Mr. Healey.

Mr. Bell then proceeded to compare the testimonies of the two Drs.; Hayes and Jackson; endeavoring to enforce upon the minds of the jury, that those who are to be considered the most reliable in a profession, are those who devote their whole time to it.

It was admitted by the defence that Richardson purchased strychnine the day before Healey died. Why did he purchase it?—The defence set up that he bought it for Mrs. Langmaid. Mrs. L. has admitted that she had stated that she purchased it for herself; but when she found the matter was to undergo legal investigation, she refused to commit perjury.

Richardson's manner, when he went for assistance, at the time of Healey's death, showed how true is the saying, that "murder will out;" his agitation, when he asked Bragg to come and help lay him out, exposed him, though he quickly recovered, and said Healey was not dead, but would be before they reached there.

The government has proved that there was an intimacy between Mrs. Healey and Richardson; that he was there almost every day; and were seen often together, at different times. Mrs. H.'s conduct after her husband's death, was at least, strange and unusual. For some reason, she wished her husband to make his will, leaving his property to her, with the exception of a legacy to his sister. The project seems to have been to arrange this, and then Richardson and Mrs. Healey, being united, might enjoy it together. Mrs. H. several times had wished that her husband was dead, according to the testimony of two of the witnesses.

From the letter to Carlos Seavey, there appeared to be an understanding between the parties. The Solicitor regarded the following things as proved:—1st, that Stephen Healey died from the effects of strychnine; 2d, that it was not administered by himself; 3d, that it was administered by Richardson; 4th, that he was assisted by Mrs. Healey. The life of a human being might depend upon the manner in which the jury discharged their duty; yet it might be that the lives of others, the safety of the community, also depended upon it. No false delicacy, or desire to shield the prisoners, should prevent their discharging it fearlessly.

At the conclusion of Mr. Bell's address, a short recess was taken, after which Chief Justice Bell made the charge to the jury, first alluding to the wish which had been expressed for separate trials; and stating that if they had been tried separately, they could not have been admitted as witnesses for each other. The prisoners stood charged with the murder of Stephen Healey.—The jury need not trouble themselves about the form of the indictment. It became him to mention to them that they should proceed with all due caution. The State must prove the guilt of the prisoners. The jury would not expect any direct proof of the crime in the present case. No one could witness the commission of it except those engaged in it. No fact stands alone; it is always surrounded by a mass of circumstances. If the number of circumstances is large, if they are closely connected, the presumption becomes very strong. The truth is consistent with itself, but it would be almost impossible for any number of witnesses to concoct a story that would stand in all its parts. As our faith in positive evidence may be affected by the probability of a false coloring, or prejudice, so also might be our faith in circumstantial evidence. The circumstances proved should be consistent with themselves as well as with the result aimed at; they should be also consistent with the idea of guilt.

Malice is essential in the definition of murder; but, in a wilful murder by poison, or other deliberate manner, the law presumes malice aforethought. Our law divides the crime of murder into two of the first and the second degree; to be in the first degree, it must be deliberate and premeditated; poison by culpable carelessness or negligence, might be reduced to manslaughter.

Judge Bell reviewed the testimony in regard to the state of Healey's health just previous to his death; and the symptoms attending his death, and the appearance of the body subsequently. From this testimony there did not appear any rational cause for death. Dr. Hayes declared the existence of strychnine in the stomach. It was evident that Dr. H. was regarded as high authority in such matters. As the jurors could hardly be expected to understand his methods of analysing, or even many of the terms he used, they would find it necessary to confine their attention to the result at which he arrived. He stated that he found a certain substance in the stomach; he tested this to ascertain what it was; that he used the best tests known; that one result only was attained—and that the substance was strychnine; and that this result was substantiated by all his subsequent experiments.

None of the medical gentlemen could state what the influence of the use of alcoholic spirits would be in a case of poison by strychnine,—whether it would neutralize the influence of the strychnine in respect to rigidity or not. If from this evidence, the jury had a doubt equal to one which would prevent their taking any important step in their own private affairs, they should stop there, and bring in a verdict of acquittal; but if not, they should examine further.

Even if Richardson did purchase the poison for Mrs. Langmaid, it does not appear how much he gave her; but it does appear that he had the poison just previous to the death of Healey. In regard to the desire for Healey to make another will, it might be suggested that possibly there was some misapprehension in regard to it, and that the prisoners then thought it might not apply to property acquired since his marriage. The statement of Mrs. Healey that "something would be found wrong" on the post mortem examination of Mr. H., might not necessarily imply more than an apprehension that something would be found wrong. The attempts by Richardson to fabricate testimony, implicate him more than Mrs. Healey. Mrs. Langmaid discredits herself and is discredited by others.—There was matter for consideration in the fact that no physician or neighbor was called in till after Healey's death. In civil cases, the jury were to weigh the proof on the one side and the other, to give their verdict on the side of the greater preponderance.

But in criminal cases, it was necessary to prove the guilt beyond the possibility of a reasonable doubt; the testimony in such cases should satisfy the reason and the judgments of those who were to pass upon it.—If anything more were demanded, it would be impossible to obtain a verdict of guilty in a great majority of instances.

THE VERDICTS.

This closed the case, and the jury retired; and at ten minutes before six, the Court was adjourned to 9 o'clock Monday morning—with orders for the bell to be rung to assemble at any earlier hour, should the jury agree upon a verdict.

At half past eight, Saturday night, the Court bell rang, and in less than five minutes the Court House was jammed with spectators. After order was restored, the jury were called in, and announced the following verdict:—

Richard S. Richardson, Guilty of Murder in the second degree.

Sarah Ann Healey, Not Guilty.

Neither of the prisoners manifested any apparent emotion, at the announcement of the verdict. Of course the woman was at once discharged; and Richardson remanded to jail, until sentenced.

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL,

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY

Of Providence, R. I.

In introducing a new Cook Stove, of singularly novel construction and arrangement, it is proper that we speak of its peculiar merits.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven, with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is the most durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high-priced Air-Tight Cook Stoves, but will barely allude to them, viz:

1st. The double plates each side of the fire prevent any leak of ashes into the oven and make the stove more durable.

2d. The admission of external air between these plates, for the ventilation of the roasting oven, tends also to the preservation of the plates most exposed to destruction.

3d. The durable dump grate, with the ash box of ample size to receive the ashes and coals, is an attractive feature of the stove.

4th. The draft door, at each end of the fire box, is a great convenience when a quick fire is wanted

5th. The movable ash pan, which, though it forms a hearth to the stove, need not be used except once or twice a day for taking up and carrying away the ashes.

6th. The stove has but one damper, and but one division of flues on the back of and under the oven, ensuring a very quick bake.

7th The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting ovens are lined with tin, and tin jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

This stove was thoroughly tested before brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial of the stove.

John Trundy, Esq., one of our most practical and scientific mechanics, who has had large experience in the construction of stove patterns in years past, and has for many years been using one of the Stewart Stoves, has purchased one of the MODEL COOKS, and after a fair trial pronounces it far superior to the Stewart or any stove he has ever seen, for economy, convenience and dispatch. We might also refer to several other parties who are using the stove, and who award it the very highest praise.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be the stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is wanted.

We have nought to say against any other stove, believing that a man can sell his own goods without depreciating his neighbor's; but this we do say, that we honestly believe this is the best stove that can be found in the world; and what is more, we think others will agree with us after a trial of it. We invite any one to examine the stove, whether they wish to purchase or not.

For sale, with a great variety of

Furnaces, Ranges, Cooking, Office and Parlor Stoves; Coal Hods, Sifters, Funnel, Stove-Repairing Pieces, Parlor Grates, Etc.

Cook Stoves.

Autocrat of the Kitchen.—35,000 in use

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

ATWOOD'S

QUININE TONIC

BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonic and stomachic s, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "but it is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may continue themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, Under the act of 1837.

73 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Examines Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into the American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the patent laws. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered elsewhere. The extensive patronage heretofore given me proves I MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure to them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend my inventors to his care, as the best for their patents, as they may apply to him to procure their patents, in the full assurance that they will be fairly and faithfully attended to, and at reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE REJECTED applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, scientific men, and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus, and which is identical in its composition with the Blood, Muscles, or red blood.—In all diseases accompanied with pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyses of the blood show a deficiency in the red globules. Ruddy complexion and a rosy tint of the skin, is always indicative of health; while a pale, wax-like skin and sallow complexion, which evinces a considerable deficiency of the red globules,—accompanies a diseased organism. Preparations of Iron have been used for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contended that Iron alone, Sulpur alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This point has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in

DEBILITY,

are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will do all this, and is of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Nervous Prostration, Scrofula, Gravel, Stone, Fits, Tic Douloureux, Fever and Ague, &c., its efficacy is marked and instantaneous. In no class of diseases is more or the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, such as suppressed or difficult Menstruation, Green Sickness, Whites, &c., especially when these complaints are accompanied with paleness, a disagreeable pallor of the skin, depression of spirits, debility, palpitation want of appetite, and nervous prostration. We have the almost confidence in recommending the Blood Food to all who may be conscious of a loss of vitality or energy, and to those whose mental or bodily powers are prostrated through excess, either of the mind or body, and we deem it our duty to say that in all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, and in all diseases of the Kidneys or Bladder, this preparation has a claim upon the attention of sufferers which cannot be over-estimated. A faithful trial will be sufficient to the convincing proof in regard to its efficacy that could be asked for. With the above remarks, and with the numerous testimonials we have in its favor, we offer the "Blood Food" to the consideration of the afflicted, knowing that it will be acknowledged as superior to all other preparations, patent or official, in point of usefulness. Circulars giving the Theory upon which this remedy is founded, also certificates of remarkable cures, will be sent free when desired. We forward the Blood Food to any par of the United States or Canadas upon receipt of price—$1 per bottle, $5 for six bottles. Be careful in all cases to take note but that having our fac-simile signature upon the wrapper. None other is genuine.

Humphreys' Specific Homeopathic Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long felt want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhœa, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you can use them what to take—prepaid, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and speedy, they are adapted at once that spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being VERY EASY IN USE, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity, efficacy and safety and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

PROF. WOOD'S

RESTORATIVE CORDIAL

—AND—

BLOOD RENOVATOR,

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revitalizing, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence make this weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge to enable any person to fortify against all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which people are mostly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervousness, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so loosely termed, and so little understood by most of EDITING.—A long and broad study it is to know how to make a daily paper that shall meet the approval of judges, professional men, manufacturers, mechanics, farmers, and odd-job workers; maid servants and man servants; men who live by their wits, and men devoid of wit; the poor girl dressed at a dime a yard, with a face worth a million; the daughter with a dowry, decked in diamonds, read up in all fashionable literature, and the pet of first circles; the old maid that hates children, and the mother that rejoices in the "olive plants" about her; the kind old lady that relishes nothing that does not smack of customs half a century old; and the lady of half a century old who prides herself upon her young notions, and whose hoop-de-doodle-doo strikes a larger circle than any other in her village or city. The editor is a caterer to all these tastes. His scale of experience must be a long one;—and, also, a journalist, like a gambler, must put his money down before he can take it up; must be enterprising;—that the public is appreciating and cannot be cheated long; that the majority will take the best paper; and that success depends on enterprise, reliability, honesty and good sense.—Manchester Mirror.

VAGRANCY.—It is not such a very terrible thing to be a "vagrant;" on the contrary, considering the real nature of "respectability" in these days—how artificial, hollow and corrupt it is,—perhaps what proper people call "vagrancy" is the only alternative for a gentleman. For what in a broad sense society describes as "the vagrant is simply the imperial individual, the unconventional man. It is one who in his own way, free and fearless, develops a great character and fulfils a true life; one to whom the forms and shows of things are ineffectual and dreary, and beneath whose feet all falsehood crumbles into ashes.

The world has long been familiar with the character of "the vagrant." Largely in literature and art, but not solely in these.—Back through all ages, upon every eminence of power or of martydom stands "the vagrant"—the leader—the Unconventional Man. And thus all truly great names in history—not accepting that of the great Teacher himself—respect the "vagrants" of our race.—N. Y. Sat. Press.

THE WORD "SPLURGE" is a coinage probably not yet in any dictionary; yet meaning, as if a great rock of the mountain, disintegrated from its summit, should rush and bound, portentous and avalanched, into a sylvan lake at its foot, there making an uproarious splash, boring its momentous way through the parted and the frighted waves, and after dashing the spray in all directions, burying itself in forgotten repose, under congenial mud at the bottom: so gone forever from sight, from thought, from upper air, and all the ways of men; thus meaning—the low aim of making a considerable sensation at least once in society.—Rev. Dr. Cox.

Holmes is busy with his admirable story now running through the Atlantic Monthly. He is also preparing another volume of poems, to be called "Songs in Many Keys." A great deal of hitherto unpublished matter will be included in it, the principal poem being a sort of old-time story in verse, elaborated as Holmes knows so well how to do it. Some of the comic portions of the book are said to be in his most pungent vein. 'Currents and Counter Currents,' the sharp stick with which the brilliant Doctor came down so boldly and ably a few months ago upon the medical profession, is to be elongated and put into a volume, with other good things in the same way.

"How long did Adam remain in Paradise before he sinned?" said an amiable spouse to her husband. "Till he got a wife," calmly answered the impertinent.

ZOLLICKOFFER'S
ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL,
A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF
INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA, AND LUMBAGO.

Hundreds of testimonials to the good resulting from the use of this Cordial could be offered—but the following will suffice:

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 6, 1860.
I hereby certify that I have used a variety of preparations for the cure of Rheumatism, but have found none of them whose effect was so immediate and lasting as Zollickoffer's Anti-Rheumatic Cordial, and would advise all afflicted with that painful disease to give it a fair trial.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicate finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

New Photographic Establishment.
Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.
The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.
All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.
Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

DISUNION.—We might copy many items about disunion, pro and con; but we have other things of more interest to-day. The Boston Herald remarks on this:

It cannot have escaped the attention of those who are watching the disunion movement at the South, that not a single instance of resistance to the laws of the United States has been yet committed. Amidst all the excitement special pains are taken to disclaim all thought of violating the laws of the Union, and the federal laws have been closely obeyed. It will have been observed, also, that nothing whatever has been done, even by South Carolina, to prepare for that eventual nullification which alone can make secession a reality. The same is true of the other States. Governor's messages, legislative resolutions and public speeches make up the whole of the secession movement thus far.

The Raleigh (N. C.) Register says that the old North State will not be dragged into the secession movement. Maryland, Kentucky, Tennessee and Missouri will not follow South Carolina or the cotton States out of the Union, unless a weightier cause is given than the election of a man to the Presidency to whom they are opposed. The same paper says:

Already the effects of disunion are manifesting themselves. Negroes have gone down 30 per cent., and soon other property will begin to depreciate. And for what? A miserable abstraction. Should an attempt be made to execute these threats, men now wealthy would be reduced to poverty. An intelligent gentleman, and a Democrat withal, who is worth over $100,000, remarked to us the other day that he did not think the value of his property now was more than half what it was on the 1st of August.

OUR BELOVED COUNTRY.—While we have nothing to do with politics, and are indifferent who may hold the offices, so long as they are well administered, we cannot be silent, and submit with resignation to needless calamites thrust upon us by unscrupulous politicians. Such has been our faith in government that we thought it would go along itself. We are, however, suddenly brought to a stand still by a certain set of demagogues, through all sections of the country, who have been advocating principles they did believe, and inculcating sentiments in which they had no faith. They have set the nation by the ears, and it becomes all honest men, and all true gentle men, to unite and prevent them from breaking up an Union, which, when we keep faith with one another, gives us wealth and power, and commands the respect of the world. Let those who have done wrong, whoever and wherever they are, retrace their steps, and let the wise and the brave, and the noble of the land come together and dispel the bitter and cruel afflictions that are upon us.—Porter's Spirit.

All the above are pluralities, over the next highest candidate.

COURTESY AT THE POLLS.—Hon. Edward Everett voted in Ward 7, and on his presenting himself at the polls on Tuesday, the cry was raised by those who were working as hard as they could against him, "Three cheers for Mr. Everett," which were given with a heartiness that must have been gratifying to the recipient of the tribute.—Boston Evening Gazette.

No candidate ever passed through an excited political canvass with so little said or felt in derogation of his character, as Mr. Everett has done. We have never noticed a disrespectful word, in reference to him, excepting in a single paper.—Salem Gaz.

WAS BUNKER HILL A HUMBUG?—The New York Times says, having had the pleasure of meeting in Boston with Mr. Farnham, and having learned his political proclivities, we penned a few days since the following item: "Ralph Farnham, the sole survivor of the battle of Bunker Hill, and the recipient of much kindness from our late royal guest, has voted at every Presidential election and has made up his mind to vote for Lincoln on Tuesday next." Whereupon the Charleston Mercury waxeth wroth, and patriotically expresseth itself thus: "Ralph Farnham is perhaps as great a humbug as was the battle of Bunker Hill."

PERJURY.—It is not perhaps commonly remembered by readers of the accounts from the South, that the Governors of all the States, and Members of the National Senate and House of Representatives, have sworn to support the Constitution of the United States. Gov. Gist and Senator Toombs are especially open to the charge of breaking their oaths. They will not even abide by the Constitution as they understand it.

☞ Wm. T. Webster, Professor of Chemistry in Washington College, at Washington, Pa., died on the 12th inst., at the age of twenty-seven years. Mr. W. was a son of Samuel Webster of Kingston, N. H. He was a graduate of Brown University.

THE WRONG MAN.—Some time since Frank Williams, who is now in durance at Nashua for robbing a safe, committed a theft in Manchester, and was arrested but he escaped the officers. After a while a man answering to his description was arrested, and duly committed to jail, in spite of his protestations of innocence. When the genuine Frank Williams turned up, the spurious one was discharged. It is said that he was so overjoyed at his release, that he wept and laughed and danced by turns, as if he was beside himself. It certainly is no joke for an honest man to be taken for a rogue, and put into prison.

☞ Mrs. Amelia Phillips of Williamsburg, wife of a very respectable farmer, has been detected in stealing from dry goods stores in Northampton. Mrs. Phillips has hitherto borne a good character, and was a member of the Congregational Church in Williamsburg. The cause which led her to steal, as she has acknowledged, was her great love of dress. She thought a great deal of her daughters, and wished to dress them in a style that would make them attractive in society.

☞ A young unmarried man and woman having commenced housekeeping together in the town of L'Original, C. W., the house was visited in the night, and the man brought out by a serenade. He was instantly pinioned and set astride a rail, but, just as his journey was about to commence, the young woman sprang into the crowd, armed with a large knife, and struck out right and left with such effect that the assailants immediately fled. She wounded five of them, one mortally.

☞ On Friday, the Connecticut Supreme Court of Errors decided the case of the quadroon, Stoddard, of Norwich, in his favor. Some of his property had been sold to pay taxes. He thereupon brought a suit against the town of Norwich to recover the amount, claiming to be a colored person within the meaning of the statute which exempts property of colored persons from taxation. The claim was sustained by the Court.

☞ Last Friday or Saturday, an item in some paper mentioned that the gale of the previous Saturday blew down the steeple of one of the Congregational churches in Durham, N. H., in such a way that the point of the steeple went down through the roof of the house, and remained sticking out through the end of it.

We think there must be some mistake in the place; as Durham, N. H, contains but one Congregational church; and as a friend who was in Durham last week, heard no mention of so dire a disaster.

There is a Durham in Maine, one in in Connecticut, and others. It may have happened in one of these.

RECEIVER OF STOLEN GOODS.—Some time since two Boston thieves named Howard and Pettengill, were convicted at Manchester, N. H., of robbing a dry goods store of that city of about $3000 worth of silk goods, and at the same time an executive warrant was granted at the request of the Governor of New Hampshire, for the arrest of a man in Boston named Howard M. Graves, who was suspected of being the receiver of the stolen property. On Saturday Graves was arrested in Boston and taken to Manchester, where he waived examination and gave bail in $1000. Graves was formerly in the liquor business in Blackstone street, and the goods stolen from Manchester were found in his brother's store in one of the interior towns of New Hampshire.

CALIFORNIA GONE FOR LINCOLN.—Fort Kearney, Nov. 18.—The Pony Express, with San Francisco dates of the 8th, has arrived.

California has gone for Lincoln.

San Francisco gave Lincoln 3000 maj.

The report that the Southern States were preparing to secede if Lincoln was elected, had but little effect.

IN THE SUPREME COURT at Salem Isaac Fletcher received a verdict for $2,750 from the Boston & Maine Railroad, for damages to person and property while unloading some marble from the cars.

Elder Joseph Boody, of New Durham, now in his 88th year, attended quarterly meeting in Barnstead, last week, and preached. A gentleman present informs us that the old veteran still retains much of the energy and fire of his younger days, and that after listening to him, many of the younger speakers thought their laurels needed looking after.—Dover Sentinel.

Admiral Napier is dead.

The Piedmontese troops under Victor Emanuel gained a brilliant victory on the 3d inst., on the Garigliani. They attacked the Bourbon army in front with their troops flanked by the fleet, and dispersed them, the tents, wagons and stores of the enemy falling into Victor Emanuel's possession, with 11,000 prisoners. General Sommax pursued the enemy afterwards, and occupied Mora and other positions commanding Gaeta.

Victor Emanuel was expected at Naples immediately.

Garibaldi was at Naples.

Anarchy reigned at Viterbo.

The voting on the question of annexation had commenced at Peregina. The inhabitant of Viterbo hastened to vote, notwithstanding the French occupation and the Pontifical gendarmes.

A large body of troops, who remained outside of the fortress of Gaeta, had sent a proposal of surrender to the Piedmontese.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837.

78 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantage for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Feb. 1, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is yet pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWEIVE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas.

It is now generally admitted that all eruptive diseases depend upon some internal or constitutional cause, and that to use ointments or washes for them is a sure way to injure the sufferer, and only to distort, but not to cure the disease. DR. HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC SALT RHEUM PILLS are a true specific for all such diseases. They cure Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Itch, Erysipelas, Pimples on the face, Ringworm, Barber's Itch, and Nettle Rash, by curing the cause upon which the eruption depends, and restoring the skin to a state of health and purity. Thus not only is the disease cured, but the softness and beauty of the complexion restored.

Price, 25 cents per box, with directions. Six boxes $1.

Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.

WISTAR'S BALSAM WILD CHERRY

Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Quinsy, and the numerous as well as dangerous diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, prevail, in our changeable climate, at all seasons of the year; few are fortunate enough to escape their baneful influence. How important, then, to have at hand a certain antidote to all these complaints. Experience proves that this exists in Wistar's Balsam to an extent not found in any other remedy; however severe the suffering, the application of this soothing, healing and wonderful Balsam at once vanquishes the disease, and restores the sufferer to wonted health.

From a Respectable Druggist.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 3, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & CO., Boston:

Gents:—Please send me a fresh supply of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. I sell a deal of it, selling large quantities of this long celebrated remedy for Coughs and Colds, and it bids fair to outline most of the so-called specifics which are now in vogue. We can confidently recommend it as a remedy for what it is labeled for. Very truly yours,

NATHAN P. THACHER.

Mr. D. H. TEAGUE, of Turner Village,

Writes the proprietors of this great remedy, as follows:

TURNER VILLAGE, ME., July 21, 1860.

Messrs. SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston:

Gents:—I do not hesitate to recommend DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for coughs and pulmonary affections, having used it in my family for many years with great satisfaction; indeed it has done more good than all the other remedies I have tried, and their name is legion. If all the patent medicines in the market possessed but a portion of the merit of this excellent Balsam, there would be no occasion to condemn them as humbugs.

The medicine is also used by many of my friends and acquaintances in this town, and they have found it invaluable; and I hope that others who suffer may give it a fair trial. Very respectfully,

D. H. TEAGUE.

KINGSTON, March 10, 1841.—"This may certify that my son has had a humor which made its appearance when he was but a few days old; and it grew worse, occasioning large scabs and running sores. He has been cured by the use of Dr. Swett's Panacea and Humor Wash."

T. CURRIER.

Hundreds of testimonials on hand might be added, evincing the many cures by Dr. Swett's medicine. All orders directed to DR. SIMEON SWETT, PORTSMOUTH, N. H., No. 1 School St., for his Panacea, Cough Drops, Conserve, Rheumatic Compound and Family Pills, and others of his popular remedies, will be promptly attended to.

Catarrh is the most difficult of any of the Diseases of the Breathing Organs to relieve or to cure. The Rev. Joshua Leavitt, editor of the Independent of New York, who had the Catarrh for more than twenty years, has been cured by using Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron and Sulphur Powders, which are advertised in this paper. His testimonial is published in a pamphlet among others equally prominent who have been cured of chronic Throats and Lung difficulties, which will be sent free by mail.

S. J. COURT—PORTSMOUTH, Monday.

The Auburn, N. H. Poisoning Case.

Concluded.

Present, Judges Bell and Doe.

The Court came in at a few minutes past nine o'clock.

Mr. Hackett called the attention of the Court to the fact that the jury, in finding a verdict of Murder in the second degree, could not have believed that the death of Healey was occasioned by poison; but must have considered the fourth and last count of the indictment as sustained—viz: the killing by assault and battery. He therefore deemed it his duty to demand that the prisoner be sentenced upon the last count only. The Clerk then read the sentence of Richardson, as follows:—

"Richard S. Richardson:—The Court having considered the verdict, hereby order that you be kept in solitary confinement in the State Prison for the space of ten days, and at hard labor for the term of thirty years."

OBITUARY.—W. H. Y. Hackett, Esq., in behalf of the committee appointed for the purpose, presented the Resolutions of the Rockingham Bar relative to the deaths of Hon. John S. Wells, Hon. John Kelly, Nathaniel Dearborn, Esq., and William H. Gilman, Esq. He introduced them with a few appropriate and feeling remarks, alluding particularly to Hon. John S. Wells, late President of the Bar.

A. R. Hatch, Esq., then addressed the Court in a brief but skillful analysis of the character of Hon. John Kelly, and was followed by William H. Hackett, Esq., who spoke in fitting terms of Wm. H. Gilman, Esq., with whom, ten years previous, he had passed an examination for admission to the bar.

His Honor, Chief Justice Bell, then referred to the characters and professional standing of each of the deceased, having been reminded by their deaths, of the many changes which had occurred since he first became connected with the Rockingham Bar—nearly forty years since. Alluding to that time as "the age of the giants," he spoke of Plummer, Mason, Woodbury, and Bartlett, somewhat in detail; and alluded to many others who had once been associated with him, but had since been removed by death.

It was then ordered that the resolutions be entered upon the records of the Court.

The rest of the day, Monday, was spent in calling the docket, and disposing of cases in the various ways. It is expected the Court will rise to-day.

CONGRESS STREET.

VINDICATION.—Messrs. Editors:—My attention has been called to an article in your issue of this morning, taken from the Gazette, and headed "Singular Proceedings," with some addenda of your own.—The article charges "that the Board of Aldermen have voted on petition of D. R. Rogers, to reduce the width of Congress street, by fixing the line on the south side, to run from the tower of the North Church, to the corner of Jackson & Co.'s Express Office, &c., &c." Now it is utterly untrue that I ever petitioned the Board of Aldermen to reduce the width of Congress street, or to fix the line on the south side, to run from the corner of the tower of the North Church to Jackson & Co.'s Office, or that I ever suggested to the Board, or to any individual composing it, such a line, nor were my views asked by any member of the Board, except the Mayor, to whom I replied that I had not then decided in my own mind where it would be best to have the line, but that I would have a plan drawn, by which we could all form a more correct opinion, and that it should be laid before the Board, which was done.

My petition, as it is called, was a short note, stating to the Board, that I was about to erect a building in Congress street, and simply asking to be informed what I might consider the line of the street; as at present, no two buildings in the Square are on a line with each other. And as the old buildings would come down from time to time, and new ones go up, it would be desirable to have the line of the street fixed. Not getting an answer for some weeks, I repeated my request, and these two short notes, are all the communications I have sent to the Board. They may be seen at the City Rooms, I presume, by any one who feels aggrieved, and you are at liberty to make what use of them you please.—Perhaps they will not be found to evince the covetousness with which I am charged.

Before I close, may I be allowed to suggest that accuracy of statement seems to me a quality exceedingly to be desired, and steadily to be aimed at, especially by those who undertake to give information to the public through the press. D. R. R.

☞ Gen. Peaslee, formerly of Concord, N. H., and recently Collector of Boston, has taken up his residence in Portsmouth.

☞ A few copies of the Chronicles containing full report of the Auburn Poisoning Case, may be had at the office.

MERCANTILE LECTURES.

Messrs. Editors:—The fifth course of popular lectures before the M. L. Assoc. commences to-morrow (Wednesday) evening, at the Temple. It is believed that the entertainment provided by the committee will prove of a high order, and the course they have arranged promises to be eminently worthy of patronage. Hon. Edward Everett is to deliver the opening lecture. He is well-known as being one of the finest orators our country has produced, and we should judge from the title of his lecture that the subject offers a fine field for his powers. The other lecturers announced to follow are well-known to be as good as can be had. There is no form of entertainment more instructing, and there can hardly be one cheaper, than the popular Lyceum, and the Mercantile course this season promises as much as any we have ever had here, and is eminently worthy of patronage.

There seems to be at least one reason why the success of the Mercantile Association in this undertaking is desirable, which will readily commend itself to every thinking mind. The association is composed wholly of young men who are allowed the use of a very fine library, the property of the society. Of course new books must frequently be added, and to this laudable object every spare dollar of the society's funds is devoted. Although the committee evince a disposition to disburse most liberally the money received from the sale of tickets, in the procurement of the best talent in the lecture field, still it is a source of satisfaction on the part of the public, to know that any funds remaining at the close of the season, are at once devoted to the purchase of valuable and instructive books. Such being the case, will not our citizens procure tickets for the coming course of lectures, and thus aid the young men in our midst?

A FRIEND TO THE YOUNG.

GAS.—Saturday night was dark and cloudy. By the almanac there appeared, possibly, as the lamp-lighter reckoned it, a small show of the moon. But it was not enough visible to shine through the clouds; but there was a moon and that was enough, and so all the gas-lights in the streets were as dark and black as the clouds themselves. A good gas-light in the street is a good police regulation; it is a protection alike to person and property. Let us have our gas lights in the street shining on dark nights, though there may be a constructive appearance on the part of the moon; and besides the comfort of the light, there will be an economy in the prevention of accident and evil-doing, that will more than compensate for the slight cost of the LIGHT.

LINCOLN'S CABINET.—Among the names suggested for Lincoln's Cabinet, is that of Gov. Goodwin of New Hampshire for Secretary of the Navy.—Nashua Gazette.

Gov. Goodwin is a sound and solid man—a man of good judgment—and would probably be more acceptable to the people at large than any other man yet named.—Concord Standard.

We have seen John P. Hale named for the same place.

☞ Speaking of the suggestion for the new Cabinet, of Gov. Goodwin for Secretary of the Navy, the Salem Gazette says: "We shall think the end of the world is coming—at some time—if an appointment so obviously fit and proper as this should be made. The usage for many years has been to take for Secretary of the Navy a country lawyer, who has not known a ship from a sloop."

THE EASTERN RAILROAD.—The rapid decline in Eastern Railroad shares has been accelerated by the calling in of demand loans, together with an absurd rumor that no dividend would be paid in January.—We are informed by competent authority that the company has on hand $75,000 to pay the December Income Bonds, and an amount requisite to pay a dividend of three dollars per share in January next; $2 75 per share is freely bid for the January dividend. The stock of this road fell to 69 at the board to-day, but rapidly recovered to 70, with 70 1-2 bid cash, at the close, for large lots—sales buyer 60 days at 72—and same rate bid. The stock since the board is in active demand at an improvement on the board rates. Every month the road has made handsome gains over corresponding months of last year.—Bost. Transcript.

NEW FALL STOCK,

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL,

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY

Of Providence, R. I.

In introducing a new Cook Stove, of singularly novel construction and arrangement, it is proper that we speak of its peculiar merits.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long; or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven, with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is the most durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high-priced Air-Tight Cook Stoves, but will barely allude to them, viz:

1st. The double plates each side of the fire prevent any leak of ashes into the oven and make the stove more durable.

2d. The admission of external air between these plates, for the ventilation of the roasting oven, tends also to the preservation of the plates most exposed to destruction.

3d. The durable dump grate, with the ash box of ample size to receive the ashes and coals, is an attractive feature of the stove.

4th. The draft door, at each end of the fire box, is a great convenience when a quick fire is wanted

5th. The movable ash pan, which, though it forms a hearth to the stove, need not be used except once or twice a day for taking up and carrying away the ashes.

6th. The stove has but one damper, and but one division of flues on the back of and under the oven, ensuring a very quick bake.

7th The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and tin jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

This stove was thoroughly tested before brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial of the stove.

John Trundy, Esq., one of our most practical and scientific mechanics, who has had large experience in the construction of stove patterns in years past, and has for many years been using one of the Stewart Stoves, has purchased one of the MODEL COOKS, and after a fair trial pronounces it far superior to the Stewart or any stove he has ever seen, for economy, convenience and dispatch. We might also refer to several other parties who are using the stove, and who award it the very highest praise.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be the stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is wanted.

We have nought to say against any other stove, believing that a man can sell his own goods without depreciating his neighbor's; but this we do say, that we honestly believe this is the best stove that can be found in the world; and what is more, we think others will agree with us after a trial of it. We invite any one to examine the stove, whether they wish to purchase or not.

For sale, with a great variety of

Furnaces, Ranges, Cooking, Office and Parlor Stoves; Coal Hods, Sifters, Funnel, Stove-Repairing Pieces, Parlor Grates, Etc.

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

Morning Chronicle.

A "Fashion" writer in a New York paper says the Winter bonnets promise to be as severely plain as a Shaker meeting-house; feathers and flowers will be seen as rarely as birds on a prarie. Dark velvet depressed over the forehead, with almost straight sides, plain crown, and decoration of real rich lace only, will be recognized as ton by the initiated.

There is a "Rev. Dr. Cummins" of Manchester, Eng., who rides in his carriage, buys houses, from the sale of his book intitled, "The Great Tribulation coming upon the Earth." Quotes the prophecies to show the return of the Jews to Jerusalem, and makes certain "woes" refer to England.—The Tribulation is not to be put off longer than 1867.

The richest endowments of the mind are temperance, prudence and fortitude. Prudence is a universal virtue, which enters into the composition of all the rest; and where she is not, fortitude loses its name and nature.

What a glorious world this would be, if all its inhabitants could say, with Shakspeare's Shepherd: "Sir, I am a true laborer; I earn that I wear; owe no man hate; envy no man's happiness; glad of other men's good; content with my farm."

It being hinted to a barrister, who was wearying the court with a long, dull argument, that he ought to bring it to a close, he angrily replied, "I will speak as long as I please!" "You have spoken longer than you please, already," said his antagonist.

A recent author says:—"There is no cholera, no yellow fever, no small pox more contagious than debt. If one lives habitually among embarrassed men, one catches it to a certainty."

The precept, know yourself, was not only intended to obviate the pride of mankind, but likewise that we might understand our own worth.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, scientific men, and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus, and which is identical in its composition with the Hematic Globule, or red blood.—In all diseases accompanied with

DEBILITY,

pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyses of the blood show a deficiency of the red globules. Ruddy complexion and a rosy tint of the skin, is always indicative of health; while a pale, waxy-like skin and complexion, are evidences of considerable deficiency of the red globules,—accompanies a diseased organism. Preparations of Iron have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that Iron alone, Sulpur alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This point, never before attained, has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in

are to soften the cough, lower the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific in all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Scrofula, Gravel, St. Vitus' Dance, Fever and Ague, &c. its efficacy is marked and instantaneous. In no class of diseases, however, are the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing

FEMALE COMPLAINTS

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, such as suppressed or difficult Menstruation, Green Sickness, Whites, &c., especially when these complaints are accompanied with paleness, a dingy hue or pallor of the skin, depression of spirits, debility, palpitation, want of appetite, and nervous prostration. We have the utmost confidence in recommending the Blood Food to all who may be conscious of a loss of vitality or energy, and to those whose mental or bodily powers are prostrated through over-use, either of the mind or body, and we deem it our duty to say that in all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, and in all diseases of the Kidneys or Bladder, this preparation has a claim upon the attention of sufferers without a parallel in medical record. A faithful trial will be found the most convincing proof in regard to its efficacy that could be asked for. With the above statements, and with the numerous testimonials we have in its favor, we offer the "Blood Food" to the consideration of the afflicted, knowing that it will be acknowledged as pre-eminent over all other preparations, patent or officinal, in point of usefulness. Circulars giving the Theory upon which this remedy is founded, also certificates of remarkable cures, will be sent free when desired. We forward the Blood Food to any part of the United States or Canadas upon receipt of price—$1 per bottle, $6 for six bottles. Be careful in all cases to take none but that having our fac-simile signature on the wrapper None other is genuine

Humphreys' Homeopathic Specific Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, a reliable remedy for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhea, a pain in the side, or a headache, or bleeding, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—cheap, so the means of prompt assistance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST IN USE, FOR SAFETY, SIMPLICITY AND CONVENIENCE, FOR SPEEDY EFFICACY AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers

RESTORATIVE CORDIAL

—AND—

BLOOD RENOVATOR.

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully compounded as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe this weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently cannot be injurious. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by those who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and leaves the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Coughs, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Debility and Wasting, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks of the Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases, at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting and giving the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and all should take a teaspoonful at least before eating. As it promotes digestion, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all who are not untoned by much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above frequent complaints prevail. Then, again, the vital is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it.—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, but even that of your beloved sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, and be late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for you are sure to never failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.

O. J. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market street, St Louis, Mo., and sold by all good Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

Dr. Mott's

CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE

PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest medical authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate the necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued exhausting effects of mental and nervous energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would be credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female officers, emaciated victims to apparent marasmus; sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the opiates of the pharmacopœia are invaluably necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and overbearing; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, over which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In Leucorrhœa, innumerable are are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarms of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of Iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy as safe and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which has been such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirum Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

THE ART ASSOCIATION.

The New York Spirit of the Times, (the editor of which is himself a painter, and an artist of no little celebrity,) pays the following high compliment to the Cosmopolitan Art Association, and their Engraving for the present season.

"FALSTAFF MUSTERING HIS RECRUITS." This finest and largest of American engravings is destined for distribution the ensuing year by the Cosmopolitan Art Association. One of the most celebrated engravers has spent three years in preparing it. The subject is taken from Schrodter's celebrated Dusseldorf picture, and represents the "fat knight" reviewing in distainful silence the enrollment of as motley a crew of ragamuffins as were ever pressed from the offscourings of Christendom. The engraving is 25x30 inches, printed upon paper which makes a picture 35x37 inches in size, and when framed, is one of the finest and most conspicuous engravings of the age—equally suitable for the drawing-room or the parlor. The tableau is replete with humor, and will forcibly appeal to the risibilities of every mirth-loving sportsman—all will readily pardon the valiant (?) knight for exclaiming "No eye hath seen such scarecrows! I'll not march through Coventry with them. That's flat."

This supurb engraving, which we confidently predict will prove more popular that any yet issued by the Association, together with a copy of the elegantly illustrated "Art Journal," with four admissions to the Galleries of Art, 548 Broadway, and other benefits, all for $3.

We are happy to state that the Cosmopolitan Art Association was never in a more flourishing condition than it now finds itself, the begining of this, its seventh year. It has effected more towards the establishment of a correct standard for Art, and the dissimination of its æsthetic principles, in the cultivation of a love of the true, the beautiful, and the good, than any institution in this country, and we bid it God speed on its errand of light.

A copy of the picture may be seen in N. P. Thacher's window; and subscriptions will be received by Frank W. Miller, Hon. Secretary.

WHITE ROBBERS AMONG THE INDIANS. An Army officer, writing from a camp near Fort Union, New Mexico, states that, having been ordered to chase some marauding "Indians," who ran away with a large amount of private and government property, he followed the robbers, trail, and succeeded in overhauling the stolen cattle and horses in the possession of a well organized gang of white men, who devote all their time to stealing everything they can lay their hands on. The Indians, of course, are always charged with the crimes.—Boston Courier.

A good country minister in a northern village lately prayed fervently for those of his countrymen who were too proud to kneel and too lazy to stand.

ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL,
A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF
INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA, AND LUMBAGO.

Hundreds of testimonials to the good resulting from the use of this Cordial could be offered—but the following will suffice:

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 6, 1860.
I hereby certify that I have used a variety of preparations for the cure of Rheumatism, but have found none of them whose effect was so immediate and lasting as Zollickoffer's Anti-Rheumatic Cordial, and would advise all afflicted with that painful disease to give it a fair trial.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, free of right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

New Photographic Establishment.
Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.
The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.
All work from the establishment warranted to be of this first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.
Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

NOTICE—TO NEW SUBSCRIBERS.

All persons who may now pay $4 for the Daily Chronicle, or $1 for the Weekly Chronicle, for the year 1861,—will be furnished with the paper without charge, from this time to Jan. 1. tf

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1860.

☞ The extreme west has just been heard from, viz. California and Oregon, by Pony Express.

We have already published one line saying "California has gone for Lincoln."—Yet it is not certain, as the reader may see by looking over the following items.

Oregon accounts are to Nov. 1. There was a fair prospect that Lincoln would carry the State. It was reported that the friends of Mr. Douglas were going over to the Republicans.

The election returns from the central counties of California foot up Lincoln 14,342, Douglas 13,385, Breckinridge 10,438, and Bell 2626. The whole vote of the State will probably be 120,000. San Francisco gave Lincoln 3000 majority.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Private dispatches from the Secretary of the California Republican State Committee, dated San Francisco 8th, say that the returns from the Presidential election already amount to 90,000 votes, and that Lincoln is ahead of Douglas 2000 votes, and has probably carried the State.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Private dispatches from California state that Douglas has 3000 majority over Lincoln and 11,000 over Breckinridge in that State.

It is noteworthy that just at this time, when it is ascertained that a Republican President and Vice President are elected by a large constitutional majority of electors, and that including the Douglas and Bell votes, an immense majority of the whole people have voted against disunion and secession,—at this very moment the slavery propaganda, those who demand that slavery shall reign paramount, and that piracy be legalized,—are threatening secession and civil war because the people have chosen republicans;—and some dirt eaters at the north, are demanding some concessions, to appease the wrath of the fanatics, and so keep them from committing suicide by going out of the Union.

They are making, together, a dismal din; have precipitated a commercial and pecuniary crisis; and on the whole, put us in mind of a piece of an old song, one line of which was,

"Let us all be unhappy together."

DOUGLAS PITIES LINCOLN.—We have before us the New Orleans Picayune of Nov. 9, which gives an account of Mr. Douglas' speech there Nov. 8, after Lincoln's election was known, in which we find him saying,—

We had been defeated, but there was no reason why we should despond. We could yet wrest the power from those hands in which it never ought to have gone.—Even now that the battle is lost, let us see what is the position. Abraham Lincoln is elected, but he is not yet President, and until Abraham Lincoln is President, what harm can he do? He is in a position which entitles him more to our commiseration than our envy. And even when he takes his seat, what can he do? We have a majority in the House and a majority in the Senate; we will vote down any measure he may attempt that would tend to encroach upon the constitutional rights of the States; he will make his appointments—if he does not appoint good men, we will vote against them, reject them.

Some readers of the Chronicle may remember, that we copied an item from the Boston Courier, a day or two after the election, in which that paper said, "We" have the House, or a majority in Congress.

Query, whether the we of the Courier, and of Mr. Douglas, are one and the same? and if so, whether we are Douglas democrats? or how?

☞ An exchange says the Douglas and Breckinridge Democrats at Hartford came together a few evenings since, shook hands and buried the hatchet and forgot all past differences.

On this the Bath Times remarks, this only proves that in the grave animosities are forgotten, and that the wicked cease from troubling. So long as they are buried themselves, it is certainly reasonable that the hatchet should repose with them.

☞ A dispatch from Charleston says:

"Carolina, under no circumstances will back out from secession. Within thirty days, if necessary, she will place 200,000 armed men in the field."

The entire free population of South Carolina, in 1850, was 283,523. Of this number probably not less than 50,000 were free negroes—leaving a little more than 200,000 white men, women and children.

☞ Mr. M. A. Humphreys, formerly baggage master on the Portsmouth, Saco and Portland Railroad, was instantly killed at Peru, Ill., on Thursday night, 8th inst., by falling from a freight train on the Chicago and Rock Island Railroad, on which he was conductor.

☞ The electoral vote of California, added to the States voting for the Republican candidates, gives Lincoln and Hamlin 177 electoral votes, with Oregon to hear from. Mr. Buchanan had 174 electoral votes in 1856.

METHODISTS TURNING TO EPISCOPALIANISM.—On the 29th ult., the Independent Methodist Society of Sehon Chapel, in Louisville, Kentucky, came in a body into the Episcopal Church, transferring to that church all the property previously held by the congregation. That property consists of a very handsome church building, capable of holding four or five hundred persons, with school-rooms, situated in the heart of the city, and worth about $24,000. The members associated themselves as a parish of the Protestant Episcopal Church, under the name of the Calvary Church. To enable the new parish to start free of embarrassment, the Episcopalians of Louisville stepped forward and in two days raised $8500, the balance of debt remaining. The New York Churchman comments upon the event as a hopeful indication.

☞ The New Orleans Crescent opposes violence and precipitation in the present crisis, and while it regards the election of Lincoln as "a deliberate, cold-blooded insult and outrage upon the people of the Southern States," considers the interests of the South safe for at least two years, inasmuch, it says, as "the Supreme Court is yet incorrupt," and both branches of Congress are opposed to the fanatics.

A LIGHTHOUSE CARRIED AWAY BY A SCHOONER.—On Sunday night, at Cleveland, the schooner J. H. Drake ran into a pier, carried the lighthouse upon it completely away, and then sunk across the channel, blocking it up; and the propeller Cushman, in endeavoring to enter the harbor, ran into the schooner Industry, which was lying at the West Pier, cutting her in two.

☞ The New Haven Palladium says that on Monday a stranger was standing on the draw to Tomlinson bridge, when a vessel which was passing through struck the bridge, causing the crank that propels the draw, to revolve with great force. The handle struck the stranger on the nose, breaking it flat to his face.

THE POST OFFICE IN SOUTH CAROLINA.—The postage collected in South Carolina for the last year of which we have official returns amounted to $94,000. The cost of transporting the mails throughout the State was $194,216. In Massachusetts the same year, the Post Office receipts were $422,184, and the expenses $153,061!

THE FOLLY OF SECESSION.—The Philadelphia Ledger remarks:—

The Secessionists seem to see the folly and danger of secession in any new Confederacy they may create. Mr. Bartow of Savannah proposes that the Southern Confederacy should be a consolidated republic, all State lines to be obliterated, and all sovereignty to reside in the Federal power. It would be a little singular if South Carolina shall be obliged to surrender her State sovereignty in a new Confederacy, after maintaining her State rights in the Union for so many years. But Mr. Bartow is sharp enough to see that no government can exist as a Confederacy if secession is a reserved right, and he wishes to provide against it.

☞ The new light-house at Minot's Ledge, was lighted for the first time, on Thursday evening, Nov. 15th. The first light-house built on this dangerous ledge, was completed in 1849 and was destroyed, with the keeper, during the great storm of April 16th, 1851. This was a storm of great severity.

COUSHING.—A few days since a stranger called on Mr. Lincoln, from Missouri, professing to be his cousin. Probably having been posted by some bogus Campaign "Life," he tried to call to the remembrance of the President elect the fact that he (the cousin) was "present at his wedding in Lexington, Ky."

"But I was married in Springfield," said Old Abe.

Since then that cousin may be put in the list of "not heard from."—Chicago Journal.

FROM KANSAS.—St. Louis, Nov. 17.—The Kansas Territorial Convention to-day appointed a committee of thirteen—Mr. Pomeroy Chairman—to prepare an address to the people. Goods and freight for the relief of sufferers, marked Kansas to the care of Pomeroy, Atchison, will be forwarded over the railroad at nominal rates.

Leavenworth, Nov. 17.—A new outbreak is reported from Zion county, and also that two men, named Russell and Hinds, after a trial by lynch law, had been hung, and others had been requested to leave. It is alleged that Hinds and his associates had been engaged in kidnapping, and had threatened a Free State man.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The President has completed his annual message.

It is reported that Judge Wayne of Georgia has written to a friend in this city that four-fifths of the citizens of Savannah are opposed to secession.

Virginia is reported to be well provided with arms. Five hundred barrels of Dupont's powder have been purchased.

DECLINE IN BREADSTUFFS.—Baltimore, Nov. 19.—Flour has declined 12 cts., with no buyers. Wheat 10 a 12c. lower.—Corn has declined 5c.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 19.—The steamer Pacific was burnt last night. Captain Law perished, but the rest of the crew were saved.

☞ On Sunday evening at the Universalist church in Salem, Rev. Mr. Spaulding, the pastor, preached his third discourse to young men, impressing upon the importance of forming Good Habits, which was the subject of the lecture. He opposed the use of tobacco, for which a large sum is annually spent, because of the expensiveness, the uncleanliness, and the unhealthiness of the practice. He urged the duty of refraining from Intoxicating Drinks, and advocated total abstinence as the only course that does not virtually endorse the principle that culminates in the gutter drunkard. Gambling was held up as one of the prevailing evils of the time, which was practised even under christian sanction, at the fairs of religious societies. Better would it be, said the preacher, to participate in religious worship while sitting upon hard seats, or even upon the grass, than to carpet our meeting houses with velvet or cushion our pew with the proceeds of a lottery. Sabbath-breaking and Licentiousness were also considered, and the christian duty of refraining from these evils forcibly urged.

☞ At Andover, Mass., a golden wedding occurred at the house of Joshua Ballard, Esq., on Tuesday evening, 13th Nov. Mr. Ballard was married to Miss Phebe Abbott, Nov. 13, 1810.

A large representation of relatives, friends and neighbors,—about seventy-five in all, from the matron of fourscore years to the little grand-niece of eighteen months,—were present to honor this venerable couple with their heartfelt congratulations. There were seven persons present who witnessed the bridal ceremony, and the same gentleman who then passed the bridal cake, performed the same service on Tuesday evening.

NEGATIVES.—A few weeks ago there was a "convention" of infidels held in the city of New York. One very sensible delegate arose to ask "whether the convention could not contrive something besides negations. Did they not believe something, and should they not, therefore, express what then did believe? The convention had ruled out all religions, which was a very easy thing; but what would they substitute in the place of religion?" But this "inquirer for truth" could not get the convention to make any statement of positive doctrine.

THE UNION DEMOCRAT, of Nov. 13, after noticing the election of Lincoln, says:

Our readers are quite familiar with the views we entertain in regard to the causes and the result of this event. We look at both with equal repugnance, and it cannot be useful to refer to them now. The former we may consider hereafter; for the latter we shall patiently wait. We will only say now, that we feel no personal rebuke in this result. It has been maturing for six years, and we can name with unerring exactness, the men and the measures that produced it. To do so now would aggravate the animosities in which this defeat had its origin. We recoil from such a work. We prefer to retire with the friends we have, rather than participate in the fratracidal strife which is likely to precede the re-organization of the Democratic party. Our printing establishment is for sale, and will be until the first of December. If not sold by that time, we shall thereafter print a paper to suit ourselves. We have "acquiesced" too much in times gone by. Hereafter, we mean to stand by our own judgement, which, if not the best, can scarcely be worse than that which has precipitated us into this ignominious defeat.

☞ The Union Democrat of Manchester, N. H., says:

Some time ago we expressed the conviction that this campaign would settle the negro question. Its result is announced, and we have nothing more to do about it—now or hereafter. The issue is between the prohibitionists of the North, and the protectionists of the South. The former have triumphed. The contingency has occurred upon which the latter promised to rebel. Now let them do it, or forever after hold their peace. They are conquered and humiliated. They have broken down their Northern friends who have always stood by them in the right, and now they must take just such measure of justice as Abolitionism may be pleased to accord.

WHAT A PRESIDENT!—Old Abe Lincoln would not and could not travel in all the States of the Union, so inimical are his principles to those of the people of a large portion of this country.—N. Y. Daybook.

What a barbarous portion that must be, says Uncle Toby! and what a land of liberty! But the Daybook is poor authority on any subject of this kind.

A slave in Charleston, S. C., has earned, by overwork, in the last five years, $2500, but refuses to buy his liberty, preferring to live in bondage.

The condition of a man who does what he will, and goes where he will, can hardly be called slavery, in strict truth. It may be legal, but not actual.

A GOOD JOKE.—The New York Herald announced, with a great flourish of trumpets that "a New York captain had telegraphed to Gov. Gist of South Carolina that he was ready to march to the help of that Palmetto Commonwealth at the head of twelve hundred men. The Atlas says it turns out that "the captain" is none other than the famous Rynders, U. S. Marshal.

Any fool can make money, but only a wise man can keep it.

☞ It is said that the Baptist State Convention of Alabama has passed resolutions favoring disunion. These southern churches are the ones which have complained so often that northern churches took cognizance of certain political questions which have a moral bearing.

They are becoming sagacious down in the Cotton States. They have resolved in some of the country centres of commerce, not to buy anything of northern manufactures that they do not want. We hope they will stick to this. It is a healthy sign when people only buy what they want, and what they can afford to pay for.—Cincinnati Commercial.

GREAT SOUTHERN COMMERCIAL CONVENTION.—A dispatch dated Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 13:

The Great Southern Commercial Convention, which adjourned at Vicksburg, Miss., on the 13th of May, 1859, to meet in this city on Monday, Nov. 12, has finally given up the ghost. Not a delegate was in attendance yesterday.

☞ An adjourned term of the U. S. Circuit Court commenced in this city on Tuesday, Judge Harvey presiding. The Court adjourned to Wednesday morning, awaiting the action of the Grand Jury.

Beranger contrived to live and to be generous, upon a total yearly income of 700 francs; Arsene Houssaye, one of the "poets" of Parisian salons, has just received, for his house in the rue de Balzac—expropriated by the municipality, which is running a new Boulevard across its site—the sum of 600,000 francs.

☞ Hon. Caleb Cushing is to address an assembly in Newburyport, next Saturday and next Monday evenings, on the State of the Union.

The laetst estimate of Mr. Calhoun occurs in Mr. Parton's Life of Jackson. It varies from that entertained by many, for he says that "a close survey of his political career has compelled him to doubt both his patriotism and his sincerity."

☞ A verdict of manslaughter has been rendered against two spiritists, Sprague and Barnard,—who killed a little child, suffering from scarlet fever, by dashing cold water and salt over his naked body. They are in jail at Sherbrooke, C. W.

FOR ALEXANDRIA, GEORGETOWN AND WASHINGTON.

Special Notices.

Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas. It is now generally admitted that all eruptive diseases depend upon some internal or constitutional cause, and that to use ointments or washes for them is a sure way to injure the system, and only to drive in, not to cure the disease. Dr. HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC SALT RHEUM PILLS are a true specific for all such diseases. They cure Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Erysipelas, Pimples on the face, Ringworm, and Nettle Rash, by curing the cause upon which they depend, and restoring the skin to a state of health and purity. Thus not only is the disease cured, but the softness and beauty of the complexion restored.

Price, 25 cents per box, with directions. Six boxes $1.

Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.

WISTAR'S BALSAM WILD CHERRY

Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Quinsy, and the numerous as well as dangerous diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, prevail, in our changeable climate, at all seasons of the year; few are fortunate enough to escape their baneful influence. How important, then, to have at hand a certain antidote to all these complaints. Experience proves that this exists in Wistar's Balsam to an extent not found in any other remedy; however severe the suffering, the application of this soothing, healing and wonderful Balsam at once vanquishes the disease, and restores the sufferer to wonted health.

From a Respectable Druggist.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 3, 1860.

MESSRS. S. W. FOWLE & CO., Boston:—

Gents:—Please send me a fresh supply of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. We are selling large quantities of this long celebrated remedy for Coughs and Colds, and it bids fair to outlive most of the so-called specifics which are now in vogue. We can confidently recommend it as a remedy for what it is intended. Very truly yours,

NATHAN P. THACHER.

Mr. D. H. TEAGUE, of Turner Village, Writes the proprietors of this great remedy, as follows:

TURNER VILLAGE, ME., July 21, 1860.

MESSRS. SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston:—

GENTS:—I do not hesitate to recommend DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for coughs and pulmonary affections, having used it in my family for many years with great satisfaction; indeed it has done more good than all the other remedies I have tried, and their name is legion. If all the patent medicines in the market possessed but a portion of the merit of this excellent Balsam, there would be no occasion to condemn them as humbugs.

The medicine is also used by many of my friends and acquaintances in this town, and they have found it invaluable; and I hope that others who suffer may give it a fair trial. Very respectfully,

D. H. TEAGUE.

Catarrh is the most difficult of any of the Diseases of the Breathing Organs to relieve or to cure. The Rev. Joshua Leavitt, editor of the Independent of New York, who had the Catarrh for more than twenty years, has been cured by using Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron and Sulphur Powders, which are advertised in this paper. His testimonial is published in a pamphlet among others equally prominent who have been cured of chronic Throats and Lung difficulties, which will be sent free by mail.

OBSTRUCTION OF STREETS.—The Board of Aldermen have passed the following resolution—similar to the law of cities in Maine, on the subject. It is yet to be presented for concurrence in the Common Council.

Resolved, That the members of the next Legislature from our city, be requested to use their best endeavors to procure an amendment to our city charter, in substance as follows:—That the board of Mayor and Aldermen shall have power, on such terms and conditions as they may think proper, to authorize and empower any person or corporation to place in any street, for such time as may be necessary, any materials for making or repairing any street, side-walk, cross walk, bridge, water course or drain, or for erecting, repairing or finishing any building or fences: Provided, that not more than one-third of the width of the street shall be occupied. And such materials, so placed by virtue of any license obtained as aforesaid, shall not be considered as an incumbrance or nuisance in such street; and the city, or person or corporation, so placing the same, shall not be liable for any damage occasioned by such materials.

THREE REASONS for attending the opening lecture of the Mercantile Lyceum, to-night. The fame of the orator, the interest of his subject, and the object of the course of entertainments. If the four lecturers already announced, (and there are four more as good as can be procured,) are not well worth the dollar asked for a course ticket, then it is idle to undertake to cater for a public literary taste; and if there are not enough people who think so, to fill the Temple to-night, why—we shall be sorry, that's all.

☞ We are gratified to see that the Rev. Dr. Burroughs has so far recovered from his recent long and very severe illness of lung fever, as to appear abroad again among his fellow citizens,—looking much the same as ever. Long may it be ere his familiar and commanding presence is removed from our midst.

☞ The Annual Meeting of the Ladies' General Charitable Society will meet at the house of Rev. Mr. Medbery, No. 66 Market street, on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 22, at 3 o'clock.

☞ The S. J. Court adjourned on Tuesday morning. The Betsy Farmer Will case is postponed to January.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENTS. — That in consequence of the indictment of the Slaughter House nuisances, and our remarks thereon, one of the Jefferson Market butchers has "stopped the Chronicle,"—not exactly that, either, but has stopped his copy—which many folks think is one and the same thing. Well, we guess our paper is worth as much as his meat—especially if he keeps it in such a stinking place as some of the slaughter houses are; and we shall try to struggle on without him, particularly, as he had paid up to January next!

Our worthy and efficient City Marshal, we understand, is refused supplies at that market. Well, his money will pass elsewhere.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE for December, is for sale at John H. Locke's—as we have evidence in the prompt receipt of our copy through him, from John J. Dyer & Co., Boston.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF SLAVERY PERSECUTION.—In the steamer Joseph Whitney, arrived at Boston from Savannah, Joseph Wm. Ribero, wife and two children, came passengers. Mr. Ribero was born in Savannah, and his wife is an English woman. He is a carpenter by trade, and was at work on a bridge twenty miles from Savannah, with a party of negroes, when in the course of conversation the negroes asked him if, in case Lincoln was elected, the slaves would be free. He replied:—"I don't know—that is more than I am able to tell you."

The negroes reported that Ribero said, that if Lincoln was elected the negroes would be free. Ribero was then waited up to, and a council held to decide what to do with him. Some were for burning him, others for hanging him, and some were for drowning him. Finally he was sentenced to be whipped, to have one side of his hair and whiskers shaved off, and to be sent to Boston. This sentence was executed, and he arrived in Boston Sunday night.

Ribero is now in Boston, seeking employment. He is thirty years old, and apparently an inoffensive, harmless man. The oldest child is twelve years old, and the other an infant. This outrage upon him and his family was committed by a lawless mob.—Boston Journal.

"Awful" Gardner, the reformed prize fighter, claims that by his temperance coffee rooms in New York during the past eighteen months, fifteen hundred persons have been induced to take the pledge to abstain from all that can intoxicate.

It is surprising how much energy and thrift will accomplish, with very poor weapons; and surprising what poor things good weapons are without them.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—The official vote of Illinois gives Lincoln 172,545; Douglas, 160,549; Bell 4846; Breckinridge, 2272.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—An Italian named Orzilla was shot, and probably fatally wounded, yesterday, by Larome, a Frenchman, who was recently arrested for sending him a challenge.

THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE,

Containing the news of the week, at home and abroad, as published in the six previous issues of the Daily Chronicle,—is printed on Friday morning, and immediately delivered by our carriers to subscribers in the city, or sent by mail to any part of the State or the world.

As the Weekly Chronicle contains most of the matter from our "local" Daily columns, it will be found an attractive paper for natives of Portsmouth living abroad, and all others interested in our city.

Terms of subscription to the Weekly Chronicle, only $1 per year in advance—sent by carrier without extra charge, to any part of the city and vicinity; or by mail, postage free, to any part of Rockingham County. Direct letters, "Chronicle, Portsmouth, N. H."

That enemy of Mankind, Consumption! can be cured, but it is far better to prevent the cruel disease from fastening itself on the system, by the timely use of a remedy, such as Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry affords.

☞ A few copies of the Chronicles containing full report of the Auburn Poisoning Case, may be had at the office.

☞ Reader, have you seen Prof. Wood's advertisement in our paper. Read it; it will interest you. tf

☞ We call the attention of our readers to an article advertised in another column, called BLOOD FOOD. It is an entirely new discovery, and must not be confounded with any of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and what one gains he retains. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity, or deficiency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, take of this BLOOD FOOD and be restored to health.

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonic and stomachics, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "he has tried the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL,

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY

Of Providence, R. I.

In introducing a new Cook Stove, of singularly novel construction and arrangement, it is proper that we speak of its peculiar merits.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven, with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is the most durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires: or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high-priced Air-Tight Cook Stoves, but will barely allude to them, viz:

1st. The double plates each side of the fire prevent any leak of ashes into the oven and make the stove more durable.

2d. The admission of external air between these plates, for the ventilation of the roasting oven, tends to the preservation of the plates most exposed to destruction.

3d. The durable dump grate, with the ash box of ample size to receive the ashes and coals, is an attractive feature of the stove.

4th. The draft door, at each end of the fire box, is a great convenience when a quick fire is wanted.

5th. The movable ash pan, which, though it forms a hearth to the stove, need not be used except once or twice a day for taking up and carrying away the ashes.

6th. The stove has but one damper, and but one division of flues on the back of and under the oven, ensuring a very quick bake.

7th The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and tin jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

This stove was thoroughly tested before brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial of the stove.

John Trundy, Esq., one of our most practical and scientific mechanics, who has had large experience in the construction of stove patterns in years past, and has for many years been using one of the Stewart Stoves, has purchased one of the MODEL COOKS, and after a fair trial pronounces it far superior to the Stewart or any stove he has ever seen, for economy, convenience and dispatch. We might also refer to several other parties who are using the stove, and who award it the very highest praise.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be the stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is wanted.

We have nought to say against any other stove, believing that a man can sell his own goods without depreciating his neighbor's; but this we do say, that we honestly believe this is the best stove that can be found in the world; and what is more, we think others will agree with us after a trial of it. We invite any one to examine the stove, whether they wish to purchase or not.

For sale, with a great variety of

Furnaces, Ranges, Cooking, Office and Parlor Stoves; Coal Hods, Sifters, Funnel, Stove-Repairing Pieces, Parlor Grates, Etc.

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OF BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1833.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ On Monday night in Salem, Mass., Mrs. Lucy Matilda Beadle, arose in her sleep, went to a closet, lighted a match and accidentally set her clothing on fire. Her husband was awakened by the flash and found her lying on the floor enveloped in flames. She was so much injured that she died on Saturday. Her father, Mr. Fermin Ottigsen, also died on Saturday, from the effects of a cancer.

☞ Elizabeth Stokes, thirty-five years of age, was found in a dying condition about six o'clock Saturday afternoon, in an entry way on Baker's alley, off North street, Boston, and survived a short time only. Several bruises were found upon her head. She was intoxicated during the afternoon and turned out of the house where she was found. She resided in Hamilton alley, Fort Hill, and her husband is at Deer Island.—Her body was taken to the Dead House.

☞ The Presidential Electors chosen, will be called by the governors of the States to meet in each State capital on the first Wednesday of December, and cast their vote, and choose a messenger to carry it sealed to Washington. On the second Wednesday of February the returns will be counted by Congress and declared.

☞ The Bath Times never yet heard of Northern chivalry carried so far as to hurl rotten eggs in the face of a lady.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, Scientific men, and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus, and which is designed in its composition with the Hematic Globule, or red blood.—In all diseases accompanied with

DEBILITY,

pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyses of the blood show a deficiency of the red globules. Ruddy complexion and a rosy tint of the skin, is always indicative of health; while a pale, wax-like skin and countenance, — which evinces a considerable deficiency of the red globules,—accompanies a diseased condition. Preparations of Iron have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that Iron alone, Sulphur alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the health to a normal standard. This point, never before attained, has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in

are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood by restoring the red globules, and increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific in all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Neuralgia, Spinal Irritation, St. Vitus' Dance, Fever and Ague, &c., its efficacy is marked and instantaneous. In no class of diseases, however, are the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, such as suppressed or difficult Menstruation, Green Sickness, Whites, &c., especially when these complaints are accompanied with paleness, a dingy hue or pallor of the skin, depression of spirits, debility, palpitation want of appetite, and nervous prostration. We have the utmost confidence in recommending the Blood Food to all who may be conscious of a loss of vitality or energy, and to those whose mental or bodily powers are prostrated through over-use, either of the mind or body, and we deem it our duty to say that in all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, and in all diseases of the Kidneys or Bladder, this preparation has a claim upon the attention of sufferers which cannot be over-estimated. A faithful trial will be found the most convincing proof in regard to its efficacy that we could be asked for. With the above remarks, and with the numerous testimonials we have in its favor, we offer the "Blood Food" to the consideration of the afflicted, knowing that it will be acknowledged as pre-eminent over all other preparations, patent or official, in point of usefulness. Circulars giving the Theory upon which this remedy is founded, also certificates of remarkable cures, will be sent free when desired. We forward the Blood Food to any part of the United States or Canadas upon receipt of price—$1 per bottle, $5 for six bottles. Be careful in all cases to take none but that having our fac-similie signature upon the wrapper. None other is genuine.

Humphreys' Homeopathic Specific Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, medicines for the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases with which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight disturbance, a pain in the side, or a headache, or heartburn, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which the ready medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, as you know at once what to take—cheap, so as to cause no recognizance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the pain or sickness is cured and slayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE MOST SIMPLE, SAFE AND EFFICIENT AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every quarter of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of testimonials, the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

PROF. WOOD'S

RESTORATIVE CORDIAL

—AND—

BLOOD RENOVATOR,

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers; it also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully compounded as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe the weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all those who suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the fellowing—Pneumonia, Bronchitis, Quinsy, Croup, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Lassitude, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Fever and Weakness and Irregularities. And Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints, Disease of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Coughs, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following all and any of these, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, according the Liver to action, promoting the flow, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and weather; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and all should take a tea-spoonful at least before eating. As it promotes continence, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities exist. Then again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a mouth or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period without danger and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it.—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known; in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel down the same path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your nerve failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.

O. J. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market street, St Louis, Mo., and sold by all good Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

Dr. Mott's

CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE

PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of Iron must be peculiarly be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-hearing; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, which it has been found to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable are its cases, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy, as tonic and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and limbs.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and the progress of many settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirum Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Dyspepsia.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidneys, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by one dose and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headache, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

LIGHT AND HEALTH.

In a new work by Dr. H. G. Taylor, called the Movement Cure, we find some valuable hints on the value of light in preserving and restoring health.

The influence on the constitution of the custom of living in darkness, is most favorable to the production of that condition of the blood and of the vital habit from which springs scrofula. The pale and dusky complexions, eruptive skins, flabby and weak muscles, and general sickly aspect, which are so frequently witnessed in young children, are, in many instances, mostly attributable to this cause. Of course, light is a most important agent to be employed in the cure of affections of this class. It is wonderful and delightful to see how soon a pale, attenuated, miserable child, after being freely exposed to the sunlight for several hours every day, will begin to improve, and the symptoms here described to disappear.—Even scrofulous swelling of the glands of the neck, or other parts of the body, will quickly succumb under the magical influence of sunlight and pure air.

Nursing mothers, especially, need these hygienic influences to maintain the purity and vigor of their system, that they may not lay the foundation for lasting disease in their offspring, for the child is sure to suffer, even sooner than the mother, the grievous consequences of her physiological errors.

Is it necessary that the parlors and sitting-rooms of our dwellings should be kept so dark and unwholesome? The first reason always assigned by the house-keeper is, that only in this way can she preserve the colors of her carpeting and upholstery, as if color of a carpet or a curtain was more precious than that of the check and lip. In a hygienic point of view, one is led to feel that these household comforts and elegancies do more harm than good, that their advantages are rather more than balanced by their ill effects. However beautiful and costly, they are necessarily uncleanly. However well kept, they are the inevitable receptacles of impalpable dust, which yield invisible clouds at every touch, besides being the reservoirs of air contaminated in the way we have noticed. Carpets, so common a luxury here, are but little used in Europe, except in England, and it would undoubtedly greatly promote the health of our own people were they to be abolished by statute from every habitation in the land.

It is not often that an honest man gets justice from the trading and misrepresenting politicians. Gerrit Smith seems to have been an exception to the general rule, however. Three members of the New York Democratic Vigilant Association have written to Mr. Smith, telling him that they are convinced that there was no ground for the statement made in a pamphlet published by them about a year ago, implicating him in the Harper's Ferry invasion, and enclosing a check for $3000, in satisfaction of a suit for libel instituted against them by Mr. Smith. It would have been more to their credit, however, if they had made this retraction of a slander without being driven to it by the terrors of the law.—Salem Gaz.

ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL,
A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF
INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA, AND LUMBAGO.

Hundreds of testimonials to the good resulting from the use of this Cordial could be offered—but the following will suffice:

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 6, 1860.
I hereby certify that I have used a variety of preparations for the cure of Rheumatism, but have found none of them whose effect was so immediate and lasting as Zollickoffer's Anti-Rheumatic Cordial, and would advise all afflicted with that painful disease to give it a fair trial.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metal lic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

New Photographic Establishment.
Having fitted up and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.
The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.
All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.
Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

A FINANCIAL CRISIS.

We are not of the number of those who are easily frightened by the cry of a political crisis. Our Union has a political crisis every four years; and sometimes every two years, when somebody threatens suicide if somebody else elects a Speaker.

But there is at this moment a financial trouble, which, beginning at Charleston, must be felt in every commercial city, and in every great mart of money, banking, and stocks in the land.

Charleston, however, did not make, and could not have made, the trouble. It has, by its political heat, ignorance and folly, only precipitated the matter; and will, therefore, only have brought on the financial crisis a little sooner, than it would otherwise have come.

In the Boston Post's money article of Tuesday, is a sentence or two, which show that the causes of the trouble are farther off and deeper than the surface. The Post says:

To-day the panic-maker is threatened secession. Had it not been this it might have been the march of the French upon Austria or any other probable fact of importance. With or without any foreign cause of disturbance, five millions of specie is too little, and is generally admitted to be too little, for the average basis of the commerce of Boston.

The New York Herald says:

This vast increase in the production of the staple, unaccompanied by any decline in the price, would naturally have made all the Southern planters rich, but for one thing; like the Western farmers in 1856 and 1857, the more money they made the more they laid out in lands and negroes, machinery and buildings.

They are, in a word, precisely in the condition in which the West was in 1857—so greatly expanded that the first great adverse wind was sure to cause a catastrophe. That adverse wind came this year in the shape of the drought, which destroyed over 400,000 bales of cotton, and cut off the corn crop in the Gulf States. The catastrophe we see before us. With negroes at $2000 a head, and corn imported from Illinois and laid down at the plantation at $2 25 a bushel, even eleven cents a pound will hardly reward the planter for growing cotton; and if out of the proceeds of his crop he has to pay a debt to his factor, incurred for purchases of land and negroes, the result cannot be doubtful, and it would have been the same whoever had been elected President.

Corroborative of this view of the Herald, though prepared without reference to it, is an article in the N. Y. Evening Post, showing that "the public debt alone of the southern States has been increasing for the last ten years at the rate of $1,000,000 a month and now amounts, we are advised, to more than $120,000,000, independent of her debt to merchants and her local municipal debts, which the northern people know to their cost, is very considerable." It maintains that from the failure of the crops in the south, from over-trading in negroes, and from general mismanagement the South has brought herself to the verge of bankruptcy. It believes that affairs need squaring there as they did at the west in 1857, and that however severe the crash may be, it will be better for all that it should come, and that business should then be carried on upon a better basis.

☞ Sam Houston, Governor of Texas, is very sharp on the fellows who have been causing such a commotion in that State.—But one white man had been hung as an incendiary, and he intimates that others punished were unjustly punished. The story of attempts at poisoning he also contradicts; and in Austin, where it was reported fourteen houses had been burned, he says but one "shed or shanty" was burned, and that this fire was caused by some Dutchmen who lounged about, smoking on the premises.

FAILURE OF POLITICAL INSTITUTIONS. One of the most philosophical political writers of modern Europe remarked, some years ago, that "there is no country in the world in which everything can be provided for by the law, or in which political institutions can prove a substitute for common sense and public morality."

A SUPPLY OF COTTON.—Some of our large manufactories have been recently taking an account of stock, and find that they have cotton on hand sufficient to last thro' the winter. The Naumkeag Mills of Salem have enough of this staple for use until the first of next October.

☞ Mrs. Jabez Lane, of Curtisville, (Stockbridge,) fell into a cistern while dipping a pail of water, on Friday last, and was drowned before assistance arrived. She was from Chatham, N. Y., and had been married but two weeks.

An honest heart (says Prentice) makes a gentleman; but honest modesty makes a gentle manner.

THE AMERICAN IDEA of excluding from the ballot box all but American citizens, begins to find favor among the Democrats. In the Northwestern States enough unnaturalized foreigners are said to have voted the Republican ticket to have changed some States, and possibly to have elected the successful candidate. The Washington Constitution newspaper says that such votes cannot be legally counted.

The Newburyport Herald says,—

There is no doubt that they will be counted, but we agree that the election of President or any other national officer should be made by American citizens. The person who is unnaturalized ought not to vote.

It makes quite a difference, we perceive, whose ox is gored. Foreign voters, and bogus votes at that, have probably elected more than one president.

No doubt they ought to be prevented from voting, unless naturalized. And far better would it have been, if in the General Government and in all the States, voting had been restricted to the men who were in this country in 1783, and to those who were born in it afterwards.

The immigrant ought to have the rights of a citizen in all other respects,—but never to be a voter. And one of those best things, which we do not expect to see, would be a simultaneous repeal of all the laws for making new voters out of men born in Africa, Ireland or China. Let those continue to vote who vote now; as we hold it neither wise nor right to deprive them of the privilege; but go no farther in that direction.

We repeat we do not expect to see it: but if it were practicable, it would be desirable; and would certainly do no wrong or injury to any one.

THE NEW PRESIDENT.—The New York Evening Post publishes a letter from Springfield, Ill., which contains the fullest utterance upon public affairs that Mr. Lincoln has indulged in since he became a candidate for the Presidency, and meets some of the graver questions toward which public curiosity has been specially directed for a week or two past. From this letter the Evening Post learns the following facts, which are of much interest at this time:

1. That Mr. Lincoln will conduct his administration according to the principles laid down in his speeches and public declarations made before his nomination, and that he will not be driven from that position by the threats either of the secessionists or impracticable Republicans. He means to give the country the trial of a Republican administration, if he lives.

2. He will make no declaration of his future policy, until it becomes his constitutional duty to do so—his reason, and it is a conclusive one, being, that while he and his administration are threatened, self-respect, respect for the people who voted for him, and respect for the form of government under which he lives and cherishes, forbid it.

3. That he approves of the course which Gen. Jackson pursued twenty-eight years ago in reference to nullification, and will act as much like him as difference in circumstances will permit.

4. That he will look for this Cabinet among political friends, and not elsewhere. He will not invite the late Mr. Bell to administer on his own estate.

5. He does not expect to devote the time which belongs to the nation, during his Presidential term, in peddling places in the custom-houses and post offices. As soon as he gets an opportunity of advising with competent friends, he will select his heads of departments, and to them he will commit the labor of selecting subordinate officers, and the responsibility for their behavior.

6. We infer from the conclusion of the paragraph next to the last, that he will invite no man to his Cabinet, from North or South, who is unwilling to be committed, fully and unreservedly, to the policy of the Republican party.

A YOUNG LADY APPOINTED KEEPER OF A LIGHTHOUSE.—Miss Jane C. Martin has been appointed keeper of the Marble head light. Miss Martin is a daughter of the late Capt. Ambrose Martin, who kept the Baker's Island (Salem) light for a quarter of a century, and as assistant to her father, gained a thorough experience in lighthkeeping. She now takes the place of Ezekiel Darling, who, after twenty-five years of service, has resigned on account of the infirmities of age.

☞ The conduct of Gen. Lamoriciere, the Pope's late commander-in-chief, is severely censured at Rome. He seems to have been quite too ready to surrender to the Sardinians, and it is openly charged that he was either a coward or a traitor. His apologists say that his troops fought so badly, some doing nothing and others firing on their comrades, that he saw it was useless to resist the superior forces of the Sardinians, and surrendered to save bloodshed.

☞ Mr. Edward C. Delavan has written a long letter to Rev. Dr. Nott, to prove that the introduction and use of cheap wines, does not tend to diminish drunkenness, but to increase it.

☞ The gable end of Eastern Hall, Bowdoin College, Me., was blown up Saturday night by a keg of gunpowder, which was maliciously placed in the attic, and set fire to for the purpose of destroying the building.

AUGUSTA, Nov. 19.—Sterling Exchange is offered at Savannah at par without purchasers.

THE REASON FOR THE CALAMITY.—The Boston Courier of the 20th of November gives the following valuable information as to the manner in which the election of Lincoln and Hamlin was brought about.

1. It discourses of Evil Influence:

The result of the late election is not so surprising, nor the corrupt public sentiment, in New England especially, so unaccountable, when we consider the evil influences which have been so long in operation.

2. Of Republican papers, by which it seems to mean almost all newspapers, tho' we cannot tell exactly:

The Republican newspaper press has had the whole ground to itself in about every town and country semi-weekly and weekly paper, and how one-sided and dishonest these newspapers have been, all who have seen them can testify.

3. Of Religious papers:

The religious newspapers have not all let politics alone—instance the Boston Congregationalist and New York Independent.

4. Of Political Christians:

In fact, the occupation of the Independent in politics seeks no concealment, for the banner is hung on the outer wall, and the people take it and read the articles, so low has religion and decency sunk among many professed Christians.

5. Of Clap Trap Lecturers:

Everybody knows that nearly all our clap-trap Lyceum lecturers, like Beecher and Chapin, always improve the opportunity for lecturing, to scatter political firebrands in the community.

6thly and lastly, of a Gleam of Light,—and how to get more of it:

In the last election the Union party have done a great work towards enlightening the community; but very many parts of Massachusetts are as dark as Egypt on the real dangers of our republic. Newspapers should be established in the whole State to enlighten the people. And we must dare to come out with Union men for Lyceum lecturers, and organize societies for that purpose in every considerable town.

PENNSYLVANIA.—The official returns of the Presidential vote of this State are now complete, with the exception of a single county, which gave Curtin sixty majority in October. The footings stand as follows:

Lincoln	268,518
Fusion (Reading) ticket	175,896
Straight Douglas	17,350
Bell	12,754

This table shows the following comparative results:—

Lincoln's present maj. over Fusion	92,622
Lincoln over Douglas ticket	251,168
" " Bell	255,764
" " all opposition	62,518

The following figures will show what has been done in four years:

Fremont's minority	165,375
Lincoln's majority	62,518
Net Republican gain	227,893

MARRIED, DESERTED AND MARRIED TO THE SAME AGAIN.—The St. Louis papers tell a strange story of one John Hardwick, a Pittsburg mechanic. In 1853 he went to California, leaving a wife and two children behind. Reaching the land of gold, he dug a pile, which his partner stole from him. Then he fell sick, and recovered only to find himself quite impoverished, feeble and discouraged. He wrote frequently to his wife; she did not receive his letters, nor did any from her reach him. He concluded that she was glad to be rid of him, so he began to dig again. In the meantime the wife mourned for him as for one dead, then naturally married again, and removed to St. Louis. Her first children died, and she bore two more to the second husband; he after a time died also. Within a month, Hardwick, the California adventurer, having accumulated a fortune, came toward the East, travelling by the overland route. Stopping in St. Louis, he walked about the city, looking at the town. While so engaged, he met his wife. "Mutual explanations" followed. The dead children drew tribute of parental tears, and the new ones were welcomed with affection. Then a clergyman united the pair for the second time, and the parties soon left St. Louis.

There is a young woman of 15 years at Cleveland, trying to find trace of her family, from whom she was stolen in that city, eight years since, by a Catholic priest. She has since been under Catholic influences, but has now escaped; and she has forgotten her true name and nearly all the circumstances of her earlier life.

Rather a tough story; but a very tough case, if true.

☞ Paragraphs have lately made the round of the newspapers, both in England and abroad, on the subject of a supposed engagement between the Princess Alice and Prince Louis of Hesse Darmstadt; but these announcements have been pronounced premature.

ROME.—A correspondent of the London Times says that the "Eternal City" is sunk in the lethargy of eternal death, and that, notwithstanding the glory of her past history, she is unfit to be the capital of the new Italian nation.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The American Express Company offer to forward free all contributions of money and clothing to the Kansas sufferers.

ART ITEM.—Champney has left North Conway for the season, and has resumed his profession at his former studio in Boston.

THE NEW CONGRESS.—As far as elected, the members of the House of Representatives of the next Congress stand: Republicans, 103; Democrats, 47; Union 3. The States that are yet to elect, being all Southern except California, Connecticut, Rhode Island and New Hampshire, will probably give 9 Republicans, 57 Democrats and 18 Union. If so, the next House, which goes into session when Lincoln becomes President, will stand 112 Republicans, 104 Democrats, 21 Union.

The next State that holds a State election is New Hampshire—the second Tuesday in March. We trust it will be an election in the Re-United States.—Bath Times.

It will doubtless be Re-publican by a very large majority. And this gives occasion to say, that the supposed sharp shooting of some items, about the personal liberty laws of Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont, don't hit New Hampshire very hard, inasmuch as her personal liberty bill was repealed years ago,—and whatever provisions we now have, are in strict accordance with the views and action of fifty years ago.

☞ A new party has been organized in Canada, with J. H. Cameron at its head, which seeks the support of the Orangemen by taking as its first principle, "Protestant union at the polls and in parliament, without compromise," to which are added suffrage extension, the restriction of reciprocity with the United States, unsectarian education, by which Catholic public schools would be abolished, and other measures popular among the Canadian Protestants.

We learn that Heenan, the champion prize-fighter, is coming West. Having already had a visit from the Prince of Wales, we presume we can also stand a visit from the Prince of "Whalers." — Wisconsin paper.

The ridges, raised on a body, by stripes or blows, are Wales, not whales; they probably take their name from the streaks round a boat or vessel,—as the top-streak is called the gun-wale.

☞ A dishonest tobacco agent in Western Onondaga recently sold in New York, a twenty ton crop at a shilling a pound, reporting the sale at five cents, cheating his principal out of three thousand dollars.

☞ Some weeks since the governor of New York pardoned a Buffalo man out of state prison, who had been convicted by his mother-in-law on perjured testimony, and she being now arrested has committed suicide.

SANDED COTTON.—It is reported in mercantile circles, that foreign exchange to the amount of upwards of ten million dollars has within a few months been returned upon Southern ports, on account of the frauds in cotton shipped therefrom.

☞ The Deacon of Glenwood, the popular lecturer, Mr. DeCordovia, himself a Jew, asserts that there is in the United States a secret Jewish order numbering about four hundred thousand members.

☞ On the first of November about three inches of snow fell in St. Joe, Missouri, but melted away very rapidly.—More rain fell than for many months past.

Douglas has exhibited just about strength enough to keep up the present state of good feeling in the Democratic party.—Cincinnati Commercial.

Special Notices.

Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas. It is now generally admitted that all eruptive diseases depend upon some internal or constitutional cause, and that to use ointments or washes for them is a sure way to injure the system, and only to drive in, not to cure the disease. Dr. HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC SALT RHEUM PILLS are a true specific for all such diseases. They cure Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Erysipelas, Pimples on the face, Ringworm, and Nettle Rash, by curing the cause upon which they depend, and restoring the skin to a state of health and purity. Thus not only is the disease cured, but the softness and beauty of the complexion restored.

Price, 25 cents per box, with directions. Six boxes $1.

Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.

WISTAR'S BALSAM WILD CHERRY

Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Quinsy, and the numerous as well as dangerous diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs prevail, in our changeable climate, at all seasons of the year; few are fortunate enough to escape their baneful influence. How important, then, to have at hand a certain antidote to all these complaints. Experience proves that this exists in Wistar's Balsam to an extent not found in any other remedy; however severe the suffering, the application of this soothing, healing and wonderful Balsam at once vanquishes the disease, and restores the sufferer to wonted health.

From a Respectable Druggist.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 3, 1860.

MESSRS. S. W. FOWLE & CO., Boston.

Gents:—Please send me a fresh supply of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. We are selling large quantities of this long celebrated remedy for Coughs and Colds, and it bids fair to outlive most of the so-called specifics which are now in vogue. We can confidently recommend it as a remedy for what it is intended. Very truly yours,

NATHAN P. THACHER.

Mr. D. H. TEAGUE, of Turner Village, Writes the proprietors of this great remedy, as follows:

TURNER VILLAGE, ME., July 31, 1860.

MESSRS. SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston:—

Gents:—I do not hesitate to recommend Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for coughs and pulmonary affections, having used it in my family for many years with great satisfaction; indeed it has done more good than all the other remedies I have tried, and their name is legion. Of all the patent medicines in the market possessed but a portion of the merit of this excellent Balsam, there would be no occasion to condemn them as humbugs.

The medicine is also used by many of my friends and acquaintances in this town, and they have found it invaluable; and I hope that others who suffer may give it a fair trial. Very respectfully,

D. H. TEAGUE.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.

PORTSMOUTH, Wednesday, Nov. 21.

BEFORE JUDGE HARVEY.—Four seamen, viz., Thomas Nelson, Thomas Savage, John McCafferty and Samuel Sleeper, were arraigned on two indictments, viz. The first charging them with being voluntarily engaged in the African Slave Trade on board the slaver Erie, hailing from New York;—and the second, with being engaged in the same, without the condition voluntary being charged.

They severally plead Not Guilty; and as the first-named offence is on the U. S. statute books as a capital crime, counsel is assigned to the prisoners. In this case, the Court assigned Messrs. W. H. Y. Hackett and William H. Hackett, as counsel for the prisoners.

GREAT UNION MEETING AT AUGUSTA, GA.—The largest meeting ever held in Greene County, Ga., assembled on Friday. The most influential men in the county participated.

Resolutions of a conservative character were adopted almost unanimously, urging a State Convention of all parties, where the evils threatening the destruction of the Union could be calmly considered, and appealing to the people of the Union to discard the councils of agitating politicians and demagogues of all sections, and to rally in defance of that imperilled government; charging that the politicians have stirred up the present excitement and distrust, by pandering to the passions and prejudices of the people, and by keeping each section ignorant of the patriotic, conservative and catholic feeling of the other; mutually exasperated by the incendiary representations of hungry office-seekers, both sections find themseves in a fierce controversy which they had no hand in bringing about.

A large meeting was held in Hancock county, which adopted conservative resolutions, denying that the mere election of Lincoln was a cause for disunion, but denouncing the legislation of many of the free States.

A majority of the county meetings held thus far favor secession; many however are strongly conservative. Some favor retaliatory legislation, and all favor a State Convention. They all oppose coercion of the seceding States.

The reader will observe, that Augusta, a trading place, holds a very large meeting and scouts secession, while the back counties, where less northern light penetrates, are in another mood.

A BETTER FEELING IN NEW YORK.—A despatch to the Merchants' Exchange, dated New York, Nov. 20th, A. M., says that there is a better feeling in financial and business circles to-day. Leading banks in addition to agreeing to purchase two and a half million of sterling bills, are also discounting five per cent. of their receipts, which eases matters greatly, and sets crops in motion. Stocks open several per cent. higher, with increased confidence all round.—Traveller.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Times' Charleston correspondent says one heavy cotton and other smaller houses have suspended.—The Banks still refuse to discount. Cotton is declining. Several planters have refused to forward cotton. Sterling Exchange is quoted at 95. Trade is prostrated.

Vigilance committees are being formed throughout the South, and every suspected person is to be ordered to leave.

RICHMOND, Nov. 21.—The citizens of Perry county have held a mass meeting and adopted resolutions opposing disunion.

There is a terrible pressure in the money market here. Flour is declining, and all the mills have stopped except the Gallego.

Dispatches from Colombia Ga., indicate a slight decrease in the excitement.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The Herald Washington correspondent says there will probably be a rupture in the Cabinet on the secession question.

It is stated that all the Senators from the Southern States, except those from South Carolina, will be in their seats on the opening of Congress.

The Tribune correspondent says that a dissolution of the Cabinet is imminent.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20,—Nine persons were engaged in the rescue of the slave girl Eliza, including the Justice who issued a warrant for her arrest for a breach of the peace after her arrest by the Marshal.—The Deputy Sheriff who served the warrant has been indicted for violating the Fugitive Slave Law.

☞ The jewelry store of S. W. Hale, in Dover, N. H., was broken open early Tuesday morning, and between three and four thousand dollars' worth of goods stolen therefrom.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The Bank Committee have already taken seven hundred thousand of the proposed two and a half million sterling bills. The banks discount largely to-day, but outside paper was nearly unsaleable.

☞ Harper's New Monthly for December is received in this city by J. H. Foster, and by A. Williams & Co., Boston.

BANK SUSPENSION.—Richmond, Va., Nov. 20.—The Farmers' Bank has suspended specie payment, and the other banks will soon follow.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 21.—Nearly all the business portion of Meredith Bridge village was destroyed by fire this morning.

☞ News from Europe, via Queenstown, Nov. 8th.

Advices from Naples state that 15,000 Neapolitans with 4000 horses and 32 guns, pursued by the Sardinians, took refuge in the Sardinian States. They were stopped by the French and Papal authorities, who will disarm them.

THE CUBAN SUGAR CROP.—The Havana Price Current, of Saturday, Nov. 3d, says:—

We learn from the country that since the first of this month a few estates have commenced grinding, and several would begin immediately. Altogether the cane has a beautiful aspect; an early and abundant crop is therefore anticipated, unless the weather during the season should entirely disappoint all reasonable hopes.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19.—The ship Wildcat, of Boston, is below, damaged by fire. She returned for repairs.

The ship John M. Wood, with 900 bales of cotton, was burnt last night. Loss from $75,000 to $80,000.

Two blocks of frame buildings in the Fortieth District were burnt last night.

FROM PIKE'S PEAK.—Fort Kearney, Nov. 18.—Denver dates of the 15th inst. have been received.

The quartz mills are nearly all stopped for the winter and also gulch mining. Considerable snow has fallen. The provisional Legislature has organized. Treasure shipments for the week amount to $63,000.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 19.—The people of this city intend to present to Capt. Berry, of the Columbia, with a gold-headed cane, for hoisting the Palmetto flag when leaving for New York. The report that President Buchanan will make an attempt to coerce the South, is regarded as a joke.

That enemy of Mankind, Consumption! can be cured, but it is far better to prevent the cruel disease from fastening itself on the system, by the timely use of a remedy, such as Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry affords.

☞ We call the attention of our readers to an article advertised in another column, called BLOOD FOOD. It is an entirely new discovery, and must not be confounded with any of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and what one gains he retains. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity, or deficiency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, take of this BLOOD FOOD and be restored to health.

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY
For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonic and stomachic, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "has it is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pints as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

ANOTHER NEW STOVE

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL,

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY

Of Providence, R. I.

In introducing a new Cook Stove, of singularly novel construction and arrangement, it is proper that we speak of its peculiar merits.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven, with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is the most durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high-priced Air-Tight Cook Stoves, but will barely allude to them, viz:

1st. The double plates each side of the fire prevent any leak of ashes into the oven and make the stove more durable.

2d. The admission of external air between these plates, for the ventilation of the roasting oven, tends also to the preservation of the plates most exposed to destruction.

3d. The durable dump grate, with the ash box of ample size to receive the ashes and coals, is an attractive feature of the stove.

4th. The draft door, at each end of the fire box, is a great convenience when a quick fire is wanted.

5th. The movable ash pan, which, though it forms a hearth to the stove, need not be used except once or twice a day for taking up and carrying away the ashes.

6th. The stove has but one damper, and but one division of flues on the back of and under the oven, ensuring a very quick bake.

7th The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and tin jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

This stove was thoroughly tested before brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial of the stove.

John Trundy, Esq., one of our most practical and scientific mechanics, who has had large experience in the construction of stove patterns in years past, and has for many years been using one of the Stewart Stoves, has purchased one of the MODEL COOKS, and after a fair trial pronounces it far superior to the Stewart or any stove he has ever seen, for economy, convenience and dispatch. We might also refer to several other parties who are using the stove, and who award it the very highest praise.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be the stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is wanted.

We have nought to say against any other stove, believing that a man can sell his own goods without depreciating his neighbor's; but this we do say, that we honestly believe this is the best stove that can be found in the world; and what is more, we think others will agree with us after a trial of it. We invite any one to examine the stove, whether they wish to purchase or not.

For sale, with a great variety of

Furnaces, Ranges, Cooking, Office and Parlor Stoves; Coal Hods, Sifters, Funnel, Stove-Repairing Pieces, Parlor Grates, Etc.

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,
FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER
AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,
FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL
Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

DOESTICKS ON BILLIARDS.—Well, Berger has come, the great French puncher; and of course I've been to see him punch a few billiards with Phelan. Phelan is a pretty fair puncher himself, but he can't punch so fast as Berger—in fact, B. has to give P. a hundred buttons or so in every game. I've often played with Phelan myself, but he always beats me; he has a private understanding with the man that pokes the buttons—when Phelan punches the balls, the man pokes buttons; when I punch the balls, nary button will the man poke. So Phelan goes out; but my game is a little the best—in fact I've challenged Phelan to play me a thousand buttons for a lot of money, and I've offered to keep the game myself so as to be sure all is fair. Phelan's conspiracy with the men who poke the buttons is a disgraceful thing; it discourages young men, and makes them think they can't punch billiards as well as Phelan can. I'm bound to break it up. But Berger has out-generaled Phelan. Berger has bought over all Phelan's button-pokers—pays 'em more money than Phelan did, and now they give Berger all the buttons. "Ha! ha! Big thing on Michael!

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, scientific men, and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus, and which is identical in its composition with the Hematic Globule, or red blood.—In all diseases accompanied with

DEBILITY,

pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyses of the blood show a deficiency of the red globules. Ruddy complexion and a rosy tint of the skin, is always indicative of health; while a pale, sallow skin and countenance,—which evinces a considerable deficiency of the red globules,—accompanies a diseased organism. Preparations of Iron have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that Iron alone, Sulpur alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This theory, never before attained, has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in

are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood by renewing the healthy red globules, increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific for all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Cough, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Scrofula, General, St. Vitus' Dance, Fever and Ague, &c, its efficacy is marked and instantaneous. In no class of diseases, however, are the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, such as suppressed or difficult Menstruation, Green Sickness, Whites, &c., especially when these complaints are accompanied with paleness, a dingy hue or pallor of the skin, depression of spirits, debility, palpitation, want of appetite, and nervous prostration. We have the utmost confidence in recommending the Blood Food to all who may be conscious of a loss of vitality or energy, and to those whose mental or bodily powers are prostrated through over-use, either of the mind or body, and we deem it our duty to say that in all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, and in all diseases of the Kidneys or Bladder, this preparation has a decided effect, and tention of sufficients which cannot be over-estimated. A faithful trial will be found the most convincing proof in regard to its efficacy that could be asked for. With the above remarks, and with the numerous testimonials we have in its favor, we offer the "Blood Food" to the consideration of the afflicted, knowing that it will be acknowledged as pre-eminent over all other preparations, patant or official, in point of usefulness. Circulars giving the Theory upon which this remedy is founded, also certificates of remarkable cures will be sent free when desired. We forward the Blood Food to any part of the United States or Canadas upon receipt of price—$1 per bottle, $6 for six bottles. Be careful in all cases to take none but that having our fac-simile signature upon the wrapper. None other is genuine.

Humphreys' Homeopathic Specific Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet the demand for a reliable want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhea, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—diseases, so as to cease to recognance—safe, and hence occasionlay no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the child is broken of its dangerous cold.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every part of this country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of testimonials the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction in their customers.

PROF. WOOD'S
RESTORATIVE CORDIAL
—AND—
BLOOD RENOVATOR.

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system insensible to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence within this weakest stomach, and cause the digestive organs, and daily all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet is nevertheless free from the depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for instance, as Nervous Prostration, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weakness and Irregularities, also Kidney Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints, Disease of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hoarseness and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility from Ague, Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary secreting the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon the use of calomel and mercurials, which, we believe, should take a bottle with them, and all should take a teaspoonful at least before eating. As it promotes cleanness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And as ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy to close the ills which spring from of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities are not remedied. The Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it.—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness of your daughters, and the cause thereof, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to premature graves, the latter, let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they would go travel the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal, which should always be on hand in time of need.

O. J. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market street, St Louis, Mo., and sold by all good Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

Dr. Mott's

CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE

PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combination in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate the necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease, or of the consequent diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to food and exercise for which the physician has no name.

IN NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons similar to those stated in the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting, and yet perfectly mild and gently regularity operient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a cure for Piles, upon which it always operates to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

IN DYSPEPSIA, however curable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the worst of Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of its unmedicated or balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great event and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid completion of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance, in Short, Invigorates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

Dose.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.
One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.
One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.
A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidneys, Bladder or Urinary Organs.
Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the effects, which always follows, liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

DEMAND FOR LABOR IN CUBA.—The Washington correspondent of the Charleston Courier writes on the 26th ult.:—

I learn from our Consul at Havana, who was lately here, that it is very pressing and increasing. Cultivation is extending in Cuba, and more labo. is wanted. Barbarian Africans, as soon as landed from a slaver, are eagerly sought and purchased at five and six hundred dollars a head. The coolies are now being brought in, but they do not stand the climate well. Naval officers, who have observed the results of the employment of coolie labor at different places, state but very few of the coolies live through the term of their apprenticeship—seven years.

A SLAVE FREED.—The Tribune mentions the following incident at the Plymouth Church in Brooklyn last Sunday:—

At the close of service one of the scenes for which this church is famous took place. Mr. Beecher announced that Louisa Monroe, a slave woman, was present and wished to raise $800, which, with $400 already in her possession would free her. He had determined not to ask his congregation to contribute any more money for this purpose, as they had already done enough, but he was impelled to make one more appeal. A collection was then taken up, when $511 was collected, all in small sums. Mr. H. W. Sage then announced that he would contribute the rest, and Mr. Beecher announced to the woman that she was free.—Much feeling was manifested.

This world is gradually progressing in the right direction; no greater proof of which fact is presented than in the case of the famous "reception" committee of New York. The swindle of the Japanese committee, and the general comment consequently created in derogation of the personal character of its components, has had the good effect of making the last "reception" management an honest one, financially speaking. The funds of the ball in honor of the Prince of Wales were obtained by an assesment of $100 laid upon the the 400 members of the general committee, making $40,000, and to each member of the committe seven tickets were assigned. The sum of $30 65 has been refunded to each member, reducing the contribution to $869 35, or about $10 for each person's ticket. The committee appointed to proceed to Canada and to Washington, charged nothing for their expenses. We have yet some hopes of the national metropolis.—Salem Register.

The latest rumors from Washington state that Joe Lane intends to take up his residence in North Carolina, with the expectation of being returned to the U. S. Senate, in place of Clingman. Oregon not having redeemed Joe's pledge, in regard to fidelity to Slavery, he is disgusted with it, and therefore shakes its dust from his shoes. It is suggested that he will hereafter show his contempt for the young Commonwealth on the Pacific by writing its name with a little o. He thus orthographically punished Vera Cruz some years ago. Joe is a murderous fellow at revenges of that kind.—Beloit Courier.

Thomas Jefferson, in a letter to a personal friend in 1821, said: "It has ever been my creed that the continuance of our Union depends entirely on Pennsylvania and Virginia. If they hold together, nothing North or South will fly off."

If that's the case, and it is quite reasonable, then "the Union is safe" to a certainty. Pennsylvania will stand by Lincoln and the Union unfalteringly, as her late vote proves; and Virginia will stand by her own interests, which, were she to favor secession, would be "knocked higher than a kite."—Beloit Courier.

ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL,
A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF
INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA, AND LUMBAGO.

Hundreds of testimonials to the good resulting from the use of this Cordial could be offered—but the following will suffice:

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 6, 1860.
I hereby certify that I have used a variety of preparations for the cure of Rheumatism, but have found none of them whose effect was so immediate and lasting as Zollickoffer's Anti-Rheumatic Cordial, and would advise all afflicted with that painful disease to give it a fair trial.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

New Photographic Establishment.
Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.
The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.
All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.
Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

NOTICE—TO NEW SUBSCRIBERS.

All persons who may now pay $4 for the Daily Chronicle, or $1 for the Weekly Chronicle, for the year 1861,—will be furnished with the paper without charge, from this time to Jan. 1.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1860.

ORTHODOXY AMONG THE BAPTISTS.—The Christian Era contains the following items:—

Spurgeon, speaks thus unfavorably of the orthodoxy of the English Baptist press: "While upon this subject, I must beg that neither you or your readers will regard any newspaper as the organ of the English Baptists. We have no organ, we have no paper which represents the Calvinistic Baptist churches of England. The Freeman, with its perverse tendency towards the modern negative theology, has deceived the hopes of very many of us, and we look upon it rather with loathing than with love. Truly Baptists are not and cannot be negative theologians; the men who sway our literature may be never so unsafe, but they are exceptions to the rule."

We suppose it is true, of the Baptists of England, as it certainly is of those in this country, that while a portion, like Spurgeon, are old school Calvinists, another and larger portion are not—and especially those men who sway their literature, are fond of what he calls the modern negative theology,—that is, they approach, some of them, very near the views of the Methodists and Freewill Baptists, and others are not far from being Unitarians and Universalists. And the same thing may be said, as truly of other sects, usually regarded as Calvinists, and who are so as to their written Creed and Covenant; but as to their members and ministers, entertaining a great variety of views.

The number of those in this country who agree with Mr. Spurgeon's views, though large in itself considered, is relatively a very small proportion of the religious public.

MAKING HASTE SLOWLY.—The Washington correspondent of the Boston Herald, Nov. 20, says:

Some of the secessionists are in a peculiar dilemma. Senator Wigfall of Texas, as you are aware, pompously informed President Buchanan that he intended to return to Texas and resign his seat in the U. S. Senate, because of the election of Lincoln. But instead of doing that, he takes up his residence in Washington, and will, one week from Monday next, resume his seat in the Senate. The cause of this is explained. The Texas Legislature does not meet for a year, and should Mr. Wigfall resign now, Gov. Houston, who is a strong Union man, would be obliged to appoint his successor, and the disunion Senator would thus be set aside. In view of this state of affairs, Mr. Wigfall has determined to remain in the Senate and within the Union. Judge Hemphill, the other Senator, is opposed to the disunion schemes. He is now in Washington.

Hon. Alex. H. Stephens, in his speech at Milledgeville, on Thursday last, took the ground that as Mr. Lincoln was elected in a constitutional manner, he could see no impropriety in Southern men holding office under him. This was received with favor by the assemblage, and even at the conclusion of the speech, Senator Toombs came forward and proposed three cheers for this gallant son of Georgia, which were given with a hearty good will. Mr. S. has thrown himself into the breach, and is determined to make a well-fought battle against the disunionists. In this he is seconded by W. R. W. Cobb of Alabama, who has been for sixteen years a member of the House of Representatives.

In one of my late letters I intimated that the Treasury was in an almost bankrupt condition. The fact that the Secretary has been forced to extend the time for the loan to be paid in, is evidence of the straitened necessities of the government finances.

Thus far only a little over three millions of the loan has been paid in. There is not half enough for the working uses of the Department.

Judge Douglas will be in Washington on Monday next.

It is doubted if a single member of the South Carolina delegation will be present in Congress.

☞ A political error of a singular character, in the shape of an item, has gone all over the country, stating that the Springfield Republican advised the repeal of the personal liberty law of Massachusetts.

The Boston Atlas criticised the above severely one day; but the next day explained their criticism and the error together, thus: Our criticism of the Republican's advice to repeal the personal liberty laws was based on the extract from the Republican's article, as published in the Boston Courier.—Now we find that the Courier, * * * omitted a very important part, the most important portion of the Republican's article, viz.: that in which they say that the fugitive slave act should first be either repealed or amended, and the personal liberty laws should be also repealed.

Every reader can see how big the error is.

☞ The Boston Trumpet of this week, in speaking of the editor's health, says:

Mr. Whittemore's family have the satisfaction to report, that there is an improvement in his health. His appetite is better; his sickness of the stomach has abated; he sleeps soundly; but is still very weak. We think his friends may take encouragement that he will be out again. It is a very sudden change in his condition, and gives great encouragement to all.

FIRE AT LACONIA.—This village, formerly known as Meredith Bridge, has just been visited by a destructive fire, which broke out at about four o'clock Wednesday morning, in the rear part of the stable attached to the Cerro Gordo House. The alarm of fire was soon given, and the fire departments of Laconia and Lake Village were promptly on hand to quench the fiery element, but a strong northwest wind blowing at the time soon enveloped the buildings of the Cerro Gordo House in flames. The fire spread rapidly, and extended from the Winnipiseogee river, on the west side of Main street as far no th as Water street, and west to Ranlett's car manufactory, and on the east side of same street north to Mill street, and east to the cotton mills, burning 25 buildings, including 1 hotel, 15 stores, 2 newspaper offices, (N. H. Democrat and the Winnepesaukee Gazette) three saloons, large sash and blind manufactory, Post Office with nearly all its contents, livery stable, markets, dwelling houses, Savings Bank, gas house, &c.

Five horses, 1 cow and a hog were burned in the hotel stables. Loss from $100,000 to $200,000. Half or two-thirds insured. Loss on Cerro Gordo House $5,000, no insurance. The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

The once beautiful and thriving village of Laconia is now a scene of desolation.—Laboring men are thrown out of employment, business men out of business, the rich made poor and a loss sustained which time and means can only repair.

☞ In San Francisco, a few Sundays since, after morning service in the churches, as the congregations were being dismissed from St. Mary's Cathedral and the First Congregational Church—which are situated on opposite corners of the same street—a madman, armed with a double-barreled shot gun, loaded with rifle balls—seven in each barrel—took up a position on the sidewalks opposite the door-way of the cathedral, and as the people came forth, took aim deliberately and blazed away at the crowd. The scene of consternation that here ensued may be imagined. The people from either of the churches scattered in all directions. The maniac coolly surveyed the scene and again raised his gun to fire, but was at that instant seized by a policeman, who knocked the barrel of the gun upward as the charge exploded. At the first fire the gunner missed his object by a little too much elevation of the weapon, so that the bullets passed harmlessly over the heads of the intended victims. He was taken to the police station, where he explained that he was the chosen instrument of the Almighty to 'clean out the Romans,' as he expressed it.

FRESH TROUBLES AT HARVARD COLLEGE.—The faculty of Harvard College have suspended one Sophomore for two years, and seven for one year, for "hazing" Freshmen, as it is called. In all colleges it is customary to pass Freshmen through a sort of initiatory process, like the shaving of "green hands" on shipboard, when they cross the line. President Felton and the Harvard faculty had determined to stop this process, but while consulting on it they were startled the other morning by a pistol explosion, and found that a Freshman was defending himself against the Sophomores, and his room mate had been carried beyond the college limits and confined to a room. The faculty set the prisoner at liberty and then expelled the sophomores. The "martyrs" had the sympathy of the class, who drew them to Cambridgeport, and took their farewell.

☞ The Richmond Enquirer of Wednesday publishes a letter from Gov. Letcher to Mr. John Busbin of Pennsylvania. The Governor says that dereliction from duty on the part of the North is the prime cause of the present trouble, and advises the people of the North to correct their public sentiment and discharge their constitutional obligations with strict fidelity. He indicates his determination to defend the stand of Virginia—as a mediator—an armed mediator, if necessary—between the South and its assailants. The letter has created considerable sensation in Richmond.

WORM-EATEN BRIDGE BRACES.—Mr. Butler, of the committee to superintend the building of the West Haven Bridge, has exhibited an end of one of the braces to the piling—a timber four inches square—which has been entirely perforated and eaten off by worms. The brace was put in only last July, and this is destroyed in less than five months. The wood is spruce, and has not rotted at all, but is perfectly honey-combed, eaten through everywhere, except the thickness of a sheet of paper on the outside, which the worms do not touch. These worms exist in brackish water only.

TEXAS.—A New York firm has the following letter from Texas:—

Marshall, Texas, Nov. 1, 1860.

Breckinridge and Lane will carry Texas. The Union will not be dissolved. If any disturbance takes place in commercial or monetary affairs, those who get it up will have the glorious satisfaction of seeing, in less than six months, what asses they have been. So I predict.

VERMONT LIQUOR LAW.—A bill has been introduced into the Vermont Legislature, incorporating, in the main, the suggestion made by Rev. Mr. Balch of Ludlow, in an address before the Sons of Temperance, near the beginning of the session, providing that all packages containing intoxicating liquor, brought or found within that State, not distinctly marked with the name of the sender and the sendee, and the kind and quality of the liquor, should by reason of that fact be contraband, and liable to be spilled without further ceremony.

☞ News from Europe, via Londonderry Nov. 9, comes by the Palestine, at Portland.

The King of Sardinia arrived at Naples on the morning of the 7th, with Garibaldi. They proceeded to the Cathedral, and afterwards to the palace. There were great festivities in spite of the bad weather.

There was a doubtful report that a treaty of peace had been signed at Tien Sin.

No intelligence had been received from the Prince of Wales, but two vessels supposed to be the Hero and the Adriadne, had been seen passing Portland.

Prince Albert arrived at Plymouth Friday morning.

The Paris correspondent of the London Post says that the dissolution of the Pope's army was inevitable.

He will have left only a simple guard of 3000 men.

The British army at Naples was dwindling away on account of the disgraceful conduct of its members.

The monthly returns of the Bank of France show a decrease in cash of twenty five and one third millions.

☞ It appears probable that the Douglas men have carried the California Legislature. If so, it will end the Senatorial career of Dr. Gwin, a consummation which has long been devoutly wished by respectable men of all parties.

We learn that strong remonstrances have been made by leading Republicans to the establishment of a new paper at Washington aspiring to the organship of Lincoln's administration.

GOOD TIME.—In New York, Nov. 5th, a trot between gentlemen's private horses, for $250 a side, mile heats, best 3 in 5, in wagons, carrying 330 lbs., was won by S. Hoagland's mare "Lady Palmer," and H. F. Jones' mare "Columbia," in the astonishing time of 2,33—2,34 1-2—2,35—2,38.—Nov. 5th, the same horses, and weights, for $250 a side, two-mile heats, was won by Columbia, in the no less surprising time of 5,08 3-4—5,07—5,08 1-2.

SUICIDE.—William C. Gray, formerly of Massachusetts, late a land operator in Minnesota, committed suicide at St. Paul on the 10th inst., by jumping from the St. Paul bridge, a distance of near a hundred feet, into the Mississippi river. He had become seriously embarrassed, and to relieve himself resorted to forgery, and was about being arrested, when he committed suicide. Until the day of his death his honesty was unquestioned.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—John Williams, who has been found guilty of the murder of his wife, was to-day sentenced to fifteen years imprisonment.

Charles Manhattan, for the murder of R. Gray, was sentenced to imprisonment for life.

Enwright, the California ticket swindler, was sentenced two years, and Gordon one year in the Sing Sing prison.

The effects of the Alliance Insurance Company were sold at auction yesterday.

☞ The immigration project of Geffrard is said to be meeting with some opposition on the part of a few planters in Hayti, the great mass of the people, however, are favorable to it. A settlement of Louisianians at St. Marc, is represented as progressing finely, and attracting large numbers of blacks from New Orleans to that place.

☞ The black burglar who was lately shot and killed in Newburyport, did not die too soon. He was a noted burglar in California, Baltimore, Boston, Portland, &c.; has money deposited in Boston and Baltimore; has spent much money in riotous living, and was a most daring, reckless criminal.

☞ The banks of Richmond and Petersburg Va., suspended specie payments on Wednesday.

☞ The Banks at Washington suspended specie payments on Thursday.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 21.—The Presidents of the Banks in this city met to-day, and voted to suspend specie payment to-morrow morning.

The Concord Patriot has some curious ideas of fitness in public officers. It was delighted with the appointment of a second rate lawyer, who did not know the stem from the stern of a ship, to the office of Secretary of the Navy; and is quite indignant that a merchant, who has all his life been familiar with shipping should be talked of as his successor.—Boston Journal.

DETROIT, MICH., Nov. 21.—The ship Rocket, cargo 20,000 bushels wheat, came in collision with the barque Marion, on Lake Huron, Monday night, sinking the former. Ship and cargo total loss; barque uninjured.

☞ The New York agents of the steamship Augusta deny that the mechanics and laborers who went to Savannah in that vessel were sent back, as reported.

Local.

THE CITY ELECTION (of Newburyport) begins to attract attention, from the active canvass making for the nomination and election. Two gentlemen—one a prominent Republican and the other a well-known democrat, are the candidates we hear of, and they will probably be the only ones in the field. We hope they or any other that may be nominated will be presented as citizens, and not have the canvass involved in politics. It is of little consequence how the candidates voted in the national or State elections. We want men to look after the interests of the city, and use such prudence and economy as not to overwhelm the city by taxation.—Herald.

Ditto to all that, say we, for Portsmouth; and with all that in full view continually, another question comes up in Portsmouth, which has been settled in the affirmative in Newburyport,—namely, Do we need a City Hall? and shall we have it, now or ever? Do the people desire it, and are the taxpayers willing to pay for it? If not, we wish the old Jefferson Hall could be sold, so that private enterprise might remove such a blemish from Market Square.

IMPROVEMENTS.—A drive around Auburn street and South Road, on Thursday, revealed to our eyes the pleasing fact that the rows of elm trees on either side of Auburn street have been completed—we presume through the enterprise, public spirit and good taste of Dr. Treadwell and Mr. H. L. Richards, under whose charge the work was commenced a few years ago.—This is indeed a delightful public benefaction.

And our organs of smell were no less agreeably surprised, that they were not greeted by the usual intolerable stench of the Slaughter Houses—but whether this happy change has been brought about by Jack Frost or some other agency, we cannot say. We only hope it will prove permanent—and as in duty bound, the Chronicle will ever pray.

☞ Mr. Everett delivered his beautiful lecture on the early days of Benjamin Franklin, on Wednesday evening, in the Temple, to one of the best audiences we have seen here for a long time. The order, attention, decorum and applause were all exactly as the orator could have desired; and the orator, his matter and manner did not fail to meet the expectations of every hearer of sound judgment and good taste.

Some of the sentences are rarely equalled for sublimity and beauty; and seldom have we known a stroke of quiet humor which told better than the statement, that Franklin, after being minister to England, was a frequent contributor to the Courants and Mercuries of that day. and the insinuation that he also probably wrote for the Ledgers, if there were any.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT—PORTSMOUTH. Thursday.—The jury returned a verdict of guilty, against the four seamen accused of being part of the crew of a slave vessel. The counsel for the prisoners moved an arrest of judgment, and the whole matter was postponed to the next term.

A LAST HINT.—A few, and but a few, subscribers to the Weekly Chronicle are in arrears. Bills having been before this sent to all such, we shall send them no more papers until paid for. $1 a year don't leave much margin for deadheads or dunning.

☞ A few copies of the Chronicles containing full report of the Auburn Poisoning Case, may be had at the office.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.—Washington, Nov. 22.—The President's message will be sent into Congress on the second day of the session. Advanced copies will be sent North as far as Boston, and South as far as Richmond.

"ABE LINCOLN" AN INVENTOR.—We were this morning shown at the U. S. Patent Office the model of a steamer combining buoyant air chambers with a steamboat or other vessel, for the purpose of enabling their draught of water to be readily lessened, that they might pass over bars or through shallow water without discharging their cargoes. This method of lifting vessels over shoals was invented by Abraham Lincoln, President elect, for which he received a patent May 22, 1849.—Washington Star.

FARMING.—Ike Marvel says "For the man who can afford to buy almost everything he needs, and sells very little that he raises, farming is a delightful amusement; for the man who can afford to sell almost everything that he raises, and to buy little or nothing that he needs, farming is a lucrative employment."

☞ The subject of Mr. Chapin's new lecture is "Man and his Work." It is said to be eloquent.

NEW YORK, NOV. 21.—Counterfeit twos on the International Bank of Portland, and ones on the Marine Bank of Boston are in circulation. Counterfeit quarter eagles are also being circulated.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 21.—Eleven lives were lost by the burning of the steamer Pacific.

Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is manufactured entirely different from any other. Its chemical purity renders it as harmless as the purest flour, and its use will strengthen weak stomachs and cure dyspeptic persons. Use it with cream tartar instead of soda. It is much better. Try it. Grocers and Druggists sell it.

There is another article in the market put up in similar colored papers. Do not be deceived by it. See that the name of HERRICK ALLEN is on the wrapper, and no mistake can occur. Manufactured by Allen & Taylor, corner of Canal and Centre streets, New York, and sold at wholesale by Israel Nash & Co., Boston. M&F is

That enemy of Mankind, Consumption! can be cured, but it is far better to prevent the cruel disease from fastening itself on the system, by the timely use of a remedy, such as Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry affords.

GARDINER'S

Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound.

A sure cure for Rheumatism and Neuralgia in its worst form.

The undersigned hereby certify that they have used "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound" for the cure of Rheumatism and Neuralgia, and have in every case found immediate and permanent relief. We have full confidence in its healing qualities, and would recommend it to all who are afflicted with those harrassing diseases, as one of the safest and best medicines ever offered to the public.

S. HANCOCK, Jr., 20 South Market street, Boston; W. H. ALLEN, Boston; HENRY A. FULLER, 18 South Market street, Boston; SM'L WALES, Jr., City Hotel, Boston; GEORGE H. PLUMMER, 1, Maverick Square, East Boston; HENRY D. GARDINER, Webster street, East Boston; ABRAM WEEKS, Webster street, Boston; Capt. CHAS. G. DOLLIVER, East Boston

The best medicine for the disease I ever saw.—C. A. SMITH, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.

Have been afflicted with Rheumatism in its worst form and was entirely cured by the use of one bottle.—A. W. BRYER, Matthews' Building, Commercial street, Boston.

Gardner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years standing.—W. E. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.

After suffering with Rheumatism for twenty years, I was entirely cured by the use of two bottles of Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound.—NORMAN T. AYERS, 75 Franklin St., Boston.

The Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has been taken by hundreds of people for Scrofulous Humors, with great benefit. It may be given to children with perfect safety.

Agent for Head, Jewell & Co.

Portsmouth, Nov. 22, 1860.

Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas.

It is now generally admitted that all eruptive diseases depend u on some internal or constitutional cause, and that to use ointments or washes for them is a sure way to injure the system, and only to drive in, not to cure the disease. But HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC SALT RHEUM PILLS are a true specific for all such diseases. They cure Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Erysipelas, Pimples on the face, Ringworm, and Nettle Rash, by curing the cause upon which they depend, and restoring the skin to a state of health and purity. Thus not only is the disease cured, but the softness and beauty of the complexion restored.

Price, 25 cents per box, with directions. Six boxes $1.

Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.

Address, DR. F. HUMPHREYS & CO.,

WISTAR'S BALSAM WILD CHERRY

Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Quinsy, and the numerous as well as dangerous diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, prevail, in our changeable climate, at all seasons of the year; few are fortunate enough to escape their baneful influence. How important, then, to have at hand a certain antidote to all these complaints. Experience proves that this exists in Wistar's Balsam to an extent not found in any other remedy; however severe the suffering, the application of this soothing, healing and wonderful Balsam at once vanquishes the disease, and restores the sufferer to wonted health.

From a Respectable Druggist.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 3, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co., Boston:

Gents:—Please send me a fresh supply of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. We are selling large quantities of this long celebrated remedy for Coughs and Colds, and it bids fair to outlive most of the so-called specifics which are now in vogue. We can confidently recommend it as a remedy for what it is intended. Very truly yours,

NATHAN P. THACHER.

Mr. D. H. TEAGUE, of Turner Village, Writes the proprietors of this great remedy, as follows:

TURNER VILLAGE, ME., July 31, 1860.

Messrs. SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston:—

Gents:—I do not hesitate to recommend DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for coughs and pulmonary affections, having used it in my family for many years with great satisfaction; indeed it has done more good than all the other remedies I have tried, and their name is legion. If all the patent medicines in the market possessed but a portion of the merit of this excellent Balsam, there would be no occasion to condemn them as humbugs.

The medicine is also used by many of my friends and acquaintances in this town, and they have found it invaluable; and I hope that others who suffer may give it a fair trial. Very respectfully,

D. H. TEAGUE.

☞ Reader, have you seen Prof. Wood's advertisement in our paper. Read it; it will interest you. tf

☞ We call the attention of our readers to an article advertised in another column, called BLOOD FOOD. It is an entirely new discovery, and must not be confounded with any of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and what one gains he retains. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity, or deficiency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, take of this BLOOD FOOD and be restored to health.

Catarrh is the most difficult of any of the Diseases of the Breathing Organs to relieve or to cure. The Rev. Joshua Leavitt, editor of the Independent of New York, who had the Catarrh for more than twenty years, has been cured by using Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron and Sulphur Powders, which are advertised in this paper. His testimonial is published in a pamphlet among others equally prominent who have been cured of chronic Throats and Lung difficulties, which will be sent free by mail.

ATWOOD'S

QUININE TONIC

BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities.

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonics and stomachics, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhea, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "that it is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

ANOTHER NEW STOVE

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL,

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY

Of Providence, R. I.

In introducing a new Cook Stove, of singularly novel construction and arrangement, it is proper that we speak of its peculiar merits.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven, with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is the most durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole, and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high-priced Air-Tight Cook Stoves, but will barely allude to them, viz:

1st. The double plates each side of the fire prevent any leak of ashes into the oven and make the stove more durable.

2d. The admission of external air between these plates, for the ventilation of the roasting oven, tends also to the preservation of the plates most exposed to destruction.

3d. The durable dump grate, with the ash box of ample size to receive the ashes and coals, is an attractive feature of the stove.

4th. The draft door, at each end of the fire box, is a great convenience when a quick fire is wanted

5th. The movable ash pan, which, though it forms a hearth to the stove, need not be used except once or twice a day for taking up and carrying away the ashes.

6th. The stove has but one damper, and but one division of flues on the back of and under the oven, ensuring a very quick bake.

7th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and tin jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

This stove was thoroughly tested before brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial of the stove.

John Trundy, Esq., one of our most practical and scientific mechanics, who has had large experience in the construction of stove patterns in years past, and has for many years been using one of the Stewart Stoves, has purchased one of the MODEL COOKS, and after a fair trial pronounces it far superior to the Stewart or any stove he has ever seen, for economy, convenience and dispatch. We might also refer to several other parties who are using the stove, and who award it the very highest praise.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be the stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is wanted.

We have nought to say against any other stove, believing that a man can sell his own goods without depreciating his neighbor's; but this we do say, that we honestly believe this is the best stove that can be found in the world; and what is more, we think others will agree with us after a trial of it. We invite any one to examine the stove, whether they wish to purchase or not.

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

It seems to us that our friends of the secession school down South, are working very hard to prove from what they complained very much of Seward and Lincoln for merely uttering, viz: that there is "an irrepressible conflict between slavery and freedom," and that a "Union composed of half slave and half free States is a house divided against itself, and cannot stand."—Bath Times.

Humphreys' Specific Homeopathic Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision of Dr. HUMPHREY, of Dr. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple forms of disease.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhœa, a pain in the side, or a headache, or heartsoreness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies in families and private persons, as being THE BEST IN USE, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands upon thousands have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and efficacy, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

PROF. WOOD'S
RESTORATIVE CORDIAL
—AND—
BLOOD RENOVATOR,

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity; and thus recovers and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe this weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also strictly unfermenting in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge, even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is consequently liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Nervous Debility, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so painfully familiar and unanswerable to time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints, Disease of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking Cough, Confirmed Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already affected. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any obstetrical consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and all should take a teaspoonful at least before eating. As a tonic, it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not untomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it.—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illusions not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to premature graves, the latter will let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if they were not forgiven they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently look, not for we are sure your never failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.

O. J. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market street, St. Louis, Mo., and sold by all good Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

Dr. Mott's

CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE

PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combination with Pure Sanctorian Pills by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether caused by long continued sickness, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of Iron must commence by slow, but, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and yet, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In neglected DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this immediately and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exert such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

R. B. LOCKE & CO., General Agents.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels. Use in moderate quantities.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Personswho, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

ONE OF GOV. BROWN'S PROPOSITIONS. Gov. Brown of Georgia, in his late Message to the Legislature recommending reprisals upon the North, makes the following suggestion, which certainly has a decided squinting toward agrarianism :—

Should a separation take place, and the Northern States take up arms against the people of the South and attempt to entice our slaves to insurrection, these Northern white laborers who have suffered so much injustice at the hands of those who have wrung from them the hard earnings of the sweat of their brows, should not only be informed of their rights but, they should be encouraged to rise in their might and divide among them the surplus of such Northern capitalists as have received their labor for many years without making just compensation. After they have declared their independence of those who assume to be their masters, and will not associate with them, nor permit their families to associate with them as equals, they should be invited to join our standard and to associate with us upon equal terms. They should be liberally rewaded for their services, should no longer be required to perform the menial service of the negro, and should be taught that the true aristocracy in the South is an aristocracy, not of wealth, but of color and conduct.

QUAKERS.—The origin of the word Quaker is thus given in a recently published life of George Fox :

It was about the time of George's committal to the Derby House of Correction that he and his few followers began to be designated by the term Quakers. Gervas Bennett, one of the magistrates who committed him, was admonished by him to quake at the name of the Lord, when Bennett replied that George Fox and his followers might rather quake at the civil authorities—a repartee, which, going abroad among the multitude, occasioned Fox and his adherents to be called contemptuously Quakers. It cannot but be thought wonderful that a young man of five-and-twenty, of no learning, except in texts of Scripture, and a little sound sense, should have been able to attract sufficient followers to form the foundation of a sect with any title.

☞ We stated, with regret a day or two since, that Daniel Sanborn, Esq., formerly editor of the Bangor Journal, had been removed from the Boston Custom House, but we were not then informed of the particulars. We now learn from a paper before us that he was removed without a day's notice or a word of warning, although his faithfulness and ability in the discharge of his duties could not be questioned. Mr. Sanborn was an able and popular editor, and in 1856 did valiant service in support of the National Democratic nominees of that year. His appointment to an office in the Custom House was an appropriate recognition of his services and of those of the old line Whigs who acted with him, and his removal, under the circumstances, comes with as ill a grace as it is unaccountable!!! So says the Portland Argus.

A generous mind identifies itself with all around it; a selfish one identifies all things with itself. The generous man seeks happiness in promoting that of others; the selfish man reduces all things to his own interest.

☞ At Howell, Mich., a lad named Woodruff drank a mixture recommended by a comrade as water, milk and cider, and died in a few hours. The other boy has been arrested.

A good man, who has seen much of this world, says :—"The grand essentials to happiness in this life are, something to do, something to love, and something to hope for."

Hundreds of testimonials to the good resulting from the use of this Cordial could be offered—but the following will suffice:
PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 6, 1860.
I hereby certify that I have used a variety of preparations for the cure of Rheumatism, but have found none of them whose effect was so immediate and lasting as Zollickoffer's Anti-Rheumatic Cordial, and would advise all afflicted with that painful disease to give it a fair trial.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

New Photographic Establishment.
Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.
The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, is enabled to produce unprocurable at home what heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.
All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.
Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1860.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT.—Several years ago it was earnestly desired, as we suppose, by a majority of the people of New Hampshire, perhaps only a very small majority,—that the laws which require capital punishment for murder, should be so modified as to substitute imprisonment for life, in place of the death penalty. The subject was carried into the General Court, and the change obtained small majorities in both houses.—But before the bill had passed all its stages, means were found to get some kind of postponement from Friday to Monday;—and on Monday morning a small majority appeared against it, in one house, defeating the bill.

Since that defeat, no considerable or united effort has been made to change the laws in this respect. But the change in public opinion has been very great; insomuch that in all capital trials for some years, the prosecuting officer has put to every juror the test question, whether he was so opposed to capital punishment, that he could not render a verdict of guilty.

At the late trials, more than half, and at the latest about two-thirds of the jurors answered Yes. This fact, occurring in a case where nearly a hundred jurors were called, all drawn by lot from the jury box, and gathered from the whole of a large County, goes to show that two-thirds of the voters, or something near that proportion, have such scruples or opinions on this subject as to require a change in the penalty.

Another fact, tending in the same direction, is the nature of the verdicts given in late capital cases, viz. second degree of murder, or manslaughter, where the trial pointed to murder or no crime at all. We may complain, if we will, of this license in Verdicts;—but juries will take such liberty, if they feel bound by conscience or opinion; in spite of charges, or legal definitions.

Looking at the matter as it is, the community must take its choice between less severe penalties, and few or no convictions. There is no call for hasty or inconsiderate action;—but it is well worthy of serious consideration, whether our laws on this subject ought not to be revised next June, so as to conform to those of Maine, or even to go somewhat beyond them.

☞ Queen Victoria was so much charmed at the enthusiastic reception of the Prince of Wales in this country, she intends to adorn the royal palace at Windsor with faithful pictures of the beautiful scenery through which the young gentleman passed. T. receive the homage of the thirty million free people of the United States, was too valuable a tribute to be passed over unrecognized. A curious fact is noted by an English press, that at the time Albert Edward was dedicating the Victoria bridge on the Grand Trunk road, the hopeless bankruptcy of that corporation was announced in England. Ten millions of dollars and more have been invested in Great Britain in this railroad. Badly conducted from the outset, as far as economy goes, it is the first achievement in America of the kind. Canada is enormously benefitted by the work, built with capital from the old country.—The above road proved unable to pay its interest on the second preferred bonds, due Oct. 12th.

THE FIRE IN LACONIA.—The number of buildings burned in Laconia, Wednesday morning, was thirty-five, including four brick blocks. The total loss cannot be less than $125,000, on which there is about $60,000 insured, mostly in Massachusetts and Rhode Island offices. The only person injured was a Mr. Finney from Lawrence, Mass., who had by accident previously lost a leg, and was stopping in Laconia to have one of Jewett's artificial legs fitted. On attempting to cross the street from his burning lodgings, a chimney fell upon him, badly injuring his remaining leg. About a dozen families are rendered houseless and destitute, many of them saving nothing but the clothes they had on; and most of them were in poor circumstances.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Commercial, telegraphs under date of Nov. 21, that the city is alive with rumors of grave disagreements in the Cabinet. The President maintains the illegality of secession, as well as its impolicy, and has resolved to earnestly rebuke it. Secretaries Cobb and Thompson threaten to resign unless he suppresses all condemnation of the secessionists' proceedings. Postmaster Holt to some extent dissents from the President's positions, but it is doubtful whether he will carry his opposition so far as to resign in case the President adheres to his sentiments.

☞ One Thorpe, of Cleveland, Ohio, has had a verdict of $10,000 rendered against him for crim. con., at Sandusky.

YALE AGRICULTURAL LECTURES.—The public will be gratified to learn that the novel experiment of the Yale Agricultural Lectures of last winter, was so successful as to induce its repetition this winter on a more complete scale. The course will commence Feb. 5, and continue through the month. These lectures, which are of great value to the whole country, and worthy the attention of every cultivator, are given under the auspices of the Yale Scientific School, or Scientific Department of Yale College, as a supplement to its newly-instituted course of practical collegiate education, and for the benefit of the public at large. A new and important feature of this course will be its complete illustration by specimens, drawings, models and animals.

Life-sized paintings of groups from celebrated herds will be included in these illustrations. The lectures on training and breaking horses are to be accompanied by practical illustrations. The lecturers of last year will take part in the course, and other eminent names, with a variety of new subjects, will be added to the list.

The expenses of the course are provided for in part by subscription. The lectures are under the direction of Prof. John A. Porter, who may be addressed for further information, at New Haven, Conn.

"THE GREAT VICTORY, AND HOW TO USE IT."—We publish in to-day's paper, (says the Boston Traveller) Mr. Beecher's sermon, or rather his speech, delivered from his rostrum on the Sunday after the Presidential election, as taken down by our own phonographic reporter. After this report was in type, we received a note from a friend of Mr. Beecher, stating that sermon would be published in the Independent, this week, revised and corrected by the preacher, and requesting, or perhaps in its terms forbidding, us to publish the discourse.

Mr. Beecher is an influential political leader, who has done more to aid the party which has just triumphantly passed into the succession of the government, than any other one man. His political, is vastly greater than his theological influence, as he is deemed heretical by almost all the religious teachers. We do not believe he has the right to prevent us from publishing his speeches, any more than members of Congress have to prohibit us from publishing their speeches when we choose to send a phonographic reporter to take notes of their extemporaneous harangues. We shall continue to send a reporter to Mr. Beecher's places of lecturing, in order to ascertain and censure him if he says any thing improper, and commend him for all his good teachings. If he thinks we have not this right he may apply to the Court for an injunction, and we will then be heard on the subject by the ablest counsel we can procure.

The discourse is one of the most enthusiastic which the orator has ever delivered. It is all about politics, and the reverend gentleman is quite jubilant over the result of the Presidential election. He exults, as our neighbors of the Courier would say if they should criticize it, most audaciously and outragously. At one time he is not afraid of barking dogs; at another he is not to be frightened by dumb dogs, and even goes so far as to say that he expects to live to see the day when he can travel in Virginia with safety.

He talks about all manner of things: frogs and steamboats; wolves and wasps; fevers and dragons; chills and serpents; Nimrod and Pharoah; the widow's son and Satan; tombs and freshets; and a mass of other things which were perhaps necessary to ease the orator's mind, but which made our reporter's task a hard one.

No one can peruse our report, (we do not know how much the Independent's may differ,) without believing that the preacher "felt good." There is no doubt about this. The victory has pleased him greatly.—Trav.

PRIVATE DISPATCH POSTS.—The case of the United States versus Blood's Philadelphia City Dispatch, has been decided adversely to the government, in the United States Circuit Court at Philadelphia. Judge Cadwallader decided, that the acts of Congress intended to prevent private letter carrying on mail routes, not to monopolize the local business of letter carrying in post towns, and that Congress, in authorizing the establishment of posts within the limits of mail stations, has not prohibited the business of private letter carrying.

☞ If California and Oregon have gone for Lincoln, he will have six more electoral votes than were thrown for Buchanan, and a very large proportion of these electoral votes have been given by clear majorities over all other parties. On the other hand, Mr. Breckinridge gets minority electors in seven of the eleven States that have surely gone for him; all Mr. Bell's votes will represent minorities of the people in their States, and also all Mr. Douglas's except the three in New Jersey.

☞ Senator Hamlin arrived in Chicago on Thursday morning, and was presented to Mr. Lincoln. There was a public reception of both these gentlemen the next day. Senators Hamlin and Trumbull were to leave on Saturday for Washington.

FIRE IN CHICAGO.—The oil store of Fuller & Co., on Franklin street, Chicago, was burned on Thursday morning. The building was owned by Hugh Barkley.—Total loss $100,000; insured $50,000.

☞ There was a killing frost in Augusta, Ga., Wednesday.

PRACTICAL SECESSION.—South Carolina undoubtedly may, if she chooses, withdraw her Senators and Representatives from Congress. She certainly can't be compelled to send them. Her citizens may refuse to serve as Federal Judges or Marshals; she may forbid the carrying of mails within her limits, and otherwise make herself miserable, and the general government would not be specially called on to interfere. These are considerations which more particularly concern her own convenience.

But when it comes to matters of revenue, and some other things of that sort, the thing assumes quite a different shape. If South Carolina troops take possession of a United States fort, the federal government has nothing to do but to drive them out. If a vessel undertakes to leave Charleston without the proper papers, the government vessels will compel her to return, or subject her to confiscation as a lawful prize. If a vessel entering Charleston refuses to pay the federal duties, the government has no way but to compel payment. Steps like these would be acts of war against the government, which can only be met as such.—If South Carolina chooses to stand out in the wet, and stand still, she can stand there. But when she comes to committing positive acts of aggression, she will find Uncle Samuel will take a hand in the game. We have no apprehension, however, that the matter will be brought to any such issue. Nobody will be hit, nor nobody hurt. When those hot-heads have discharged the necessary amount of bile, they will settle down into a state of convalescence, having achieved nothing except making themselves the laughing stock of the world.—Beloit Courier.

MOVEMENTS OF THE PRESIDENT ELECT. Chicago, Nov. 21.—Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln, Senator Trumbull and others, arrived here last evening. The President elect was met at the depot by a few of his personal friends. It is expected that Mr. Hamlin will arrive to-morrow, when the President and Vice President elect will meet for the first time.

Mr. Lincoln made brief remarks at the towns of Lincoln and Bloomington on his way here. He asked to be excused from discussing politics, but said, "We will try to do well by the people in all parts of the country, North and South, with entire confidence that all will be well with all of us."

WARSAW, MO., Nov. 22.—A mass meeting was held here to-day for the purpose of organizing a military company to go, if necessary, to aid their brothers on the borders. Resolutions were adopted, that it was the duty of the President to take decided and prompt action, and that it was also the duty of the Governor of Missouri to have committees appointed immediately. The meeting adjourned till Saturday.

Hand bills were posted to the effect that the State is invaded by a band of Abolitionists, &c., and calling upon the people to rally in defence of their homes.

It is rumored, but denied, that Ball's Mills, in Berling county, have been burned by Montgomery.

The latter declares his intention of carrying on the war until he frees every negro in the southwest part of Missouri.

Large quantities of arms have been shipped to Kansas from the East.

OUTBREAK IN KANSAS.—Washington, Nov. 21.—The government has been officially informed that Montgomery, with his company, has commenced killing and hanging all opponents to an adjournment of the land sales. Letters state that Montgomery has 300 men, with plenty of arms and ammunition, and that his real object, under disguise of resisting the land sales, is a raid on Missouri, Arkansas and the western borders, to avenge the punishment of abolition emissaries. Gov. Medary has recently communicated important particulars of Montgomery's movements. Orders will be forthwith dispatched ordering troops to such points as are necessary for the protection of land officers in the performance of their duty.

A dispatch of the 21st from Warsaw, Missouri, states that Montgomery had taken Fort Scott, broken up the Court and Land Office, &c.

Kansas City, Nov. 21.—It is rumored here that Fort Scott was burnt, but it was not credited.

BANK SUSPENSIONS.—The Banks at Washington suspended specie payments on Thursday.

New York, Nov. 22.—The Wheeling, Va., banks have suspended.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 22.—The branches of the Virginia bank in Norfolk and Portsmouth, and the Farmers' Bank of Norfolk have suspended specie payment.

New York, Nov. 22.—The suspension of the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington banks is regarded as favorable.

THEATRICAL.—Yankee Adams failed at the Princess Theatre, Melbourne. He appeared in a piece entitled "Sam Patch in Paris."

Patti is announced shortly to appear in Charleston, S. C.

Dan Rice's show opened at Memphis, Tennessee, Nov. 5th.

Forrest is playing in one of the New York theatres; and Miss Cushman is announced at the Boston Theatre.

EMIGRATION TO HAYTI.—The first company of colored emigrants from New England for Hayti, will sail from Boston on the 22d of December. A large number of passengers have already been engaged.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Nov. 22.—The Legislature has adopted the suggestion of the Governor, and will choose Electors on Saturday.

SEVEN YEARS!

The seven years of unrivalled success attending the

have made it a household word throughout every quarter of our country.

Under the management of this popular Institution, over three hundred thousand homes have learned to appreciate—by beautiful works of art on their walls, and choice literature on their tables—the great benefits derived from becoming a subscriber.

Subscriptions are now being received in a ratio unparalleled by that of any previous year.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Any person can become a member by subscribing three dollars, for which sum they will receive

1st.—The large and superb steel engraving, 30 x 38 inches, entitled

"FALSTAFF MUSTERING HIS RECRUITS,"

2d.—One copy, one year, of that elegantly illustrated magazine, the

"COSMOPOLITAN ART JOURNAL."

3d.—Four admissions, during the season, to

"The Gallery of Paintings, 548 Broadway, New York."

In addition to the above benefits, there will be given to subscribers, as gratuitous premiums, over comprising valuable paintings, marbles, parians, outlines, &c., forming a fairy national benefit.

THE SUPERB ENGRAVING, which every subscriber will receive, entitled "FALSTAFF MUSTERING HIS RECRUITS," is one of the most beautiful and popular ever made in this country. It is done on steel, in fine line and stipple, and is printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 38 inches, making a most choice ornament, suitable for the walls of either the library, parlor or office. Its subject is the celebrated scene of Sir John Falstaff receiving in Justice Shallow's office the recruits which had been gathered for his "Ragged Regiment." It could not be furnished by the trade for less than five dollars.

The Art Journal is too well known to the whole country to need commendation. It is a magnificently illustrated magazine of Art, containing Essays, Stories, Poems, Gossip, &c., by the very best writers in America.

The Engraving is sent to any art of the country by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postage prepaid.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of January 31, 1861, at which time the books will close, and the premiums be given to subscribers.

No person is restricted to a single subscription. Those remitting $15, are entitled to five memberships, and one extra Engraving for their trouble.

Subscriptions from California, the Canadas, and all Foreign Countries, must be $3.50 instead of $3, in order to defray extra postage, &c.

For further particulars send for a copy of the elegantly illustrated Art Journal, pronounced the handsomest magazine in America. It contains Catalogue of Premiums, and numerous superb engravings. Regular price, 50 cts. per number.—Specimen copies, however, will be sent to those wishing to subscribe, on receipt of 18 cents, in stamps or coin.

Address C. L. DERBY, Actuary C. A. A., 546 Broadway, New York.

N. B.—Subscriptions received received and forwarded by

FRANK W. MILLER,

Agent for Portsmouth and vicinity,

Where specimen Engravings and Art Journal can be seen.

Portsmouth, Nov. 23, 1860.

Special Notices.

KINGSTON, March 10, 1841.—"This may certify that my son has had a tumor which made its appearance when he was but a few days old; and grew worse, causing large swellings and running sores. He has been cured by the use of Dr. Swett's Panacea and Humor Wash.

T. CURRIER.

Hundreds of testimonials on hand might be added, evincing the many cures by Dr. Swett's medicine. All orders directed to DR. SIMON SWETT, PORTSMOUTH, N. H., No. 1 School st., for his Panacea, Cough Drops, Conserve, Rheumatic Compound and Family Pills, and others of his popular remedies, will be promptly attended to.

Catarrh is the most difficult of any of the diseases of the Breathing Organs to relieve or cure. The Rev. Joshua Leavitt, editor of the Independent of New York, who had the Catarrh for more than twenty years, has been cured by using Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron and Sulphur Powders, which are advertised in this paper. His testimonial is published in a pamphlet among others equally prominent, who have been cured of chronic Throats and Lung diseases, which will be sent free by mail.

Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas.

It is now generally admitted that all eruptive diseases depend upon some internal or constitutional cause, and that to use ointments or washes for them is a sure way to injure the system, and only to drive in, not to cure the disease. Dr. HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC SALT RHEUM PILLS are a true specific for all such diseases. They cure Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Erysipelas, Pimples on the face, Ringworm, and Nettle Rash by curing the cause upon which they depend, and restoring the skin to a state of health and purity. Thus not only is the disease cured, but the softness and beauty of the complexion restored.

Price, 25 cents per box, with directions. Six boxes $1.

Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.

Address, DR. F. HUMPHREYS & CO., 562 Broadway, New York.

WISTAR'S BALSAM WILD CHERRY

Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Quinsy, and the numerous as well as dangerous diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, prevail, in our changeable climate, at all seasons of the year; few are fortunate enough to escape their baneful influence. How important, then, to have at hand a certain antidote to all these complaints. Experience proves that exists in Wistar's Balsam to an extent not found in any other remedy; however severe the suffering, the application of this soothing, healing and wonderful Balsam at once vanquishes the disease, and restores the sufferer to wonted health.

From a Respectable Druggist.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 3, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & CO., Boston.—

Gents:—Please send me a fresh supply of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. We are selling large quantities of this long celebrated remedy for Coughs and Colds, and it finds fair to outline most of the so-called specifics which are now in vogue. We can confidently recommend it as a remedy for what it is intended. Very truly yours,

NATHAN P. THACHER.

Mr. D. H. TEAGUE, of Turner Village, Writes the proprietors of this great remedy, as follows:

TURNER VILLAGE, ME., July 31, 1860.

Messrs. SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston.—

Gents:—I do not hesitate to recommend DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for coughs and pulmonary affections, having used it in my family for many years with great satisfaction; indeed it has done more good than all the other remedies I have tried, and their name is legion. If all patent medicines in the market possessed but a portion of the merit of this excellent Balsam, there would be no occasion to condemn them as humbugs.

The medicine is also used by many of my friends and acquaintances in this town, and they have found it invaluable; and I hope that others who suffer may give it a fair trial. Very respectfully,

D. H. TEAGUE.

Local.

☞ Uncle Toby has been looking at Congress street; and walking up and down on the south side of it, as he has done many hundred times before, does not see any great obstacle in the way of his future walks there even should he live to a great age, on account of the narrowness of the street, or the crowd of passers.

He is quite certain that the new entrance of the North Church does not project into Market Square so far as the old one did by about one-half; and that as it now stands, it injures no man's travel or prospect.

The line now established there, from the corner of the Church tower to the corner of the Express Office, is a straight one; it cuts off the corners of two projecting appendages of buildings, so that when any changes are made, there will be a slight widening of the street at these two points; and as to the coming out of a new building to be erected, it will make no notch at all, but the side-walk will be nearer straight than it is now.

When the new buildings are put up, the sidewalk relaid, as it will be, and the grade thereof regulated, every observer will see a change for the better on that side of the street.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, Thursday Evening, Nov. 22.—Petition of B. Barri and others, for a gas-light near Liberty Bridge. Referred to Committee on Gas.

Petition of A. J. Ayers, asking that a compensation may be fixed for the services of steward of the City Hose Company,—Referred to the Committee on Fire Department. Adjourned two weeks

☞ We are under obligations to our friend Wm. H. Brewster, Esq., of the Boston Traveller, for a copy of a late extra issue of that paper, on Wednesday evening; but as through the negligence of the conveyance by which the same was forwarded, we did not receive it until Thursday evening, of course it had become effete, as to any advantage it might have been to us.

☞ Auction sale of Carriages, &c., today, by Mr. Adams, at Congress Block. See advertisement.

MAN MISSING.—John P. Sanborn of Kingston, N. H., came to Newburyport on Monday last, with an ox team loaded with cider. He sold the cider, and report says partook largely of other liquor, stronger but no better, and started for home. Before he reached the ship yards he left the team to go alone, and was seen coming towards the city. Since that no tidings have been heard of him. The team was stopped at the Essex Merrimac bridge by Mr. Pray. On Thursday his friends were endeavoring to hunt him up, and rumors were abroad that he might have disappeared with the burning barn of Monday night, though we know of no foundations for them. He may have been foully dealt with, as he had considerable money in his possession.—Herald.

☞ Captain Travis, the celebrated marksman, in order to test the truth of the assertion that the hide of a rhinoceros will resist a bullet, shot at the specimen of this pachyderm, on exhibition in Memphis, on Saturday night last. The bullet fell to the ground, flattened by contact with the thick skin. The animal did not even move when he was struck.

LEAVENWORTH, Nov. 22.—A public meeting has been called to sustain Gov. Medary in enforcing the laws and sustaining public order. It is rumored that the report of the burning of Fort Scott is unfounded.

The accounts of the murder of five men, and the capture of others who probably met the same fate, are confirmed. Montgomery's band had plundered Paris, and arrested many citizens of Atchison.

There have been distributed from here 76,000 pounds of provisions, flour, meal, beans and potatoes. Six teams, with provisions, left to-day for Southern Kansas, whence most of the applications for relief come.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Gen. Harney's orders are to exterminate Mongomery and his band of marauders in the most expeditious manner. He will have five hundred troops at his command.

Letters from several points at the South assert that the Minute Men are organizing a large force to attack the Wide Awakes at Washington on the 4th of March, and thus prevent Lincoln's inauguration.

RATHER CUTE.—The sexton of one of our churches a Sabbath or two since, distributed his cards in the pews of the church giving information of his residence in case his services should be wanted. At the bottom of the card was the word "over". On turning over, might be found n notice of where boots and shoes could be made and repaired in the best manner!—Portland Argus.

A Clergyman visiting a school house at the Monson almshouse, the other day, made some remarks to the children, in which he endeavored to illustrate the sinful condition of men, in a familiar way. "You know," said the clergyman, "that the negroes at the South are serving their masters. Now, we, sinful creatures, are serving a master who is worse than a slave-driver, and can any boy tell me who that master is?" "Yes, sir," said one of the lads, "it is James Buchanan!"

☞ The Atlantic Monthly for December is out, and well sustains the high reputation of the volume it completes.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—There have been no special meetings of the Cabinet to consider the questions growing out of the secession movements. Harmony has hitherto characterized the proceedings to-day. It is authentically stated that nothing has recently occurred in the deliberations of the Cabinet to produce distraction.

The President received Judge Williams' dispatch relative to the alarming conditon of affairs in Kansas, and additional orders were transmitted to Gen. Harney to resort to all available means to crush the insurgents.

The receipts of the Treasury last week were $1,000,432, only $400,000 of which were from the customs. Drafts paid $2,000,000; amount subject to draft $179,-000.

The resignation of the Marshal of South Carolina was received to day.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Authentic information says that nineteen-twentieths of the large slaveholders of the cotton States, who do not, however, comprise one-tenth of the voters, deprecate secession.

Judge Greenwood, who has returned from a trip to Arkansas, states that three-fourths of the people of that State are opposed to disunion movements, until some unconstitutional act is committed, justifying resistance.

DROWNED IN A PET.—An Albany woman, named Aincy, whose husband refused to give her some money, last Saturday, left the house in a pet, and going to the river, drowned herself.

☞ Gov. Dennison of Ohio, has issued a supplementary Thanksgiving proclamation, calling on the people of that State to make liberal contributions on that day for the relief of the destitute in Kansas.

☞ The Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, this day published, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room: price 3 cents; $1 per year, in advance.

That enemy of Mankind, Consumption! can be cured, but it is far better to prevent the cruel disease from fastening itself on the system, by the timely use of a remedy, such as Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry affords.

☞ Reader, have you seen Prof. Wood's advertisement in our paper. Read it; it will interest you. tf

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE or BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

From the Gazette.

THE CONGRESS STREET LINE.—We are glad that the action of the Board of Aldermen in altering the line of this street, to which we called attention two or three weeks since, and upon which our correspondent "G." commented with just severity last week, is exciting public attention and receiving general condemnation. It seems to us that the Aldermen are guilty of a most flagrant abuse of power in the case, and it is but just that they should be held to accountability for it. If not too late they clearly should rescind their action and preserve the street at its full width.

We observe that Mr. Rogers has felt called upon to explain his proceedings in the premises, through the columns of the Chronicle. He denies that the petitioned the Aldermen to establish the line which they have adopted. This is immaterial. Our complaint was made against the Aldermen, and not against Mr. Rogers, and we simply meant to say that their action was taken at his request, and not that it was precisely as indicated by him. We do not think Mr. Rogers is to blame for accepting what the city authorities have been disposed to give him, but we deem the Aldermen censurable for transcending their powers and sacrificing the city's rights and interests.

FREE SCIENTIFIC LECTURES.

Dr. R. RICHARD CLAY will give two free lectures on Anatomy and Physiology at the Temple on Monday and Wednesday evenings of next week. All should avail themselves of the opportunity to hear him. We clip the following from our Portland exchanges:

Dr. Clay is well known to our citizens, not only as an accomplished physician and surgeon, but as the editor of an able medical journal, formerly published here.—Zions Advocate.

His long experience as a practical anatomist, and extensive hospital practice, have given him opportunities of acquiring a familiarity with the human frame obtained by very few physicians.—Portland Transcript.

Morning Chronicle.

CURIOUS CHURCH CASE.—A curious church case was brought up defore a judge at Hamilton, C. W., the other day. The question is of ejectment, brought against the Trustees of one of the Presbyterian congregations of the city on the ground of trust, insasmuch as it was alleged that they had permitted erroneous doctrine to be preached therein, and also that they had permited an alteration in the form of public worishp to the extent of standing during a part of the congregational singing. His Lordship, at the very outset, declined to hear the case, as it was for the Church Courts, and not for him to try. He could not, be said, entertain for a moment any save purely civil questions.

Lord Chatham calls politeness benevolence in trifles, or the preference of others to ourselves, in little daily, hourly occurrences in the commence of life—not ostentation, formal compliment, stiff civility, or great ceremony.

☞ Mrs. Elizabeth McGrath died very suddenly in Fitchburg on Sunday. Her death is attributed to the excessive use of intoxicating drink. She leaves four children.

It was Mr. Burke's misfortune, as he was returning home last Sunday, to put his head into a lager beer saloon in New York, to see what the row was. The proprietor shot him dead without observation.

Humphreys' Homeopathic Specific Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision of HORACE H. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhea, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup, or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST IN USE, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and efficacy, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

PROF. WOOD'S RESTORATIVE CORDIAL AND BLOOD REJUVOATOR.

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, rejuvenates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a regular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully compounded as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe this weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it is not an medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the dangerous diseases to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of so much fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaint, Disease of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, or Limbs, even Mere predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks of the Miasmatic Influence, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and all should take a tablespoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not ostomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty, which beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Cordial. For a month or so before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—all who use the Cordial tell it—Mothers, Daughters. And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also of your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known; in time, the latter are often so blind as to allow the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never-failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.

O. A. Roberts, Agent, 482 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market street, St Louis, Mo., and sold by all good Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

Dr. Mott's CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Delicate females in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, S CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULES, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of vital energy, or muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without over being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerted such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of flesh with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirum Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.
One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the pains have become dejected, and their Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidneys, Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

THE PRINCE OF WALES IN RICHMOND. The Committee of Reception in Richmond, Va., on the occasion of the visit of the Prince of Wales to that city, have published a card refuting certain hard things said of it by the N. Y. Times, and bearing on the following paragraph from the correspondent of the London Times:

"The truth is, Richmond is a place which the Prince should never have been taken to visit. If there be a place justly odious to the feelings of Englishmen and their sovereign, it is that where the human animal, which is now almost the only produce of Virginia, is ruthlessly sold for consumption in the dreary plantations of the South. From such a spot every humane and intelligent traveller turns aside with invincible repugnance, and we can hardly regret that those who were so ill advised as to turn aside from their path to come in contact with this abominable traffic, should have a specimen of the quality of the population that subsists on the buying and selling of human flesh."

CURIOUS EPITAPHS.—A correspondent of the Christian Inquirer copied the following novel epitaphs from a village graveyard:

This stone is sacred to the memory of Mrs. Dorothy Sanderson.
She was a virtuous wife, a tender mother, a faithful friend, and always attended public worship.

There is one part of the graveyard which I call Blue Beard's lot. Seven wives lie side by side—Huldah, Betsey, Deborah, Mary, Hannah, Abigail, and Martha. All have a heart-breaking epitaph.

One more is upon a girl of tender years; and whether the addition is an improvement upon Young, I leave you to decide:

Death loves a shining mark; and in this case he had it.

☞ We learn that Rev. Samuel Lee has asked a dismission from his pastoral charge of the First Congregational church in New Ipswich, on account of feeble health. Mr. Lee was installed over that church in May, 1836.

A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF
INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA, AND LUMBAGO.

Hundreds of testimonials to the good resulting from the use of this Cordial could be offered—but the following will suffice:

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 6, 1860.
I hereby certify that I have used a variety of preparations for the cure of Rheumatism, but have found none of them, whose effect was so immediate and lasting as Zollickoffer's Anti-Rheumatic Cordial, and would advise all afflicted with that painful disease to give it a fair trial.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

New Photographic Establishment.
Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.
The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, is enabled to succeed almost unprecedented-ly heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.
All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.
Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1860.

THE SPEECH OF SENATOR TRUMBULL at Springfield, Illinois, is regarded as an exposition of the views of Mr. Lincoln, and is therefore worthy of note. He declares that Republicanism is not negro quality or abolitionism; that it does not look to the least aggression upon the reserved rights of the States, which in their domestic institutions are sovereign States, and that it does not admit of secession. There is certainly nothing in this alarming to the South; if it should alarm anybody, it would be those of the North who thought they were voting for an abolitionist in Abraham Lincoln, which he approaches no nearer to being than a dozen of the fifteen Presidents of the past. This fact is very evident from his debates with Douglas Should any Republican ask what has been gained by this election, Mr. Trumbull gives an answer which shows that the Republicans have no idea of wasting the next four years over the nigger question, as follows:—

We have gained a decision of the people in favor of the Pacific Railroad—a Homestead policy—a judicious Tariff—the admission into the Union of Kansas as a free State—a reform in the financial department of the government; and more important than all, the verdict of the people—the source of power, and from whose decision there is no appeal—that the constitution is not a slavery-extending instrument. No more Dred Scott decisions will now be made. Freemen, both of the North and the South, will hereafter be protected in all their constitutional rights.—The policy of the government, as of old, will now sit in favor of freedom, and not for the supremacy of slavery, as has been the case for the last six years. Freedom henceforth will be the law of the Territories, because the people in their majesty have so ordered, and neither Courts nor Congress will be able to thwart their will.

MONTGOMERY, who figures in the last Kansas raid is of Scotch descent, and was a resident of Missouri and a pro-slavery man until sometime after the opening of Kansas for settlement. He then took ground against slavery, and suffering persecution in his own State, emigrated to Kansas. He originally settled in the Southern part of the Territory, where his home was invaded by Missourians, and himself and his neighbors driven to take up arms in self-defence. He suffered many losses at the time and was selected as a leader of the defenders of the rights of the Free State men.

In the summer of 1859, soon after the murder of ten men by the band of invaders under Hamilton, Montgomery led a party of Free State men into Fort Scott and released some innocent men there held as prisoners. He is about forty years of age, slightly built, and a man of coolness and courage. He is a type of the kind of men who have been driven to desperation by their wrongs during the Kansas strife. In fact, he is a sort of John Brown junior.

The Boston Transcript remarks on the late trouble in Kansas:

These frequent disturbances are so many arguments in favor of the admission of the State into the Union, in order that a regular government may be established, which shall command the support of the citizens, and put an end to these conflicts. The whole proceedings in Kansas, between the United States officials and the people of the territory, are a disgrace to our boasted civilization. The destruction of Lawrence by the connivance of the United States officers and the recent disorderly proceedings at Fort Scott, are different developments of the seed planted at former times.

The reader may remember that many people in Kansas desired the President of the United States to postpone the land sales on account of their crops failing so miserably from this year's drought. But the President would not postpone.

Solomon says, "oppression maketh a wise man mad." How much more may it make madmen out of those who are not very wise.

☞ Mr. George Francis Train of New York, who has lately been engaged at Birkenhead, near Liverpool, in inaugurating Horse Railroads for the first time in England, after the manner of those at present in operation in this country, by way of reciprocating the benefit, is coming home in a short time, with a number of London Hansom-cabs, which it is his intention to introduce in New York, under charter. This is a light, one horse two-wheeled cab, and no doubt will be greatly patronized.

BLONDIN RIVALLED BY A BOY.—A boy named Charles Alvord, 16 years old, astonished the people of Marietta (Ohio) last Tuesday, by walking a rope, a la Blondin, stretched from the top of the National House to a pole erected near Brennan's Hall, at an altitude of about 70 feet. He not only did this, but he walked it backward, stood upon his head on the rope, and walked twice the whole length of the rope by a torchlight in the evening.

When the limbs of plum trees hang over running streams, the curculio will not sting the fruit, and it is supposed by many, that the insect knows that the fruit would fall in the water, and thus its eggs would be destroyed.—Prof. Mapes.

MONEY MATTERS IN NEW YORK.—The Tribune's money article of Friday, says:

The suspension of the Charleston, Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia banks was announced to-day by telegraph, but did not have much effect in the street.—The public mind was fully prepared for these events, and, having been quieted by the action of our banks last evening, no alarm was produced, and not the slightest symptom was evinced of disposition to run the city banks for gold. But for the agreement of yesterday, we have not the slightest doubt that the scenes of October, 1857, would have been re-enacted, and to-morrow would have seen another general suspension. This danger is now averted, the tone in business circles is already much more cheerful, although the actual relief has not yet comparatively been large, and all parties are hopeful that the crisis is past. The banks generally have acted promptly under the agreement of yesterday. Every applicant with proper securities has been accommodated. We have no doubt the aggregate loans to-day are nearly, if not quite, up to two millions of dollars. It is the intention of the banks to expand ten or even twenty millions, if necessary, to relieve the mercantile classes, and to give full needed facilities for the movement of the crops, and to revive the manufacturing and mechanical industry of the country.

☞ The Georgia girls are appearing in homespun. At the recent State Fair, not the least attractive feature of the day was the appearance on the grounds of a party of twenty-seven ladies, teachers and pupils of the "Spring Hill School," attired in a substantial check homespun dress, made fashionably full and flowing. Twenty-seven blooming, bright-eyed Southern lasses, in cloth of Southern manufacture, of which the staple was peculiar to their homes, was, says a local paper, a sight worth seeing on a Southern Fair ground.

☞ One of the elephants connected with Smith's menagerie, now wintering in Norwalk, got out of the barn the other night, by breaking down the doors, passed across a field, walked off with a gate, went to a house and rapped on the window, sending the family flying out of door through fright, and then helped herself to a heap of apples in the yard. Her keeper appeared, and the huge animal quietly followed him to her quarters, with her trunk full of pippins.

☞ A locomotive engine is a strange kind of pulpit, yet such a pulpit was improvised in England the other day, the preacher being the Bishop of London, and the congregation two thousand of the workmen of the Midland Railway, and the church the Derby railway station. The sermon was preached by the request of the workmen, who heard of his lordship's presence in Derby; and an English paper thinks such an auditory and such circumstances must constitute a parallel.

☞ In Philadelphia, a woman committed suicide under melancholy circumstances.—She was married and had a comfortable home, but was tormented with an insatiable desire to become rich. Urged on by this passion, she pawned most of her clothing and a considerable portion of her husband's money to purchase lottery tickets, which gave her only false promises of wealth.—The result may be easily imagined. Her husband came home one day to find that his deluded wife had committed suicide.

SLEEPY HOLLOW.—A bona fide advertisement in the Boston Transcript reads as follows—and to the philosopher, it is refreshing for perusal, in offset to the hurry and bustle of the "enterprising."

TO THE UNENTERPRISING.—To let at very low rents—three Cottage Houses at Belmont, (late Waverley.) They are tastefully and conveniently built and finely situated. This peaceful hamlet is undisturbed by commerce or enterprise of any kind; the cars of the Fitchburg Railroad stop but rarely, and there is neither store, nor shop, nor church, nor schoolhouse, nor factory—nor doctor, nor lawyer, nor minister. The streets are gradually becoming covered with a soft verdure, and a profound stillness pervades the whole settlement. To those desirous of advantages so rare in the present age of tumult and progress, these houses are conscientiously recommended.

☞ The excitement in some parts of Virginia is increasing against strangers. Near Richmond, a man who would not tell a Vigilance Committee where he came from or what his business was in the neighborhood, was ridden on a rail. When the committee finished riding him about, he coolly informed them he was from Columbia, S. C. He spoke too late.

☞ The five thousand muskets recently taken from Washington to Richmond, by Capt. Dimmock, commander of the Public Guard of Virginia, were of the old pattern, condemned and sold a year ago to parties at the North. They were found to be too thin in the barrel to rifle, as the purchasers had intended, and they were glad to transfer their bargain to Virginia.

☞ The Charleston Mercury rejoices in the thought that the dissolution of the Union will enable South Carolina debtors to cheat their Northern creditors. The Louisville Journal says the Mercury was rightly named after the god of thieves.

☞ From Europe we have dates via Queenstown, Nov. 11. The cotton market had been excited by false rumors of a rise; but was steady. Flour, wheat and corn dull, and slightly declined.

The inauguration of the new Mayor of London, Mr. Cubitt, took place on the 9th, with the usual ceremonies. The grand banquet in the evening was attended by the principal members of the Cabinet, and by the Ambassadors of France and Sardinia. The French Ambassador spoke for the diplomatic corps, and his remarks were cordial and friendly.

The American ship Laurietta, with 600 slaves, and also the barque Buckeye, with a full cargo of slaves, it is reported, escaped the cruisers on the coast of Africa, and are bound for Cuba.

Victor Emmanuel had accepted the sovereignty of the two Sicilies. The deed of annexation was drawn up by Garibaldi and Ministers who had resigned.

The departure of Francis Second from Gaeta was imminent. It was reported that the commander of Gaeta was negotiating with Fanti for evacuation.

On the 7th Victor Emmanuel, accompanied by Garibaldi, entered Naples. On the following morning Garibaldi, accompanied by the Ministry, formally presented to the King the result of the plebiate. His Majesty received them in the throne room.—Signor Conforti addressed the King thus: "Sire, the Neopolitan people, assembled in their Electoral Committee, have proclaimed you King by an immense majority, and 9,000,000 Italians are uniting themselves to other provinces which your Majesty governs with such wisdom, verifying your solemn promise that Italy should belong to Italians."

The King replied in a few expressive words. The deed of annexation was drawn up, the Dictatorship ceased, and the Ministry resigned. The enthusiasm of the people continued.

The last visit that Garibaldi paid, previous to his leaving for his home on the island of Capua, was to the English Admiral Mundy.

A letter dated Gaeta, Nov. 2, says:—"By the conduct of the French Admiral it was thought that a change of policy had occurred among the great powers altogether favorable to the Bourbon cause. As evidence of this, for four successive days the French squadron had prevented the Piedmontese from landing troops on the banks of the Gariglians. The French guns were all shotted, the decks were cleared, everything was ready for action, and, indeed, there was a moment when the signal for firing was given on board the Betagoe; and if the Sardinian vessels had continued to advance only three minutes, they would have received a broadside from the French. Admiral de Linan had assured the King that he would protect the line of the Garigliano. But yesterday a French steamer came in with fresh instructions for the Admiral, and therefore the French fleet left the mouth of the Garigliano, and at sunset yesterday evening returned to Gaeta. The moment he was relieved from the surveillance of the French fleet, Admiral Parano opened fire on the Neapolitan city."

It is reported, in contradiction of a rumor of an opposite character, that in the Papal war budget for 1861, the expenses of the War Department are stated at 4,182,000 Roman dollars for an army of 34,000 men.

SAVANNAH, GA., Nov. 23.—It is rumored that six free negro seamen were forcibly taken from the barque N. W. Bridge, and have not been heard of since. Also, that three negro sailors, belonging to brig Wingold, had been taken from Fernandina (Florida) jail, and removed to parts unknown. A Fernandina paper confirms the latter report, and says that it was done for retaliation, but condemns the proceedings. It is probable that the Florida Legislature will pass an act to prevent such negroes from being bought.

AUGUSTA, GA., Nov. 23.—Resolutions have been offered in the Legislature, demanding the repeal by northern States of laws obstructing the rendition of slaves.—Also, an enactment by Congress, removing obstructions by Territories to the introduction of any kind of property—such action being contingent on Georgia's remaining in the Union.

Georgia Banks.—It is stated that the Governor will veto any law sanctioning a suspension of specie payment by the banks, unless the State secedes from the Union.

☞ Mr. George C. Thorburn, a well known florist and horticulturist of Newark, N. J., died on Monday. On the 9th inst., while passing in the yard along the side of Grace Church, he accidentally fell down the passage way leading to the furnace room and received injuries which have caused his death. Mr. T. was under appointment to take charge of Mount Vernon.

☞ It is suggested that the telegraph operators at Charleston dare not, for fear of jeopardizing their personal safety, send anything but the most ultra secession reports to the North. Any development of a counter sentiment by the telegraph, would be the signal of a funeral from the telegraph office. Is this a free country?

☞ Prentice gives notice that he intends to continue the publication of the Louisville Journal until the 4th of March, 1865, and says he shall publish it in the United States. He don't relish the idea of collating New Albany and Jeffersonville items under the head of "Foreign News."

People are seldom tired of the world, until the world is heartily tired of them.

Special Notices.

KINGSTON, March 10, 1841.—"This may certify that my son has had a humor which made its appearance when he was but a few days old; and it grew worse, causing large swellings and running sores. He has been cured by the use of Dr. Swett's Panacea and Humor Wash."
T. CURRIER.

Hundreds of testimonials on hand might be added, evincing the many cures by Dr. Swett's medicine. All orders directed to DR. SIMEON SWETT, PORTSMOUTH, N. H., No. 1 School St., for his Panacea, Cough Drops, Conserve, Rheumatic Compound and Family Pills, and others of his popular remedies, will be promptly attended to.

Catarrh is the most difficult of any of the Diseases of the Breathing Organs to relieve or to cure. The Rev. Joshua Leavitt, editor of the Independent of New York, who had the Catarrh for more than twenty years, has been cured by using Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron and Sulphur Powders, which are advertised in this paper. His testimonial is published in a pamphlet among others equally prominent who have been cured of chronic Throats and Lung difficulties, which will be sent free by mail.

Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas.

It is now generally admitted that all eruptive diseases depend upon some internal or constitutional cause, and that to use ointments or washes for them is a sure way to injure the system, and only to drive in, not to cure the disease. But HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC SALT RHEUM PILLS are a true specific for all such diseases. They cure Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Erysipelas, Pimples on the face, Ringworm, and Nettle Rash, by curing the cause upon which they depend, and restoring the skin to a state of health and purity. Thus not only is the disease cured, but the softness and beauty of the complexion restored.

Price, 25 cents per box, with directions. Six boxes $1.

Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.

Address, DR F. HUMPHREYS & CO., 562 Broadway, New York.

Sold in Portsmouth by THACHER.

WISTAR'S BALSAM WILD CHERRY

Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Quinsy, and the numerous as well as dangerous diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, prevail, in our changeable climate, at all seasons of the year; few are fortunate enough to escape their baneful influence. How important, then, to have at hand a certain antidote to all these complaints. Experience proves that this exists in Wistar's Balsam to an extent not found in any other remedy; however severe the suffering, the application of this soothing, healing and wonderful Balsam at once vanquishes the disease, and restores the sufferer to wonted health.

From a Respectable Druggist.

MESSRS. SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston,—
Gents:—Please send me a fresh supply of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. We are selling large quantities of this long celebrated remedy for Coughs and Colds, and it bids fair to outlive most of the so-called specifics which are now in vogue. We can conscientiously recommend it as a remedy for what it is intended. Very truly yours,
NATHAN P. THACHER.

Mr. D. H. TEAGUE, of Turner Village, Writes the proprietors of this great remedy, as follows:

TURNER VILLAGE, ME., July 31, 1860.

MESSRS. SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Bost. :—
Gents:—I do not hesitate to recommend DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for coughs and pulmonary affections, having used it in my family for many years with great satisfaction; indeed it has done more good than all the other remedies I have tried, and their name is legion. If all the patent medicines in the market possessed but a portion of the merit of this excellent Balsam, there would be no occasion to condemn them as humbugs.

The medicine is also used by many of my friends and acquaintances in this town, and they have found it invaluable; and I hope that others who suffer may give it a fair trial. Very respectfully,
D. H. TEAGUE.

ELECTION OF CITY OFFICERS
IN PORTSMOUTH,
On TUESDAY, Nov. 27th.

Nominations.

Democratic.	FOR MAYOR.	Republican.
Peter Jonness.		William Simes.

☞ About three weeks ago, a female impostor appeared in Portsmouth; a middle-aged woman, dressed in black, with a countenance as meek as Moses, with a plausible story well told, and with a religious pretence and experience so well contrived and related, as, "if it were possible, to deceive the very elect."

Her name, as she gave it, was Mrs. Record; and her story, that she was soliciting aid to keep her children from the alms-house. She had lived, with her husband, in the town of Gray, or the town of Kingfield, Maine, and had formerly been able to relieve the poor; but now, proud as she was, she was forced to beg for herself and her children. Her husband, becoming intemperate, had sold the farm, and under pretence of trade, had made way with the money, or got it out of her reach; and her three children were dependent on her for support. One of these was with a friend, and the other two were temporarily with Mr. John Colby of Gray.

The pretended mother and saint found charitable people here who believed her;—and out of them she has sponged perhaps a hundred dollars. One benefactor, however, wishing to make the matter sure, wrote to the selectmen of Gray, making enquiry about Mrs. Record; and received the following answer from their Secretary:

GRAY, Me., Nov. 19, 1860.

Dear Sir:—Yours of the 13th inst., making an inquiry with reference to a Mrs. Record, is now before me.

I can only say that no such family has ever resided in this town to my knowledge, or to the knowledge of any one of whom I have inquired.

I have called the attention of some of the oldest residents of this town to the subject matter of your letter, and it is not within the recollection of any of them that any such family were ever residents of this town.

This had a bad look; but to make the matter sure, the Portsmouth benefactor wrote another letter to the selectmen of Gray, asking information about Mr. John Colby. The Secretary answered as follows:

GRAY, Me., Nov. 23, 1860.

Dear Sir:—I am in receipt of yours of Nov. 20th, making further inquiries with reference to statements made by Mrs. Record, one of which is "that she has three children, two of which are in Gray with a Mr. John Colby." With regard to John Colby, I will state that no such name appears upon the check lists or valuation books of this town, at the present time, or at any former period, as I can find. No such person as John Colby is known to the people here, as ever having resided in this town.

I am inclined to believe, from my understanding of the matter, that the credulity of the good people of your city has been wittingly imposed upon by this woman with her "smooth tongue" and "plausible story" of which you speak. She has evidently come the "Ephraim Smooth" over your citizens.

Before the second letter got here, Mrs. Record, alias Ephraim Smooth, had slipped off to tell her story elsewhere, under a new name probably, and with some change of programme,—but to be the same hypocrite and swindler as here.

Let every person, here and elsewhere, refuse to give anything to a stranger, except mere food and shelter,—and the begging impostor's vocation would be gone.

☞ See Dr. Clay's advertisement of free lecture this (Monday) evening, at the Temple.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—The suspension of specie payment by the banks is regarded favorably by the community, it having been done as a precautionary measure to enable the banks to expand more freely.

An immediate meeting of the Legislature is sugested to relieve the banks from the operation of the banking laws, and to consider the legislation on the fugitive law.

The Bank of Chester County will suspend to-day. All the country Banks will probably follow suit.

There was more discounting yesterday than on any day for two weeks. There were no failures. Specie unsettled at about 3 a 5 per cent.

A TESTIMONIAL.—New York, Nov. 23. The Committee have decided to present a silver tea service to Captain Willson of the Minnie Schiffer, with an inscription recording the incident of his saving the pasengers and crew of the steamship Connaught.—The balance of the fund will be invested in government stocks for his benefit.

It would appear, from numerous observations, that soldiers are hit in battle according to the color of their dress, in the following order:—Red is the most fatal color—the least fatal, Austrian gray. The proportions are—red 12, rifle green 7, brown 6, Austrian bluish gray 5.

There is no exception to the rule of three. As your income is to your expenditure, so will the amount of your debts be to your cash in pocket.

TO LET,
THREE ROOMS No. 4 Melcher street. Apply at the house.

FROM CALIFORNIA.—By pony express we have San Francisco dates to Nov. 10.—The Douglas party have at least half the legislature. The entire People's Reform ticket is elected in San Francisco.

The total vote of the State for President was about 115,000, of which there has been returned 105,868. Lincoln has 35,036, Douglas 33,846, Breckinridge 29,424, Bell 6942. Lincoln ahead, 1150. He has probably carried the State.

KANSAS TROUBLES. — Warsaw, Mo., Nov. 23.—Judge Williams, from Fort Scott, addressed the citizens here to-night. He stated that Southern Kansas had been delivered up to the marauders under Montgomery, who was sustained by men who procured the means from the East, under the pretence of aiding sufferers by famine. He said 100 armed men had entered Missouri, passing down the Osage to Bell's Mills. The Judge urged the people not to go to Kansas, but to protect themselves and send aid to the border counties.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—The wife of Capt. Titus and her sister, Mrs. Duval, were burnt to death in consequence of the explosion of a fluid lamp, at Centre Port, L.I., a few days since.

The Banks yesterday discounted six to eight millions.

NORFOLK, Nov. 23.—Ex-Gov. Wise has offered his services to the Governor of South Carolina, if Virginia does not require them.

That enemy of Mankind, Consumption! can be cured, but it is far better to prevent the cruel disease from fastening itself on the system, by the timely use of a remedy, such as Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry affords.

SEVEN YEARS!

The seven years of unrivalled success attending the

have made it a household word throughout every quarter of our country.

Under the auspices of this popular Institution, over three hundred thousand homes have learned to appreciate—by beautiful works of art on their walls, and choice literature on their tables—the great benefits derived from becoming a subscriber.

Subscriptions are now being received in a ratio unparalleled by that of any previous year.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Any person can become a member by subscribing three dollars, for which sum they will receive

1st.—The large and superb steel engraving, 30 x 38 inches, entitled

"FALSTAFF MUSTERING HIS RECRUITS,"

2d.—One copy, one year, of that elegantly illustrated magazine, the

"COSMOPOLITAN ART JOURNAL."

3d.—Four admissions, during the season, to

"The Gallery of Paintings, 548 Broadway, New York."

In addition to the above benefits, there will be given to subscribers, as gratuitous premiums, over comprising valuable paintings, marbles, parians, outlines, &c., forming a truly national benefit.

THE SUPERB ENGRAVING, which every subscriber will receive, entitled "FALSTAFF MUSTERING HIS RECRUITS," is one of the most beautiful and popular ever made in this country. It is done on steel, in fine line and stipple, and is printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 38 inches, making a most choice ornament, suitable for the walls of either the library, parlor or office. Its subject is the celebrated scene of Sir John Falstaff receiving in Justice Shallow's office the recruits which had been gathered for his "Ragged Regiment." It could not be furnished by the trade for less than five dollars.

The Art Journal is too well known to the whole country to need commendation. It is a magnificently illustrated magazine of Art, containing Essays, Stories, Poems, Gossip, &c., by the very best writers in America.

The Engraving is sent to any art of the country by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postage prepaid.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of January 31, 1861, at which time the books will close, and the premiums be given to subscribers.

No person is restricted to a single subscription. Those remitting $15, are entitled to five member ships, and one extra Engraving for their trouble.

Subscriptions from California, the Canadas, and all Foreign Countries, must be $3.50 instead of $3, in order to defray extra postage, &c.

For further particulars send for a copy of the elegantly illustrated Art Journal, pronounced the handsomest magazine in America. It contains Catalogue of Premiums, and numerous superb engravings. Regular price, 50 cts. per number.—Specimen copies, however, will be sent to those wishing to subscribe, on receipt of 18 cents, in stamps or coin.

Address C. L. DERBY, Actuary C. A. A., 548 Broadway, New York.

Of Providence, R. I.

In introducing a new Cook Stove, of singularly novel construction and arrangement, it is proper that we speak of its peculiar merits.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven, with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is the most durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires: or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high-priced Air-light Cook Stoves, but will barely allude to them, viz:

1st. The double plates each side of the fire prevent any leak of ashes into the oven and make the stove more durable.

2d. The admission of external air between these plates, for the ventilation of the roasting oven, tends also to the preservation of the plates most exposed to destruction.

3d. The durable dump grate, with the ash box of ample size to receive the ashes and coals, is an attractive feature of the stove.

4th. The draft door, at each end of the fire box, is a great convenience when a quick fire is wanted

5th. The movable ash pan, which, though it forms a hearth to the stove, need not be used except once or twice a day for taking up and carrying away the ashes.

6th. The stove has but one damper, and but one division of flues on the back of and under the oven, ensuring a very quick bake.

7th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and tin jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

This stove was thoroughly tested before brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial of the stove.

John Trundy, Esq., one of our most practical and scientific mechanics, who has had large experience in the construction of stove patterns in years past, and has for many years been using one of the Stewart Stoves, has purchased one of the MODEL COOKS, and after a fair trial pronounces it far superior to the Stewart or any stove he has ever seen, for economy, convenience and dispatch. We might also refer to several other parties who are using the stove, and who award it the very highest praise.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be the stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is wanted.

We have nought to say against any other stove, believing that a man can sell his own goods without depreciating his neighbor's; but this we do say, that we honestly believe this is the best stove that can be found in the world; and what is more, we think others will agree with us after a trial of it. We invite any one to examine the stove, whether they wish to purchase or not.

For sale, with a great variety of

Furnaces, Ranges, Cooking, Office and Parlor Stoves; Coal Hods, Sifters, Funnel, Stove-Repairing Pieces, Parlor Grates, Etc.

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

From the Journal.

THE LECTURES.—The opening lecture of the Mercantile Library Association was given at the Temple on Wednesday evening, by Hon. Edward Everett. The lecture was on the early days of Franklin, and was a rich treat. The audience were enchalmed for an hour and a quarter, and wondered at the shortness of the lecture.

The public ought to be aware that the young men have to incur heavy charges for such performances—$100 were paid Mr. E. for his evening services. We trust that a larger number of tickets will yet be disposed of, and save the Society from falling back on one of the noted maxims of Franklin's early days, when he parted with all his coppers for a certain shrill musical instrument.

HARVARD COLLEGE STUDENTS' CONCERT.—By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that the "Musical Association of HarvardCollege" propose giving a concert in this city next week.—The association is made up of the best musical talent among the students at Cambridge. We are particularly favored in this opportunity of listening to College songs as sung by College students, for they have sung and intend singing in a very few places only. In Cambridge at their annual concerts, their audiences have invariably been large and enthusiastic. We are assured on good authority that the entertainment will prove well worthy of the patronage of our citizens, and we hope their Portsmouth audience will be such as the students deserve.

☞ "Perley," the Washington correspondent of the Boston Journal, says.

James Riley, Esq., of Boston, has received the contracts for supplying the Marine stations at Charlestown and Portsmouth with rations during the year 1861. Each ration consists of a pound and a quarter of fresh beef or three quarters of a pound of pork, and eighteen ounces of bread, per diem, with an allowance to each one hundred rations of ten pounds of coffee, fifteen pounds of sugar, eight quarts of beans, four quarts of vinegar two quarts of salt, four pounds of soap, and a pound and a half of candles. The contract prices vary from $17 to $20 per hundred rations, at different posts.

PORTSMOUTH NAVY YARD.—The new magazine is finished. The dimensions of the building are: length, 103 feet; width, 48 feet. It will afford storage for 5000 barrels of powder. The Navy Yard at Portsmouth, says the Boston Daily Advertiser, is rapidly assuming prominence; and has certainly turned out the Mohican and the Cumberland in a very creditable manner.

A FEMALE IMPOSTER.—A middle-aged woman wearing a meek and pious exterior and with a doleful story on her tongue has been doing a successful business in the begging line in this city for several weeks past. As might have been supposed an investigation of her case shew her to be a humbug, when she suddenly departed for parts unknown.—There are worthy poor people enough in every community to absorb what the charitable have to bestow, and it is passing strange, after all the experience that has been had, that any person will allow himself to be imposed upon by itinerant beg-

N. H. REGISTER.—Mr. Lyon has issued the N. H. Annual Register for 1861, containing the usual amount of useful matter. Mr. Lyon every year devotes much time to the compilation of this useful manual, which has become entirely indispensable to professional and business men. Beside the usual tabular and statistical information, the Register has in this volume several new features. Among the statistical documents is one which the editor introduces with the statement that New Hampshire was the first of the United States to establish a post-office and post-route, and a perusal of the papers annexed seems conclusive evidence that such was the fact. The Register is for sale by J. H. Foster.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY, for December was published on Wednesday last and contains an opening article on "The United States and the Barbary States;" a story called "Sunshine;" "The Two Tongues," an interesting and well written philological essay; the continuance of Miss Prescott's story, "Midsummer and May;" two exquisite little poems; "Epithalamia;" a biographical sketch, quite too short, of "Arthur Helman;" "The Confessions of a Medium;" "John Andre and Honora Sneyd," a prose paper; "We Shall Rise again," in verse; "The twenty third and twenty-fourth chapters of the Professor's story;" "A plea for Freedom from Speech and and Figures of Speech Makers;" and the Reviews and Literary Notices.

☞ The term of the Supreme court, which ended last Tuesday continued about five weeks. Besides the important criminal trial which we have reported, a large amount of civil business was disposed of, and the heavy docket of this court is greatly relieved. We repeat but the common observation of suitors and lawyers who have been in attendance during the term, when we say, that Judge Doe conducted the business of the court with great ability and impartiality, and in a manner which entitles him to the commendation of the public.

EDINBURGH REVIEW.—The American edition of the October number of this Quarterly is issued from the press of L. Scott & Co., New York. Its leading article is entitled Recent Geographical Researches, giving an account of all the recent discoveries in this science. The other articles are: Memoirs of the Master of Sinclair; Max Muller's Ancient Sanscrit Literature; Grotius and the source of international law; The Churches of the Holy Land; The Grand Remonstrances; Scottish Country Histories; Brain Difficulties: The United States under Mr. Buchanan. Price $3 a year; with Blackwood's $5; Blackwood and all four Reviews $10.

THANKSGIVING.—In the preparations for Thanksgiving, housekeepers must not forget that Mr. Preston has still for sale his choice extracts of rose, lemon, &c. Those who have used them need no recommendation except the information that they are as good as ever.

Humphreys' Specific Homeopathic Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases with which we are subject and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhœa, a pain in the side, or a headache, if neglected, are first slightly felt and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—being so far in a state of preparation—being safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the malady allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE MOST SIMPLE, THE MOST PRACTICAL AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years, to every one of which the experience, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of testimonials against the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

PROF. WOOD'S

RESTORATIVE CORDIAL

—AND—

BLOOD RENOVATOR,

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, rejuvenates and purifies the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe this weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and thus thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and leaves the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs. Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficult Breathing, and indeed the mind can enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, stimulating the secretions, and purifying the functions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water. Persons travelling should take a bottle with them, and all should take a table-spoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not astoned to much outdoor exercise should use it. Taken at will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their loveliness, and which cannot exist where health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Dyspepsia Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it. Nervous Females, the blessed Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it has left the late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known, the latter, the blind ones are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; to you we never fail; to you we never yet have unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.

CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE

PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies at which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this remedy has proved successful to an extent which no description or written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in distant lands. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous extinction, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no remedy.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must be necessarily beneficial, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-bracing; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single dose of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confined, exhausting, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of Iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follows its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirum Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.

One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.

One dose will cure Heartburn.

Three doses will cure Indigestion.

One dose will give you a good appetite.

One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing foul and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are unfortunately afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Personswho, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach weakness, giddiness, &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

THE END OF THE PAPACY. — Many people, and among them the best Bible students, look for the speedy fall of the Pope and the end of Papal Rome. The prediction of Macaulay, that when the civilized New Zealander in coming ages would sit upon some broken arch of London bridge to note the ruins of English civilization, the Roman Church might still be in its glory and power, they regard as a rhetorical flourish to be set aside by their explanation of the prophetic period of 1260 years, which they say terminates in 1860, after which follows a terrible seven years which is to shake the powers of the earth, and in which is to be accomplished the overthrow of the Papacy and the Turkish empire. So much uncertainty exists with regard to the meaning of the prophecy that this has weight with only the few; but all confess that events are assuming an aspect that might be expected if the end of the nations named were definitely fixed within seven years.—Herald.

Mr. Gobbold says:—The Chinese are as much at fault about our pins as we are about their chopsticks, or any other article the exact use of which we have misapprehended. They invariably mistake the pin for its first cousin, the needle, the chief difference being (as they say) that one has a head without an eye, and the other an eye without a head; they express their surprise how the the thread is fastened, and how the little knob at the top can be brought through the stitch-hole. They never saw a pin until introduced by foreigners; hence their ignorant mistake. It is not a little singular, and suggests at once the remarkable difference which must exist between their and our tailors' work, and Chinese and European ladies' and children's dresses, that while twenty millions of pins daily issue from English manufactories for home and foreign consumption, not a single pin finds any employment among the Chinese.

PEACH TREES.—It should be borne in mind that the peach, with us, is an exotic: in Persia, where it is native, the trees are twelve years old before they bear fruit, and the wood is hard and firm, like our hickory. The ladies' workboxes, made in Paris, are generally of peach, but of a very different texture from that of the peach wood as grown with us.—Prof. Mapes.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

New Photographic Establishment.
Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.
The subscriber having had many years' experience from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.
All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.
Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1860.

KANSAS TROUBLES.

Leavenworth, Nov. 24.—Up to Tuesday night no demonstration had been made on Fort Scott by Montgomery. It was said that Montgomery's object was only to drive off a few obnoxious settlers, but he had no intention of molesting the Government officers. His force is increased by men driven from the New York Indian Reserve by want. Gen. Harney and Governor Medary will arrive to-morrow.

From this it would seem that Judge Williams, of the U. S. Territorial Court, is an arrogant coward, who, getting terribly frighten, sent off a budget of false rumors by telegraph;—and that he has thus waked up the State of Missouri, the executive at Washington, and the boys who sell penny papers. The public got sold as well as the papers.

By the following dispatch from Warsaw, Missouri, it appears some body is going to find out something.

Warbash, Nov. 24.—A party have left for Nevada to ascertain the state of things. The border people in Osceola are excited, expecting hourly an attack by Montgomery, as he has reported his intention to take possession of the Bank there and its contents. Montgomery was reported to be at Bell's Mills, 25 miles from Osceola, and company of minute men left there last evening for the scene of action.

Not a very likely story, that a Bank Robber would report his intention to steal, —when the report must defeat the effort.

1000 men are in arms in Missouri to exterminate Montgomery.

THE SOUTHERN PULPIT.—A telegram to the N. Y. Herald, from Charleston, dated Wednesday says:

This has been a solemnly quiet day in Charleston. Business has been suspended all day, and the streets have been as silent as a well-kept Sabbath.

It has been a day of fasting and prayer with the religiously inclined, and services have been held in all the churches—not ordinary fast-day services and sermons. By no means. Every minister in Charleston preached a secession sermon to-day.

The southern pulpit is now fairly embarked on the troubled sea of politics. A political sermon six months ago was the special abhorrence of all southern ministers; at least, such is the allegation. Now, politics form the staple of preaching in Charleston.

Now, says Uncle Toby, whoever supposes political preaching was ever peculiar to the free states, or that it is a new thing in the South, lies under a great mistake. A well known clergyman of Portsmouth, happening to be in S. Carolina in the Nullification time, told the writer of this item that he heard Nullification preached most of the time while that fever lasted.

THE REV. DR. ARMSTRONG.—The post mortem examination of the remains of the Rev. Dr. Armstrong, missionary to the Sandwich Islands, who died recently from internal hemorrhage produced by a fall from his horse, shows the curious fact that a portion of his lungs had been destroyed by consumption and the parts had healed over. Some twenty years ago he had symptoms of consumption, and cured himself by bathing and horseback riding, since which he had experienced no appearance of the disease.

☞ A letter from Sebastopol states that accidents still occasionally occurred in the environs of that place, from shells which did not explode when fired during the siege. Quite recently two Russian travellers, named Molkoff and Ivanoff, found a percussion shell near a ruined bastion. One of them having taken it up, in throwing it down again, caused it to explode. Ivanoff was killed on the spot, and Molkoff so seriously injured that his life is despaired of.

OLD.—Prof. Mapes, New Jersey, says he has a mule 60 years old, and perfectly active, on his farm.

Mr. Dampire, near Taunton, England, has a gray horse 57 years old—smart yet.

A sportsman at Buffalo has a white imported Scotch terrier which he says is 28 years old. He has been shot twice and stabbed once—and may be part cat.

☞ An English pedestrian named Albinson recently ran a mile in 4 minutes 22 1-2 seconds—the fastest yet.

And an English walker named Lynn, made his seven miles in 61 minutes 2 seconds. Pretty tall walking, that.

☞ Among the sports at the Franklin Trotting Park, Chelsea, recently, have been a Fox Hunt, in which five tame Reynards came to grief, from canines without number; and a match to make mile beats in the nearest time to exactly three minutes.

☞ Dr. Windship has got so that he can now lift over 1200 pounds We should'nt want to say that the doctor is a blower; but if that isn't making a track-horse of himself, what would be?

He has not lost all, who has the future still left to him.

PARTISAN POLITICIANS.—The Ishmaelitish New York Saturday Press, which says many sharp things, and not a few wise ones, discourses thus on the Election and its inevitable consequences:—

It is perhaps strange that a nation like ours, so well educated, so accustomed to self government so practical, and so full of common sense, should not see through the tricks of the politicians and should not pack them of as a nuisance. But we will finally come to that. It has taken the world some four thousand years to make America possible as a nation, and we ought not to complain if it should take a pretty long time before we can arrive at having a nationality without any politicians in it.—What a blessing it will be when that time comes.

Think of living without politicians. It is a greater advance than getting rid of kings. To be sure there are many sagaciously disposed persons, who would hold up their hands in holy horror at the idea of the Ship of State pretending to float one moment, if there was not a figure-head (President) upon its prow. They have often done so in similar cases. They do so now at the idea of a Church without a bishop, or a State without a king. And yet the Church gets on much better without a Bishop, than it did with one; and certainly we've come to rank kings among dead and useless rubbish which accumulates by time in every household, and the only virtue of which is that it makes a safe shelter for all sorts of vermin.

In our own country the figure-heads, political and other, have come to serve the same noble purpose. It is perhaps premature to attempt to tear them down just now. And yet it seems evident that it would be best. Neither vermin nor their strongholds are good things to have in one's household.

☞ The Charleston Mercury, in announcing the Mayor's recent edict relative to the landing of steerage passengers from the North, makes the following amusing remarks:—

Undoubtedly there will be a hard winter at the North. It is not to be expected that Northern manufacturers and tradesmen, who have heretofore furnished large supplies for Southern consumption, will be able to give constant employment to those dependent upon them for support. This will induce a large emigration, and the climate here being milder than that to which they are accustomed it is natural to suppose they will seek an asylum under it. If they were permitted to land, it is apparent that the expected destitution of the North would be transferred to Charleston. Then, is it not a prudent forethought of the Mayor to take the necessary steps to ward off what might become a public calamity?

There was a pretty "hard winter at the North" in 1857, but we did not hear of any unusual emigration southward in consequence. On the contrary the poor were never so well provided for at home as during that winter; and we have no doubt it will be so again if we should happen to have a "hard winter!"

NEW YORK, Nov. 23—(Washington special dispatches.)—The Herald's correspondent states that Chief Justice Taney has resigned. Attorney General Black will probably succeed him. The latter has given the President his opinion that no State has a constitutional right to secede.

Arrangements are making here for a conference of the Southern members of Congress after the assembling of the session.

Mr. Slidell has notified the President that he will not attend the Senate the present session unless his vote is desired specially.

☞ Godey's Lady's Book for January, 1861, the thirty-first year, is before us, with a magnificent Title, comprising six distinct engravings and five statuettes; the design made expressly for this number. A beautiful plate, "Just like Mamma"; a large and elegantly colored fashion plate; numerous other plates,—and well written, interesting stories. Terms of Godey's Lady's Book:—One copy one year, $3. Two copies one year, $5. Three copies one year, $6. Five copies one year, and one to the getter up of club, $10.

The Pope has given up the recruiting business, having, we may suppose, lost all reliance in the arm of the flesh, and in arms generally. He finds no blessing in bayonets, no might in muskets, no safety in sabres, and no comfort in cannon.—Trav.

☞ Rev. Roger S. Howard. Rector of St. Stephen's church in Portland, has been compelled by ill health to tender his resignation to his parish.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Steamer Vanderbilt arrived on Sunday afternoon, in 24 hours from Norwich, having had a terrific passage. The passengers say there is seven feet of water in her hold.

☞ Specimens of the new paper for printing, invented in Austria, and made entirely from maize straw, have reached Paris. Some of the specimens are very fine.—The advantage in cheapness is more than one-half.

I owe my highest convictions of truth to its ablest opponents; for I never feel my grasp of it so firm as after knowing the strength of all that can be objected to it.—Channing.

☞ It is said that no census returns have been received from South Carolina. They have all been withheld.

A great deal is said about "the issues before the country." The country is certainly very sore at this time, if that is what is meant.

☞ There are not a thousand U. S. troops in the whole South, including officers, privates, drummers, fifers, buglers, doctors, and so forth.

LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

FORT KEARNEY, Nov. 25.— The Pony Express from San Francisco has arrived.

The country trade was less active and transactions limited. Prices are generally unchanged.

The total vote for President, so far as heard from, was 111,818, of which Lincoln had 36,586, Douglas 35,990, Breckinridge 31,216, Bell 8,026.

This is considered a most favorable account for Douglas. Other reports place him a thousand votes behind Lincoln. The returns yet to come will probably decrease Lincoln's vote, but it is generally conceded that the State has gone for the republicans.

A dispatch from Yreka, near Oreg n, of 13th, says that the latest advices from Oregon give Lincoln 250 majority. The Douglas vote was 6000 behind that of Breckinridge. Three small counties are to be heard from, which cannot much vary the result.

The Pony Express, with the result of the Presidential election in the Yankee States, reached Fort Churchill telegraph station on the 14th. It was published in the San Francisco papers at 9 o'clock of the same day, having been six days only in coming from St. Joseph. The news created a great sensation.

The Republican Central Committee issued an address recommending a general illumination on the night of the 15th.

Epinoza, a Lower California fillibuster, had been killed in a fight.

☞ By the Arago, from Southampton Nov. 11, we have late items from Europe.

The Prince of Wales had not arrived when the Arago left.

Advices from China state that negotiations for a settlement were delayed by a question of money. The Allies were marching on Pekin, where Sangkee Linsin is stationed with a large force. Lord Elgin would follow the troops Sept. 9th. The army reached Yang-Tsin-Yey on the 10th. Two thousand troops were left to protect Tien-Sien.

The rebels were inactive.

Trade was obstructed at Canton by the rebels.

Victor Emanuel was to leave for Sicily on the 11th inst.

No fresh intelligence respecting the negotiations for the capitulation of Gaeta had been received.

It was stated that the Neapolitans entered the Papal States through the treachery of their general.

Garibaldi in his proclamation tells his companions in the army to be ready to follow him again as a fresh conflict was likely to break out in Italy within a short time, when a million of men would be wanted.

The siege works were actively continued before Gaeta. If the garrison did not capitulate, a bombardment would commence.

Francis II. rejected the proposal to evacuate, on the ground that he has still left 13,000 troops in Gaeta. He also relies on the strength of the fortress to maintain his position.

The Bank of England rates had been raised, in consequence of the withdrawal of £300,000 by the Bank of France, which was soon to be followed by £300,000 more. The Bank raised its rates of discount to 5 on Tuesday evening. The Bank of France had also raised the rate of discount to 4 1-2.

THE BUDGET CLOSED.

This is the unpretending title of a new book, just published by Ticknor & Fields, Boston. It is a series of familiar Letters, written during an excursion in the European and Asiatic countries bordering on the Mediterranean, by Mrs. Jane Anthony Eames, author of "A Budget of Letters," "Another Budget," &c.

The letters cover a space of time from May to November, and are such lively and truthful descriptions of places, people and things, as we might expect from the pen of an American lady, the wife of a New England pastor.

Letters from such a hand, dated from Constantinople and Athens, Vienna and Frankfort, cannot fail to interest the reader; and the interest of the New Hampshire reader may perhaps be enhanced by his knowledge of the fact that the writer is the estimable and accomplished wife of the episcopal clergyman of Concord in this State.

The book is a neat volume of 368 pages, and may be had at Mr. Shores' Bookstore.

☞ The U. S. Marshal at Columbia, S.C., has given notice that the Federal Court, which was called to meet on Monday, will not be held. He has also notified the jurors summoned that their services will not be required.

Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is clarified and concentrated in such a manner as to render its use much more economical and healthy than any other. For culinary purposes it cannot be equaled in the world. A lady who has tested its merits refuses to try every other. It is much better than soda, and is perfectly healthy. Try it. Grocers and Druggists sell it.

There is another article in the market put up in similar colored papers. Do not be deceived by it. See that the name of HERRICK ALLEN is on the wrapper, and no mistake can occur. Manufactured by Allen & Taylor, corner of Canal and Centre streets, New York, and sold at wholesale by Israel Nash & Co., Boston. M&F is

Special Notices.

Catarrh is the most difficult of any of the Diseases of the Breathing Organs to relieve or to cure. The Rev. Joshua Leavitt, editor of the Independent of New York, who had the Catarrh for more than twenty years, has been cured by using Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron and Sulphur Powders, which are advertised in this paper. His testimonial is published in a pamphlet among others equally prominent who have been cured of chronic Throats and Lung difficulties, which will be sent free by mail.

WISTAR'S BALSAM WILD CHERRY

Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Quinsy, and the numerous as well as dangerous diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, prevail, in our changeable climate, at all seasons of the year; few are fortunate enough to escape their baneful influence. How important, then, to have at hand a certain antidote to all these complaints. Experience proves that this exists in Wistar's Balsam to an extent not found in any other remedy; however severe the suffering, the application of this soothing, healing and wonderful Balsam at once vanquishes the disease, and restores the sufferer to wonted health.

From a Respectable Druggist.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 3, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & CO., Boston,—

Gents:—Please send me a fresh supply of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. We are selling large quantities of this long celebrated remedy for Coughs and Colds, and it bids fair to outlive most of the so-called specifics which are now in vogue. We can confidently recommend it as a remedy for what it is intended. Very truly yours,
NATHAN F. THACHER.

Mr. D. H. TEAGUE, of Turner Village, Writes the proprietors of this great remedy, as follows:

TURNER VILLAGE, ME., July 31, 1860.

Messrs. SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston.

Gents:—I do not hesitate to recommend DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for coughs and pulmonary affections, having used it in my family for many years with great satisfaction; indeed it has done more good than all the other remedies I have tried, and their name is legion. If all the patent medicines in the market possessed but a portion of the merit of this excellent Balsam, there would be no occasion to condemn them as humbugs.

The medicine is also used by many of my friends and acquaintances in this town, and they have found it invaluable; and I hope that others who suffer may give it a fair trial. Very respectfully,
D. H. TEAGUE.

Prepared by SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston;

ELECTION OF CITY OFFICERS
IN PORTSMOUTH,
On TUESDAY, Nov. 27th.

Nominations.

Democratic.	FOR MAYOR.	Republican.
Peter Jenness.		William Simes.

PORTSMOUTH (N. H.) NAVY YARD.—Dear Editors :—I was struck with a notice in your issue of this morning, taken from a Boston paper, relative to the importance of our Navy Yard, and remarking that the "Mohican and Cumberland were certainly turned off very well," &c. The Mohican and Cumberland! all very true, indeed; but these are but small matters in the long list of vessels of war built here at different times, as may be witnessed in the frigate Congress, sloops Portsmouth and Saratoga, the steamer Saranac, and a number of other vessels, all admirably built and fitted at our Yard; without going back even to the ship of the line Washington, or gazing upon the magnificent steam frigate Franklin, (now upon the stocks) which will pass a most favorable examination, in every respect, with any ship of any country in the world. Portsmouth ships of war have always had an enviable reputation, and this, too, without a single failure since the superb America ship-of-line was launched in her harbor in 1782, under the direction of John Paul Jones. N.

SHARP.—The Concord Statesman says: One of the Portsmouth newspaper asserts that General Pease, formerly of this city, and more recently Collector of Boston, has "taken up" his residence in Portsmouth. If this be so, Dr. Windship must brace up his muscle, for this herculean performance by the General is as far beyond that of holding a mere barrel of flour at arm's length, as a trotting horse is swifter than a falling leaf.

Just below, in the same column, the Statesman informs us that

The Navy Department has ordered the immediate outfit of the U. S. sloop of war Macedonian, which arrived at Portsmouth, in July, from the Mediterranean. The vessel will accordingly be taken in hand at once.

Now cannot the Statesman inform us in whose hand the Macedonian is "to be taken?" We are inclined to believe that tho' Gen. Pease occupies a pretty extensive mansion, it is not quite as heavy as the ship, even without her guns and the Paymaster's chest on board. Our huge paws will doubtless have quite a lift, and the performance of that "hand" will prove a feat worth seeing.

☞ Prof. Peabody's lecture at the Temple this (Tuesday) evening, is the first of a Course for the benefit of the Freewill Baptist Society in this city.

Friends outside have encouraged them to give these entertainments in the Temple, thus incurring considerable expense, to accommodate the public. Speakers of high reputation for all of the lectures are engaged. (See advertisement in another column.) Now let the citizens give them their sympathy in the form of a full audience,—thus aiding a worthy and growing Society.

The second lecture will be on "Garibaldi and Southern Italy," by Prof. A. Tripp.

LECTURES.—It will be seen by a notice in another column, that some of the young men of this city have got up a course of lectures for the coming winter. The list embraces a great deal of lecturing ability, and we do beseech the public to come forward and sustain them in their praiseworthy efforts. Getting up lectures has long been a thankless and a profitless task in this community, and only the young men who have not had their enthusiasm dampened by failure are likely to undertake it. —Nashua Telegraph.

Although this item was written in reference to another city, it will apply fully as well to Portsmouth, and is worthy the consideration of all interested in such matters —and what citizen is not?

☞ Alternate Lectures will be given, one a week, as far as possible, in the Mercantile Library course, and also in that of the Freewill Baptist Society; of which Dr. Peabody delivers the first lecture this evening, at the Temple. Gentlemen or families holding season tickets in both, can thus attend one good lecture each week.

DR. CLAY, who is stopping for this week at the City Hotel, Portsmouth, is an old and experienced practitioner, as well as writer and lecturer; and is widely and favorably known. He brings testimonials without number, as to his ability as a physician, and his reliability as a gentleman—from the press in all sections of the country; and if endorsements amount to anything, it would seem that Dr. Clay is worthy of confidence and patronage. At any rate, he charges nothing for advice.

His Lectures for Wednesday and Thursday are well advertised by bills and newspapers—and a person may there gain inestimable information.

☞ It has been discovered that Virginia has a Personal Liberty Law very much like that of Massachusetts.

☞ We are requested to state that the Concert advertised by the "Harvard College Musical Club" has been postponed for the present. The students could be absent from College only a part of this week, and being unsuccessful in engaging a Hall in this city and Newburyport, during the week, they are obliged to defer the entertainment until a future day.

BININGER'S
OLD KENTUCKY
BOURBON
"1849 RESERVE"

The established popularity of this CHOICE OLD BOURBON as a medicinal agent, renders it superfluous to mention in detail the characteristics which distinguish it from the ordinary grade of Kentucky Whiskeys.

Being distilled in 1848, and manufactured expressly for us with great care, it can be relied upon as a strictly pure stimulant, and peculiarly effective for the treatment of Lung Complaints, Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Stomach, Nervousness, &c.

As a curative agent it has a tendency to recreate and strengthen; while age having contributed its genial charm, and enriched it with a delicious flavor and an oily body, it affords a pleasant incentive to the preservation or recovery of health, through the agreeable medium of a well pleased palate.

Put up in a variety of attractive forms, in iron-bound cases of one and two dozen bottles each, and sold by all prominent druggists, grocers and town agents. A. M. BININGER & CO., (Established 1778.)

SEVEN YEARS!

The seven years of unrivalled success attending the

COSMOPOLITAN
Art Association,

have made it a household word throughout every quarter of our country.

Under the auspices of this popular Institution, over three hundred thousand homes have learned to appreciate—by beautiful works of art on their walls, and choice literature on their tables—the great benefits derived from becoming a subscriber.

Subscriptions are now being received in a ratio unparalleled by that of any previous year.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Any person can become a member by subscribing three dollars, for which sum they will receive

1st.—The large and superb steel engraving, 30 x 38 inches, entitled

Falstaff Mustering His Recruits,

2d.—One copy, one year, of that elegantly illustrated magazine, the

"COSMOPOLITAN ART JOURNAL."

3d.—Four admissions, during the season, to

"The Gallery of Paintings, 548 Broadway, New York."

In addition to the above benefits, there will be given to subscribers, as gratuitous premiums, over comprising valuable paintings, marbles, parians, outlines, &c., forming a truly national benefit.

THE SUPERB ENGRAVING, which every subscriber will receive, entitled "FALSTAFF MUSTERING HIS RECRUITS," is one of the most beautiful and popular ever made in this country. It is done on steel, in fine line and stipple, and is printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 38 inches, making a most choice ornament, suitable for the walls of either the library, par or office. Its subject is the celebrated scene of Sir John Falstaff receiving in Justice Shallow's office the recruits which had been gathered for his "Ragged Regiment." It could not be furnished by the trade for less than five dollars.

The Art Journal is too well known to the whole country to need commendation. It is a magnificently illustrated magazine of Art, containing Essays, Stories, Poems, Gossip, &c., by the very best writers in America.

The Engraving is sent to any art of the country by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postage prepaid.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of January 31, 1861, at which time the books will close, and the premiums be given to subscribers.

No person is restricted to a single subscription Those remitting $15, are entitled to five membership, and one extra Engraving for their trouble

Subscriptions from California, the Canadas, and all Foreign Countries, must be $3.50 instead of $3, in order to defray extra postage, &c.

For further particulars send for a copy of the elegantly illustrated Art Journal, pronounced the handsomest magazine in America. It contains Catalogue of Premiums, and numerous superb engravings. Regular price, 50 cts. per number.—Specimen copies, however, will be sent to those wishing to subscribe, on receipt of 18 cents, in stamps or coin.

Address C. L. DERBY, Actuary C A. A., 548 Broadway, New York.

N. B.—Subscriptions received received and forwarded by

NEW FALL STOCK,

ANOTHER NEW STOVE

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL,

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY

Of Providence, R. I.

In introducing a new Cook Stove, of singularly novel construction and arrangement, it is proper that we speak of its peculiar merits.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven, with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is the most durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high-priced Air-Tight Cook Stoves, but will barely allude to them, viz:

1st. The double plates each side of the fire prevent any leak of ashes into the oven and make the stove more durable.

2d. The admission of external air between these plates, for the ventilation of the roasting oven, tends also to the preservation of the plates most exposed to destruction.

3d. The durable dump grate, with the ash box of ample size to receive the ashes and coals, is an attractive feature of the stove.

4th. The draft door, at each end of the fire box, is a great convenience when a quick fire is wanted

5th. The movable ash pan, which, though it forms a hearth to the stove, need not be used except once or twice a day for taking up and carrying away the ashes.

6th. The stove has but one damper, and but one division of flues on the back of and under the oven, ensuring a very quick bake.

7th The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and tin jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

This stove was thoroughly tested before brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial of the stove.

John Trundy, Esq., one of our most practical and scientific mechanics, who has had large experience in the construction of stove patterns in years past, and has for many years been using one of the Stewart Stoves, has purchased one of the MODEL COOKS, and after a fair trial pronounces it far superior to the Stewart or any stove he has ever seen, for economy, convenience and dispatch We might also refer to several other parties who are using the stove, and who award it the very highest praise.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be the stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is wanted.

We have nought to say against any other stove, believing that a man can sell his own goods without depreciating his neighbor's; but this we do say, that we honestly believe this is the best stove that can be found in the world; and what is more, we think others will agree with us after a trial of it. We invite any one to examine the stove, whether they wish to purchase or not.

For sale, with a great variety of

Furnaces, Ranges, Cooking, Office and Parlor Stoves: Coal Hods, Sitters, Funnel, Stove-Repairing Pieces, Parlor Grates, Etc.

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OF BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
Under the act of 1837.
76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of any Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Models or Drawings of any Patent forwarded by remitting of the claims of any Patent Office Agent. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is notoriously the largest in New England, but through its connections have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of law and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MAGNIN,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure to them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Copies of unimpeachable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, and they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

MOTHERS

It must be obvious not only to you, but to every sensible and intelligent person, that the first disease of infants arise chiefly from a disordered condition of their bowels, and in this connection, we point to your notice, for the alleviation and cure of these diseases, a remedy known as

Dr. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL,

Prepared from a formula used by Dr. Eaton with remarkable success during several years' practice. We know it to be a most reliable and efficacious remedy for infantile complaints, and one trial alone will convince you of its superiority over every other preparation of the kind. It is particularly recommended

FOR CHILDREN TEETHING,

And at this period of infantile life, when your anxious hearts are pained by witnessing the sufferings of your little ones, it will be found invaluable in Softening the Gums, Reducing Inflammation and Allaying all Pain. FOR DISEASES ATTENDING TEETHING, such as Diarrhea, Dysentery, Griping in the Bowels, Acidity of the Stomach, Wind, Colic, and Cold in the Head, we confidently offer this as a certain relief and cure in every case when given in time. It will invariably regulate the stomach and bowels, and its importance in this respect can hardly be estimated.

IN CONVULSIONS,

Which more infants are said to die than from any other disease, the effect of this medicine is instantaneously, as if by magic; and in this dread complaint alone, its intrinsic value is such that it has been recommended from one family to another, until the name of DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL has become "familiar as a household word." We now ask your attention to a subject vital interest to your children as well as to your suffering child. DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL contains

NO MORPHINE OR OPIATE,

Of any kind, or of whatever nature, or for which we are fully warranted in a sting cannot be said of any other preparation for infantile diseases, at this time before the public. We find that throughout the country, Mothers are becoming convinced of this truth, and of the sad and blighting consequences which are certain to result from the use of narcotics administered in the form of quieting remedies; their continued administration being invariably followed by stupefaction and constipation of the bowels, to the lasting obstinacy in consequence. Here in DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL differs from every other remedy. It

DOES NOT CONSTIPATE

The Bowels, neither does it act by deadening the sensibilities of your children, but naturally, thro' its rare medicinal qualities, by removing all pain and every cause of disease. We would remind you, therefore, to lose no time in procuring a bottle, that you may have at hand a remedy which will never fail to relieve your child in time of need. It is perfectly harmless, and cannot injure the most delicate infant.

Use none but DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL. That you can rely upon. Price 25 cts. per bottle.

ATWOOD'S QUININE TONIC BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities.

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonic and stomachic s, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "this is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may purchase themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,

FOR MAKING

Broad, Tea Cakes

All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,

MANUFACTURED BY

EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,
Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,
NO. 33 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to producing bread of a far better quality, sold in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating house-keepers, bakers, &c., &c.

Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven does not exceed ten minutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, or is rare. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferment, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. in the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, which is, it, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using Concentrated Leaven, the flour is not thus wasted, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the saccharine flour; and, in proportion, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 250 lbs., gives by this process 260 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person may be certain of uniform product in the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,

Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., and find its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby rendering it light and porous bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable salt, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook.

The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and prove this compound worthy of public patronage and extended use. Respectfully,
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."

HOW TO USE IT.

We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit pudding and other pastry.

BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonsful of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour,) to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly; let rise two or three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter or half the size of an egg, and make the paste into rolls; mix with water, (milk is preferable,) barely stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.

LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.

GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven in one quart of wheat meal, sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.

BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonsful of Leaven in one pint of flour, and one pint of corn meal, all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a pint of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make one quart of batter; add one egg, then three teaspoonsful of Leaven; beat to a froth, and cook quick.

DUMPLINGS.—Sift together one quart of flour and two teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; rub in a piece of butter the size of an egg; mix with cold milk or water, and boil ten minutes.

CHAMBER STREET CAKE.—Sift together three large cups of flour and two teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; put in half a cup of butter and a cup and a half of sugar; mix with cold water or milk to a stiff batter, and spice to suit the taste, and bake immediately.

CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs; add the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth; then beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water, and three teaspoonfuls of leaven; flavor with two teaspoonsful of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.

JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three tea spoonfuls of Leaven; rub in one beautiful of butter; add a cup and a half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out, and bake quick.

ELECTION CAKE.—One quart of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; add a cup of butter, one pound of currants, two cups of white sugar, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon; mix with cold milk to a stiff batter, and bake in a slow oven.

CORN CAKE.—One pint each of flour and Indian meal and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, well sifted together: add one gill of molasses and two eggs; mix thin with milk and bake in a slow oven.

CUP CAKE.—Five cups of flour and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one cup of butter, one pound of currants, two cups of white sugar, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon; mix with cold milk to a stiff batter, and bake in a slow oven.

CORN CAKE.—One pint each of flour and Indian meal and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, well sifted together: add one gill of molasses and two eggs; mix thin with milk and bake in a slow oven.

CUP CAKE.—Five cups of flour and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one cup of butter, one pound of currants, two cups of white sugar, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon; mix with cold milk to a stiff batter, and bake in a slow oven.

WEBSTER CAKE.—Five cups of flour, three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, three cups of sugar, one of butter, one of milk, and two eggs; fruit and spice to suit the taste; bake about an hour.

THE ONLY PREPARATION

Having Proof so Strong and Direct as to

Expel the Doubts of All.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—

Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.

Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining ascendency in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test.

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicates to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effect of which my hair was almost destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally induced to try your Hair Restorative.

These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have now used for some time, and have a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my hearty thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself is not small, to sell it.

You can publish this if you think proper.

Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you may use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles of hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, he is anxious to testify to the truth of this statement: I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a gross of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SCRGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, since the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very valuable invention, quite efficacious and well prepared. S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Dr. Mott's

CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE

PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combination in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the Highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The active and valuable properties of this that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved a absolute curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCONTINENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, CHLOROSIS, CHLOROTICS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether arising from disease, or from the premature diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative will prove that successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have their own neighborhoods have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to all and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for those addicted to medicinal wines, the operation of this preparation of iron must, as well rly be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is a vigorous tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it acts so mildly, and exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, intractable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when adranced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in all these complaints of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects—good appetite, complete digestion, rapid restoration of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow the use of it.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and Dealers, or will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It stimulates, Refreshes, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

Does.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by taking one wine glass, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Personswho, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

A GOOD DIALOGUE.

[The scene of the following interesting dialogue is that of two farmers on opposite sides of a fence. Mr. Smith, who has beside him a basket of very small potatoes, is leaning on the fence looking wistfully over at Mr. Jones, who is digging a splendid fully over at Mr. Jones, who is digging a splendid crop of big potatoes. Apiecture of the scene was prepared with the original dialogue, and should be here, but we have not room for it to-day at hand. The dialogue is pleasing and instructive, and should be read by every one.]

"The potatoes, they are small,
Over there, over there.—Old Song.

Mr. Smith—How is it neighbor Jones, that your potatoes are so much larger and finer, while just over the fence, on similar soil, mine are as small as pullet's eggs, and precious few at that?

Mr. Jones—I manured this field with brains.

Mr. Smith—Pshaw.—All the Cincinnati hog-killers couldn't supply brains enough for this tenacre field.

Mr. Jones—I used human brains, of which there are plenty.

Mr. Smith—Nonsense—Now don't make fun of me because I'm unlucky, and Providence has sent you a good crop.

Mr. Jones—Providence helps those who help themselves. I used my own brains on this field.

Mr. Smith—So did I mine, and they are as good as anybody's.

Mr. Jones—Ah! there's the trouble. You know it all yourself; I don't, and so I get all the outside help I can. I've been collecting other people's brains for my land for twenty years, and you see the result in this crop.

Mr. Smith—Yes, I see the result, but don't understand it.

Mr. Jones—Well, when we began here 20 years ago, I thought myself a good farmer, but I believed other hard-pan ideas, too, and I made it my business to get at their thoughts; some I found in agricultural books and papers, others I picked up at the County Fairs, by asking how the big things were raised, and often I've got a good hint from a neighbor.

Mr. Smith—I've always been down on this "book farming," but your crops stagger me,—they're real knock down arguments. I'm sick of the poor show I get for all my work, and am desperate enough to try anything for improvement.

Mr. Jones—I'll give you my experience; it may aid you. About nineteen years ago, I heard that some men who had been brought up on farms had clubbed together, and one of them was going to publish a paper, which should consist mainly of accounts of how different farmers cultivated various crops, and such like matters. I sent for the paper and have done so every year since, and now I have nineteen large volumes, every page of which I have read, a little at a time, and the whole has not cost the produce of a single acre. Why, I am astonished when I think over the ten thousand thoughts, and hints and suggestions I have thus gathered. What a blank world I be left in my farm, if these thoughts were taken away.

Mr. Smith—But does the practice of farmers on other kinds of soil and with a different climate, suit your weate?

Mr. Jones—Why no, not exactly, perhaps. But then, every thought I get from another, starts a new thought in my own mind, and thus I am constantly improving my own skill and practice. You see, I get all the brains I can from other people, and compost them well in my own herd with a mixture of common sense, and then make the application to my fields. In that way, I have manured this crop of potatoes with plenty of brains. The editor called here last week on his Western tour among farmers, and seeing my good crops, he asked me to write out just how I have treated this field for years past, and I promised to do it as soon as my crops are gathered. He will probably print it, as he constantly prints all such practical matters, and perhaps a hundred thousand persons will read it; and though he will see no more do just as I do, many will get a new hint, and improve upon it. You may read it if you will.

Mr. Smith—I would like to borrow your paper.

Mr. Jones—Better take it yourself, for then you will be more likely to read it. You will find hundreds of plain talks about various kinds of crops during a single year. One hint gave five bushels of corn on each acre of a large field in a single year.

Mr. Smith—I can't afford to take it this year.

Mr. Jones—You would think nothing of spending two cents a week for extra tobacco, or a glass of grog, and that's all the paper will cost. How little a week it costs to supply yourself and family with a large amount of information through any good paper.

Mr. Smith—What are the politics of that paper?

Mr. Jones—It doesn't touch politics. It is devoted to such subjects as field and garden crops, animals, etc., and has, besides, a good deal about woman's work, which wife says is worth more than ten times the few pounds of butter it costs to pay for the paper. Then there is also a department for the young folks containing many things to please the children—not mere trashy stuff, such as is too often printed for them, but information that will have a good influence upon them. I would sell a dozen bushels of wheat to have my young people get the good reading in that paper, but the average price of one bushel will pay for it a year. My John says he can pay for it easy with eggs from two or three hens. If I was a mechanic or merchant and had only a little garden, I should take the paper to tell me how to make the best use of the little plot; and if I had not a foot of land, I should still want it for my wife and children.

Mr. Smith—Does the editor know anything about farming?

Mr. Jones—The editor who owns and publishes the paper was brought up on a farm, where he learned to work. He has studied all the books on farming, and experimented for years in the laboratory, and has besides, travelled all over the country to see what was doing. Then he has several associates—farmers, gardeners and housekeepers, who know what they write about, and among them all they do gather up a wonderful lot of information every year. The language is so plain, so like talking with you, that I enjoy reading it. Then, too, every paper has engravings, which show one exactly how animals and plants, and implements, and household furniture look, much better than words could describe them. Among these are plans of buildings, that help one to plan others; and also many very fine large pictures, which are worth more than the cost of a whole volume.

Mr. Smith—I suppose those engravings and descriptions are partly to help the editor sell implements or fertilizers.

Mr. Jones—Not at all. The editor keeps nothing of the sort to sell, so that he may be perfectly free to praise or condemn any article according as it may be valuable or worthless to his readers. You would laugh to see how he comes down on poor inventions, patent manures, and all kinds of humbugs.

Mr. Smith—Is the paper adapted to our part of the country?

Mr. Jones—Exactly. Soils and crops and climates differ, but the general principles of cultivation are the same everywhere, and Queen is the editor of a paper published for the whole country.—Every reader gets new ideas by learning what is done somewhere else; and further, I find that the paper has letters from every part of the country, and one or more associate editors in different sections, so that we get information from many regions, and our own too. One thing I must mention particularly. The editor is constantly warning his readers against humbugs, telling how they are take the advantage of people. Why, I was just going to send a dollar for an article advertised in glowing colors, when I found it shown up as a humbug in this paper. But I cannot stop to talk more now—I have such a lot of potatoes to harvest.

Mr. Smith—I wish I had. I must try that paper a year, and see what there is in it. I can manage to save two cents a week.

Mr. Jones—Never fear.—If you don't find it pays, I'll buy your copies at cost, for my boys to keep.

Mr. Smith—What did you say the paper is called?

Mr. Jones—The American Agriculturist. It is published in New-York City. The editor, though one of our country farmers, and living in the country, finds he can publish it cheaper there, when printing and paper, and mailing facilities are all convenient.

Mr. Smith—How shall I get it?

Mr. Jones—Simply enclose a dollar bill in a letter, giving your name, Post Office, County, and State plainly, and direct to ORANGE JUDD, 41 Park Row, New-York City.

Mr. Smith—When does a volume begin?

Mr. Jones—The twentieth volume begins Jan. 1st, but all who send in the dollar now, get the remaining numbers of this year, in addition to the whole of next year's. So if you subscribe now, you get fourteen months' papers. The proprietor also offers some valuable premiums to those who get up lists of subscribers. Send for the paper, and you may afterwards find it well worth while to make up a club. Some 1700 persons have got good premiums in this way during two years.—Some of your German neighbors would join you, perhaps, for the AGRICULTURIST is printed separately in German. I did intend to start a club myself, but I have so many potatoes to dig, I cannot get the time. My sister-in-law in Iowa, got up a club last year, and received a premium of a $50 Wheeler & Wilson sewing machine; an old acquaintance in Wisconsin got two or three good farming implements, and a young nephew of mine in Ohio got a beautiful copy of Webster's great Dictionary. These things only cost them a little time, showing the paper evenings and election day. Send in your subscription and the first paper will tell you all about the premiums. I forgot to tell you that every year the publisher also sends out to all his subscribers who want them a lot of choice garden and field SEEDS.

Mr. Smith—What does he charge for them?

Mr. Jones—Nothing; they are sent free, except the postage. They are of the best kind and one single parcel of last year was worth more to me than the price of the paper.

Mr. Smith—I'll try it a year, any way; if half what you say is true it will be a good investment.

Mr. Jones—You'll find every word I have said true.

Mr. Smith—I'll send this very night, while in the spirit of it.

Mr. Jones—Do it, and you'll always thank me for this talk. Good day, I must hurry up digging my potatoes, I've such a lot of them—thanks to a hint in the Agriculturist.

Mr. Smith—How did you get the money to collect the letter containing the Dollar?

Mr. Jones—To ORANGE JUDD, 41 PARK ROW, NEW-YORK CITY.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metal lic sole for the soles of all shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and it is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1860.

PRESIDENTIAL VOTES. — Dispatches from California at length enable us to present the grand result of the Presidential election of 1860. With two or three States there is no complete certainty, and perhaps will not be until official returns are published. Virginia has a small plurality for Bell. Missouri is not all in, but there appears no doubt that she goes for Douglas by a plurality of two or three hundred.—The returns from California and Oregon show that both those States have gone for Lincoln, though the plurality in both will be small. The 303 votes will be cast as follows, 152 being necessary to a choice:—

States for Lincoln.		For Breckinridge.
Maine	8	Alabama	9
New Hampshire	5	Arkansas	4
Vermont	5	Delaware	3
Massachusetts	13	Florida	3
Connecticut	6	Georgia	10
Pennsylvania	27	Louisiana	6
Michigan	6	Mississippi	7
Iowa	4	N. Carolina	10
Rhode Island	4	S. Carolina	8
New York	35	Texas	4
Ohio	23	Maryland	8
Indiana	13		—
Wisconsin	5	Total for Breck.	72
Illinois	11	For Bell.
Minnesota	4	Virginia	15
New Jersey	4	Kentucky	12
California	4	Tennessee	12
Oregon	3		—
	—	Total for Bell	39
Total for Lincoln	180	For Douglas.
		New Jersey	3
		Missouri	9
		Total for Douglas	12

☞ The Charleston Courier, the most conservative paper of South Carolina, was nearly as wild as the Mercury during the heat of the secession excitement, but is again resuming its habitual tone of moderation, though still decidedly for secession. It deprecates the "premature and unnecessary issue of violence with citizens of the South," and declares that "nothing can be gained, but much lost, by anticipating the action of the State Conventions." It says:—

"It is wisest and safest at this juncture to believe no rumor concerning the intentions or actions of the President, or any officer, and to receive and repeat no assertion that is not unequivocally established."

KANSAS MATTERS.—New York, Nov. 26. A special despatch to the Times, from William Hutchinson of Leavenworth, denies in toto the truth of all the reports about the attack on Fort Scott, the sacking of Paris, Montgomery's party entering or intending to enter Missouri, or that any recent eastern contributions of arms or munitions had been sent th(m.

Surely there must have been some little fire for all the great smoke, but what was it? where was it? and why? Was it a chimney or a brush heap? and was the great alarm given to aid the sla very fever? It begins to have that look.

GOVERNORSHIP OF SOUTH CAROLINA. Gov. Gist's term of office as Governor of South Carolina expires Dec. 10, and as he is ineligible for re-election, the successor excites some talk. The choice is thought to lie between Senator Chestnut and Hon. Joseph Duncan Allen, a member of the present State Senate, a gentleman of great wealth, and admitted to be the the handsomest man in the State.

The office of Governor is not one generally sought after in South Carolina. The salary is only $3500 per annum, and as the Governor is compelled to visit every district in the State at least once a year, in order to inspect the military, his traveling expenses alone amount to twice as much as his salary. He has no veto power, and has not a single office at his disposal, the Legislature even appointing his private secretary; yet it is a position of high honor, and one always conferred upon some citizen of renown. Until the present time the position has never been declined when once tendered."

☞ A letter from Walla Walla, Oregon, dated Nov. 3d, says that Captain Dent, who had been to the scene of the massacre of the emigrant party by the Indians found a dozen of them alive, who had been subsisting on the dead bodies of their companions.

One family, named Myers, consisting of the mother and five children, together with a brother-in-law, were subsisting upon the dead body of the husband and father. Several perished from starvation. The Government is urged to take more efficient means to protect emigrants.

☞ It is said that every Episcopal clergyman in Charleston has omitted the usual prayer for the President of the United States. Letters mention that one of the most eminent statesmen of South Carolina, on noticing this omission, rose from his pew and left the church, where he had gone to worship. There are Union men even in South Carolina.

☞ The receipts of flour and wheat thro' the New York canals the present year, show an increase equivalent to more than three million barrels of flour. Large quantities of this flour are now lying exposed upon the piers in New York, protected only by a canvas covering.

UNCURRENT MONEY.—At New York, Nov. 26, all Bank Bills South of Washington were quoted at 10 per cent discount;—Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, Iowa, Tennessee, Maryland and Pennsylvania, 3 a 5; Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, 3; Michigan and Canada, 2.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 26.—Our banks have advanced the rates of New York sight drafts to 1-2 per cent premium.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Nov. 26.—The Senate Bank bill has passed the House by a vote of 93 against 27. It is expected that the Governor will veto the bill. It will probably be passed over the veto.

☞ Perley says, in a Waif from Washington, for the Boston Journal:—

As for the armament of the South, it is intended to defended the whites against a servile insurrection. There has been so much said about the abolitionism of Lincoln and Hamlin, that the negroes have become indoctrinated with the idea that they will be free on the 4th of March. It is to guard against a "rising" that Sharpe's rifles, and Colt's revolvers, and Ames' cutlasses are being sent Southward. These weapons—any how—have to be paid for in good funds, and the Yankees who take them receive kind treatment.

I telegraphed to The Journal immediately after the election, South Carolina may secede. She will, however, so retire that she can come back on some graceful protext; and if she is not precipitated into the rash movement, she will not go at all.

CONSCIENCE STRICKEN.—Some three years ago a package of foreign money was deposited in the North Bank of Boston, by Shadrach Robinson & Son, flour dealers.—The next day they were notified that the Suffolk Bank had returned the "strap" marked "two hundred dollars short." The firm examined their cash account very carefully, and finding the figures all correct, felt satisfied that the mistake occurred in one of the banks above named. Accordingly a demand was made upon the North Bank for the money, which was refused, and a suit was brought to recover the amount; which created some stir among the banks at the time, and led them to adopt a new regulation in regard to their responsibility on the count of foreign money deposited with them. The suit was decided in favor of the Bank, although it was thought by some that the rulling of the judge leaned to the other side.

Last Saturday Mr. Robinson received a note requesting him to call at the Suffolk Bank. He did so, and was handed a letter, of which the following is a copy:—

SIR:—This package of $236 belongs to the gentleman (I think his name is Robinson,) who sued you a year ago for $200 and lost the case. If you will return this $200 and intriest which I took from him, you will Greatey oblige, ——

The money was undoubtedly taken after it was deposited, and the responsibility of the loss rests probably on the Suffolk Bank, as the anonymous epistle was addressed to the institution, and the Cashier this morning paid the money to Mr. Robinson.—Thus ends one of the many curious cases of "Missing Money."—Transcript.

☞ The directors of the New York Central Railroad propose such a change of their track through Rochester as shall save them three canal bridges, half a dozen or more street bridges, a quarter of a mile of trestle work, heavy grades on short curves, and two or three miles of the expensive track in the city limits; all this by a tunnel under the canal, costing half a million dollars. Work will probably be commenced on the new location at once.

THE POPE.—A Paris letter says that the resources of Pius IX. are exhausted, the collection of Peter's pence has been a miserable failure, the revenue from the provinces which have placed themselves under the Government of Victor Emanuel is suddenly cut off, the Pontificial army has no longer an existence, and the temporal rule of the Papacy is drawing to a close.

The Boston papers and the Portland Advertiser have been again boaxed about the blowing up of "Eastern College," at Brunswick. It seems to be a necessary trick with the young bloods of our down east emporium of Letters, to palm off this silly hoax once a year. We should think the metropolitan editors would smell the rat.—Bath Times.

Even so,—says Uncle Toby,—and "we should think," also, that college jokes are the most stupid of any.

☞ About twenty young gentlemen of New Orleans, wishing to display their Southern spirit, determined to wear no cloth but what was manufactured in a Southern State; so they bought some pieces of Kentucky jeans, had it made up into suits, but too late they discovered that the Kentucky jeans had been made in Massachusetts.

☞ While two boys, named Sanborn and Randall, were playing in a mill at Milton, N. H., last week, they found a gun; Sanborn supposing it not loaded, aimed the gun at Randall, with the remark, in a playful manner, "I am going to shoot you." The gun happened to be loaded, and the charge entered young Randall's body, killing him instantly.

☞ The fine new merchant ship "Santee," is nearly ready for sea; and as she lies at Pier Wharf, is being visited, examined and admired by many citizens and strangers.

☞ The Mayor of Washington, D. C., has set apart the 29th of November, as a day of Thanksgiving in that city.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—No official notification of Judge Taney's resignation has been received by the President, and no such information has been received at the Attorney General's office.

☞ On Monday night there was a little snow; but it disappeared before day, and a copious rain soaked everything nicely for our city election.

Last year on election day, we had snow and slop in abundance.

Mr. Breckinridge did not carry Georgia, a majority being required to elect. No electors were chosen by the people, and as the law of Congress requires electors to be chosen on the same day throughout the country, it is a question whether an election by the legislature on a subsequent day would be valid.—Eastern Argus.

Not much of a question, we think. The legislature will doubtless elect; and the vote will be counted in Washington, as usual; probably without a doubt being raised; but if raised, it will be settled in a moment.

☞ It is stated that the school children of Switzerland have purchased the Grutli, the place where Tell and his associates formed their plan for the deliverance of their country. The young idea of Switzerland has been taught to shoot properly, and so it honors the patriotic archer, whose bow was one of promise, and of deliverance, too, to his country.

☞ It is believed that Austria is beginning to think of selling Venetia to Italy for gold, as she must despair of holding it long with iron. The white coats may show their backs to Italian purses, as they showed them to French bayonets

☞ A new gun, invented by Mr. L. Thomas, is represented to be better than either the Armstrong or the Whitworth piece. It has a range of 30,000 feet, or nearly six miles, with a shot of 170 lbs. It must be a veritable "Long Tom."

☞ Three Bell electors in Georgia—Law, Douglas, and Wright—have yielded to the current, and changed from Union men to secessionists.

Hon. Mr. Curry, M. C., of Alabama, has taken the stump against secession.

☞ James M. Williams, who shot Vanness Wyatt in the street at Warren, N. H., July 27, was indicted for murdor by the Grand Jury for Grafton county last week, at Plymouth. His trial is set down for the second Tuesday of January.

☞ Mr. Ralph Farnham, in a letter, acknowledges the receipt of $110, being the amount collected at a newspaper office in Boston, for his benefit. Mr. Farnham's post office address is Milton Mills, N. H.

☞ Geo. Brown of the Toronto Globe, who with a young chemist patented a process of making printing paper of straw, has sold out his patent to parties in New York for $800,000.

ETHER.—The Committee of Patents at Washington has lately refused the applicants for an extension of the patent for the use of sulphuric ether in cases of surgery, This leaves its use, if we understand the case, free to all who wish to use, as it should be. The honor of its discovery is claimed both by Dr. W. T. G. Morton and Dr. Charles T. Jackson. Each has spent time and money to establish his claim, and both have succeeded in one way and another large compensation. The Commissioner decided justly, and the public will endorse the decision.—Atlas.

When the Nation of South Carolina shall have been formed, Captain Rynders should be sent to reside "near" her court, as American Minister Plenipotentiary and Envoy Extraordinary, and a very extraordinary envoy he would be. He might have instruction to do just what he pleased, and they would be the only kind of instructions that he would obey.—Traveller.

HEARD FROM.—John P. Sanborn of Kingston, N. H., whose team was found last Monday at the Essex Merrimac Bridge, while he was not found at all, has since turned up in Boston, in about the same physical and mental frame as when he left Newburyport, taking the Boston cars for an ox team for Kingston. He is said to be a man of wealth, and good family connections. Newburyport Herald.

OUT OF EMPLOYMENT.—There are now in this city between one and two hundred hands out of employment, most of whom have been discharged because of the derangement in the money market. If business does not revive before the winter sets in, hard times may be anticipated with the working classes.—Richmond (Va.) Dispatch.

LAKE DISASTERS.—Oswego, N. Y., Nov. 26.—A large number of vessels are ashore at different points on the lake. No loss of life has as yet been reported. A blinding snow storm has prevailed here to-day. At Watertown the snow is from 12 to 18 inches in depth.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Schooner Joseph Fish, from St. George, Me., for Washington, when off Sandy Hook lost George Brown and Freeman Harris, seamen, overboard yesterday. Also lost both anchors, and was taken in tow, when she struck on a stone heap, causing her to leak badly.—Was run ashore at Quarantine.

It is a mistaken idea that women talk more than men, arising from the fact that we pay them more attention.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 26.—Associations calling themselves Southern Volunteers, displayed the Palmetto flag from their rooms to-day.

The bark Isabel displayed the Palmetto flag, when all the ships in the vicinity immediately displayed the stars and stripes.

The official count shows the Republican vote of New York to be 361,733. The fusion vote was 314,176. Total vote 675,909; Republican majority, 47,557; increase of the whole vote since 1856, 89,420; increase of the Republican vote, 85,726; decrease of the anti-Republican vote, 6,306.

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

THE MOST EFFECTUAL REMEDY FOR COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMAS, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION, &c.

The most solemn assurance is given that there is not a fact stated with respect to the powers of this invaluable remedy, which is not fully established in every class of cases for which it is recommended, by a mass of evidence which must carry conviction to the most skeptical mind; and the medicine, though thus highly effectual in its remedial character, is in the utmost degree innocent in its composition, and may be taken by the most delicate. It invariably gives relief within TEN MINUTES in all cases; and a few days' perseverance will be sufficient to effect a cure in all recent attacks of Coughs or Cold. They are pleasant to the taste, the active principle of the herbs being combined with sugar in the least objectionable form, and any child will readily take them.

Price 25 cents per box. Sold by W. R. PRESTON and all druggists. nov28 dawtm

The Great English Remedy!

Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female Pills

Prepared from a Prescription of

SIR J. CLARKE, M. D.,

Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

The Proprietors hold hundreds of testimonials to the virtues of SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS, but their peculiar nature prevents publication; but certain it is that they are the only sure and safe remedy in use for all those painful and dangerous diseases peculiar to the female constitution. In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed. They never fail to moderate excesses and to remove obstructions, from whatever cause. They are purely vegetable, and will not injure the most delicate constitution.—For particulars, send for a pamphlet to the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, by return mail. nov28 dawtm

Sold by W. R. PRESTON and all druggists.

Catarrh is the most difficult of any of the Diseases of the Breathing Organs to relieve or to cure. The Rev. Joshua Leavitt, editor of the Independent of New York, who had the Catarrh for more than twenty years, has been cured by using Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron and Sulphur Powders, which are advertised in this paper. His testimonial is published in a pamphlet among others equally prominent who have been cured of chronic Throats and Lung difficulties, which will be sent free by mail.

WISTAR'S BALSAM WILD CHERRY

Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Quinsy, and the numerous as well as dangerous diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, prevail, in our changeable climate, at all seasons of the year; few are fortunate enough to escape their baneful influence. How important, then, to have at hand a certain antidote to all these complaints. Experience proves that this exists in Wistar's Balsam to an extent not found in any other remedy; however severe the suffering, the application of this soothing, healing and wonderful Balsam at once vanquishes the disease, and restores the sufferer to wonted health.

From a Respectable Druggist.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 3, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & CO., Boston,—

Gents:—Please send me a fresh supply of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. We are selling large quantities of this truly celebrated remedy for Coughs and Colds, and it bids fair to outlive most of the so-called specifics which are now in vogue. We can confidently recommend it as a remedy for what it is intended. Very truly yours,

NATHAN P. THACHER.

Mr. D. H. TEAGUE, of Turner Village,

Writes the proprietors of this great remedy, as follows:

TURNER VILLAGE, ME., July 31, 1860.

Messrs. SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston.—

Gents:—I do not hesitate to recommend DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for coughs and pulmonary affections, having used it in my family for many years with great satisfaction; indeed it has done more good than all the other remedies I have tried, and their name is legion. It is the potent medicine of the market, and they possessed but a portion of the merit of this excellent Balsam, there would be no occasion to condemn them as humbugs.

The medicine is also used by many of my friends and acquaintances in this town, and they have found it invaluable; and I hope others who suffer may give it a fair trial. Very respectfully,

D. H. TEAGUE.

THE INFANTILE CORDIAL.—We notice our druggists have received a supply of DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, which every mother should have. It is said to contain no paregoric or opium of any kind whatever, and of course must be invaluable for all infantile complaints. It is also said that it will allay all pains, and soften the gums in process of teething, and at the same time regulate the bowels. Let all mothers and nurses, who have endured anxious days and sleepless nights, procure a supply and be at once relieved.

CITY ELECTION.

The Annual Election of City and Ward Officers of Portsmouth took place on Tuesday, Nov. 27; and resulted, as the details show, in the election of William Simes, as Mayor, by a majority of 134, and in the election of the Republican ticket in Wards 1 and 2, giving a Republican majority of Aldermen and Common Council. Ward 3 elected the Democratic ticket.

There was much scratching in Wards 1 and 2, but it amounted to nothing. There was no choice of candidate for Overseer of the Poor, in Ward 2, consequently there is a vacancy to be filled.

☞ It will be seen that Mr. Lamprey advertises a grand Ball, at Irving Hall, for Thanksgiving (Thursday) Evening.

☞ A schooner (of which we have no particular information) went ashore at Kittery, in this harbor, in the storm of Tuesday morning, and filled and sunk. The crew were taken off by the U. S. Cutter.

☞ There are are many counterfeit bank bills in circulation recently, in this city—especially on the "Shelburne Falls Bank." Look out for them.

Mr. Keitt of South Carolina must have succeeded to the honor and power of the formerly distinguished Gen. Quattlebum, for in a recent speech he closed with this extraordinary sentence —"Let us unfurl the flag, and with the sword of State cut the bonds of this accursed Union."

PASSENGERS RETURNED.—New York, Nov. 26.—Steamer Columbia, from Charleston, brought 47 returned steerage passengers.

DR. CLAY, who is stopping for this week at the City Hotel, Portsmouth, is an old and experienced practitioner, as well as writer and lecturer; and is widely and favorably known. He brings testimonials without number, as to his ability as a physician, and his reliability as a gentleman—from the press in all sections of the country; and if endorsements amount to anything, it would seem that Dr. Clay is worthy of confidence and patronage. At any rate, he charges nothing for advice.

His Lectures for Wednesday and Thursday are well advertised by bills and newspapers—and a person may there gain instinable information.

DYSPEPSIA AND CONSUMPTION.—Which of these diseases occasions the victim the most suffering? The Dyspeptic will say the former. It is, therefore, a consoling fact, that Oxygenated Bitters cures this most distressing complaint.

OIL JUST RECEIVED.

New Bedford Oil of excellent quality just received by S. CLEAVES & SON.

The infamous practice of adulterating Brandies having become so common that a genuine article is the exception; it is of vital importance to those requiring it for Family use and Invalids, that it should be of undoubted purity and efficacy.

With a view to meeting the popular demand for a Brandy in its natural state, free from alcoholic fire or and impurities, and fully appreciating the fact that it is often commended by the Medical Faculty as a sustaining stimulant, when all other remedies fail, we are now bottling and selling at reasonable rates, a Brandy of our own importion, from one of the most responsible houses in France, and known as

"Bininger's Genuine Cognac Brandy."

It is mild, delicate and fruity, and is designed to be always uniform in quality and character.—Put up in pint and quart bottles, in cases containing two dozen pints and one dozen quarts, and is sold by all prominent druggists, grocers and town agents.

The above is also for sale in original packages, viz.: Eighth and Quarter Casks.

NEW FALL STOCK,

ANOTHER NEW STOVE

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL,

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY

Of Providence, R. I.

In introducing a new Cook Stove, of singularly novel construction and arrangement, it is proper that we speak of its peculiar merits.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven, with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is the most durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high-priced Air-Tight Cook Stoves, but will barely allude to them, viz:

1st. The double plates each side of the fire prevent any leak of ashes into the oven and make the stove more durable.

2d. The admission of external air between these plates, for the ventilation of the roasting oven, tends also to the preservation of the plates most exposed to destruction.

3d. The durable dump grate, with the ash box of ample size to receive the ashes and coals, is an attractive feature of the stove.

4th. The draft door, at each end of the fire box, is a great convenience when a quick fire is wanted

5th. The movable ash pan, which, though it forms a hearth to the stove, need not be used except once or twice a day for taking up and carrying away the ashes.

6th. The stove has but one damper, and but one division of flues on the back of and under the oven, ensuring a very quick bake.

7th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and tin jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

This stove was thoroughly tested before brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial of the stove.

John Trundy, Esq., one of our most practical and scientific mechanics, who has had large experience in the construction of stove patterns in years past, and has for many years been using one of the Stewart Stoves, has purchased one of the MODEL COOKS, and after a fair trial pronounces it far superior to the Stewart or any stove he has ever seen, for economy, convenience and dispatch. We might also refer to several other parties who are using the stove, and who award it the very highest praise.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be the stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is wanted.

We have nought to say against any other stove, believing that a man can sell his own goods without depreciating his neighbor's; but this we do say, that we honestly believe this is the best stove that can be found in the world; and what is more, we think others will agree with us after a trial of it. We invite any one to examine the stove, whether they wish to purchase or not.

For sale, with a great variety of

Furnaces, Ranges, Cooking, Office and Parlor Stoves; Coal Hods, Sitters, Faucet, Stove-Repairing Pieces, Parlor Grates, Etc.

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath-room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, Under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber, for twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MAGUIRE,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and the one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN McCART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

MOTHERS

It must be obvious not only to you, but to every attentive and intelligent mother, that the first diseases of infants arise chiefly from a disordered condition of their bowels, and in this connection, we present to your notice, for the alleviation and cure of these diseases, a remedy known as

Dr. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL,

Prepared from a formula used by Dr. Eaton with remarkable success during several years' practice. We know it to be a most reliable and efficacious remedy for infantile complaints, and one trial alone will convince you of its superiority over every other preparation of the kind. It is particularly recommended

FOR CHILDREN TEETHING,

And at this period of infantile life, when your anxious hearts are pained by witnessing the sufferings of your little ones, it will be invaluable in Softening the Gums, Reducing Inflammation and Relieving all Pain. FOR DISEASES ATTENDING TEETHING, such as Diarrhea, Dysentery, Griping in the Bowels, Acidity of the Stomach, Wind, Colic, and Fits in the Head, we confidently offer this as a certain relief and cure in every case when given in time. It will invariably regulate the stomach and bowels, and its importance in this respect can hardly be estimated.

IN CONVULSIONS,

From which more infants are said to die than from any other disease, thousands have suffered relieved instantaneously, as if by magic; and in this dread complaint alone, its intrinsic value is such that it has been recommended from one family to another; until the name of DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL has become "familiar as a household word." We now ask your attention to a subject of vital interest to you as well as to your suffering child. DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL contains

NO MORPHINE OR OPIATE,

Of any kind, or of whatever nature, or in any form, which we are fully warranted in saying cannot be said of any other preparation for infantile diseases, at this time before the public. We find that throughout the country, Mothers are becoming convinced of this truth, and of the sad and blighting consequences which are certain to result from the use of Opiates disguised in the form of quieting remedies; their continued administration being invariably followed by stupefaction and constipation of the bowels, rendering obstinate constipation. Hence is DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL differs from every other remedy.

DOES NOT CONSTIPATE

The Bowels, neither does it act by deadening the sensibilities of your children, but naturally, thro' its rare medicinal qualities, by removing all pain and cause of disease. We earnestly recommend you, therefore, to lose no time in procuring a bottle, that you may have at hand a remedy which will never fail to relieve your child in time of need. It is perfectly harmless, and cannot injure the most delicate infant.

Take none but DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL. This you can rely upon. Price 25 cts. per bottle.

ATWOOD'S QUININE TONIC BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities.

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonic and stomachic, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the public.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhea, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "he is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,

FOR MAKING

Bread, Tea Cakes

All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,

MANUFACTURED BY

EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,

Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,
NO. 33 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating house-keepers, bakers, &c., &c.

Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all the trouble and anxiety of other ferments, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the nutritious matter of the flour is lost in being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating a porous quality of dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the nutriment of meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 250 lbs. of bread, by the process herein, thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity with directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,

Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which, after leaving but a vegetable ash, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook.

The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and prove this compound worthy of public approval and extended use. Respectfully,
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."

HOW TO USE IT.

We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.

BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour,) to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing two or three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter of half the size of an egg, and make the paste stiff with cold milk or water, (milk is preferable,) barely stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into dinner rolls, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.

LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together; add cold water the better, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.

GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal, sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.

BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonful of Leaven in one pint of flour, and one pint of corn meal, all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make about quart of batter; add one egg, then three teaspoonfuls of Leaven; beat to a froth, and cook quick.

DUMPLINGS.—Sift together one quart of flour and two teaspoonfuls of Leaven; rub in a piece of butter half as large as an egg; mix with cold milk or water, and boil ten minutes.

CHAMBER STREET CAKES.—Sift together two large cups of flour and two teaspoonfuls of Leaven; put in half a cup of butter and a cup and a half of sugar; mix with cold water or milk to a stiff batter, and spice to suit the taste, and bake immediately.

CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs; the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth; then beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water, and three teaspoonfuls of leaven; flavor with the powdered rind and juice of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.

JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three tea spoonfuls of Leaven; rub in one teacupful of butter; add a cup and a half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out, and bake quick.

ELECTRIC CAKE.—One quart of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; add a cup of butter, one pound of currants, two cups of white sugar, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon; mix with cold milk to a stiff batter, and bake in a slow oven.

THE ONLY PREPARATION

Having Proof so Strong and Direct as to

Expel the Doubts of All.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools are now using the Hair Restorative in rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from a buggy against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its drying, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.

These and no other circumstances induced me to try your celebrated article "Hair Restorative" which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two mouths after the first application, I had a beautiful head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your preparation to every friend and acquaintance I have. Yours, &c.,

I shall not be my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.

You can publish this if you think proper.

Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to make to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he filled very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement. I give this to you of my own free will and accord, that you may sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.

THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color, and the thick locks of my youth; so much so, that I am really becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original color. I consider your Restorative a most wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Dr. Mott's

CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE

PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The testimony of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved a speedy curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSUMPTION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of long continued illness, or the combined diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful in an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have their own apothecary in their chamber, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, ovarian changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of Iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorous as a tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which renders it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also seems to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local congestion, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicinal iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Copious, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and despondent spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Nervousness.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as a Stomachic it strengthen and invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder, and Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Personswho, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak, sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct as to
Expel the Doubts of All.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, stop from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—

Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this country. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test.—

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.

These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.

You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite thick and curly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement: I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original color. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

New Photographic Establishment.
Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with fine Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.
The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.
All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.
Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

THE SECESSION.

Mr. Memminger, in a speech at Greenville, advised a thorough preparation by the people of South Carolina for war, as a State could not secede without a conflict with the government.

The Boston Herald offers the following remarks on Secession and Disunion:

The movement of the disunionists at the South is dragging its slow length along, but does not appear to make much headway thus far. The hot-heads in South Carolina and Georgia have held large meetings and passed high-sounding and windy resolutions. The legislators have voted a large sum of money to arm and equip the 'Minute Men,' as they are called, and the chivalry are parading their forces up and down the streets of some of the principal Southern cities and towns, brandishing their sabres over the heads of unoffending Northern people who have taken up their residence among them. These unfortunate Northerners are dragged from their homes, and either hung up to some tree by these chivalrous Southrons, or tarred and feathered; or, perhaps, treated to a ride on a rail, then beaten with stakes, and their heads shaven; and if, after these outrages, life is left, the victims are started for the North. After the fatigue of thus "hazing" a Northerner is over, these brave warriors, conscious of having rendered a signal service to their beloved South, retire to some grocery to take a drink of rye whisky to restore their exhausted energies before renewing the combat.

The talk of a Southern Republic has already ruined their credit. The Banks have suspended, the price of cotton has fallen, also that of negroes, and the people there have no money to pay their indebtedness abroad, to say nothing of supporting an army and navy at home. The threat of these brave Southern men to resign their seats in Congress has been postponed; these gentlemen giving as a reason therefor that they will remain in the Union on certain conditions, one of which is that they shall be allowed to take their slaves into new territories, and keep them there, and that the people of the territories must submit to it. This whole game of brag and bluster will, in our judgment, end in a grand fizzle. It is gotten up by the Yanceys and Rhetts to frighten the North into submission to their unreasonable demands. But it won't go down with a free people, and we much mistake the true sentiment of a large majority of the Southern people if they do not put these fire-eating gentleman down.

DEFINITE, VERY.—"The cause in which we are engaged is a just cause; the people are with us; let us say, "we will ask for nothing which is not right—we will submit to nothing wrong."—Republican paper.

We have had about enough of general talk like this. Who would not adopt and stand by the above? There is not a disunist or secessionist, who would not declare that to be his precise position.—Democratic paper.

Exactly, says Uncle Toby. The quotation, "ask for nothing which is not right, and submit to nothing wrong," was often used by Gen. Jackson, and was re-echoed all over the country, by the newspapers which favored him, as the best possible exhibition of his policy at home and abroad.

☞ About a year ago the New York Hotel Committee published a statement reflecting upon Gerritt Smith in connection with the John Brown raid. These gentlemen have recently, very humbly, published a card of retraction, enclosing $3000 for the benefit of charitable institutions, but, as it turns out, as the condition for quashing a libel suit which was hanging over them.

☞ A writer in the Charleston Courier, who is in favor of secession, is troubled somewhat about the subject of the slave trade, which he fears may weaken the counsels of the disunionists, and affect the position of some of the frontier States.

THE KANSAS TROUBLES.—The New York Times has the following:

LAWRENCE, K. T., via LEAVENWORTH, Sunday, Nov. 25.

The whole country is imposed upon by the late reports of the Kansas difficulties. I adjure all to await the facts before judging the matter. Judge Williams, who has so deceived the public, is a frightened old dotard, unworthy of credence. This Court has not been molested. Fort Scott has not been attacked. Neither Paris nor any other place has been sacked. Montgomery's party has not entered Missouri, and never intended to. Not one cent has been given to him or his men from the recent eastern contributions. No arms or munitions have been sent them, as reported;—all their arms have been in the Territory for years. I challenge proof to the contrary.

All such statements as Judge Williams has made are vile fabrications, which are doing our people infinite wrong. Let the public charge it either to his malice or to his ignorance. Still, it is admitted that exciting events are upon us.

WM. HUTCHINSON.

☞ It will be seen that the Annual Meeting of the Rockingham County Agricultural Society is advertised to be held in Portsmouth, for the first time, next Monday.

WHAT BUSINESS MEN THINK.—We have treated the noise about secession as a piece of ignorant folly. Now the reader may see what the moneyed men of New York say to it. A meeting of the Board of Currency of New York was held, at which a report upon the present financial difficulties was submitted by a committee consisting of George Opdyke, William A. Booth, Joseph Lawrence, Matthew Morgan and James Gallatin. The committee report "that after a careful consideration of the subject, they are fully convinced that these difficulties are solely attributable to political causes. The efforts of political agitators, and threats of secession, have produced a sudden contraction of credit, and impaired public confidence. This constitutes the whole difficulty." The committee then consider at length the financial and commercial condition of the country, and find that they are free from every element that could produce, or even aggravate, a commercial crisis. On the contrary, the condition was never sounder. Threats of secession and repudiation have produced the whole difficulty, and the committee treat these threats as follows:

We will first suppose that they are made in earnest, and that they will have the power of carrying these threats into execution. What would be the effect on the financial and commercial interests of this city? It would seriously embarrass the houses that have sold goods to the seceding States, and doubtless bankrupt some of them. But there is no reason why it should impair confidence in, or affect the credit of any other houses; nor is there any reason why it should affect our money market, or any class of securities not connected with those states. In short, there is nothing in the worst possible aspect of the case that should seriously alarm the bankers and merchants of this city.

But the supposition is too absurd to merit serious consideration. The threats of repudiation come from the public press and excited politicians. But, fortunately, these are not the parties indebted to the North. The debtors are merchants, and their ruling sentiment is honor and fidelity to their engagements. Even now, in the midst of the panic and consequent embarrassments produced by these noisy menaces, the merchants of the South are straining every nerve to meet their engagements at the North; and if secession should actually take place, it would not change the sentiment or abate these efforts. Therefore, the worst we have to apprehend, in any contingency, is less promptitude in collection from the South; but it could not produce any sensible effect on the money market.

But secession cannot take place, either peaceably or forcibly. There can be little doubt that a large majority of the people of the South, with the entire North, will oppose it. It is believed that in no State save South Carolina are the secessionists in a majority—if, indeed, they are there; but if such would prove to be the case, they are utterly powerless against the united voice of the other States and the power of the general government.

FROM KANSAS.—Leavenworth, Nov. 27. The Republicans held a meeting here on Saturday, Major McDowell presiding.—Resolutions to the following effect were adopted: That as the horrors of civil war are added to the famine in southeastern Kansas, without expressing an opinion as to the causes which led to the action of Montgomery and his followers, our duty as citizens is to denounce unlawful and insurrectionary acts, and to support the executive authority in preserving the peace; that the recent expulsion of settlers by the government, in a season of utter destitution and famine, was an act of unparalleled cruelty; that we condemn the attempts to embroil the Territory by disunionists without or nullifiers within the borders of Kansas.

After the adjournment another meeting was held by the opponents of the resolutions adopted at the previous meeting.—Judge McCahon presided. Resolutions were adopted that, as no reliable information had been received, a committee of three be appointed to ascertain the facts;—that the expulsion by government of the settlers was an unparalleled outrage; that every person found guilty of a violation of the laws of the country should suffer the legal penalty. After the appointment of the committee mentioned in the resolutions, the meeting adjourned.

Intelligence from Lawrence states that Gov. Beebe had arrived there. He had an interview with Montgomery, who, with 43 men, tried, found guilty, and hung a man for stealing a free negro. Beebe was present. Fort Scott had not been harmed.—Paris had not been sacked. Everything is reported quiet at Kansas City.

Another account says that Beebe expostulated with Montgomery, and the latter set the man free.

Gen. Harney and Gov. Medary arrived at the Fort this morning, and will leave tomorrow with 100 dragoons and two pieces of artillery for Southern Kansas.

Troops have started from Fort Riley for the same destination. Secrecy was observed by the officials.

Montgomery acknowledged the late murders. He says that no fugitive slaves shall be taken back to Missouri, and will continue his operations against Missouri, Arkansas and Texas. If large bodies of troops are sent against him, he will harass them.

[The reader may reconcile these conflicting dispatches if he can. There seems to be more smoke than fire.]

TORONTO, Nov. 26.—The extradition case of a fugitive named Jackson, from Missouri, charged with committing murder in effecting his escape from slavery, was argued on Saturday. A decision will be given on Thursday next.

The editor of the Boston Post says he always he always takes a few drops daily of the "Hawk" brand of gin, during a panic, Don't they have a continuous panic in the neighborhood of that paper?—Bath Times.

THE PRINCE OF WALES has arrived home, safe and sound, after a rough voyage. The details of the voyage show that the Royal Squadron experienced head wind and bad weather the whole passage. The vessels were within a day's sail of England on the 6th, when a heavy gale prevented their further progress. They had only another's week's provisions on board, and the Royal party for the last few days lived on salt and preserved provisions. They arrived all well. The Prince reached Windsor Castle on the evening of the 15th.

The return of the Prince is the theme of congratulatory editorials in the newspapers generally, and the reiteration of warm compliments to the American people.

The Times says the Prince, while showing the feelings of a true born Englishman, has elicited the encomiums of all true Americans, and so brought the two nations face to face, and made them feel that they are brothers.

OPENING OF DERBY'S INSTITUTE OF FINE ARTS.—On Monday evening last, the magnificent Art Gallery just erected on Broadway, New York, by Mr. Derby, of the Cosmopolitan Art Association, was thrown open to the public. The front of the building, so tasteful and elegant, and made conspicuous in the street of palaces by the introduction of fine sculpture, excited expectation with regard to the interior, which expectation was more than realized at the opening. The gallery or galleries, for there are projections which suggest three, occupy the entire length of two hundred feet, and form the finest series of rooms in America.

The decorations, while they are superb in an eminent degree, the walls of one of the principal sections being covered with red velvet, are still made entirely subservient to the superior interest, the paintings.—The crowd which greeted the opening, was composed of the real magnates of the metropolis; ladies distinguished for beauty and position, gentlemen eminent in art, literature, on change, and at the bar. Everything passed off to the entire satisfaction of all present. Mr. Derby has cause to be proud of his triumph, and the city and the country at large are indebted to him for such a magnificent temple, dedicated to refinement and the highest civilization; of the pictures, especially the Jarves collection, we shall speak in detail.—N. Y. Spirit of the Times.

The Empress Eugenie arrived in London on the 14th, and remained there two days in the strictest incognito. She was to visit Scotland, in hopes of restoring her impaired health.

ITALY.—By steamer Arabia, we have a few items from Italy, &c.

It is stated that a conspiracy has been discovered against Francis Second at Gaeta, and two officers and two men had been shot.

The official from the Piedmontese Gazette of the 15th says the Neapolitan General Satreano proposed to Gen. Fanti a surrender of the Neapolitan troops who remained outside of Gaeta, consisting of ten battalions of chasseurs and a regiment of cavalry. Fanti rejected the proposition, and after a combat on the 12th, the Bourbon troops re-entered Gaeta, and the Sardinians took up fresh positions around the town. The garrison at Gaeta, consisted of 18 battalions, but the dispatch announces that two merchant steamers, carrying French colors, had left Gaeta with troops, supposed to be destined for Civita Vecchia.

The Lazzaroni at Naples had indulged in demonstrations for Garibaldi and the Dictatorship. They were dispersed by the troops.

Victor Emanuel had prohibited the destruction of Fort St. Alms.

Garibaldi has been appointed a General of the army.

An attempt had been made to introduce arms into Hungary. English vessels were engaged in the enterprise.

Preparations of war were being continued at Mantua, &c.

☞ The National Intelligencer says there is no truth in the report that the census returns have been withheld. The delay in their transmission has arisen from causes beyond the control of the Marshal, and has no connection with political affairs in South Carolina.

GEN. HARNEY'S KANSAS FORCE.—Gen. Harney will have two companies of the second dragoons, two light batteries and three companies of the second infantry—in all, over five hundred men, half of them well mounted.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

How wondrous are the changes, Jim,
Since twenty years ago,
When gals wore woolen dresses, Jim,
And boys wore pants of tow;
When shoes were made of calf-skin,
And socks of homespun wool;
And children did a half day's work,
Before the hour of school.

The girls took music lessons, Jim,
Upon the spinning wheel;
And "practiced" late and early, Jim,
On spindle, swift and reel.
The boys would ride "bareback" to mill,
A dozen miles or so,
And hurry off before 'twas day—
Some twenty years ago.

Then people rode to meeting, Jim,
In sleds instead of sleighs,
And wagons rode as easy, Jim,
As "Brown buggies" to-day;
And oxen answered well for teams—
Though now they'd be too slow;
For people lived not half so fast
Some twenty years ago.

O, well do I remember, Jim,
That "Wilson's Patent Stove,"
That father bought and paid for, Jim,
In cloth our gals had wove;
And how the neighbors wondered,
When we got the thing to go;
They said 'twould bust and kill us all,
Some twenty years ago.

Yes, everything is different, Jim,
From what it used to was;
For men are always tampering, Jim,
With God's great natural laws,—
And what on earth we're coming to,
Does anybody know?
For everything has changed so much,
Since twenty years ago.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The Census Bureau has returns from all the States, including South Carolina, except in a few scattered districts where they are withheld for correction. OSWEGO, N. Y., Nov. 27.—Bark Tornado has gone to pieces on Tibbett's Point.—Crew lost. Six barks and ten schooners are also ashore on different points of the lake—all grain laden.

BUFFALO, Nov. 27.—Propeller Jersey City was totally lost at Port Dover. The captain and four men saved—rest of the crew lost.

SEVEN YEARS!

The seven years of unrivalled success attending the

COSMOPOLITAN

Art Association,

have made it a household word throughout every quarter of our country.

Under the auspices of this popular Institution, over three hundred thousand homes have learned to appreciate—by beautiful works of art on their walls, and choice literature on their tables—the great benefits derived from becoming a subscriber.

Subscriptions are now being received in a ratio unparalleled by that of any previous year.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Any person can become a member by subscribing three dollars, for which sum they will receive

1st.—The large and superb steel engraving, 30 x 38 inches, entitled

Falstaff Mustering His Recruits,

2d.—One copy, one year, of that elegantly illustrated magazine, the

"COSMOPOLITAN ART JOURNAL."

3d.—Four admissions, during the season, to

"The Gallery of Paintings, 548 Broadway, New York."

In addition to the above benefits, there will be given to subscribers, as gratuitous premiums, over comprising valuable paintings, marbles, parians, ostliens, &c., forming a truly national benefit.

Five Hundred Beautiful Works of Art,

THE SUPERB ENGRAVING, which every subscriber will receive, entitled "FALSTAFF MUSTERING HIS RECRUITS," is one of the most beautiful and popular ever made in this country. It is done on steel, in fine line and stipple, and is printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 38 inches, making a most choice ornament, suitable for the walls of either the library, par or or office. Its subject is the celebrated scene of Sir John Falstaff receiving in Justice Shallow's office the recruits which had been gathered for his "Ragged Regiment." It will not be furnished by the trade for less than five dollars.

The Art Journal is too well known to the whole country to need commendation. It is a magnificently illustrated magazine of Art, containing Essays, Stories, Poems, Gossip, &c., by the very best writers in America.

The Engraving is sent to any part of the country by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postage prepaid.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of January 31, 1861, at which time the books will close, and the premiums be given to subscribers.

No person is restricted to a single subscription. Those remitting $15, are entitled to five memberships, and one extra Engraving for their trouble. Subscriptions from California, the Canadas, and all Foreign Countries, must be $3.50 instead of $3, in order to defray extra postage, &c.

For further particulars send for a copy of the elegantly illustrated Art Journal, pronounced the handsomest magazine in America. It contains Catalogue of Premiums, and numerous superb engravings. Regular price, 50 cts. per number.—Specimen copies, however, will be sent to those wishing to subscribe, on receipt of 18 cents, in stamps or coin.

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

THE MOST EFFECTUAL REMEDY FOR COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMAS, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION, &c.

The most solemn assurance is given that there is not a fact stated with respect to the powers of this invaluable remedy, which is not fully established in every class of cases for which it is recommended, by a mass of evidence which must carry conviction to the most skeptical mind; and the medicine, though thus highly effectual in its remedial character, is in the utmost degree innocent in its composition, and may be taken by the most delicate. It invariably gives relief within TEN MINUTES in all cases; and a few days' perseverance will be sufficient to effect a cure in all recent attacks of Coughs or Cold. They are pleasant to the taste, the active principle of the herbs being combined with sugar in the least objectionable form, and any child will readily take them.

WISTAR'S BALSAM WILD CHERRY

Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Quinsy, and the numerous as well as dangerous diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, prevail, in our changeable climate, at all seasons of the year; few are fortunate enough to escape their baneful influence. How important, then, to have at hand a certain antidote to all these complaints. Experience proves that this exists in Wistar's Balsam to an extent not found in any other remedy; however severe the suffering, the application of this soothing, healing and wonderful Balsam at once vanquishes the disease, and restores the sufferer to wonted health.

From a Respectable Druggist.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 3, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & Co., Boston.—

Gents:—Please send me a fresh supply of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. We are selling large quantities of this long celebrated remedy for Coughs and Colds, and it bids fair to outlive most of the so-called specifics which are now in vogue. We can confidently recommend it as a remedy for what it is intended. Very truly yours,

D. H. TEAGUE.

Mr. D. H. TEAGUE, of Turner Village, Writes the proprietors of this great remedy, as follows:

TURNER VILLAGE, ME., July 31, 1860.

Messrs. SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston.—

Gents:—I do not hesitate to recommend DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for coughs and pulmonary affections, having used it in my family for many years with great satisfaction; indeed it has done more good than all the other remedies I have tried, and their name is legion. If all the patent medicines in the market possessed but a portion of the merit of this excellent Balsam, there would be no occasion to condemn them as humbugs.

The medicine is also used by many of my friends and acquaintances in this town, and they have found it invaluable; and I hope that others who suffer may give it a fair trial. Very respectfully,

D. H. TEAGUE.

Local.

☞ To-day being scrupulously observed as Thanksgiving, by all the Chroniclers—of course no Daily Chronicle will be issued on Friday morning.

The Weekly Chronicle will be published this (Thursday) morning; and will contain among other things, full report of our City Election. Price $1 per year—single copies 3 cents, or in wrappers for mailing, 4 cents.

☞ Of the many vessels built on the Piscataqua, from time to time, none have surpassed in beauty of model, excellence of finish and general superiority in spars, rigging and fittings, the new ship "Santee," of 1000 tons, built by Messrs. Tobey and Littlefield of this city, and owned by Messrs. J. M. & T. S. Tredick. Our attention was call to this ship by seeing her mentioned in your issue of yesterday; since then we have "visited, examined and admired" her, and we must be allowed to speak particularly of the beauty and finish of the cabin, which was done by Mr. Edward D. Coffin, a young man of much ability and good taste as a painter and letterer, and who ranks high at his business. J.

☞ It seems to us, that a city population of ten thousand, of which only four or five hundred people can be gathered, at ninepence a ticket, to hear the most celebrated orator in America; and scarcely a fourth, even of that small number, to listen to another orator, much more esteemed here, and hardly less distinguished, at sixpence per seat,—why, it seems to us that, making every other allowance, it can hardly be set down as a very literary community.

☞ The Opening Lecture of the Course under direction of the Freewill Baptist Society in this city, was given at the Temple, Tuesday evening, by Prof. A. P. Peabody. His subject was, Ecclesiastical History; embracing accounts of early female christian martyrs. Owing to the threatening weather, and it being the evening of our City election, the audience was not near so large as it would otherwise have been.

☞ Election in Ward Two, to fill vacancy in the Board of Overseers of the Poor, will be held at Jefferson Hall on Friday morning next, at 10 o'clock. R. K. Oxford, Aaron B. Mudge and Wm. Bodge were the three candidates on Tuesday.

☞ It will be seen that Mr. Lamprey advertises a grand Ball, at Irving Hall, for Thanksgiving (Thursday) Evening.

NEW FALL STOCK,

ANOTHER NEW STOVE

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL,

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY

Of Providence, R. I.

In introducing a new Cook Stove, of singularly novel construction and arrangement, it is proper that we speak of its peculiar merits.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven, with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, yiz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is the most durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high-priced Air-Tight Cook Stoves, but will barely allude to them, viz:

1st. The double plates each side of the fire prevent any leak of ashes into the oven and make the stove more durable.

2d. The admission of external air between these plates, for the ventilation of the roasting oven, tends also to the preservation of the plates most exposed to destruction.

3d. The durable dump grate, with the ash box of ample size to receive the ashes and coals, is an attractive feature of the stove.

4th. The draft door, at each end of the fire box, is a great convenience when a quick fire is wanted.

5th. The movable ash pan, which, though it forms a hearth to the stove, need not be used except once or twice a day for taking up and carrying away the ashes.

6th. The stove has but one damper, and but one division of flues on the back of and under the oven, ensuring a very quick bake.

7th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and tin jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

This stove was thoroughly tested before brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial of the stove.

John Trundy, Esq., one of our most practical and scientific mechanics, who has had large experience in the construction of stove patterns in years past, and has for many years been using one of the Stewart Stoves, has purchased one of the MODEL COOKS, and after a fair trial pronounces it far superior to the Stewart or any stove he has ever seen, for economy, convenience and dispatch. We might also refer to several other parties who are using the stove, and who award it the very highest praise.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be the stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is wanted.

We have nought to say against any other stove, believing that a man can sell his own goods without depreciating his neighbor's; but this we do say, that we honestly believe this is the best stove that can be found in the world; and what is more, we think others will agree with us after a trial of it. We invite any one to examine the stove, whether they wish to purchase or not.

For sale, with a great variety of

Furnaces, Ranges, Cooking, Office and Parlor Stoves! Coal Hods, Sifters, Funnel, Stove-Repairing Pieces, Parlor Grates, Etc.

Autocrat of the Kitchen.—35,000 in use

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, Under the act of 1837.

78 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the validity of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents, which, he includes his extensive library of legal and mechanical works on early accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and I have no hesitation in giving him unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, and to be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

MOTHERS

It must be obvious not only to you, but to every attentive and intelligent person, that the first diseases and infants arise solely from a disordered condition of their bowels, and in this connection, we present to your notice, for the alleviation and cure of these diseases, a remedy known as

Dr. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL,

Prepared from a formula used by Dr. Eaton with remarkable success during several years practice. We know it to be a most reliable and efficacious remedy for infantile complaints, and one trial alone will convince you of its superiority over every other preparation of the kind. It is particularly recommended

FOR CHILDREN TEETHING,

And at this period of infantile life, when your anxious hearts are pained by witnessing the sufferings of your little ones, it will be found invaluable in Softening the Gums, Reducing Inflammation and Relieving all Pain. FOR DISEASES ATTENDING TEETHING, such as Diarrhea, Dysentery, Griping in the Bowels, Acidity of the Stomach, Wind, Colic, and Child in the Bowel, we confidently offer this as a certain relief and cure in every case when given in time. It will invariably regulate the stomach and bowels, and its importance in this respect can hardly be estimated.

IN CONVULSIONS,

From which more infants are said to die than from any other disease, the little sufferer is relieved immediately, as if by magic. Not in this dread complaint alone, its intrinsic value is such that it has been recommended from one family to another, until the name of DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, has become familiar as a household word." We now ask your attention to a subject of vital interest to yourself as well as your suffering child. DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL contains

NO MORPHINE OR OPIATE,

Of any kind, or of whatever nature, a fact which we are fully prepared to substantiate to any one in proper preparation for infantile diseases, at this time before the public. We find that throughout the country, mothers are becoming convinced of this truth, and of the sad and blighting consequences which are certain to result from the use of narcotics disguised in the form of quieting remedies; their soothing and calming effects being invariably followed by stupefaction and constipation of the bowels, ending oftentimes in convulsions. Hereby DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL differs from every other remedy. It

DOES NOT CONSTIPATE

The Bowels, neither does it act by deadening the sensibilities of your children, but naturally, from its rare medicinal qualities, by removing all pain and cause of disease. We earnestly recommend you, therefore, to lose no time in procuring a bottle, that you may have at hand a remedy which will never fail to relieve your child in time of need. It is perfectly harmless, and cannot injure the most delicate infant.

Take none but DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL. This you can rely upon. Price 25 cts. per bottle.

Prepared only by CHURCH & DUPONT, No. 409 Broadway, New York.

ATWOOD'S QUININE TONIC BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities.

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonic and *stomachic*s, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, and kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhea, dysentery and cholera morbus, the tonic and astringent properties of this medicine are not equalled by any other general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "that it is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may comfortably avail themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

Humphreys' Specific Homeopathic Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhea, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—prompt, so as to cut the disease short—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger stayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being just what is needed, SIMPLE, SAFE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for more five years past, in every section of this country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

Dr. Mott's CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE IN PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combination in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this preparation has proved successful to an extent which no delicacy in submitting such testimonials would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise of which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of constipation, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single dose of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, rapidly emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local cough, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicine from has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases specified following them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been found, as reported, both as an alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and full restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

BININGER'S OLD KENTUCKY BOURBON "1849 RESERVE"

The established popularity of this CHOICE OLD BOURBON as a medicinal agent, renders it superior to medicinal brandies of all other brands, which distinguish it from the ordinary grade of Kentucky Whiskeys.

Being distilled in 1848, and manufactured expressly for us with great care, it can be relied upon as a strictly pure stimulant, and peculiarly efficacious in the treatment of Lung Complaints, Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Stomach, Nervousness, &c.

As a sacrificing agent it has a tendency to recreate and strengthen; while age has ripened its genial charm, and enriched it with a delicious flavor and an oily body, it affords a pleasant incentive to the preservation or recovery of health, through the agreeable medium of a well pleased palate.

Put up in a variety of attractive forms, in iron-bound cases of one and two dozen bottles each, and sold by all prominent druggists, grocers and town agents. A. M. BININGER & CO.,

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intermittent Fever, Ague, Exhaustion, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney complaints, will obtain speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the concern face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint Bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct as to
Expel the Doubts of All.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for the cure of erysipelas, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, stop it from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—

Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillips, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. I succeeded in induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement: I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

THE SECESSION.

Mr. Memminger, in a speech at Greenville, advised a thorough preparation by the people of South Carolina for war, as a State could not secede without a conflict with the government.

The Boston Herald offers the following remarks on Secession and Disunion:

The movement of the disunionists at the South is dragging its slow length along, but does not appear to make much headway thus far. The hot-heads in South Carolina and Georgia have held large meetings and passed high-sounding and windy resolutions. The legislators have voted a large sum of money to arm and equip the 'Minute Men,' as they are called, and the chivalry are parading their forces up and down the streets of some of the principal Southern cities and towns, brandishing their sabres over the heads of unoffending Northern people who have taken up their residence among them. These unfortunate Northerners are dragged from their homes, and either hung up to some tree by these chivalrous Southrons, or tarred and feathered; or, perhaps, treated to a ride on a rail, then beaten with stakes, and their heads shaven; and if, after these outrages, life is left, the victims are started for the North. After the fatigue of thus "hazing" a Northerner is over, these brave warriors, conscious of having rendered a signal service to their beloved South, retire to some grocery to take a drink of rye whisky to restore their exhausted energies before renewing the combat.

The talk of a Southern Republic has already ruined their credit. The Banks have suspended, the price of cotton has fallen, also that of negroes, and the people there have no money to pay their indebtedness abroad, to say nothing of supporting an army and navy at home. The threat of these brave Southern men to resign their seats in Congress has been postponed; these gentlemen giving as a reason therefor that they will remain in the Union on certain conditions, one of which is that they shall be allowed to take their slaves into new territories, and keep them there, and that the people of the territories must submit to it. This whole game of brag and bluster will, in our judgment, end in a grand fizzle. It is gotten up by the Yanceys and Rhetts to frighten the North into submission to their unreasonable demands. But it won't go down with a free people, and we much mistake the true sentiment of a large majority of the Southern people if they do not put these fire-eating gentleman down.

DEFINITE, VERY.—"The cause in which we are engaged is a just cause; the people are with us; let us say, "we will ask for nothing which is not right—we will submit to nothing wrong."—Republican paper.

We have had about enough of general talk like this. Who would not adopt and stand by the above? There is not a disunist or secessionist, who would not declare that to be his precise position.—Democratic paper.

Exactly, says Uncle Toby. The quotation, "ask for nothing which is not right, and submit to nothing wrong," was often used by Gen. Jackson, and was re-echoed all over the country, by the newspapers which favored him, as the best possible exhibition of his policy at home and abroad.

☞ About a year ago the New York Hotel Committee published a statement reflecting upon Gerritt Smith in connection with the John Brown raid. These gentlemen have recently, very humbly, published a card of retraction, enclosing $3000 for the benefit of charitable institutions, but, as it turns out, as the condition for quashing a libel suit which was hanging over them.

☞ A writer in the Charleston Courier, who is in favor of secession, is troubled somewhat about the subject of the slave trade, which he fears may weaken the counsels of the disunionists, and affect the position of some of the frontier States.

THE KANSAS TROUBLES.—The New York Times has the following:

LAWRENCE, K. T., via LEAVENWORTH, Sunday, Nov. 25.

The whole country is imposed upon by the late reports of the Kansas difficulties. I adjure all to await the facts before judging the matter. Judge Williams, who has so deceived the public, is a frightened old dotard, unworthy of credence. This Court has not been molested. Fort Scott has not been attacked. Neither Paris nor any other place has been sacked. Montgomery's party has not entered Missouri, and never intended to. Not one cent has been given to him or his men from the recent eastern contributions. No arms or munitions have been sent them, as reported;—all their arms have been in the Territory for years. I challenge proof to the contrary.

All such statements as Judge Williams has made are vile fabrications, which are doing our people infinite wrong. Let the public charge it either to his malice or to his ignorance. Still, it is admitted that exciting events are upon us.

WM. HUTCHINSON.

☞ It will be seen that the Annual Meeting of the Rockingham County Agricultural Society is advertised to be held in Portsmouth, for the first time, next Monday.

WHAT BUSINESS MEN THINK.—We have treated the noise about secession as a piece of ignorant folly. Now the reader may see what the moneyed men of New York say to it. A meeting of the Board of Currency of New York was held, at which a report upon the present financial difficulties was submitted by a committee consisting of George Opdyke, William A. Booth, Joseph Lawrence, Matthew Morgan and James Gallatin. The committee report "that after a careful consideration of the subject, they are fully convinced that these difficulties are solely attributable to political causes. The efforts of political agitators, and threats of secession, have produced a sudden contraction of credit, and impaired public confidence. This constitutes the whole difficulty." The committee then consider at length the financial and commercial condition of the country, and find that they are free from every element that could produce, or even aggravate, a commercial crisis. On the contrary, the condition was never sounder. Threats of secession and repudiation have produced the whole difficulty, and the committee treat these threats as follows:

We will first suppose that they are made in earnest, and that they will have the power of carrying these threats into execution. What would be the effect on the financial and commercial interests of this city? It would seriously embarrass the houses that have sold goods to the seceding States, and doubtless bankrupt some of them. But there is no reason why it should impair confidence in, or affect the credit of any other houses; nor is there any reason why it should affect our money market, or any class of securities not connected with those states. In short, there is nothing in the worst possible aspect of the case that should seriously alarm the bankers and merchants of this city.

But the supposition is too absurd to merit serious consideration. The threats of repudiation come from the public press and excited politicians. But, fortunately, these are not the parties indebted to the North. The debtors are merchants, and their ruling sentiment is honor and fidelity to their engagements. Even now, in the midst of the panic and consequent embarrassments produced by these noisy menaces, the merchants of the South are straining every nerve to meet their engagements at the North; and if secession should actually take place, it would not change the sentiment or abate these efforts. Therefore, the worst we have to apprehend, in any contingency, is less promptitude in collection from the South; but it could not produce any sensible effect on the money market.

But secession cannot take place, either peaceably or forcibly. There can be little doubt that a large majority of the people of the South, with the entire North, will oppose it. It is believed that in no State save South Carolina are the secessionists in a majority—if, indeed, they are there; but if such would prove to be the case, they are utterly powerless against the united voice of the other States and the power of the general government.

FROM KANSAS.—Leavenworth, Nov. 27. The Republicans held a meeting here on Saturday, Mayor McDowell presiding.—Resolutions to the following effect were adopted: That as the horrors of civil war are added to the famine in southeastern Bansas, without expressing an opinion as to the causes which led to the action of Montgomery and his followers, our duty as citizens is to denounce unlawful and insurrectionary acts, and to support the executive authority in preserving the peace; that the recent expulsion of settlers by the government, in a season of utter destitution and famine, was an act of unparalleled cruelty; that we condemn the attempts to embroil the Territory by disunionists without or nullifiers within the borders of Kansas.

After the adjournment another meeting was held by the opponents of the resolutions adopted at the previous meeting.—Judge McCahon presided. Resolutions were adopted that, as no reliable information had been received, a committee of three be appointed to ascertain the facts;—that the expulsion by government of the settlers was an unparalleled outrage; that every person found guilty of a violation of the laws of the country should suffer the legal penalty. After the appointment of the committee mentioned in the resolutions, the meeting adjourned.

Intelligence from Lawrence states that Gov. Beebe had arrived there. He had an interview with Montgomery, who, with 43 men, tried, found guilty, and hung a man for stealing a free negro. Beebe was present. Fort Scott had not been harmed.—Paris had not been sacked. Everything is reported quiet at Kansas City.

Another account says that Beebe expostulated with Montgomery, and the latter set the man free.

Gen. Harney and Gov. Medary arrived at the Fort this morning, and will leave tomorrow with 100 dragoons and two pieces of artillery for Southern Kansas.

Troops have started from Fort Riley for the same destination. Secrecy was observed by the officials.

Montgomery acknowledged the late murders. He says that no fugitive slaves shall be taken back to Missouri, and will continue his operations against Missouri, Arkansas and Texas. If large bodies of troops are sent against him, he will harass them.

[The reader may reconcile these conflicting dispatches if he can. There seems to be more smoke than fire.]

TORONTO, Nov. 26.—The extradition case of a fugitive named Jackson, from Missouri, charged with commiting murder in effecting his escape from slavery, was argued on Saturday. A decision will be given on Thursday next.

The editor of the Boston Post says he always he always takes a few drops daily of the "Hawk" brand of gin, during a panic. Don't they have a continuous panic in the neighborhood of that paper?—Bath Times.

THE PRINCE OF WALES has arrived home, safe and sound, after a rough voyage. The details of the voyage show that the Royal Squadron experienced head wind and bad weather the whole passage. The vessels were within a day's sail of England on the 6th, when a heavy gale prevented their further progress. They had only another's week's provisions on board, and the Royal party for the last few days lived on salt and preserved provisions. They arrived all well. The Prince reached Windsor Castle on the evening of the 15th.

The return of the Prince is the theme of congratulatory editorials in the newspapers generally, and the reiteration of warm compliments to the American people.

The Times says the Prince, while showing the feelings of a true born Englishman, has elicited the encomiums of all true Americans, and so brought the two nations face to face, and made them feel that they are brothers.

OPENING OF DERBY'S INSTITUTE OF FINE ARTS.—On Monday evening last, the magnificent Art Gallery just erected on Broadway, New York, by Mr. Derby, of the Cosmopolitan Art Association, was thrown open to the public. The front of the building, so tasteful and elegant, and made conspicuous in the street of palaces by the introduction of fine sculpture, excited expectation with regard to the interior, which expectation was more than realized at the opening. The gallery or galleries, for there are projections which suggest three, occupy the entire length of two hundred feet, and form the finest series of rooms in America.

The decorations, while they are superb in an eminent degree, the walls of one of the principal sections being covered with red velvet, are still made entirely subservient to the superior interest, the paintings.—The crowd which greeted the opening, was composed of the real magnates of the metropolis; ladies distinguished for beauty and position, gentlemen eminent in art, literature, on change, and at the bar. Everything passed off to the entire satisfaction of all present. Mr. Derby has cause to be proud of his triumph, and the city and the country at large are indebted to him for such a magnificent temple, dedicated to refinement and the highest civilization; of the pictures, especially the Jarves collection, we shall speak in detail.—N. Y. Spirit of the Times.

The express mail from Glasgow for London, when at full speed, ran into a cattle train on the Trent Valley Railway, and nine persons, mostly drovers, and thirty head of cattle were killed. All the passengers by the express train miraculously escaped.

A subscription has been started to present Capt. Wilson with a picture of the rescue of the Connaught passengers.

Money was tight, and cotton had slightly declined.

The Empress Eugenie arrived in London on the 14th, and remained there two days in the strictest incognito. She was to visit Scotland, in hopes of restoring her impaired health.

ITALY.—By steamer Arabia, we have a few items from Italy, &c.

It is stated that a conspiracy has been discovered against Francis Second at Gaeta, and two officers and two men had been shot.

The official from the Piedmontese Gazette of the 15th says the Neapolitan General Satreano proposed to Gen. Fanti a surrender of the Neapolitan troops who remained outside of Gaeta, consisting of ten battalions of chasseurs and a regiment of cavalry. Fanti rejected the proposition, and after a combat on the 12th, the Bourbon troops re-entered Gaeta, and the Sardinians took up fresh positions around the town. The garrison at Gaeta, consisted of 18 battalions, but the dispatch announces that two merchant steamers, carrying French colors, had left Gaeta with troops, supposed to be destined for Civita Vecchia.

The Lazzaroni at Naples had indulged in demonstrations for Garibaldi and the Dictatorship. They were dispersed by the troops.

Victor Emanuel had prohibited the destruction of Fort St. Alms.

Farini has been appointed Viceroy of Naples.

Garibaldi has been appointed a General of the army.

An attempt had been made to introduce arms into Hungary. English vessels were engaged in the enterprise.

Preparations of war were being continued at Mantua, &c.

☞ The National Intelligencer says there is no truth in the report that the census returns have been withheld. The delay in their transmission has arisen from causes beyond the control of the Marshal, and has no connection with political affairs in South Carolina.

GEN. HARNEY'S KANSAS FORCE.—Gen. Harney will have two companies of the second dragoons, two light batteries and three companies of the second infantry—in all, over five hundred men, half of them well mounted.

☞ A joint stock company for the manufacture of fire-arms, with a capital of $30,000, is projected at Camden, S. C.

☞ At the municipal election in Dover, Tuesday, Dr. A. Bickford, the Republican candidate for Mayor, was elected.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

How wondrous are the changes, Jim,
Since twenty years ago,
When gals wore woolen dresses, Jim,
And boys wore pants of tow;
When shoes were made of calf-skin,
And socks of homespun wool;
And children did a half day's work,
Before the hour of school.

The girls took music lessons, Jim,
Upon the spinning wheel;
And "practical" late and early, Jim,
On spindle, swift and reel.
The boys would ride "bareback" to mill,
A dozen miles or so,
And hurry off before 'twas day—
Some twenty years ago.

Then people rode to meeting, Jim,
In sleds instead of sleighs,
And wagons rode as easy, Jim,
As "Brown buggies" to-day;
And oxen answered well for teams—
Though now they'd be too slow;
For people lived not half so fast
Some twenty years ago.

O, well do I remember, Jim,
That "Wilson's Patent Stove,"
That father bought and paid for, Jim,
In cloth our gals had wove;
And how the neighbors wondered,
When we got the thing to go;
They said 'twould bust and kill us all,
Some twenty years ago.

Yes, everything is different, Jim,
From what it used to was;
For men are always tampering, Jim,
With God's great natural laws,—
And what on earth we're coming to,
Does anybody know?
For everything has changed so much,
Since twenty years ago.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The Census Bureau has returns from all the States, including South Carolina, except in a few scattered districts where they are withheld for correction. SEVEN YEARS!

The seven years of unrivalled success attending the

COSMOPOLITAN

Art Association,

have made it a household word throughout every quarter of our country.

Under the auspices of this popular Institution, over three hundred thousand homes have learned to appreciate—by beautiful works of art on their walls, and choice literature on their tables—the great benefits derived from becoming a subscriber.

Subscriptions are now being received in a ratio unparalleled by that of any previous year.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Any person can become a member by subscribing three dollars, for which sum they will receive

1st.—The large and superb steel engraving, 30 x 38 inches, entitled

Falstaff Mustering His Recruits,

2d.—One copy, one year, of that elegantly illustrated magazine, the

"COSMOPOLITAN ART JOURNAL."

3d.—Four admissions, during the season, to

"The Gallery of Paintings, 548 Broadway, New York."

In addition to the above benefits, there will be given to subscribers, as gratuitous premiums, over

Five Hundred Beautiful Works of Art,

comprising valuable paintings, marbles, parians, outlines, &c., forming a truly national benefit.

THE SUPERB ENGRAVING, which every subscriber will receive, entitled "FALSTAFF MUSTERING HIS RECRUITS," is one of the most beautiful and popular ever made in this country. It is done on steel, in line and stipple, and is printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 38 inches, making a most choice ornament, suitable for the walls of either the library, par or or office. Its subject is the celebrated scene of Sir John Falstaff receiving in Justice Shallow's office the recruits which had been gathered for his "Ragged Regiment." It could not be furnished by the trade for less than five dollars.

The Art Journal is too well known to the whole country to need commendation. It is a magnificently illustrated magazine of Art, containing Essays, Stories, Poems, Gossip, &c., by the very best writers in America.

The Engraving is sent to any part of the country by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postage prepaid.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of January 31, 1861, at which time the books will close, and the premiums be given to subscribers.

No person is restricted to a single subscription. Those remitting $10, are entitled to five memberships, and one extra Engraving for their trouble.

Subscriptions from California, the Canadas, and all Foreign Countries, must be $3.50 instead of $3, in order to defray extra postage, &c.

For further particulars send for a copy of the elegantly illustrated Art Journal, pronounced the handsomest magazine in America. It contains Catalogue of Premiums, and numerous superb engravings. Regular price, 50 cts. per number.—Specimen copies, however, will be sent to those wishing to subscribe, on receipt of 18 cents, in stamps or coin.

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

THE MOST EFFECTUAL REMEDY FOR COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMAS, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION, &c.

The most solemn assurance is given that there is not a fact stated with respect to the powers of this invaluable remedy, which is not fully established in every class of cases for which it is recommended, by a mass of evidence which must carry conviction to the most skeptical mind; and the medicine, though thus highly effectual in its remedial character, is in the utmost degree innocent in its composition, and may be taken by the most delicate. It invariably gives relief within TEN MINUTES in all cases; and a few days' perseverance will be sufficient to effect a cure in all recent attacks of Coughs or Cold. They are pleasant to the taste, the active principle of the herbs being combined with sugar in the least objectionable form, and any child will readily take them.

The Great English Remedy!

Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female Pills

Prepared from a Prescription of

SIR J. CLARKE, M. D.,

Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

The Proprietors hold hundreds of testimonials to the virtues of SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS, but their peculiar nature prevents publication; but certain it is that they are the only sure and safe remedy in use for all those painful and dangerous diseases peculiar to the female constitution. In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed. They never fail to moderate excesses and to remove obstructions, from whatever cause. They are purely vegetable, and will not injure the most delicate constitution.—For particulars, send for a pamphlet to the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle by return mail. nov28 dawlm

WISTAR'S BALSAM WILD CHERRY

Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Quinsy, and the numerous as well as dangerous diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, prevail, in our changeable climate, at all seasons of the year; few are fortunate enough to escape their baneful influence. How important, then, to have at hand a certain antidote to all these complaints. Experience proves that this medicine is Wistar's Balsam to an extent not found in any other remedy; however severe the suffering, the application of this soothing, healing and wonderful Balsam at once vanquishes the disease, and restores the sufferer to wonted health.

From a Respectable Druggist.

MESSRS. SETH W. FOWLE & CO., BOSTON,—

Gents:—Please send me a fresh supply of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. We are selling large quantities of this long celebrated remedy for Coughs and Colds, and it bids fair to outlive most of the so-called specifics which are now in vogue. We can confidently recommend it as a remedy for what it is intended. Very truly yours,

NATHAN P. THACHER.

Mr. D. H. TEAGUE, of Turner Village,

Writes the proprietors of this great remedy, as follows:

TURNER VILLAGE, ME., July 31, 1860.

Messrs. SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston:—

Gents:—I do not hesitate to recommend DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for coughs and pulmonary affections. I have used it in my family many years with great satisfaction; indeed it has done more good than all the other medicines I have tried, and their name is legion. If all the patent medicines in the market possessed but a portion of the merit of this excellent Balsam, there would be no occasion to condemn them as humbugs.

The medicine is also used by many of my friends and acquaintances in this town, and they have found it invaluable; and I hope that others who suffer may give it a fair trial. Very respectfully,

D. H. TEAGUE.

☞ To-day being scrupulously observed as Thanksgiving, by all the Chroniclers—of course no Daily Chronicle will be issued on Friday morning.

The Weekly Chronicle will be published this (Thursday) morning; and will contain among other things, full report of our City Election. Price $1 per year—single copies 3 cents, or in wrappers for mailing, 4 cents.

☞ Of the many vessels built on the Piscataqua, from time to time, none have surpassed in beauty of model, excellence of finish and general superiority in spars, rigging and fittings, the new ship "Santee," of 1000 tons, built by Messrs. Tobey and Littlefield of this city, and owned by Messrs. J. M. & T. S. Tredick. Our attention was call to this ship by seeing her mentioned in your issue of yesterday; since then we have "visited, examined and admired" her, and we must be allowed to speak particularly of the beauty and finish of the cabin, which was done by Mr. Edward D. Coffin, a young man of much ability and good taste as a painter and letterer, and who ranks high at his business. J.

☞ It seems to us, that a city population of ten thousand, of which only four or five hundred people can be gathered, at ninepence a ticket, to hear the most celebrated orator in America; and scarcely a fourth, even of that small number, to listen to another orator, much more esteemed here, and hardly less distinguished, at sixpence per seat,—why, it seems to us that, making every other allowance, it can hardly be set down as a very literary community.

☞ The Opening Lecture of the Course under direction of the Freewill Baptist Society in this city, was given at the Temple, Tuesday evening, by Prof. A. P. Peabody. His subject was, Ecclesiastical History; embracing accounts of early female christian martyrs. Owing to the threatening weather, and it being the evening of our City election, the audience was not near so large as it would otherwise have been.

☞ Election in Ward Two, to fill vacancy in the Board of Overseers of the Poor, will be held at Jefferson Hall on Friday morning next, at 10 o'clock. R. K. Oxford, Aaron B. Mudge and Wm. Bodge were the three candidates on Tuesday.

ANOTHER NEW STOVE

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL,

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY

Of Providence, R. I.

In introducing a new Cook Stove, of singularly novel construction and arrangement, it is proper that we speak of its peculiar merits.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven, with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is the most durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high-priced Air-Tight Cook Stoves, but will barely allude to them, viz:

1st. The double plates each side of the fire prevent any leak of ashes into the oven and make the stove more durable.

2d. The admission of external air between these plates, for the ventilation of the roasting oven, tends also to the preservation of the plates most exposed to destruction.

3d. The durable dump grate, with the ash box of ample size to receive the ashes and coals, is an attractive feature of the stove.

4th. The draft door, at each end of the fire box, is a great convenience when a quick fire is wanted.

5th. The movable ash pan, which, though it forms a hearth to the stove, need not be used except once or twice a day for taking up and carrying away the ashes.

6th. The stove has but one damper, and but one division of flues on the back of and under the oven, ensuring a very quick bake.

7th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and tin jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

This stove was thoroughly tested before brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial of the stove.

John Trundy, Esq., one of our most practical and scientific mechanics, who has had large experience in the construction of stove patterns in years past, and has for many years been using one of the Stewart Stoves, has purchased one of the MODEL COOKS, and after a fair trial pronounces it far superior to the Stewart or any stove he has ever seen, for economy, convenience and dispatch We might also refer to several other parties who are using the stove, and who award it the very highest praise.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be the stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is wanted.

We have nought to say against any other stove, believing that a man can sell his own goods without depreciating his neighbor's; but this we do say, that we honestly believe this is the best stove that can be found in the world; and what is more, we think others will agree with us after a trial of it. We invite any one to examine the stove, whether they wish to purchase or not.

For sale, with a great variety of

Furnaces, Ranges, Cooking, Office and Parlor Stoves; Coal Hods, Sifters, Funnel, Stove-Repairing Pieces, Parlor Grates, Etc.

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1835.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

American and Foreign Patents.

H. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
Under the act of 1837.
76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into the validity or utility of any work, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it the inventor has advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and the accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Washington, February 8, 1853.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

MOTHERS

It must be obvious not only to you, but to every attentive and intelligent person, that from every direction of infants arise chiefly from a disordered condition of their bowels, and in this connection, we present to your notice, for the alleviation and cure of these diseases, a remedy well known as

Dr. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL,

Prepared from a formula used by Dr. Eaton with remarkable success during several years practice. We view it to be a most reliable and efficacious remedy for infantile complaints, and our trial alone will convince you of its superiority over every other preparation of the kind. It is particularly recommended

FOR CHILDREN TEETHING,

And at this period of infantile life, when your anxious hearts are pained by witnessing the sufferings of your little ones, it will be found invaluable in Softening the Gums, Reducing Inflammation and Relaxing all Pains. FOR DISEASES AT-TENDING TEETHING, such as Diarrhea, Dysentery, Griping in the Bowels, Acidity of the Stomach, Wind Colic, and Child in the Fever, we confidently offer this as a certain relief and cure in every case when given in time. It will invariably regulate the stomach and bowels, and the importance in this respect can hardly be estimated.

IN CONVULSIONS,

From which more infants are said to die than from any other disease, the little sufferer is relieved immediately, as if by magic, and all this dread complaint alone, its intrinsic value is such that it has been recommended from one family to another, until the name of DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL has become "familiar as a household word." We now ask your attention to a subject of vital interest to every mother, as well as to your suffering child. DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL contains

NO MORPHINE OR OPIATE,

Of any kind, or of whatever nature, a fact which we are fully warranted in saying cannot be said of any other preparation for infantile diseases, at this time before the public. We find that throughout the country, Mothers are becoming conscious of this truth, and of the sad and blighting consequences which are certain to result from the use of narcotics disguised in the form of quieting preparations; the continued administration being invariably followed by stupefaction and constipation of the bowels, ending oftentimes in convulsions. Here is DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL offers from every other remedy. It

DOES NOT CONSTIPATE

The Bowels, neither does it act by deadening the sensibilities of your children, but it does, and this is its rare medicinal qualities, by removing all pain and cause of disease. We earnestly recommend you, therefore, to be no time in procuring a bottle, that you may have at hand a remedy which will never fail to relieve your child in time of need. It is perfectly harmless, and cannot injure the most delicate infant.

Take none but DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL. This you can rely upon. Price 25 cts. per bottle.

Prepared only by CHURCH & DUPONT,
No. 409 Broadway, New York.
And sold by them, and all respectable Druggists.
Sold in Portsmouth by PRESTON, THACHER, HUTCHINGS and KIMBALL. s6 1y

ATWOOD'S QUININE TONIC BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities.

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonic and stomachic s, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is not can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "but it is the best ye paration of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pints as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

Humphreys' Specific Homeopathic Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREY, in order to meet that great want long felt by the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhœa, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the disorder allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being the most simple, safe, and SURELY AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among the thousands of testimonials of the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

Dr. Mott's CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression and vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSTIPATION, DIABETES, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INTIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease, or of the combined diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to a degree which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become objects of pity to their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very pitiable examples of this kind are detected of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and sympathetic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable purgation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, which it also speedily cures by exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the accompanying costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local palns, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most carefully balanced preparations of iron, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in lethargic, torpid, nervous debility, it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its property, in the ague districts of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid increase of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

BININGER'S OLD KENTUCKY BOURBON "1849 RESERVE"

The established popularity of this CHOICE OLD BOURBON as a medicinal agent, renders it superfluous to mention in detail the characteristics which distinguish it from the ordinary grade of Kentucky Whiskeys.

Being distilled in 1848, and manufactured expressly for us with great care, it can be relied upon as a strictly pure stimulant, and peculiarly effective for the treatment of Lung Complaints, Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Stomach, Nervousness, &c.

As a curative agent it has a tendency to recreate and strengthen; while age having contributed its genial character, and ripened it into a flavor and an oily body, it affords a pleasant incentive to the preservation or recovery of health, though the agreeable medium of a well placed palate.

Put up in a variety of attractive forms, in iron-bound cases of two and three gallons, for family use, and sold by all prominent druggists, grocers and town agents. A. M. BININGER & CO.,

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure bad digestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.
One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.
One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.
A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.
Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct as to
Expel the Doubts of All.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all excess of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, any time falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—

Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test.—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear Sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place (a lawyer) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement: I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $8 a bottle.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1860.

ANDREW JACKSON.

The Eastern Argus of Nov. 26, very kindly advises the Republican party to submit its policy to the dictation of the slavery sections, to save the Union, and says—

It is the policy of the party that has caused it to be opposed in a whole section. Will that policy be persisted in or abandoned?

The Argus has been reading Lincoln's late speech, so very brief and quiet, in which he says—

I think of the whole people of this nation—they will ever do well if well done by. We will try to do well by them in all parts of the country, North and South, with entire confidence that all will be well with all of us.

The Argus remarks:

On reading the speech we could but exclaim with a contemporary, "O! for an hour of Andrew Jackson now."

This invocation of the spirit of Andrew Jackson puts us to thinking what manner of man he was, reminds us of Old Hickory's talk to the fire eaters, and induces us to copy the following extract from Jackson's Proclamation in 1832, to the nullifiers and secessionists of South Carolina, which will be read with interest now. After enumerating the blessings of union, the President puts these interrogatories:—

And for what, mistaken men! for what do you throw away these inestimable blessings—for what would you exchange your share in the advantages and honor of the Union? For the dream of a separate independence—a dream interrupted by bloody conflicts with your neighbors, and a vile dependence on a foreign power. If your leaders could succeed in establishing a separation, what would be your situation? Are you united at home—are you free from the apprehension of civil discord, with all its fearful consequences? Do our neighboring republics, every day suffering some new revolution or contending with some new insurrection—do they excite your envy? But the dictates of a high duty oblige me solemnly to announce that you cannot succeed. The laws of the United States must be executed. I have no discretionary power on the subject—my duty is emphatically pronounced in the Constitution. Those who told you you might peaceably prevent execution of laws deceived you—they could not have been deceived themselves. They know that a forcible opposition could alone prevent the execution of the laws, and they know that such opposition must be repelled. Their object is disunion; but be not deceived by names; disunion, by armed force, is TREASON. Are you really ready to incur its guilt? If you are, on the head of the instigators of the act be the dreadful consequences—on their heads be the dishonor, but on yours may fall the punishment—on your unhappy State will inevitably fall all the evils of the conflict you force upon the government of your country. It cannot accede to the mad project of disunion, of which you would be the first victims—its first magistrate cannot, if he would, avoid the performance of his duty—the consequence must be fearful for you, distressing to your fellow citizens here, and to the friends of good government throughout the world."

☞ The Baptist State Convention in Alabama, in passing some resolutions on secession, say:—

From the administration of the Federal Government, as things are—especially with reference to our peculiar property recognized by the Constitution—we can no longer hope for justice, protection or safety.

"Our peculiar property" means negro slaves, men and women bought and sold, by these eminent christians:—and for the sake of this blessed state of things, they profess their willingness to lay down their lives. We have the suspicion, however, that they might prove to be as arrant [not arrogant] cowards, as Judge Williams who raised the late alarm in Kansas.

The Continentals, a military company at Cumberland, Maryland, are to attend Lincoln's inauguration on the 4th of March—Boston Journal.

They had better stay away. No military or semi-military or party organization should be permitted to take part in a ceremony so purely civic and national as that of the inauguration of the President. The example was a bad one—first set by General Jackson, we believe—and in the present condition of the country should not be imitated.—Salem Gaz.

It is said a certain company of 100 men from Albany, have attended every Inauguration since Jackson's,—and will go next March. They infringe no law in so doing.

☞ Rev. Dr. Thornwell of the Presbyterian church of Columbia, S. C., in his fast day sermon last week, is reported to have said "that the man who would violate the most simple of the articles of confederation, acted the part of a recreant towards his fellow man, and in the sight of God was a traitor more vile than Judas Iscariot, who betrayed the Saviour of mankind." It appears to have been taken for granted by his hearers that it could not have been meant for them, but for the people of the North.

BOOHOO! BOOHOO!!—A writer in the New Orleans Bee, suggests the election of delegates from the South, and delegates in New York, to remonstrate with the Electors of New York against casting the vote of that State for Lincoln.

☞ A man who had been discharged from the prison at Thomaston, Me., but eight days, recently broke open two stores, one at Tennant's Harbor, St. George, and the other at Thomaston. He entered the former by climbing a liberty pole standing four feet from the store, up opposite the chamber window, then kicking in the window and jumping inside from his hanging position. He broke into the store at Thomaston, lit the hanging lamp, took what money there was in the drawer, and was regaling himself with figs and raisins, when he was unceremoniously interrupted by an officer. He acknowledged to have been convicted of all manner of crimes, from mutiny down, and to have been inside of twelve State Prisons.

MURDERS AFTER A FUNERAL.—A party of mourners returning from a funeral at Detroit, on Sunday the 18th, halted at a tavern to obtain some refreshments, when a quarrel ensued, during which Casper Schwartz, an unoffending spectator, was killed by Thomas Carsandine. The party then left the tavern and proceeding along the road, attacked Peter Nuremburg, a German, inflicting injuries so serious that he died in a few days after. The murderers have been arrested.

BUSINESS IN PHILADELPHIA. — The Philadelphia Ledger says that the present financial and political derangement of affairs does not seem to affect the large manufacturing interests in Philadelphia to any great extent. Most of them have their usual number of men employed, and are receiving orders and remittances from the South.

☞ If one State may secede, another may, and another and another. In case they all should secede but Rhode Island, the Providence Journal wants to know if the national debt must be chargeable to that commonwealth.

The inquiry might be added, whether, if Rhode Island then should secede, the confederacy formed out of the seceding States, would be the same, old United States, that it was before secession.

☞ The ladies of Mount Holyoke celebrated the election of Lincoln by marching about the Seminary in files of two, bearing lighted lamps. A banner was carried in front of the line, bearing this inscription:—

"PRESIDENT—ABRAHAM LINCOLN."

"Behind a homely exterior, we recognize inward beauty."

They also gave three cheers for "Old Abe," which are said to have been the queerest hurrahs ever heard.

☞ Hon. Caleb Cushing's "Man on on Horseback" has come, and is now riding rough shod from Newburyport and Boston through the South—in the newspapers.—He will no doubt frighten some people who believe in ghosts;—but the down-easters have seen too many scare-crows before, to be much alarmed by this.

☞ It is said that the Professors and Students at Bowdoin College are now almost universally teetotalers, while two years ago, drinking was the rule, and abstinence the exception. There is a Division of the Sons of Temperance and two lodges of Good Templars.

☞ The installation of Rev. Elias Nason as pastor of the First Congregational Church in Exeter took place Thursday afternoon of last week. The Council which had previously refused to dismiss him from his former charge at Medford, had reassembled and given him a dismissal.

☞ It was asserted at Rome, that the Emperor of Austria had requested the Pope to receive 7000 additional troops.

The Paris Pays says that Sardinia claimed the cannon taken from the Neapolitan troops disarmed in the Papal territory, but General Guyon declined to give a definite answer.

☞ The record of the City Registrar in Providence, show that Thurday is the best marrying day in that city. Singular to state, it is ten per cent. better on that day than the other days of the week.

☞ A man by the name of Gage, from Piermont, was clearing out and sinking a well at Bradford, Vt., Saturday, when the earth fell in and killed him.

A CON.—A leading Breckenridge Democratic paper shall have the credit of the following con., which must "exasperate" South Carolina quite as much as anything any Republican paper has said:—

"Why is South Carolina like a suffering little boy in school? Because she wants to 'go out.'"

☞ A good looking German girl, named Clea Kroeter, attempting to drown herself at Newark, N. J., was rescued by a colored man. She was so grateful that she married him.

☞ An intemperate man named Hiram Albee died in the lock-up in Wiscasset, on Thursday night last, of delirium tremens.

☞ A writer in the Columbus, Ga., Sun, alluding to the proposition of a military company to send North for buttons, says:

I cannot believe that that body of men will so stultify themselves by pursuing any such a course, especially when they can obtain as good an article made here in the city; they may cost a little more, but what if they pay 50 per cent. more than at the North. In the name of all that is sensible let us be consistent. As a member of that organization, I swear by the Eternal to wear on my person no button from the northern States.

☞ The New Orleans True Delta has this, which evidently is intended for somebody:

If the Fugitive Slave act has been defied and spat upon in Massachusetts, Ohio and other free States, it has been done under two administrations, thoroughly Southern in pretension, and completely subservient—indeed, if possible, disgracefully so—to these very persons who now conspire to destroy the Union because of their own failure to perform the duties they were paid and solemnly sworn to execute.

☞ The Groton (Mass.) Mercury has the following good hit at the disunionists and seceders:

When these South Carolinians periodically advise us that they are going to bolt, we are reminded of a little story we related in the Mercury, a year ago—an admirable illustration of the probable result of the secession movement:

"Mamma, I won't eat my breakfast!
[Exit boy, pouting, but returns.]
'My child, won't you eat your breakfast?'
"No, I won't."
[Exit boy, but returns hungry, and finds the breakfast is about to be removed.]
"Mamma, why don't you whip me, and make me eat my breakfast?"

HARRINGTON: a Story of True Love.—Thayer & Eldridge, publishers, of Boston, have just issued a volume of 558 pages, with the above title, by the author of What Cheer, The Ghost, A Christmas Story, A Tale of Lynn, &c.

The plot of the tale is ingenious, and the events exciting. Harrington, the white hero, is enthusiastic in his hatred of slavery; Antony, the black hero, not less important to the story, is so in love with the idea of liberty, that he runs all the risks of a fugitive slave, and comes off in safety; while Harrington, in his successful effort to keep him from being sent back into slavery, is mortally wounded, but dies triumphant.

The book will be severely criticised and loudly condemned; but it will sell abundantly, and tell on the public mind against slavery. It is in romance, somewhat akin to Helper's Crisis in politics.

A LIVELY DEBATE.—Milledgeville. Ga., Nov. 29.—A bill has been introduced into the House prohibiting the levying of executions on the property of citizens prior to December, 1861, all sales by such process being void. An amendment was offered to protect the rights of citizens to the extent of the provisions of the bill against every State that voted for Lincoln, and agreed to.

Mr. McDonald opposed the bill, expressing warm Union sentiments, and moved that any Georgian be fined $2000 who shall sell a bale of cotton or a barrel of apples to any person [north of Mason and Dixon's line. This caused a commotion, and disunion and conservative sentiments were freely uttered.

STORM ON LAKE ERIE.—Buffalo, Nov. 27.—Among the many disasters on the lake occasioned by the late storm, is that of the loss of the propellers Dacotah and Jersey Blue, whose crews all perished. The schooner William Maxwell and Torando were both lost, together with their crews.—The schooner William Goodell was towed into Sarica with the crew more or less frozen.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 27.—At a meeting of citizens of all parties, last night, it was resolved that Kentucky did not despair of obtaining justice within the Union; also, to insist upon the northern States repealing their nullifying laws; and to stand by the Union, without deserting the South, until aggression becomes more intolerable than revolution.

UNION PRAYING.—The prayers of southern clergymen for a dissolution of the Union reminds us of another supplication on that subject. Some time ago the Lyceum at Deep River discussed the dissolution of the Union question. At the end of the debate the Rev. N. E Shailor, Baptist missionary, was invited to lead in prayer. He commenced as follows; "O! Lord: Thou knowest that this talk of dissolving the Union is like the Town Poor's talk of dividing the Town."—Hartford Times.

MUNCH CHUNK, Nov. 30.—A car on the Reaver and Meadow Railroad was precipitated into the Lehigh river on Thursday.—There were twenty-eight passengers in the car, five of whom were drowned. The car sunk in twenty feet of water. The bodies were recovered.

FATAL ACCIDENT ON SHIPBOARD.—Alexandria, Va. Nov. 30.—Brig Crocus has arrived from Sombreo. She experienced terrific gales during the passage. Two seamen were killed during the voyage by the falling of a mast, and another died. The captain's wife died at Sombreo. The Crocus is owned in Gardiner, Me.

☞ Edward Rayner was arrested at Manchester on Wednesday, for the murder of Bridget Riley, some time since.

CHARLESTON, Va., Nov. 29.—The banks have voted to suspend immediately.

An empire is never so weak, says Montesquieu, as when every village is fortified.

BUT ONE WEEK.

DR. B. C. PERRY,

THE CELEBRATED DERMATOLOGIST,

In accordance with the repeated solicitations he has received from some of the first citizens of Portsmouth during his stay in Portland, having closed his office in Portland after a successful practice of five months, has concluded to remain one week in PORTSMOUTH—when all who are suffering from

Loss of Hair, Premature Blanching, or any Disease of the Scalp,

can consult him.

DR. PERRY is prepared to treat successfully the following diseases, all of which are productive of a loss of hair.

Debilitation of the External Skin, Suppressed Secretion, Irritation of the Scalp, Dandruff or Thickened Secretion, Inflammation of the Sensitive Skin, Matterated Secretion, Hair Eater, Distended or Swollen Roots, and Premature Blanching.

This is the only method based upon Physiological principles which has ever been presented to the public for the restoration of the hair.

Dr. Perry's Theory of treating Diseased Scalps and Restoring the Hair.—There are eighteen diseases of the head and scalp, that cause a loss of of hair, and in some cases premature blanching, each requiring in its treatment different remedies. Where loss of hair has resulted from any of those diseases, the first thing to be done is to remove the disease by a proper course of treatment, restore the scalp to its normal condition, keep the pores open so the secretion can pass off, and in every follicle that is open, new strands of hair will make their appearance

The philosopy of premature blanching is this: Iron and Oxygen are the principle consituents of Dark hair. Lime and Magnesia of Light hair. When the suppressed secretion between the skins contains an excess of Lime, it is taken up by the strands, causing the hair to turn white; by opening the pores the accumulation of Lime passes off with the secretions, the natural components of the hair resume their ascendancy, and the hair assumes its natural color.

Because persons have tried various preparations for the hair, and have been deceived by them, and in some cases their difficulty made worse by their use, they should not be discouraged. The one preparation system for any class of diseases, must necessarily be a failure. No one compound can be available for a dozen or more diseases; it may remove some difficulties—in other cases useless, in some positively injurious.

Dr. Perry's method is in accordance with the law of cause and effect. He makes a personal examination, ascertains what disease of the scalp has or is producing a loss of hair or premature whitening, prescribes such remedies, according to its nature and requirements, as will remove the disease. Hence his great success in treating capilliary diseases.

ALL CONSULTATIONS FREE.

Dr. Perry will be ready to receive visitors on TUESDAY night, at rooms to be announced on Monday.

THIS DAY.
FURNITURE, &c., AT AUCTION,
(At the Auction Store, State Street)
On SATURDAY, Dec. 1st, at 10 o'clock,
Feather Beds, Carpets, Chairs, Tables, Wash Stands, Looking Glasses, Dry Sink, Crockery and Glass Ware, Stoves, and variety of other articles. H. F. WENDELL, Auct.

Special Notices.

Catarrh is the most difficult of any of the Diseases of the Breathing Organs to relieve or to cure. The Rev. Joshua Leavitt, editor of the Independent of New York, who had the Catarrh for more than twenty years, has been cured by using Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron and Sulphur Powders, which are advertised in this paper. His testimonial is published in a pamphlet among others equally prominent who have been cured of chronic Throats and Lung difficulties, which will be sent free by mail.

THE INFANTILE CORDIAL.—We notice our druggists have received a supply of DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, which every mother should have. It is said to contain no paregoric or opiate of any kind or whatever, and of course must be invaluable for all infantile complaints. It is also said that it will allay all pain, and soften the gums in process of teething, and at the same time regulate the bowels. Let all mothers and nurses, who have endured anxious days and sleepless nights, procure a supply and be at once relieved.

Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas.

It is now generally admitted that all eruptive diseases depend upon some internal or constitutional cause, and that to use ointments or washes for them is a sure way to injure the system, and only o drive in, not to cure the disease. But HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC SALT RHEUM PILLS are a true specific for all such diseases. They cure Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Erysipelas, Pimples on the face, Ringworm, and Nettle Rash, by curing the cause upon which they depend, and restoring the skin to a state of health and purity. Thus not only is the disease cured, but the softness and beauty of the complexion restored.

Price, 25 cents per box, with directions. Six boxes $1.

Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.

Address, DR F. HUMPHREYS & CO., 562 Broadway, New York.

Sold in Portsmouth by THACHER.

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

THE MOST EFFECTUAL REMEDY FOR COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION, &c.

The most solemn assurance is given that there is not a fact stated with respect to the powers of this invaluable remedy, which is not fully established in every class of cases for which it is recommended, by a mass of evidence which must carry conviction to the most skeptical mind; and the medicine, though thus highly effectual in its remedial character, is in the utmost degree innocent in its composition, and may be taken by the most delicate. It invariably gives relief within TEN MINUTES in all cases; and a few days' perseverance will be sufficient to effect a cure in all recent attacks of Coughs or Cold. They are pleasant to the taste, the active principle of the herbs being combined with sugar in the least objectionable form, and any child will readily take them.

Price 25 cents per box. Sold by W. R. PRESTON and all druggists. nov28 dawâm

The Great English Remedy!
Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female Pills
Prepared from a Prescription of
SIR J. CLARKE, M. D.,
Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

The Proprietors hold hundreds of testimonials to the virtues of SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS, but their peculiar nature prevents publication; but certain it is that they are the only sure and safe remedy in use for all those painful and dangerous diseases peculiar to the female constitution. In all cases of Surveuse and Spinal affection, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed. They never fail to moderate excesses and to remove obstructions, from whatever cause. They are purely vegetable, and will not injure the most delicate constitution.—For particulars, send for a pamphlet to the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, by return mail. nov28 dawâm

WISTAR'S BALSAM WILD CHERRY

Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Quinsy, and the numerous as well as dangerous diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, prevail, in our changeable climate, at all seasons of the year; few are fortunate enough to escape their baneful influence. How important, then, to have at hand a certain antidote to all these complaints. Experience proves that this exists in Wistar's Balsam to an extent not found in any other remedy; however severe the suffering, the application of this soothing, healing and wonderful Balsam at once vanquishes the disease, and restores the sufferer to wonted health.

From a Respectable Druggist.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 8, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & CO., Boston.—

Gents:—Please send me a fresh supply of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. We are selling large quantities of this long celebrated remedy for Coughs and Colds, and it bids fair to outlive most of the so-called specifics which are now in vogue. We can confidently recommend it as a remedy for what it is intended. Very truly yours,
NATHAN P. THACHER.

Mr. D. H. TEAGUE, of Turner Village,

Writes the proprietors of this great remedy, as follows:

TURNER VILLAGE, ME., July 31, 1860.

Messrs. SETH W. FOWLE & Co., Boston.—

Gents:—I do not hesitate to recommend DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for coughs and pulmonary affections, having used it in my family for many years with great satisfaction; indeed it has done more good than all the other remedies I have tried, and their name is legion. If all the patent medicines in the market possessed but a portion of the merit of this excellent Balsam, there would be no occasion to condemn them as humbugs.

The medicine is also used by many of my friends and acquaintances in this town, and they have found it invaluable; and I hope that others who suffer may give it a fair trial. Very respectfully,
D. H. TEAGUE.

KINGSTON, March 10, 1841.—"This may certify that my child has been afflicted with a humor which made its appearance when he was but a few days old; and it grew worse, causing large swellings and running sores. He has been cured by the use of Dr. Swett's Panacea and Humor Wash."
T. CORRIER.

Hundreds of testimonials on hand might be added, evincing the many cures by Dr. Swett's medicine. All orders directed to DR. SIMEON SWETT, PORTSMOUTH, N. H., No. 1 School St., for his Panacea, Cough Drops, Conserve, Rheumatic Compound and Family Pills, and others of his popular remedies, will be promptly attended to.

Local.

☞ At the adjourned meeting in Ward Two, on Friday, William Bodge was elected Overseer of the Poor. The whole number of votes, 190; Bodge received 100, and Oxford 89; scattering 1. Luther E. Martin was elected to the Common Council, instead of J. Wesley Moses, declined; and Ebenezer Haines, Assessor, instead of Wm. B. Lowd 2d, declined.

Considerable enthusiasm was manifested at the polls, on account of the rivalry between the candidates for the office of Overseer of the Poor.

CITY MISSION.—The City Missionary will deliver his annual address at the Universalist Church on Sunday evening at seven o'clock. Remarks may be expected from several gentlemen.

☞ Would any of our readers like to see splendid copies of the works of some of the best masters in painting, let them step into Mr. Shores' store, and look over the gallery of Ambrotypes which adorn the walls. There you can very pleasantly and profitably spend half an hour in examining the works of Raphael, Correggio, Murillo, Giudo Reni, Delaroche, Ary Scheffer, Landseer, Herring, Taylor, Rosa Bonheur, &c., &c.

DR. R. RICHARD CLAY.—This gentleman has just concluded an interesting and instructive course of lectures on Anatomy, Physiology, and the curability of Consumption, at the Temple. A curious feature of the lectures is their illustration not only by the manikin, diagrams and French models, but by preparations of the real human body, dissected and prepared by Dr. Clay himself. His long experience in the dissecting room as a student and teacher of practical anatomy, has given him a familiarity with the human system possessed by very few physicians.

Dr. Clay can be consulted at the City Hotel to-day.

A BIG-HEARTED CONDUCTOR. — We are pleased to find in the Concord Statesman, and Ballot, the following complimentary notice of Mr. Langley, the only conductor at present on the Concord and Portsmouth Railroad, a gentleman to whom we are indebted for sundry favors.

It is generally thought hereabouts that Mr. J. C. Langley, conductor of passenger trains on the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad, has a heart bigger than that of ordinary human beings. It is almost an every day incident with him to find some poor boy or other on board the evening train to this city, with no money, and so, as the world usually goes, no friends; but such unfortunates are sure of a protector in Mr. Langley, who will see to it that they are housed, and warmed, fed, and sent on their way rejoicing.

THE COSMOPOLITAN ART JOURNAL for December is just issued, and may be seen at the office of the Secretary. It contains a list of beautiful premiums to be distributed for the next year. Last year's subscribers will receive their copies by mail in a few days.

FROM CALIFORNIA. — Fort Kearney, Nov. 28.—The Pony Express, from San Francisco evening of the 17th, has arrived.

The returns from the Presidential election were incomplete. Lincoln was still from 500 to 800 ahead. All parties concede that he has carried the State.

Returns from fifteen counties in Oregon give Lincoln 5062, Breckinridge 4866, Douglas 3850, Bell 148. Several counties remain to be heard from, which will increase Lincoln's majority.

The Republican illumination in San Francisco in honor of Lincoln's election was a complete failure.

The Sacramento Standard, a Breckinridge organ, assumes that the dissolution of the Union is inevitable, and urges a separate Republic on the Pacific. This project is denounced by a large portion of the press, and has few supporters.

SECRETARY COBB.—Washington, Nov. 29.—Secretary Cobb is convalescent, and attended a Cabinet meeting to-day.

New York, Nov. 28.—The Washington correspondent of the Commercial telegraphs that Mr. Cobb will probably resign. He is about to return to Georgia with his family and effects, and will be a leading member of the Convention, in which he will advocate extreme secession measures. Secretary Thompson, though differing with the President, will remain.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 28.—Steamer Isabel, for Havana, returned disabled.

Several of the candidates for the Convention repudiate over their own signatures the idea of any free State joining the southern Confederacy.

The Bank of the State of South Carolina and the Railroad Bank have suspended specie payment. The Planters' and Mechanics' will respond to-morrow.

VIRGINIA ELECTION.—Richmond, Nov. 28.—Official returns from all the counties, except Wyoming and Webster, indicate the election of nine Bell and six Breckinridge Electors. There is a rumor of an informality in the returns from Ohio county, which, if it should prove true, may give the State to Breckinridge,

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 28.—All the banks in this city have suspended, except the Mechanics', which withstood the pressure of 1857.

☞ Sleighing is good in Canada—in the uttermost upper portions of that district.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Nov. 27.—Mr. Lincoln occupied himself to day principally with reading several hundred letters, accumulated during his absence.

Mr. Lincoln is in possession of reliable private information from Kansas, showing the published accounts of the Montgomery affair to be greatly exaggerated, and no attack on the border slave States intended.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 29.—Gov. Letcher's proclamation to-day divides the electoral vote of the State as follows: Bell 9; Breckinridge 6.

ANOTHER NEW STOVE

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL,

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY

Of Providence, R. I.

In introducing a new Cook Stove, of singularly novel construction and arrangement, it is proper that we speak of its peculiar merits.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven, with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is the most durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires: or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high-priced Air-Tight Cook Stoves, but will barely allude to them, viz:

1st. The double plates each side of the fire prevent any leak of ashes into the oven and make the stove more durable.

2d. The admission of external air between these plates, for the ventilation of the roasting oven, tends also to the preservation of the plates most exposed to destruction.

3d. The durable dump grate, with the ash box of ample size to receive the ashes and coals, is an attractive feature of the stove.

4th. The draft door, at each end of the fire box, is a great convenience when a quick fire is wanted

5th. The movable ash pan, which, though it forms a hearth to the stove, need not be used except once or twice a day for taking up and carrying away the ashes.

6th. The stove has but one damper, and but one division of flues on the back of and under the oven, ensuring a very quick bake.

7th The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and tin jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

This stove was thoroughly tested before brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial of the stove.

John Trundy, Esq., one of our most practical and scientific mechanics, who has had large experience in the construction of stove patterns in years past, and has for many years been using one of the Stewart Stoves, has purchased one of the MODEL COOKS, and after a fair trial pronounces it far superior to the Stewart or any stove he has ever seen, for economy, convenience and dispatch. We might also refer to several other parties who are using the stove, and who award it the very highest praise.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be the stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is wanted.

We have nought to say against any other stove, believing that a man can sell his own goods without depreciating his neighbor's; but this we do say, that we honestly believe this is the best stove that can be found in the world; and what is more, we think others will agree with us after a trial of it. We invite any one to examine the stove, whether they wish to purchase or not.

For sale, with a great variety of

Furnaces, Ranges, Cooking, Office and Parlor Stoves; Coal Hods, Sitters, Funnel, Stove-Repairing Pieces, Parlor Grates, Etc.

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, Under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber for the last twenty past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, with the extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 3, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and the exceptional case is most unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWEN'Y rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

MOTHERS

It must be obvious not only to you, but to every attentive and intelligent person, that the great disease of infants arise chiefly from a disordered condition of their bowels, and in this connection, we present for your consideration the alleviation and cure of these diseases, a remedy known as

Dr. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL,

Prepared from a formula used by Dr. Eaton with remarkable success during several years' practice. We know it to be a most reliable and efficacious remedy for infantile complaints, and one trial alone will convince you of its superiority over every other preparation of the kind. It is particularly recommended

FOR CHILDREN TEETHING,

And at this period of infantile life, when your anxious hearts are pained by witnessing the sufferings of your little ones, it will be found invaluable in Schasing the Gums, Reducing Inflammation and Relieving all Pain. FOR DISEASES ATTENDING TEETHING, such as Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Griping in the Bowels, Acidity of the Stomach, Wind Colic, and Convulsions, we confidently offer this as a certain relief and cure in every case when given in time. It will invariably regulate the stomach and bowels, than which, no importance in this respect can hardly be estimated.

IN CONVULSIONS,

From which more infants are said to die than from any other disease, the little sufferer is relieved instantaneously, as if by magic; and in this dread complaint alone, its intrinsic value is such that it has been recommended from one family to another, until the name of DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, has become "familiar as a household word." We now ask your attention to a subject of vital interest to yourself, and to your suffering child. DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL contains

NO MORPHINE OR OPIATE,

Of any kind, or of whatever form, and therefore we are fully warranted in saying cannot be said of any other preparation for infantile diseases, at this time before the public. We find that throughout the country, Mothers are beginning to appreciate this truth, and of the sad and blighting consequences which are certain to result from the use of narcotics disguised in the form of quieting remedies; their continued administration being invariably followed by stupefaction and constipation of the bowels, ending otherwise in convulsions. Here, in DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL differs from every other remedy. It

DOES NOT CONSTIPATE

The Bowels, neither does it act by deadening the sensibilities of your children, but naturally, thro' its rare medicinal qualities, by removing all pain and cause of disease. We earnestly recommend you, therefore, to lose no time in procuring a bottle, that you may have at hand a remedy which will never fail to relieve your child in time of need. It is perfectly harmless, and cannot injure the most delicate infant.

Take none but DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL. This you can rely upon. Price 25 cts. per bottle.

Prepared only by CHURCH & DUPONT, No. 409 Broadway, New York.

And sold by them, and all respectable Druggists.

ATWOOD'S QUININE TONIC BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities.

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonic and stomachic, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, promoting good humor, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after protracted diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be no better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "but it is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint and pint bottles, and quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

HumPhreys' Specific Homeopathic Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet the demand for a want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhœa, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein those remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as they have now in use, THE FAVOR, WORK AND CONVENIENCE, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and upon the hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

Dr. Mott's CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, and those otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of disease or of the effects of the protracted diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has invariably proved to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become familiar objects to their neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and female suffering, so fatal to the victim

ABSINTHE.—The use of absinthe in France is rapidly assuming the magnificent proportion of a national vice. The literary and artistic vocations seem the principal sufferers from it; the temporary stimulus which, like opium, it imparts to the brain, rendering it especially seductive, to those whose pursuits are mentally exhausting.—The gifted Alfred de Musset fell a victim to the excessive use of this most subtle and pernicious stimulant. Eugene Sue is said to have hastened his death by its use. So prevalent has the habit become, that a little less than a year ago it engaged the attention of the chief medical authorities of France, who pronounced the beverage only less injurious in its influence upon the mental faculties than opium. In fact, what the hasheesh is to the Syrian, and opium to the Chinese, absinthe is rapidly becoming to the Frenchman.

The sombre warnings of the Medical Institute, the most direct testimony of waning faculties and unstrung nerves will, however, doubtless remain unheeded. The French surrender their liberties with a grimace; their political privileges with a courteous genuflection; but they cling to their vices with the tenacity of a martyr to his creed. They give up their charters with a smile, but stick firmly to their absinthe bottles. The deadly stimulant will probably in due time exert an important influence upon the intellect of the nation. It may even be that we shall sometime have as a pendant to DeQuincey's famous work, the confessions of an absinthe drinker, from the pen of an afflicted and penitent Frenchman. Such a work would, doubtless, reveal as vivid a picture of mad delirious ecstacies and as melancholy array of hypochondriac horrors, as those which float through the pages of the opium-eating Scotchman. We get some of our fashions from Paris. Let us hope that it will be long before the habit of absinthe drinking be quoted as among the recent importations.

PERILS OF SCIENCE.—Some years ago a large whale was caught at the Nore, and towed up to London Bridge, the Lord Mayor having claimed it. When it had been at London Bridge some little time, the Government sent a notice to say it belonged to them. Upon which the Lord Mayor sent answer, "Well, if the whale belongs to you, I order you to remove it immediately from London Bridge." The whale was, therefore, towed down the stream to the Isle of Dogs, below Greenwich. The late Mr. Clift, the energetic and talented assistant of his great master, John Hunter, went down to see it. He found it on the shore, with its huge mouth propped open with poles. In his eagerness to examine the internal parts of the mouth, Mr. Clift stepped inside of the mouth, between the lower jaws, where the tongue is situated.—This tongue is a huge spongy mass, and being at that time excedingly soft, from exposure to air, gave way like a bog; at the same time he slipped forward towards the whale's gullet, nearly as far as he could go. Poor Mr. Clift was really in a dangerous predicament; he sank lower and lower into the substance of the tongue and gullet, till he nearly disappeared altogether. He was short in stature, and in a few seconds would doubtless have lost his life in the horrible oily mass, had not assistance been quickly afforded him. It was with the greatest difficulty that a boat-hook was put in requisition, and the good little man hauled out of the whale's tongue.

HOME LIFE.—Even as the sunbeam is composed of millions of minute rays, the home light must be constituted of little tendernesses, kindly looks, sweet laughter, gentle words, loving counsels; it must not be like the torch-blaze of natural excitement, which is easily quenched, but like the serene, chastened light which burns as safely in the dry east wind as in the stillest atmosphere. Let each bear the other's burden the while;—let each cultivate the mutual confidence, which is a gift capable of increase and improvement—and soon it will be found that kindness will spring up on every side, displacing constitutional unsuitability, want of mutual knowledge, even as we have seen sweet violets and primroses dispelling the gloom of the grey sea-rock.

PARIS.—The improvements of Paris continue to be a standing—no, a rising and falling wonder. Here a new street, there a new opera, elsewhere the business of centuries overthrown, and hundreds of acres added to the city at a blow. Withal this, rents naturally dearer than ever; and silly literateurs, with a sagacity about equal to that of a middle-age mob when corn was high, attacking the landlords as the cause of it. Carl Benson.

A GOOD ANSWER.—A clergyman in the cupola of the State House in Boston, observing Capt. W. at work upon the outside of the dome, said to him, "Sir, you are now in a dangerous situation—I trust you have made your peace with your Heavenly Father?" "I never was at war with Him," responded the gallant captain.—Porter's Spirit.

There is no greater punishment than remorse of conscience. To have the mind constantly harrowed by the remembrance of bad deeds, is enough to cause one to cry out in the language of Cain, "my punishment is greater than I can bear."

We have lots of invitations from the West to attend republican festivals; but, like most of the good things belonging to the republicans, they are beyond our reach.—Boston Post.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1860.

CONGRESS.

This august body meets to-day at noon; and as there is no Speaker to be chosen, the President's message will be delivered to both Houses without much delay.

A Washington dispatch to the New York Times says that after all the talk about members refusing to take their seats, it is understood that the South Carolina delegation will present themselves, at least long enough to pocket their back pay and mileage, provided there be any money in Treasury with which to pay them, which is exceedingly doubtful.

The Washington correspondent of the Tribune says the sudden conclusion of the South Carolina delegation to go to Washington excites no surprise, though it demoralizes the position which Chesnut, Hammond and Bonham had previously assumed in resigning. They will endeavor to excite members from the cotton States into a co-operative movement, but will encounter more difficulty than is apprehended.

From this it would seem that South Carolina wants to be both in the Union and out of it, at the same time. When money is to be received, and the country to be governed by and for the slave power—she says, Count me in! But when duties are to be paid, or duties to be performed; or when, above all, liberty is to have some voice in the government as well as slavery,—then she says, Count me out!

The Washington dispatches of Thursday evening say further:

Quite a number of Western members of Congress came in this evening, and are already busily discussing the prospects ahead. They all declare for pacification, whatever may be the sacrifice. The tone of sentiment in Virginia has evidently taken another turn. In Mr. Garnett's district, as well as in several others, conservative resolutions have been passed almost unanimously, and the object of those urging Gov. Letcher to fix an early day for the assembling of the Legislature was to have an expression of conservative sentiment before the meeting of the South Carolina Convention. Gov. Letcher refused, saying "Let South Carolina go—she will be no loss to the Union."

Official information just received from Utah represents the Saints in high glee over the prospect of disunion and Mormon independence. Brigham Young claims to have prophecied the present condition of things, and that the Lord would overthrow the despoilers and deliver his chosen people.

Senator Wigfall has never intimated to any one that he would not take his seat in Congress.

It is believed that the ultimate purpose in the proposed resignation of Judge Taney is to satisfy the South, and that all the Senators will resume their seats in order to secure a confirmation of Judge Black, or any other gentleman of extreme Southern views, as his successor; and this will be used as an excuse by the States proposing secession, for retreating from the dangerous position they have taken.

Hon. John Sherman, Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, intends to put through the appropriation bills at the earliest possible moment of the session, in order to allow Congress, during the short time allotted to the present session, to discuss and adjust the sectional difficulties which present themselves.

The reports which have been sent from Washington regarding the excitement there, are entirely false. It is very dull, and though trouble is anticipated, no one is alarmed.

The set of speeches Gen. Caleb Cushing has been delivering in Massachusetts, recently, have been forwarded to Washington, and are regarded as bids for the succession of Judge Taney. He is not in favor in Washington.

Mr. Etheridge reports the state of feeling in Tennessee as calm and conservative.—The people there long since expected Mr. Lincoln's election, and are prepared to perform their duty under the Constitution.

Mr. Slidell remains in Louisiana to look after his re-election to the Senate, which is by no means so certain as supposed.

Letters from members of Congress and others in South Carolina, written before the Presidential election, are exhibited in Washington, proving that the revolutionary scheme was concocted long ago, and that a secret military organization was formed to carry out the scheme of resistance in the event of Lincoln's success. The whole conspiracy will be exploded before long.

COCKADES IN THE PULPIT.—The Clayton (Ala.) Banner says that on Sunday last the Rev. Alexander McLennon, of the Methodist persuasion, preached in the Methodist church in that place, with "the tri-color rosette conspicuous in his vest."

Uncle Toby has some recollection of a dismal bowl which the Northern dirt-eaters set up, when 3000 clergymen protested against the repeal of the Missouri Compromise line by Atchison, Douglas, Pierce & Co. Will these same dirt-eaters be so kind as to get up a similar howl now, for the Southern clergy? or else forever after hold their peace, and howl no more?

FIRE AT GREAT FALLS.—The Picker connected with No. 7 Mill, at Great Falls, was entirely consumed on Friday. Loss estimated at $5000.

☞ Mrs. Mcready has been giving her dramatic readings at Manchester, N. H.

☞ Daniel McGrath, who died at Montreal a few days ago, was 110 years old.

ENTERPRISE.—The enterprise of the New York illustrated papers is truly astonishing. It really is wonderful that their artists are to be found after every railroad accident, seated on a car wreck and taking a lively sketch "on the spot." It seems that one of their special artists was at Cambridge during the late sophomore troubles The "Riot at Cambridge—students passing Scientific Hall" could not possibly have been devised by a common bystander. He would perhaps have not called the Lawrence Scientific School, "Scientific Hall," though he might have got up a more unique representation of the building itself, if he had made remarkable exertions. Perhaps, too, he would not have seen "a large job wagon, with bows overhead, containing nine students, drawn by a number of middle aged gentlemen in a direction exactly opposite that which was actually taken."

The "casual observer" saw a less overwhelming style of vehicle, two-thirds as many occupants, a more youthful set of students, and probably not quite as many ladies interspersed among the surrounding crowd. If the sketch is a fancy one, designed from imagination slightly assisted by newspaper reports, it is entitled to a good deal of credit, for the figures of Edward Everett and Josiah Quincy on the ropes, and the sorrowful visage of Present Felton in the foreground at the extreme right is as good in execution as happy in design.

LARGE CROPS.—Franklin Morgan of Palmer, Mass., has a 400 acre farm, in which is a 55 acre meadow, said to be the best in New England. With annual top dressing and occasional plowing, manuring and re-seeding, its average yield is 200 tons of hay. Some of the best acres yield five tons. Mr. M. keeps 150 cattle, 130 of which are cows and 90 are now in milk.—His principal market is the Monson State almshouse, adjoining the farm. Several cottages on this place accommodate the hired help.—Asa B. Closson of Franklin, N. H., has measured 200 bushels of sound corn, the produce of 3,882 hills, grown on precisely 200 rods of land, or at the rate of 80 bushels per acre. The soil was light alluvial, the variety of corn the large twelve rowed Dutton, and the rows 3 1-2 by 4 feet.—William Lewis, also of Franklin, N. H., has husked out 52 bushels of sound corn and 3 refuse ears, of the White Flour variety, from 854 hills, grown on 38 rods of land, or at the rate of 117 bushels per acre. Major Lewis says the corn is by itself, and the land to be seen, and any man who will measure both and show his statement to be incorrect, shall have the land and corn for his trouble.—J. F. Daniell, of the same place, has dug 225 bushels of potatoes from one acre.—In the township of Scott, Canada, 52 bushels of wheat was raised on an acre.—H. E. Mosely of Manchester reports 732 bushels of carrots per acre, Joseph A. Smith of West Springfield, 788 bushels.

☞ Rev. Nehemiah Adams preached a discourse in the Essex Street Church, Boston, on Thanksgiving day, from the text—"Out of the north an evil shall break forth upon all the inhabitants of the land." From this text Dr. Adams delivered a strong pro-slavery sermon, in which, after stating that the abuses of the system of slavery were to be deplored and deprecated, he argued that slavery is a divine institution, recognized as such in the Bible; and he claimed that there would be no peace or quietness in the land until the community come to recognize and treat it as such. The sermon surprised even those who know the speaker's sentiments upon this vexed question.

KANSAS AFFAIRS.—The following dispatch shows how the troubles in Kansas were falsified by Judge Williams. It comes from clerks in the land office mentioned:

FORT SCOTT, Nov. 25.

Much of the excitement here during the last week has been without real cause. The business of the land office has not been interrupted, and no fears exist that it will. The flight of Judge Williams and the court was not warranted by the circumstances of the case.

Acting Governor Beebe has issued a proclamation relative to affairs in Southern Kansas, calling on Capt. Montgomery and his band to disband and return to the obedience of the constituted authorities.

THE PALMETTO TREE.—The famous palmetto tree is not indigenous to the soil of South Carolina, nor can it be grown there. The sandy, salty soil, from the adjacent islands, is brought to the main land, and the roots of the tree are imbedded in it. Without this the tree perishes in about the same time the republic would for which it is the assumed emblem.

☞ A man by the name of Fernald, belonging in Jackson, N. H., while trapping in the woods between Jackson and the "White Mountain range," got lost and was missed several days. His dead body has since been found—miles in the forest.

☞ An attempt was made to burn the Alabama State Capitol a day or two since, by firing the doors of the third story. A negro servant discovered the fire and extinguished it.

DR. PERRY ON THE HAIR.

Dr. B. C. Perry, the celebrated Dermatologist, has taken a room in Exchange Buildings, opposite the Post Office, where he will exercise his skill in improving and restoring the Hair, treating and curing diseases of the scalp, &c.

The Pawtucket Observer, in noticing the Dr. and his systems, as displayed in his lectures, says:—

His subject was the "Hair and its Diseases," which he handled in a highly interesting and instructive manner, showing that he was thoroughly master of his subject. His philosophy of the loss of hair was in accordance with good common sense; proving that the incipient cause was mismanagement of children's heads during infancy, by the too frequent use of the fine comb: irritating the scalp, causing discoloration, common ringworm, and sometimes exzema in its worst forms. Later in life a neglect to keep the head clean, the indiscriminate use of oils and pomades, leaving a glutinous and gummy deposit on the scalp, thereby closing the pores, causing a suppression of the secretions which inevitably result in a loss of of hair, and in some cases, premature blanching. These and many other points which we cannot touch upon in a brief sketch like this, were presented, and the audience was evidently satisfied with the remarks of the lecturer. He dealt but little in abstruse technicalities, but made his points clear to all, and his manner of delivery is in a pleasing, conversational style, best calculated to satisfy a mixed audience. He occupied an hour and twenty minutes with his lecture, the audience remaining perfectly quiet until the close. As to the system of treating Diseases of the Hair, which he advocates and practices, there may be, and undoubtedly are, differences of opinion. As we understand it, it seems to be this: there are eighteen distinct diseases of the scalp that cause the loss of hair, each one requiring a different remedy, and a difference in temperament requires a variation in treatment. Consequently no one preparation can be beneficial in all cases, but of necessity must be injurious in some, which to us seems reasonable. To those who are interested, we would say call and see the Doctor and satisfy yourselves.

The Dr. has made repeated professional visits to the city of Portland; the Advertiser of Oct. 13, says:

Dr. Perry, who has been absent from the city for a few days, will return this morning, when he will resume his lucrative practice. The Doctor, we understand, has been misled, and we should think so from the numbers that have called from day to day. The fact is, the Doctor has been so very successful in treatment of the hair, that every one afflicted with any trouble of the scalp or hair, is anxious to see him and be cured. We hope the Doctor will remain at least a month longer, for he certainly is needed in Portland if anywhere.

The following are two of his numerous certificates:

From Dr. Tuttle, of New Hampshire, well known to invalids frequenting the White Mountains the past few years, for his successful treatment of pulmonary affection and debility. He has since removed to New Bedford at the instance of a number of his patients who were under his treatment at the Mountains.

Having witnessed the result of the treatment of a number of cases of premature blanching and loss of hair, by Dr. Perry, I can cheerfully say that the result has been such as to warrant the belief that he is master of his profession, and I recommend any person suffering afflictions of the hair or scalp, to place themselves under his care. CHARLES M. TUTTLE, M. D.

From the Rev. James J. Twiss, formerly pastor of the first Universalist Society in New Bedford, at present located at Lowell, Mass: Dr. B. C. Perry's system of treating diseases of the scalp and hair has been successfully practiced in my family, by removing difficulties of long standing.

J. J. TWISS.

THE VERMONT DEFALCATION.—The committee appointed by the Vermont Legislature to examine the accounts of the late State Treasurer, Mr. Bates, report that they have ascertained a deficiency of $48,894; but so many variations and errors are found in nearly every department, the books are so inaccurate, so many vouchers are missing, (which must be replaced,) that it is impossible at this time to give a correct statement of the affairs of the late Treasurer. The State is likely to lose but a small amount, because Mr. Bates made over to his bondsmen property to the value of $30,000 to indemnify them from loss.

SWAN STERN SHIPS.—A new system of shipbuilding has lately been introduced in England by M. Tovell. The bow is copied from the head of a salmon, the stern from the after body of a swan. Several vessels have been built upon this principle, and they have all proved to be fast sailors, with great stowage capacity. The keelson in these vessels is curved, not straight as in many other ships.

THE ATTEMPTED MURDER AT NANTUCKET.—Mrs. Phebe Fuller of Nantucket, who was so badly beaten one night last week, is still alive, with a prospect of final recovery. She has regained her senses sufficiently to state that the assault was made by Patience Cooper, a colored woman, whose object was robbery. She has been arrested, and the case is being investigated by the authorities.

SECESSION HAY.—A schooner has landed at Charleston 100 bales of rice straw, which is recommended as a substitute for hay.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR.

The ANNUAL MEETING of this Society will be held at JEFFERSON HALL in PORTSMOUTH, on MONDAY, Dec. 3d, at 10 o'clock A. M. Per order of Board of Trustees.

Subscriptions are now being received in a ratio unparalleled by that of any previous year.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Any person can become a member by subscribing three dollars, for which sum they will receive

1st.—The large and superb steel engraving, 30 x 38 inches, entitled

Falstaff Mustering His Recruits,

2d.—One copy, one year, of that elegantly illustrated magazine, the

"COSMOPOLITAN ART JOURNAL."

3d.—Four admissions, during the season, to

"The Gallery of Paintings, 548 Broadway, New York."

In addition to the above benefits, there will be given to subscribers, as gratuitous premiums, over comprising valuable paintings, marbles, parians, ovilinos, &c., forming a truly national benefit.

Five Hundred Beautiful Works of Art,

THE SUPERB ENGRAVING, which every subscriber will receive, entitled "FALSTAFF MUSTERING HIS RECRUITS," is one of the most beautiful and popular ever made in this country. It is done on steel, in fine line and stipple, and is printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 38 inches, making a most choice ornament, suitable for the walls of either the library, parlor or office. Its subject is the celebrated scene of Sir John Falstaff receiving in Justice Shallow's office the recruits which had been gathered for his "Ragged Regiment." It could not be furnished by the trade for less than five dollars.

The Art Journal is too well known to the whole country to need commendation. It is a magnificently illustrated magazine of Art, containing Essays, Stories, Poems, Gossip, &c., by the very best writers in America.

The Engraving is sent to any art of the country by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postage prepaid.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of January 31, 1861, at which time the books will close, and the premiums be given to subscribers.

No person is restricted to a single subscription Those remitting $15, are entitled to five membership, and one extra Engraving for their trouble.

Subscriptions from California, the Canadas, and all Foreign Countries, must be $3 50 instead of $3, in order to defray extra postage, &c.

For further particulars send for a copy of the elegantly illustrated Art Journal, pronounced the handsomest magazine in America. It contains Catalogue of Premiums, and numerous superb engravings. Regular price, 50 cts. per number.—Specimen copies, however, will be sent to those wishing to subscribe, on receipt of 18 cents, in stamps or coin.

Address C. L. DERBY, Actuary C. A. A., 548 Broadway, New York.

BUT ONE WEEK.

DR. B. C. PERRY,

THE CELEBRATED DERMATOLOGIST,

In accordance with the repeated solicitations he has received from some of the first citizens of Portsmouth during his stay in Portland, having closed his office in Portland after a successful practice of five months, has concluded to remain one week in PORTSMOUTH—when all who are suffering from

Loss of Hair, Premature Blanching, or any Disease of the Scalp,

can consult him.

DR. PERRY is prepared to treat successfully the following diseases, all of which are productive of a loss of hair.

Debilitation of the External Skin, Suppressed Secretion, Irritation of the Scalp, Dandruff or Thickened Secretion, Inflammation of the Sensitive Skin, Mattierated Secretion, Hair Eater, Diseased or Swollen Roots, and Premature Blanching.

This is the only method based upon Physiological principles which has ever been presented to the public for the restoration of the hair.

Dr. Perry's Theory of treating Diseased Scalps and Restoring the Hair.—There are eighteen diseases of the head and scalp, that cause a loss of of hair, and in some are premature blanching, each requiring in its treatment different remedies. Where loss of hair has resulted from any of those diseases, the first thing to be done is to remove the disease by a proper course of treatment, restore the scalp to its normal condition, keep the pores open so the secretion can pass off, and in every follicle that is open, new strands of hair will make their appearance.

The philosophy of premature blanching is this: Iron and Oxygen are the principle constituents of Dark hair, Lime and Magnesia of Light hair. When the suppressed secretion between the skine contains an excess of Lime, it is taken up by the strands, causing the hair to turn white; by opening the pores the accumulation of Lime passes off with the secretions, the natural components of the hair resume their ascendancy, and the hair assumes its natural color.

Because persons have tried various preparations for the hair, and have been deceived by them, and in some cases their difficulty made worse by their use, they should not be discouraged. The one preparation system for any class of diseases, must necessarily be a failure. No one compound can be available for a dozen or more diseases; it may remove some difficulties—in other cases useless, in some positively injurious.

Dr. Perry's method is in accordance with the law of cause and effect. He makes a personal examination, ascertains what disease of the scalp has or is producing a loss of hair or premature whitening, prescribes such remedies, according to its nature and requirements, as will remove the disease. Hence his great success in treating capillary diseases.

ALL CONSULTATIONS FREE.

Dr. Perry will be ready to receive visitors on TUESDAY next, at

EXCHANGE HALL,

Exchange Buildings, same entrance with Chronicle Office.

MR. W. A. BELL—Dear Sir:—I have used HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE, and am satisfied from an experience in all other preparations for the like purpose, that it is the only article ever before the public worth purchasing.

Yours truly, JOHN G. DALY.

PADUCAH, Ky., July 27, 1860.

MESSRS. W. E. HAGAN & CO., Troy, N. Y.

Gents:—Above please find statement of Mr. John G. Daly, merchant of our city, in regard to HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE. This testimony is given after having used most of the preparations now before the public, claiming to be Hair Restoratives, and must be considered conclusive as to the merits of the Inimitable. Special Notices.

Catarrh is the most difficult of any of the Diseases of the Breathing Organs to relieve or to cure. The Rev. Joshua Leavitt, editor of the Independent of New York, who had the Catarrh for more than twenty years, has been cured by using Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron and Sulphur Powders, which are advertised in this paper. His testimonial is published in a pamphlet among others equally prominent who have been cured of chronic Throats and Lung difficulties, which will be sent free by mail.

Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas.

It is now generally admitted that all eruptive diseases depend upon some internal or constitutional cause, and that to use ointments or washes for them is a sure way to injure the system, and only to drive in, not to cure the disease. DR. HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC SALT RHEUM PILLS are a true specific for all such diseases. They cure Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Erysipelas, Pimples on the face, Ringworm, and Nettle Rash, by curing the cause upon which they depend, and restoring the skin to a state of health and purity. Thus not only is the disease cured, but the softness and beauty of the complexion restored.

Price, 25 cents per box, with directions. Six boxes $1.

Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

THE MOST EFFECTUAL REMEDY FOR COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMAS, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION, &c.

The most solemn assurance is given that there is not a fact stated with respect to the power of this invaluable remedy, which is not fully established in every class of cases for which it is recommended, by a mass of evidence which must carry conviction to the most skeptical mind; and the medicine, though thus highly effectual in its remedial character, is in the utmost degree innocent in its composition, and may be taken by the most delicate. It invariably gives relief within TEN MINUTES in all cases; and a few days' perseverance will be sufficient to effect a cure in all recent attacks of Coughs or Cold. They are pleasant to the taste, the active principle of the herbs being combined with sugar in the least objectionable form, and any child will readily take them.

The Great English Remedy!

Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female Pills

Prepared from a Prescription of

SIR J. CLARKE, M. D.,

Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

The Proprietors hold hundreds of testimonials to the virtues of SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS, but their peculiar nature prevents publication; but certain it is that they are the only sure and safe remedy in use for all those painful and dangerous diseases peculiar to the female constitution. In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Dizziness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed. They never fail to moderate excesses and to remove obstructions, from whatever cause. They are purely vegetable, and will not injure the most delicate constitution. For particulars, send for a pamphlet to the Agent. One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, by return mail. nov28 dawâm

WISTAR'S BALSAM WILD CHERRY

Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Quinsy, and the numerous as well as dangerous diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, prevail, in our changeable climate, at all seasons of the year; few are fortunate enough to escape their baneful influence. How important, then, to have at hand a certain antidote to all these complaints. Experience proves that this exists in Wistar's Balsam to an extent not found in any other remedy; however severe the suffering, the application of this soothing, healing and wonderful Balsam at once vanquishes the disease, and restores the sufferer to wonted health.

From a Respectable Druggist.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 3, 1860.

MESSRS. S. W. FOWLE & CO., Boston:

Gents:—Please send me a fresh supply of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. We are selling large quantities of this long celebrated remedy for Coughs and Colds, and it bids fair to outlive most of the so-called specifics which are now in vogue. We can confidently recommend it as a remedy for what it is intended. Very truly yours,

NATHAN F. THACHER.

Mr. D. H. TEAGUE, of Turner Village, Writes the proprietors of this great remedy, as follows:

TURNER VILLAGE, ME., July 31, 1860.

MESSRS. SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston:—

Gents:—I do not hesitate to recommend DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for coughs and pulmonary affections, having used it in my family for many years with great satisfaction; indeed it has done more good than all the other remedies I have tried, and their name is legion. If all the patent medicines in the market possessed but a portion of the merit of this excellent Balsam, there would be no occasion to condemn them as humbugs.

The medicine is also used by many of my friends and acquaintances in this town, and they have found it invaluable; and I hope that others who suffer may give it a fair trial. Very respectfully,

D. H. TEAGUE.

LAUNCH.—The substantial and elegant ship Piscataqua, of 1000 tons burthen, was handsomely launched from the building yard of John Neal & Co., on Saturday.—She was built for Messrs. J. N. Tarlton, Wm. Simes, Horton D. Walker and others; and is designed for the general freighting business.

☞ The Annual Meeting of the Rockingham County Agricultural and Horticultural Society, (this ought to be the title, though the name really is "Rockingham Fair,)—but, any how, the Annual Meeting for the election of Officers, &c., takes place at Jefferson Hall this forenoon—as per advertisement of the Secretary; and every member interested should be present. Holders of life badges only can vote,—or rather only the members of the Society.

PORTSMOUTH CORNET BAND.—It is no small compliment to the Portsmouth Band, that they were employed to perform at a Fair in Ipswich, Mass., on Thanksgiving evening. They were engaged in that town last Fourth of July; and gave such entire satisfaction, not only by their fine playing, but especially by their courteous attention to the desires of those who engaged them then—that they have now been sent for again, even while there are many other Bands located nearer. They returned home on Friday morning, and caused our streets to resound with their stirring strains.

For the Chronicle.

WENDELL PHILLIPS, ESQ.—This gentleman is well known to our citizens as one of the finest orators in the country. In personal appearance, Mr. Phillips is prepossessing. He is of medium size, a finely developed form, dark intelligent eyes, through which the soul speaks, and a forehead exhibiting the indication of a fine intellect. He is a ripe and polished scholar, possessing fine talent and great gifts of mind. As a lecturer, it is sufficient to say that he never disappoints an audience, however high they may have estimated his talents and eloquence, and he will undoubtedly be greeted by a full house tomorrow (Tuesday) evening, when he lectures before the Mercantile Lyceum. *

CURIOUS LEGACY.—At the recent examination of Exeter (N. H.) Academy, a letter was read from J. L. Sibley of Cambridge, announcing a legacy of $200 by his father, Jonathan Sibley, recently deceased. This money is to be distributed in aid of poor students, but to such only as abstain from the use of opium, tobacco and strong drinks.

INCENDIARY ARRESTED.—William R. Winkley, an Irish lad of 18 years, was arrested at Newburyport on Wednesday, for setting fire to the dwelling house of James Sullivan on Monday last. He has made a confession, and it was thought by the Herald that he may have been concerned in other incendiary acts in that city.

JUDGE TANEY.—The Baltimore Exchange says Judge Taney's health is now better than for a long time past, and that his intellect exhibits the clearness and vigor which have characterized its legal efforts in the past. The Exchange adds—"We have reason to believe that the Chief Justice does not contemplate handing in his resignation to Mr. Buchanan now or at any other time."

FROM THE SOUTH.—Milledgeville, Ga., Nov. 30.—The Legislature elected Breckinridge Electors to-day.

The Bank bill has passed the Senate over the Governor's veto.

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 30.—The Legislature of North Carolina has postponed the election of U. S. Senator.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 30.—The House has appointed a Committee on Postal Affairs. A resolution has also been passed directing the Committee on the Military to consider the best method of fortifying exposed portions of the coast. Petitions have been received praying for the suspension of the laws for the collection of debts.

The Mercury urges the South Carolinians in the army and navy to return home.

Secession flags are flying in Florida, and the secession feeling is strong.

A PALPABLE HIT.—The Vicksburg (Miss.) Whig, quoting the remark of Democratic papers, that Hannibal Hamlin has "a stain of negro blood in his veins," and that "high-toned, honorable, high-spirited, proud Southern men," ought not to submit to his election, replies thus:—

The Democracy first elected him to the House of Representatives, then the Senate, and he sat there along with Southern Senators without anybody refusing to submit to his election. If some of our excessively terribly sensitive friends would reflect a little, they might probably recollect that such high-strung Southerners as Jefferson Davis have actually been sitting in the United States Senate with him for years. His recent election to the Vice Presidency does not remove him from the body."

THE VOTE OF VIRGINIA.—Gov. Letcher has issued a proclamation, declaring the election in Virginia to have resulted in the choice of nine Bell electors, and six Breckinridge. This result he reaches by the rejection of returns arising from informalities. The Bell men are said to be indignant at what they believe to be a Democratic fraud.—Atlas.

WASHINGTON MATTERS.—New York, Nov. 30.—The Washington correspondent of the Commercial says that the President in his message will insist upon the Federal laws being obeyed, and also that they must be maintained at all hazards. He hopes that South Carolina will not provoke a collision, but should it do so, his duty to the country forbids him to permit the Secession ists to take possession of the Federal forts or to withhold the revenue.

The President has information that an ordinance for the secession of South Carolina has been prepared for the adoption of the Convention which is to meet in December, and anticipates a collision.

The same correspondence says that advices have been received from St. Petersburg to the effect that our Minister to Russia, Mr. Appleton, has prob bly obtained a favorable response to Mr. Perkins' claim of $385,000 against that Government, for non-compliance with the terms of his contract for furnishing arms during the Crimean war.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Minister Ward writes that England and France concluded a treaty with China, after the combined forces of the two countries had marched within twelve miles of Pekin.

The customs receipts at Charleston show a decrease as compared with last year.

ANOTHER NEW STOVE

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL,

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY

Of Providence, R. I.

In introducing a new Cook Stove, of singularly novel construction and arrangement, it is proper that we speak of its peculiar merits.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long† or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven, with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is the most durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high-priced Air-Tight Cook Stoves, but will barely allude to them, viz:

1st. The double plates each side of the fire prevent any leak of ashes into the oven and make the stove more durable.

2d. The admission of external air between these plates, for the ventilation of the roasting oven, tends also to the preservation of the plates most exposed to destruction.

3d. The durable dump grate, with the ash box of ample size to receive the ashes and coals, is an attractive feature of the stove.

4th. The draft door, at each end of the fire box, is a great convenience when a quick fire is wanted.

5th. The movable ash pan, which, though it forms a hearth to the stove, need not be used except once or twice a day for taking up and carrying away the ashes.

6th. The stove has but one damper, and but one division of flues on the back of and under the oven, ensuring a very quick bake.

7th The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and tin jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

This stove was thoroughly tested before brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial of the stove.

John Trundy, Esq., one of our most practical and scientific mechanics, who has had large experience in the construction of stove patterns in years past, and has for many years been using one of the Stewart Stoves, has purchased one of the MODEL COOKS, and after a fair trial pronounces it far superior to the Stewart or any stove he has ever seen, for economy, convenience and dispatch. We might also refer to several other parties who are using the stove, and who award it the very highest praise.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be the stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is wanted.

We have sought to say against any other stove, believing that a man can sell his own goods without depreciating his neighbor's; but this we do say, that we honestly believe this is the best stove that can be found in the world; and what is more, we think others will agree with us after a trial of it. We invite any one to examine the stove, whether they wish to purchase or not.

For sale, with a great variety of

Furnaces, Ranges, Cooking, Office and Parlor Stoves; Coal Hods, Sifters, Funnel, Stove-Repairing Pieces. Parlor Grates, Etc.

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the stove heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

From the Journal.

NEW SHIP SAILED.—Two ships bearing this name have been built on the Piscataqua—the frigate at the Navy-Yard launched five years ago, and the merchantman of nearly 1000 tons, built by Tobey & Littlefield the present year, for Messrs. J. M. and T. Salter Tredick. She now lies at the Pier wharf, nearly ready for sea, under command of that active and experienced master Capt. Wm. Parker. She is, we think, of different model from any ship built here—a medium clipper, and capacious. The material and workmanship are of the first order: having numerous extra bolts, and the most secure fastenings of refined iron. We may safely say that a superior ship has not been launched on our river.

The cabin is a handsome specimen of the skill of our home artists. The beautiful mahogany, rosewood and maple finish of the cabin was by A. T. Joy,—the painting and graining by Edward D. Coffin,—the upholstery by S. M. Dockum. The arrangement of the work was by Thomas Martin, master joiner. The cabin is about 16 feet square. In place of staterooms on each side are recesses with sofas, and light and air are admitted on each side directly into the cabin. This new arrangement is a decided improvement on the old narrow cabin.

The rigging was the work of Messrs. Deering & Yeaton.

The New-York World of last week devotes a column to the Fine Arts. Among the works noticed therein is one from the hands of Launt Thompson the sculptor, representing in a beautifully delicate bas-relief "Marguerite," the heroine of one of the poems of our townsman, Mr. Thomas Bailey Aldrich. The face is described as exquisitely refined and full of touching sentiment.

The following sweet little poem on our river, by Mr Aldrich, we copy from the New York Independent.

PISCATAQUA RIVER.—1860.

BY THOMAS BAILEY ALDRICH.

Thou singest by the gleaming isles,
By woods and fields of corn,
Thou singest, and the Heaven smiles
Upon my birthday morn.

But I within a city, I,
So full of vague unrest,
Would almost give my life to lie
An hour upon thy breast.

To let the wherry listless go,
And, wrapt in dreamy joy,
Dip, and surge idly to and fro,
Like the red harbor-buoy.

To sit in happy indolence,
To rest upon the oars,
And catch the heavy earthy scents
That blow from summer shores:

To see the rounded sun go down,
And with its parting fires
Light up the windows of the town,
And burn the tapering spires!

And then to hear the muffled bells
From steeples slim and white,
And watch among the Isles of Shoals,
The Beacon's orange light.

O River! flowing to the main
Through woods and fields of corn,
Hear thou my longing and my pain
This sunny birthday morn!

And take this song which sorrow shapes
To music like thine own,
And sing it to the cliffs and capes
And crags where I am known!

THE WRECK AT HAMPTON.—The Bangor Union has intelligence of the loss, with all on board, of the schooner Eunice Rose, of Bucksport, owned by Z. Homer, Esq., of Bucksport, and commanded by Capt. Wm. H. Smith. The following are the particulars as far as known:

"The schooner, laden with lumber, sailed from Townsend Harbor on the 6th of October, bound to Dorchester. A heavy norther was blowing at the time. She was a few hours afterward discovered by another vessel bottom up, with the crew clinging to the keel. The heavy gale blowing made it impossible to save the crew. The wreck drifted rapidly to the leeward, and was soon out of sight. The hull has been towed into Hampton, N. H. The persons on board were Capt. Smith, mate, Z. Morton Homer, and cook, a lad from New Bedford, name unknown. Young Homer was son of the owner."

THE NEWBURYPORT BURGLAR.—The Newburyport Herald furnishes some interesting facts concerning the negro burglar recently shot in that city. The negro was known in Boston, where he made his appearance about three years ago, as "Sport Jackson." He hailed from Baltimore, and was well known as an accomplished burglar. Before going to Newburyport he told a person that he had been operating in Newburyport, "and had a good thing, and should go there again."

Morning Chronicle.

THE LATEST SENSATIONIST IN PARIS.—A mysterious stranger, who gives himself the name of Karroll, but of whose birthplace and antecedents nothing is known, seems destined to take the place in Parisian curiosity left vacant by the absence of the "Spiritist" Home. It is said that the "evocations" of this new sorcerer, which he operates by giving his handkerchief to be held over the eyes of whoever wishes to see the spirit he evokes,—have "convinced" persons whom all the prodigies of his predecessor, had failed to convert to the "faith of the spirits."

Kildare club-house, in Dublin, burnt down three Sundays since. There was no water to be had for the emergency. Two house maids and a bar maid died in the flames.

THE TWO THIEVES.—At the Warsaw Conference, the Emperors of Russia and Austria were to go to the theatre to see a piece performed entitled "Robert and Bertrand, or The Two Thieves." But the delicate attentions of the public led to a change in the show bills, the words "The Two Thieves" being carefully ommitted! The circumstance was instantly noticed and duly commented on, to the great amusement of the people of Warsaw.

☞ Rev. S. M. Blanchard has been dismissed from his pastoral charge of the Congregational church in Wentworth.

ALL THE DIFFERENCE.—"Why, Riley, I thought you wasn't allowed to open shop on Sunday, how is it?" "Well, you see, we sell nothing but religious drink here,and that makes all the difference. What will you take, a Puritan's comfort, (brandy smash) or an age of reason (brandy and rum)."

FROM THE CRADLE TO THE GRAVE.—One of the most remarkable events in every day life that has ever come under our observation, occurred in the suburbs of this city during the present week. A lady gave birth to a child, was married, and died the same day.—Louisville Journal.

All men are endowed with inalienable rights—except poor men; all men who do not pay their honest debts are scamps—except those who cheat on a large scale; all men are born free and equal—except negroes; and all well-dressed women are ladies—except factory girls, and all those who do anything useful for a living.

THE BLACK SWAN was hissed off the stage at Havana a few weeks ago, and the manager was obliged ultimately to take her name from the bills. There was too little of the bulbul, and too much of the "harsh marsh-croaker" about her voice to suit the educated ears of music-loving Cubans.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,

FOR MAKING

Bread, Tea Cakes

All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,

MANUFACTURED BY

EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,

Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,
NO. 33 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating house-keepers, bakers, &c., &c.

Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferment, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough; by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as heretofore, is used, but a part of the flour of the meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 250 lbs. gives by this process 290 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES.

Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable salt, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves much time and trouble to the pastry cook.

The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and prove this compound worthy of public approval and extended use. Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."

HOW TO USE IT.

We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.

BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour,) to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing the flour two or three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter of half the size of an egg, and make the paste the paste with cold milk or water, (milk is preferable,) barely stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.

LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.

GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven to a quart of wheat meal; add one teaspoonful; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.

BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonsful of Leaven in one pint of flour, and one pint of corn meal, all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make one quart of batter; add one egg, one to three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; beat to a froth, and cook quick.

DUMPLINGS.—Sift together one quart of flour and two teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; rub in a piece of butter the size of an egg; add milk cold milk or water, and boil ten minutes.

CHAMBER STREET CAKE.—Sift together two large cups of flour and two teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; put in half a cup of butter, one cup and a half of sugar; mix with cold water or milk to a stiff batter, and spice to suit the taste, and bake immediately.

CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs—the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth; then beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water, and three teaspoonsfuls of leaven; flavor with two teaspoonsful of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.

JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three tea spoonsfuls of Leaven; rub in one teaspoonful of butter; add one cup and half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out, and bake quick.

ELECTION CAKE.—One quart of flour and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add a cup of butter, one pound of currants, two cups of white sugar, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon; mix with cold milk to a stiff batter, and bake in a slow oven.

CORN CAKE.—One pint each of flour and Indian meal, and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, well sifted together; add one gill of molasses and two eggs; mix thin with milk,and bake in a slow oven.

CUP CAKE.—Five cups of flour and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one cup of butter, two of sugar, and two eggs, all well beat together; mix with milk; then add a cup of currants, and spice to suit the taste. Bake about half an hour.

LADIES' CAKE.—Three quarters of a pound of flour and four teaspoonsfuls of Leaven sifted together; one pound of sugar and six ounces of butter beaten to a cream; the whole of eight eggs well beaten, and the juice of one lemon; mix with mick.

WEBSTER CAKE.—Five cups of flour, three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, three eggs beaten, one of butter, one of milk, and two eggs; fruit and spice to the taste. Bake about half an hour.

PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies for which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION & CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from other complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no prescription nor written attestation would render probable. Many long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Numerous signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical change, and that nonpolluting of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being constipating and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it is peculiarly prone to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local congestion, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION This remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating great torture and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great, speedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills,price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

BININGER'S GENUINE Cognac Brandy

The infamous practice of adulterating Brandies having become so common that a genuine article is the exception; it is of vital importance to those requiring it for Family use and Invalids, that it should be of undoubted purity and efficacy.

With a view to meeting the popular demand for a Brandy in its natural state, free from alcoholic flavor and impurities, and fully appreciating the fact that it is often commended by the Medical Faculty as a sustaining stimulant, when all other remedies fail, we are now bottling and selling at reasonable rates, a Brandy of our own importion, from one of the most responsible houses in France, and known as

"Bininger's Genuine Cognac Brandy."

It is mild, delicate and fruity, and is designed to be always uniform in quality and character.—Put up in pint and quart bottles, in cases containing two dozen pints and one dozen quarts, and is sold by all prominent druggists, grocers and town agents.

The above is also for sale in original packages, viz.: Eighth and Quarter Casks.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirum Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health,strength and vigor.

Persons who from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit,the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder, or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Personswho, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

FANNY ELLSLER.—The Paris correspondent of the N. Y. Times has the following:—

Fanny Ellsler is now at Berlin, at the bedside of a sick sister, wife of the son of Prince Adelbert of Prussia. The marriage of the young Baron de Harnim, eldest son of Prince Adelbert to Mlle. Terese Ellsler, sister of the famous' danseuse, and something of a danseuse herself, created a great sensation at the time; but the union has been a happy one, and the relatives became long ago reconciled to the plebian intruder. From this union was born one child, a son, whose bad health induced the parents to send him, some months ago, to Egypt, to try the effect of the climate on his lungs. But, like Rachel, he received no benefit, and has just died at Nubia. The news threw the mother on her bed, and her sister Fanny hastened to her side, to console her in the loss.

THE FIRST SUFFERERS from the panic are the slaveholders themselves. We feel it when money is "tight" here, but in the South business is absolutely paralyzed; and the price of slaves has sunk more than one-third part. Breeders in Virginia who were boasting themselves upon their fine lot of boys and girls that were good for ten or twelve hundred dollars a head, would find it difficult to sell them at more than six or eight hundred. Then the sensation created in that section renders it more costly and more dangerous to retain them. They have eyes and ears and minds as well as whites, and they can understand that if the election of Lincoln is so great an evil to their masters it may bring release to them. Many of them, with the best white blood in their veins, are looking for emancipation by this change in the government. When it does not come, all the minute men and extra arms may be needed to retain them in slavery.—Newburyport Herald.

Gen. Harney who has been ordered by the general government to subdue the rebels of the Montgomery gang in Kansas, by the decease of his wife recently in Paris, has come in possession, as the property of himself and children, of five million dollars.—He is little rising fifty years old, but by what broken and much exposure is somewhat broken in health. He is the fourth in the list of our army officers, Scott, Wool and Twiggs coming before him. A man must love fighting that at his time of life, with his fortune and health, will take the risk of Montgomery's rifemen.—Newburyport Her.

A preacher in Philadelphia was greatly annoyed by three small boys in the gallery, who were having a good time. Suddenly stopping in his discourse and turning toward the little rogues, he said "Those boys must be quiet." Of course all eyes in the church were at once turned on the young trio, when one of them exclaimed in reply, "Jimmy made me laugh." The effect may be readily imagined.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, Under the act of 1837.
76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office at the Hub are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

Atwood's Quinine Tonic Bitters,—the best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the public.—All the Druggists have it. See advertisement.

New Photographic Establishment.
Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.
The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.
All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.
Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operated satisfactorily. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the special effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1860.

LETTER FROM NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 25, 1860.

On Sunday last, after ten years of delay, the Post Office of this city, was removed to the New Custom House, though that building is but little more than two-thirds finished. Relieved of the cumbersome staging that for ten years formed the most noticeable feature of the edifice, it presents a singular appearance, as it has no roof, and the walls terminate abruptly, as though the workmen had just left them, to return in an hour to their labor. The room in which the mail service is performed is in the corner of the building formed by Canal and Front Levee streets, and so arranged that the P. M. can oversee all operations without leaving his desk. The furnishing is wretched in the extreme, the rough wooden palings which separate the public from the officials, bearing no small resemblance to a "pig-tight fence," and, in connection with the millions expended on the building, suggesting the picture of a man who has bought a service of plate but reserved nothing to furnish wands.

A number of flourishing drinking saloons, restaurants, and cigar stands will be the great sufferers by the removal, but a new crop will shortly flourish around the present locality.

The rivers are as low as political excitement is high. Between the two, business has assumed a serious turn, and very little cotton is finding its way to market. Several large houses here have suspended the past week.

This morning the Palmetto flag was hoisted at the main, (the stars and stripes still waving at the peak) of the bark Sea Breeze, Capt. Jervey, lying at the Levee, near Jackson Square, and saluted by fourteen guns. An immense crowd was assembled, who viewed the raising of the "Pelican" and the "Palmetto," with marked satisfaction. The vessel is owned here, and the captain is a South Caolinian, (reared in the Bay State,) but the stops of the halliards were broken, and the first gun fired, by New England men—showing that even in Yankee land there are some who can see the injustice of the course pursued by a large mass of the Northerners toward the South. Mr. Lincoln was also hung in effigy at Jefferson City this morning, but acts of that kind do not find so many supporters as the fixed resolves to have "equality in the Union," or out of it.

Murderers do not always escape punishment, even in New Orleans. The Governor's warrant has been received for the execution—on Jan. 4, 1861—of George Osborne and Patrick Eagan, now under sentence for wife murder.

Murders have been scarce of late, but large and frequent fires have, in some measure, filled their places.

Rudolph Hall, of "Hall's mounted Band," Boston, has been playing at the Academy of Music. John Owens has opened the Varieties Theatre with a grand stock company. Nixon's Circus has filled the St. Charles Theatre, the last two weeks, with a wondering and admiring crowd.

Many of our booksellers refused to sell Harper's Weekly of Nov. 10th, on account of the portrait of "Old Abe" on the first page.

The ship J. Montgomery had a passage of fifteen days from Boston here. Sugar and flour are very low—the first four cents per pound the last $4.50 to $4.60 for superfine. Provisions of all kinds are cheap, and in case of a secession twould be hard work to starve us out.

The weather is magnificent, but rather cold.

"Governor Dorr" has arrived here from his European tour, but we are pained to say that the polish it may have bestowed upon his mind has not been extended to his outward belongings. Yet still the fact of having slept upon the tomb of Shakspeare seems somewhat to reconcile him to the ill-treatment of Dame Fortune. IOX.

KENNEBUNK SHIPS.—A ship of 826 tons was launched at Kennebunkport last week, named "Longfellow." She is to be commanded by Capt. Moody, and is owned by parties in Boston and Kennebunkport.

Also sailed a fine ship of 1000 tons, called "Hamlin," in compliment to the next Vice President. She is owned by Messrs. D. W. Lord and H. Kingsbury.

There is another large ship on the stocks, of 1000 tons, to be called "Lincoln," and owned by D. W. Lord, Esq.

EXTRAORDINARY LONGEVITY.—Daniel McGrath died at Montreal recently at the age of 110 years. He was born in Waterford county, Ireland, and retained his mental faculties to the last. His occupations through life were mostly out-of-doors. He was 6 1-2 feet in height, with a well proportioned frame, lived a life of uniformity, temperate, though not abstemious, was the husband of two wives, and the father of sixteen children, twelve of them daughters.

THE KANSAS TROUBLES.—Warsaw, Mo., Dec. 1.—The following is said to be from a reliable source:—"Clinton, Henry county, Dec. 1.—Armed abolitionists continued their murderous operations in Bourbon and Lynn counties, Kansas, hunting down and driving away all who disapprove of their proceedings. The roads leading eastward from the Territory are crowded with wagons filled with persons, male and female, escaping for their lives. A man named Bishop, residing 12 miles from Fort Scott, was aroused by a noise in the night, and on going to the door was shot dead.—A woman gave birth to a child in the road near Poppingsville, Mo., during the flight of her family. Families living in Missouri, near the border, had been notified to leave, and had fled to the interior for security.—Yesterday slaves owned by those living within 25 or more miles of the line were brought here for safe keeping. The citizens of Westport had called on the Sheriff of Bates county to raise a force to protect the border. Forty muskets were sent immediately. The citizens stand guard every night to prevent surprise. The citizens of Poppingsville and of all the border towns, also stand guard every night. A large meeting has been held here to take the border troubles into consideration.

Warsaw, Mo., Dec. 2.—General Frost's brigade was encamped last night between Calhoun and Belmont.

At the latest accounts Montgomery was still at or near Fort Scott, and defies the world to take him. It was thought that he would leave on the approach of the forces under Generals Harney and Frost.

The reader will bear in mind that some big lies about this matter have come over the wires from Warsaw, Mo.; and so make due allowance for the above statements.

CANADA ON EXTRADITION.—In the case of the slave Anderson, before the Court at Toronto, on a demand for delivery, to be tried in this country on a charge of murder, the Montreal Herald remarks:

"It is to be hoped that it will be an order for Anderson's relief, for it will be humiliating indeed for the country, if its officers of justice shall by any cause be placed in the position of tools for the enforcement of the barbarous and bloody system of the South; or should take any part in what must be considered the judicial murder of a man, who only did his duty to himself and to society. It indeed would be a singular spectacle—that of a people sympathizing with Garibaldi, while their officers become the instruments of securing the execution of a man, who has only struck for deliverance from a far worse tyranny than any which Garibaldi has overturned."

YANKEE GIRLS AMONG THE MORMONS. About twelve years ago, says the Northampton Free Press, a highly respectable young lady, of wealthy parentage, residing in the western part of Hampshire county, happened to attend a meeting held by Elder Hyde, one of Brigham Young's apostles. She became a believer, was baptized by him and admitted to the Mormon Church. Time passed on and she received several offers of marriage, but refused them all, because her lovers would not agree to accompany her to Salt Lake. Finally her friends consented, after much persuasion, that she should leave for that land of promise, and her father gave her $2000 to start with. She secured the company of a female cousin, also a Mormon convert, and in May of last year the twain started for Utah. On reaching Florence, in Nebraska, she purchased an outfit, consisting of provisions, a wagon, three yoke of cattle and two cows, and then set out with a large train of Mormons, who were all bound for the Holy City After getting about 500 miles from Florence her cattle gave out, and she was obliged to foot it the rest of the distance, 500 miles more, but arrived at Salt Lake in safety. Here she made the acquaintance of Brigham Young, and loaned the remainder of her funds to him, for the use of which he paid her a large interest. At the appointed time he returned her all of the money borrowed, since which both herself and cousin have married Elder Hyde, who baptized them twelve years previous, and thus far seem well satisfied with all the peculiarities of modern saints.

☞ Hon. Schuyler Colfax of Indiana, is prominently mentioned as Postmaster General under Mr. Lincoln. Mr. Colfax, unlike many public men, can base his claim to this important appointment, as well upon his ability and experience as upon the signal service rendered by him, during the late canvass. Never in the history of the country, has the Congressional Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads received the assistance and co-operation of so able, efficient and industrious a Chairman; rarely has one man contributed so much of personal effort to a Presidential contest.—Mr. Colfax delivered no less than ninety-two speeches in favor of Mr. Lincoln's election, and in the doubtful State of Indiana, guided the battle to a successful issue.—As Mr. Lincoln is famed for his consideration of the "eternal fitness of things," it is probable that the thorough qualifications of Mr. Colfax will ensure his elevation to the place of honor and trust at the head of the Post-Office department.

WARREN, Mo, Nov. 30.—A company of volunteers has been formed in Benton county, and is daily increasing in numbers. A meeting there yesterday adopted strong resolutions in favor of Gen. Scott, Stewart and the President are sending troops to protect their borders and banish the blood-thirsty villains threatening them.

DEATH ON A RAILROAD.—Soon after the 4 o'clock passenger train on the Providence road, had left Millville, on Friday evening, the conductor discovered a man hanging on the rear car with his feet on the railing, evidently stealing a ride. The conductor, as he opened the door, saw that the man was in a dangerous position and held out his hand to assist him, but the man either thought he would be arrested, or else he intended to avail himself of the proferred assistance, for he let go his hold on the the railing, and fell backwards, head foremost, and was killed instantly.

CALIFORNIA NEWS by express, from San Francisco, Nov. 21.

Cleared 21st, ships Pamflush, for Cork, with 20,000 barrels flour and 24,000 sacks of wheat. Ship Winged Racer is loading for Cork.

The total vote of the State at the late election, so far as returned, was 117,811, of which Lincoln received 38,646, Douglas 37,349, Breckinridge 33,357, Bell 8467.—The total vote cannot have exceeded 118,500, and Lincoln, it was generally conceded, had carried the State by from 700 to 1000 plurality.

Returns from all the counties in Oregon give Lincoln a majority of 318 over Breckinridge. Douglas was third in the race.

The late storm did much damage in the interior of California.

Mr. Shannon, editor of the Vezelia Democrat had been killed in a street fight, by Mr, Morris, a lawyer. The latter was arrested and acquitted on the ground that he committed the act in self defence.

The fillibusters had been driven out of Lower California.

The Fremont mines had yielded $32,000 in two weeks.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 1.—The proceedings of the Legislature to-day have been mainly of a local character. A resolution was introduced that it is inexpedient to fill the vacancies in the U. S. Senate from South Carolina. It will probably be adopted on Monday. A Governor is to be elected next week—perhaps on Wednesday. Hon. F. W. Pickens has been mentioned in connection with the office. He made a strong secession speech before the Legislature last night.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1—Noon.—A good feeling seems to animate members from all sections, and although the fire-eaters insist on the secession of the Southern States, hopes are brighter than they have been.

The President will probably retain his Message until Tuesday, and submit it to leading conservatives in the meantime.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 30.—Money is easier. Exchange on New York 5 per cent. premium; exchange on Philadelphia and Baltimore 2 1-2 and 3. South Carolina bills 5 per cent. discount.

The Governor will, by request of the clergymen, appoint a day of fasting and prayer.

CHARLESTON, Dec. 1.—A special Washington dispatch to the Courier, semi-official in its tone, says that the President hopes that South Carolina will appreciate the delicacy of his position, and not compel him to use force in collecting the revenue. The President will maintain the laws, collect the revenue, and protect public property.

TALLAHASSEE, Florida, Dec. 1.—The Legislature has unanimously passed the Convention bill. It is to meet on the 3d of January.

RICHMOND, VA., Dec. 2.—The Governor will refuse the request of the clergy to appoint a day of fasting and prayer.

MILLEDGEVILLE, GA., Dec. 1.—The Bank bill authorizes the suspension of specie payments, and makes a legal suspension of the payment of all debts until December, 1861.

AUGUSTA, GA., Dec. 2.—It is understood that all the banks will suspend on Monday.

LEBANON, KY., Dec. 1.—Fifteen negroes, with their leader, a white man, have been hung for being concerned in an insurrection.

WASHINGTON, DEC. 2.—Mr. Douglas was serenaded last night by the Douglas and Johnson Association. He made a Union speech in which he urged his friends not to indulge in recriminations, but let bygones be bygones, and to unite for the preservation of the Union. He should resume his seat in the Senate on Monday without prejudice or ill feeling towards any one except the foes of his country. He was repeatedly cheered most enthusiastically. John Young Brown, of Kentucky, followed in an eloquent Union speech.

It is believed that Mr. Trescott will resign his office of Assistant Secretary, on account of the position his State has taken.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The Herald's Washington correspondent writes that Mr. Cobb resigned his Secretaryship on Saturday to take effect on Wednesday.

The Times correspondent says Mr. Soutter, President of the Bank of the Republic of New York, will succeed Mr. Cobb.

The Herald's correspondent says that a majority of the Republican members of Congress have voted in favor of Thurlow Weed's compromise proposition.

Members from North Carolina, Tennessee, Louisiana and Kentucky represent those States as strongly in favor of the Union.

It is proposed that that portion of the message relating to secession be referred to a committee of one from each State, which shall arrange for a final adjustment of all difficulties.

It is rumored that Mr. Seward will offer conciliatory resolutions.

☞ The little meeting of radical abolitionists at Tremont Temple, Boston, on Monday, was overslaughed by a mob of rowdies, who passed resolutions condemnatory of anti-slavery fanatics in general, and John Brown in particular. The police cleared the room.

INDIAN DIFFICULTIES.—Fort Kearney, Nov. 30.—Captain Steele's company of infantry have been ordered to Cottonwood Springs, where report said there were ten or fifteen thousand Arapahoes, Cheyennes, and Sioux encampod, annoying travellers and committing larcenies. A general war was feared.

Ten or fifteen hundred Indians may be there. It is quite unlikely that ten thousand are there, or even half that number.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Schooner Shark collided with schooner Ship Carpenter, off Barnegat, on Saturday night, sinking the latter. Captain's wife and crew saved. A child of the captain was saved.

We understand that advance copies of the President's message will not be forwarded farther East than this city.

☞ The Boston Post says the Traveller's Review of the Week, is "about the best newspaper compilation in the country, aside from its politics."

BUT ONE WEEK.

DR. B. C. PERRY,

THE CELEBRATED DERMATOLOGIST,

In accordance with the repeated solicitations he has received from some of the first citizens of Portsmouth during his stay in Portland, having closed his office in Portland after a successful practice of five months, has concluded to remain one week in PORTSMOUTH—when all who are suffering from

Loss of Hair, Premature Blanching, or any Disease of the Scalp,

can consult him.

DR. PERRY is prepared to treat successfully the following diseases, all of which are productive of a loss of hair.

Debilitation of the External Skin, Suppressed Secretion, Irritation of the Scalp, Dandruff or Thickened Secretion, Inflammation of the Sensitive Skin, Mattersted Secretion, Hair Eater, Distended or Swollen Roots, and Premature Blanching.

This is the only method based upon Physiological principles which has ever been presented to the public for the restoration of the hair.

Dr. Perry's Theory of treating Diseased Scalps and Restoring the Hair.—There are eighteen diseases of the head and scalp, that cause a loss of of hair, and in some cases premature blanching, each requiring in its treatment different remedies. Where loss of hair has resulted from any of those diseases, the first thing to be done is to remove the disease by a proper course of treatment, restore the scalp to its normal condition, keep the pores open so the secretion can pass off, and in every follicle that is not destroyed. The one preparation system for any class of diseases, must necessarily be a failure. No one compound can be available for a dozen or more diseases; it may remove some difficulties—in other cases useless, in some positively injurious.

Dr. Perry's method is in accordance with the law of cause and effect. He makes a personal examination, ascertains what disease of the scalp has or is producing a loss of hair or premature whitening, prescribes such remedies, according to its nature and requirements, as will remove the disease. Hence his great success in treating capillary diseases.

ALL CONSULTATIONS FREE.

Dr. Perry is now ready to receive visitors at

Special Notices.

Catarrh is the most difficult of any of the Diseases of the Breathing Organs to relieve or to cure. The Rev. Joshua Leavitt, editor of the Independent of New York, who had the Catarrh for more than twenty years, has been cured by using Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron and Sulphur Powders, which are advertised in this paper. His testimonial is published in a pamphlet among others equally prominent who have been cured of chronic Throats and Lung difficulties, which will be sent free by mail.

Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas.

It is now generally admitted that all eruptive diseases depend upon some internal or constitutional cause, and that to use ointments or washes only to drive in, not to cure the disease. But HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC SALT RHEUM PILLS are a true specific for all such diseases. They cure Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Erysipelas, Pimples on the face, Ringworm, and Nettle Rash, by curing the cause upon which they depend, and restoring the skin to a state of health and purity. Thus not only is the disease cured, but the softness and beauty of the complexion restored.

Price, 25 cents per box, with directions. Six boxes $1.

Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

THE MOST EFFECTUAL REMEDY FOR COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMAS, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION, &c.

The most solemn assurance is given that it is not a fact stated with respect to the powers of this invaluable remedy, which is not fully established in every class of cases for which it is recommended, by a mass of evidence which must carry conviction to the most skeptical mind; and the medicine, though thus highly effectual in its remedial character, is in the utmost degree innocent in its composition, and may be taken by the most delicate. It invariably gives relief within TEN MINUTES in all cases; and a few days' perseverance will be sufficient to effect a cure in all recent attacks of Coughs or Cold. They are pleasant to the taste, the active principle of the herbs being combined with sugar, in the least objectionable form, and any child will readily take them.

The Great English Remedy!

Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female Pills

Prepared from a Prescription of

SIR J. CLARKE, M. D.,

Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

The Proprietors hold hundreds of testimonials to the virtues of SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS, but their peculiar nature prevents publication; but certain it is that they are the only sure and safe remedy in use for all those painful and dangerous diseases peculiar to the female constitution. In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed. They never fail to moderate excesses and to remove obstructions, from whatever cause. They are purely vegetable, and will not injure the most delicate constitution.—For particulars, send for a pamphlet to the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, by return mail. nov28 dawtm

WISTAR'S BALSAM WILD CHERRY

Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Quinsey, and the numerous as well as dangerous diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, prevail, in our changeable climate, at all seasons of the year; few are fortunate enough to escape their baneful influence. How important, then, to have at hand a certain antidote to all these complaints. Experience proves that this exists in Wistar's Balsam to an extent not found in any other remedy; however severe the suffering, the application of this soothing, healing and wonderful Balsam at once vanquishes the disease, and restores the sufferer to wonted health.

From a Respectable Druggist.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 3, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & CO., Boston.—

Gents:—Please send me a fresh supply of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. We are selling large quantities of this long celebrated remedy for Coughs and Colds, and it fully fills fair to outlive most of the so-called specifics which are now in vogue. We can confidently recommend it as a remedy for what it is intended. Very truly yours,

NATHAN P. THACHER.

Mr. D. H. TEAGUE, of Turner Village, Writes the proprietors of this great remedy, as follows:

TURNER VILLAGE, ME., July 31, 1860.

Messrs. SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston:—

Gents:—I do not hesitate to recommend DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for coughs and pulmonary affections, having used it in my family for many years with great satisfaction; indeed I has done more good than all the other remedies I have tried, and their name is legion. If all the patent medicines in the market possessed but a portion of the virtues of this excellent balsam, there would be no occasion to condemn them as humbugs.

The medicine is also used by many of my friends and acquaintances in this town, and they have found it invaluable; and I hope that others who suffer may give it a fair trial. Very respectfully,

THE CITY MISSION.

The annual meeting of the City Missionary Society was held on Sunday evening, in the Universalist Church, which was filled with an attentive and interested assembly.

The introductory exercises were singing, prayer by Rev. Mr. Eddy of the Baptist Church, and reading of the Scriptures by Rev. Mr. Patterson, who presided, and made a few remarks, introducing Rev. Mr. Medbery as the City Missionary, and regretting the loss of the Society by the removal of Rev. Drs. Peabody and Lamson.

Rev. Mr. Medbery read his Report, which was a plain and satisfactory statement of his labors, expenditure of funds, and the success and failure of efforts for the benefit of the poor. He has made during the year 2125 visits, or about half a dozen each day; and performed other labors in proportion, keeping him incessantly at work.

The reading of the report was followed by Mr. J. H. Foster's address, which was a statement of the character, structure and design of the Mission Society; catholic in its character, the ministers of the city being ex-officio trustees, with one lay trustee from each denomination; constructed as it now stands, on the simple basis of doing good at home; and having for its design the temporal and spiritual benefit of the community, by acting directly on the poor.

Addresses and remarks were also made by Rev. Mr. Eddy, Gov. Goodwin, Lyman D. Spalding, Esq., Hon. Horton D. Walker, Mr. Aurin M. Payson of the High School, and Rev. Mr. Gage of the North Church.

The interesting exercises were closed by a subscription of $185; the 117th Psalm, sung in Old Hundred by the congregation, and the benediction.

This useful institution, the City Mission, is the connecting link which binds together our public and private charities.—In its operations, especially when the same missionary is employed year after year, it almost always detects impostors, and thus not only saves money for those who are really needy—but also prevents the injury which always results from giving money to the itinerant spongers and cheats.

Viewed in this light, the Society is not only a good charity, but a grand item in the political economy of our city.

The sources of poverty, idleness, intemperance, extravagance, we have. Let us at least have this alleviation also.

☞ A series of Lectures on Temperance, by the Pastors of Churches in Portsmouth, have been arranged by the ministers, at the suggestion and request of the Washingtonian Society at their annual meeting.

It is designed to have the lectures once in two weeks, on Sunday evenings, either in the several churches, or in the Temple, as the ministers choose in each case respectively: the ministers agree to lay aside their parish lectures on those evenings;—and to close their prayer meetings so early that the hearers may be at the Temperance lecture.

The first lecture is to be on Sunday evening, December 16, at half past 7, in the Temple, by Rev. I. F. Waterhouse of Providence, who will preach at the Temple that day.

The second lecture, Dec. 30; is assigned to Rev. Mr. Patterson, of the Universalist Church.

The ministers are not supposed to be limited to any particular view of the subject discussed; but will speak for themselves on one of the most important subjects.

It is to be desired also, that there may be always one or more ministers attending and aiding in the services, besides the lecturer.

OLD SOUTH CHURCH.

"If the Lord will," meetings for worship and religious reading will be held at the "OLD SOUTH" MEETING HOUSE on SUNDAYS, at the regular hours.

The chief object of these meetings is to attract the attention and interest of persons not connected with any existing religious organization, and to excite and strengthen the feeling of the important bearing of these things on individual and social welfare.

It is designed that these operations shall embody the plan of a Free Church; at the same time giving an opportunity to all such persons as would prefer to contribute towards its expenses and for its permanent establishment, to do so.

Also it is not proposed to call personally for any outside aid—but if there are persons who would like to favor the enterprise, the first necessary application of a few (and but a few) dollars, would be to set the glass and slight ly improve the outside of the building, thus preventing it from being any longer a disgrace to the city, and the Parish between whom and it are connected so many venerable associations.

In regard to the style of the services, the present method of most Congregational Churches will be varied by the introduction of the reading of the Psalms in alternate verses by the congregation—and for the present, in the absence of any regular preacher, to use the best published sermons.

The first one used will be the first great Gospel Sermon ever preached, which was from the mouth of our Lord Jesus Christ—"the Sermon on the Mount." A. J. PENHALLOW, in behalf of the cause.

N. B.—It is requested that all who can do so conveniently, should bring Bibles and Hymn Books. If singing is bad, it will be by depending on volunteers.

Persons who would be subject, from the condition of the building, to cold and sickness, had perhaps best defer attendance for one or two Sabbaths, until some better arrangements can be made. dec4 daw 1w*

☞ The second Lecture of the Mercantile Course, is announced for this evening, by Wendell Phillips. We are sorry to see that the evening tickets are advertised at 15 cents each. It is beneath the value of the entertainments, and the dignity of the Association—and will not put so much funds in the treasury, as the old and respectable price of a "quarter."

ROCKINGHAM FAIR.

The Annual Meeting of this Society was held at Jefferson Hall, Portsmouth, on Monday, Dec. 3d. The last year's Board of Officers was re-elected, with one or two changes. The new Board is as follows:

President,
James H. Butler, Nottingham.
Secretary,
Morrill M. Coffin, Hampton.
Treasurer,
Joseph C. Hilliard, Exeter.
Trustees,
John S. Godfrey, Hampton Falls.
Jacob H. Sanborn, East Kingston.
Frank W. Miller, Portsmouth.
Darius Frink, Newington.
Jewett Conner, Exeter.

At a meeting of the Trustees, afterwards, the following officers were appointed.

Vice Presidents,
Moses Mann, Greenland.
Levi B. Tucker, Plaistow.
Joseph Blake, Raymond.
Isaiah S. Robinson, Fremont.
B. S. Clifford, Epping.
Auditors,
Stephen W. Dearborn, Exeter.
Alvah Wood, "
John P. P. Kelley, "

The Treasurer's report shew the receipts at the last Fair, in Portsmouth, to be $1,020, and the expenses about $1,850.—Amount of funds in treasury, about $1050.

It was voted to change the name of the Society from that of "Rockingham Fair," to be hereafter "The Rockingham Agricultural Society."

It was also voted that the Treasurer have a vote in all transactions of the Board of Trustees, as has always been the case with the Secretary.

The Trustees also voted to hold a Fair for 1861, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 24th, 25th and 26th—in such town as shall offer the best facilities and hold out the greatest inducements for the same.

☞ The second annual SALE (of clothing, fancy articles, &c.,) by the Ladies' Domestic Missionary Society, of the Unitarian Parish, will take place on Wednesday, Dec. 5th, from 3 to 9 o'clock P. M., at the Court street Chapel. The proceeds of the sale are to be devoted to the Isles of Shoals Mission.

☞ A gentleman who had from twenty to forty men in his employ, in getting out ship-timber, in this vicinity, from Aug. 20th to Nov. 1st, informs us that on account of rainy weather, the gang was able to make only 4 1-8 days work per week each, in the average. There was an equinoctial storm almost every week.

ANOTHER NEW STOVE

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL,

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY

Of Providence, R. I.

In introducing a new Cook Stove, of singularly novel construction and arrangement, it is proper that we speak of its peculiar merits.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven, with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is the most durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high-pric-d Air-Tight Cook Stoves, but will barely allude to them, viz:

1st. The double plates each side of the fire prevent any leak of ashes into the oven and make the stove more durable.

2d. The admission of external air between these plates, for the ventilation of the roasting oven, tends also to the preservation of the plates most exposed to destruction.

3d. The durable dump grate, with the ash box of ample size to receive the ashes and coals, is an attractive feature of the stove.

4th. The draft door, at each end of the fire box, is a great convenience when a quick fire is wanted.

5th. The movable ash pan, which, though it forms a hearth to the stove, need not be used except once or twice a day for taking up and carrying away the ashes.

6th. The stove has but one damper, and but one division of flues on the back of and under the oven, ensuring a very quick bake.

7th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and tin jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

This stove was thoroughly tested before brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial of the stove.

John Trundy, Esq., one of our most practical and scientific mechanics, who has had large experience in the construction of stove patterns in years past, and has for many years been using one of the Stewart Stoves, has purchased one of the MODEL COOKS, and after a fair trial pronounces it far superior to the Stewart or any stove he has ever seen, for economy, convenience and dispatch. We might also refer to several other parties who are using the stove, and who award it the very highest praise.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be the stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is wanted.

We have nought to say against any other stove, believing that a man can sell his own goods without depreciating his neighbor's; but this we do say, that we honestly believe this is the best stove that can be found in the world; and what is more, we think others will agree with us after a trial of it. We invite any one to examine the stove, whether they wish to purchase or not.

For sale, with a great variety of
Furnaces, Ranges, Cooking, Office and Parlor Stoves; Coal Hods, Sifters, Funnel, Stove-Repairing Pieces, Parlor Grates, Etc.

Autocrat of the Kitchen.—35,000 in use
THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,
FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER
AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,
FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL
Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BOILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

THE ONLY PREPARATION

Having Proof so Strong and Direct as to

Expel the Doubts of All.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified endorsement, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the skin, scalp and brain; but all who have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—

Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had dissemination of the pamphlet, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test.—

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of laceration, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.

These and other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result; for, immediately after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.

You can publish this if you think proper.

Yours, very respectfully,

M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jefferson Office, Phillips, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since the first youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he got from a friend in Lynchburg, and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement. I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.

Yours, &c.,

THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color, and about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon resumed its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention quite efficacious as well as agreeable.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes: viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle the medium holds at least one and a half pint, more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

ATWOOD'S

QUININE TONIC

BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities.

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonic and stomachic, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is not can be any better approved remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "but it is the best preparation of Quinine that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior benefits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,

FOR MAKING

Bread, Tea Cakes

All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,

MANUFACTURED BY

EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,

Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,

No. 35 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a better quality, and in less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating house-keepers, &c., &c.

Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, nutty taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as it yet. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferment, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas.—Yeast is used, and the saccharine is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, the flour is saved, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour; from one pound of yeast to a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 250 lbs. gives by this process 220 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention can produce light, healthy bread, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,

Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, and will leave nothing but a vegetable salt, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. It leaves the dough, without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry-cook.

"The experiments made by me, confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and provide this compound worthy of public approval and extended use.

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."

HOW TO USE IT.

We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.

BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour,) to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing two or three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter, the size of an egg; and make the paste the paste with cold milk or water, (milk is preferable,) barely stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.

LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.

GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal, sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.

BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonsful of Leaven to one pint of flour, and one quart of corn meal, all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.

CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs—the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth; then beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water, and three teaspoonfuls of leaven; flavor with two teaspoonsful of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.

JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three tea spoonfuls of Leaven; rub in one teacupful of butter; add a cup and a half of white sugar, and sufficient milk to make a stiff dough to roll out, and bake quick.

ELECTION CAKE.—One quart of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; add a cup of butter, one pound of currants, two cups of white sugar, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon; mix with cold milk to a stiff batter, and bake in a slow oven.

CORN CAKE.—One pint each of flour and Indian meal, and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, well sifted together; add one gill of molasses and two eggs; make thin with milk and bake in a slow oven.

CUP CAKE.—Five cups of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one cup of butter, two of sugar, and two eggs, all well beaten together; add one pound of currants, a cup of currants, and spice to suit the taste. Bake about half an hour.

LADIES' CAKE.—Three quarters of a pound of flour and four teaspoonfuls of leaven sifted together; one pound of sugar and six ounces of butter beaten to a cream; the white of eight eggs well beaten, and the juice of one lemon; mix with milk.

WEBSTER CAKE.—Five cups of flour, three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, three cups of sugar, one of butter, one of milk and two eggs, fruit and spice to the taste. Bake about half an hour.

CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE

PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSUMPTION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, DEFICIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of disease, or the effect of continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has been ascertained to prove a complete, and no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attributed to this invigorating medical victory of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and impotent aversion to the use and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the opportunity is afforded of trying a medicine certainly beneficial, yet, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-powering, but gently and pleasantly, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a tonic, and which renders it also appear to exert a distinct and specific action, by improving the local tendency, which forms them.

In ASTHMA, of innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the constant dyspnœa.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iron, in proportion to all their well-known liability to

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy as restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory, it has proved a powerful remedy; it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and over-heated state of the joints.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and in the progress of the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

A remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Blood appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

BININGER'S OLD KENTUCKY BOURBON "1849 RESERVE"

The established popularity of this CHOICE OLD BOURBON as a medicinal agent, rendered superfluous to mention in detail the characteristics which distinguish it from the ordinary grade of Kentucky Whiskeys.

Being distilled in 1848, and manufactured expressly for us with great care, it can be relied upon as a strictly pure stimulant, and peculiarly effective for the treatment of Lung Complaints, Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Stomach, Nervousness, &c.

As a curative agent it has a tendency to recreate and strengthen; while age having contributed its genial charm, and enriched it with a delicious flavor and an oily body, it affords a pleasant luxurious to the preservation or recovery of health, through the agreeable medium of a well pleased palate.

Put up in a variety of attractive forms, in iron-bound cases of one and two dozen bottles each, and sold by all prominent druggists, grocers and town agents. A. M. BININGER & CO.,

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Premens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, giving immediate relief in cases of Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

Dose.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.

One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.

One dose will cure Heartburn.

Three doses will cure Indigestion.

One dose will give a good appetite.

One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing loud and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are troubled with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Personswho, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, pilfulness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit, three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

SALE OF AMERICAN SPECIE.—For sale at this office good silver American quarters at twelve and thirteen cents each.

The above announcement appeared in the Boston Post of Thursday. It excited in many astonishment similar to that experienced in Aladdin's time, when an individual publicly offered new lamps in exchange for old ones. On application at the Post counting-room several individuals discovered the fact that twelve and thirteen cents amounted to twenty-five cents. At last, however, one came along not so green as the author of the notice, and after being referred from one to another, found himself opposite a handsome natty-looking man, with whom the following dialogue took place:

Stranger — (With soap-box under his arm)—Have you any of those American quarters left?

Editor—Yes? Have you any twelve and thirteen cent pieces?

Stranger—(confidently.)—You advertise good silver American quarters at twelve and thirteen cents, I believe?

Editor—(Quizzically.)—Yes! But if you add twelve and thirteen together, my dear sir, you will find the result to be twenty-five cents, for which we advertised.

Stranger—(Convinced, and setting down soap box with a bang)—That's it exactly. I have thirty or forty dollars in cents here, done up in 25 cent bundles; it's all I could carry. I will bring some more right off,—pass over your thirty dollars in quarters.

Editor—(Aghast)—My dear sir, in this case we must suspend specie payments; you bring more cents into this office than we gave you credit for.

The Post of Friday morning contained the significant announcement "ALL SOLD." Whether this means "the quarters" or the editor, is left for the public to judge.—Com. Bulletin.

SUICIDE IN A STATION HOUSE.—On Friday night, Josephine Buchanan, a native of Lower Canada, 25 years of age, was taken to the Second Ward station house in New York, and locked up on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. Thirty minutes later the poor woman was discovered hanging by her shawl to the bars of the cell door. The body was instantly cut down, but the vital spark had flown.

Our Plan for Restoration of Harmony—Let all the Republican Electors vote for Mr. Breckinridge and Gen. Lane, with the understanding that the Cabinet offices shall be conferred on Mr. Rhett, Mr. Yancey, Mr. Wise, Mr. O'Conor, Judge Magrath, Mr. Toombs, and Mr. Hallett; and the ten highest foreign missions on the ten most determined secessionists in the Cotton States. The Charlestown Navy Yard might be removed to Charleston, and the Boston Custom House to Savannah.—Traveller.

Going to Grass—The secessionists, because they may want hay. As the North has supplied the South with much of its hay, the horses there must have become abolitionized, and may show a want of patriotism when required to charge. Old General Nansouty, when the French cavalry in Russia was breaking down, said that patriotism would do for the men, but not for the horses, the latter being so unreasonable as to require oats. It is purposed to substitute rice straw for hay in Carolina.—Straws show how the wind blows, and the Southern breezes are strong enough to blow off the hay.—Traveller.

☞ A workman employed at Ward's bone factory, Roxbury, named Owen Kienar, died Saturday noon, from the loss of blood. He was attempting to separate two fighting dogs, which he attempted to kick, but making a mis-step fell to the ground, forcing a sheath knife, confined to a belt, into his leg, above the knee, from which he bled to death.

ATWOOD'S
QUININE TONIC
BITTERS,
The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.
RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY
For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities.

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonic and stomachic s, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhea, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "but it is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1860.

MR. BURKE'S ADVICE.—The Democratic Standard takes it for granted that certain States will secede, and says:—

The General Government, so far as the seceding States are concerned, should ignore the fact of secession. (1) So far as foreign nations are concerned, she would recognize the fact and forbid interference. She should, if she could, collect the revenue under the laws of the Union, at all the ports of seceding States. (2) But, if the latter prefer to withdraw their Senators and Representatives in Congress let them do it; or if they prefer to suspend the Judiciary system of the United States within their limits, don't interfere. Or, if they choose to deprive themseves of the benefits of the Post office system, let them try the experiment. Let them live in this way out of the Union as they understand it, as long as they please. (3) But, when they choose to come back, permit them to do it, and receive them gladly with open arms, and not with taunts or recrimination. (4)

NOTES.—1. This is exactly the view we have taken in a former article on the subject. State Action cannot dissolve the Constitution of the United States.

2. She certainly can do this: Gen. Jackson and Gen. Scott did it. It can be done again.

3. We have taken this ground, almost in the same words.

4. Certainly no taunts; but with shouts of laughter. But seriously, let the General Government collect the duties on the coast of Carolina carefully;—and let the other items slide.

TRUE DOCTRINES.—We have always maintained the idea that the Constitution of the United States meant what it said, viz. that "new States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union,"—and we had also supposed that they might be kept out till Congress pleased to let them in; but the talk has been of late years, that may meant must, and that any and every self-made State must come in, after three raps.

Now it seems there is another doctrine, viz. that any State can also go out ad libitum. Put these two doctrines together, and our Union is worse than a rope of sand; it is no rope at all,—and we have no government at all; for certainly if new States can come in when they please, they can vote to get us in debt; and then, if they can also go out when they please, they can leave the debt behind them.

Texas, for example, beside the swindle, cost $10,000,000; and the war $40,000,000 more or so. And now, if Carolina may go, why not Texas?

AN ABOLITIONIST SENT HOME.—Joseph Sheldon, who represented the carriage manufactory of C. & D. Cook of New Haven, Connecticut, visited Wilson, North Carolina, on some business connected with the firm who employed him; while there he called on the clerk of the court or some business, and while in his office gave utterance to abolition sentiments; avowed himself an abolitionist and said that the firm who employed him were abolitionists also. He contended for his principles and made use of what was considered incendiary language. A committee waited on him and told him he could not be allowed to continue his journey South, and compelled him to take the first train North. He was escorted to the depot by a crowd with tin kettles and drums, but no violence was offered him.

☞ A horse attached to a wagon of Mr. Joseph Moulton, Newburyport, in which were two of his sons and a son of Rev. Mr. Vermilye, took fright and threw the driver out, the other children jumping out of the back of the carriage. The horse ran down Water street and over the Plum Island turnpike and bridge. Capt. Remick seeing the horse coming, put up his gate, over which the horse leaped, continuing his course to the basin, into which he plunged and was drowned.

HEAVY FALL OF ROCK AT NIAGARA FALLS.—On Saturday the 24th ult, at half-past one o'clock, there was a tremendous fall of rock a little south of the old staircase at the Falls, completely filling up the pathway leading to the new staircase. But a few minutes before the fall, a party was being conducted from the museum to the sheet of water. Had it happened at the time they were passing, all must have been crushed to pieces. It is supposed some thousands of tons fell.

AGE TO AGE.—In Fall River, on Thanksgiving day, A. S. Ballard, Esq., united in marriage Mr. Daniel D. Perry, aged eighty years, and Mrs. Esther Simmons, aged sixty-nine years. It is the third marriage of each. Both are uncommonly smart and active for persons of their advanced years.—Mr. Perry is a shoemaker, and still follows the business. The ceremony was witnessed by a couple aged seventy-nine years each.

☞ A daughter of Mr. McAfee of New Bedford, died in that city, Thursday, from injuries received by a stone thrown by a boy while attending an exhibition in Liberty Hall, on the 16th ult.

☞ The radical or John Brown abolition meeting, in Boston, which was overslaughed in Tremont Temple by a mob of rowdies,—was held on Monday evening in the African church in Joy street, which was protected by a strong police force, from the assaults of a mob of drunken patriots, who threatened to break up the meeting and burn the church. The Boston Post informs us that:—

Shortly after the adjournment of the meeting at Tremont Temple, five hundred posters, of which the following is a copy, appeared in the streets of Boston:

Citizens of Boston! The sympathizers of John Brown say they will held a meeting at Martin's church, in Joy street, This Monday Evening, Dec. 3d. Union Men! Shall IT be allowed? LET BOSTON SPEAK!

It of course attracted great attention.

The Boston Poston Post of Tuesday contains a very long report of the Meeting, which is headed with the lines:—

Anniversary of the Execution of John Brown; Great Commotion at Tremont Temple; The Abolitionists Squelched by the Conservative Masses at Boston, who desire to be no longer Misrepresented; National Men Chosen Officers; National Resolutions Passed.

The Courier of Tuesday says:—

We are not disposed to be very nice upon such an occasion, in discussing legal rights. This might be a clear case for the intervention of that higher law, so often appealed to by the Brownists themselves. * * Some people, whom we cannot but think ill-judging, talk of making martyrs of such wretches by resisting them. By neglecting to furnish them a proper expression of public sentiment, they have in fact victimized the better portion of the community in a most extraordinary degree. From an insignificant handful, by being permitted to go on in their own way, these martyred Abolitionists have at length contrived to get possession of the Commonweath by throwing themselves, and inducing others to throw with them, more than a hundred thousand votes for an Abolitionist.

These events, and especially these statements, remind Uncle Toby of the fact that "the Abolitionists were Squelched" about 25 years ago, in Boston, by the "mob of gentlemen of property and standing" who broke up a ladies' anti-slavery meeting, and took Mr. Garrison through the street with a rope about his neck.

It is also worthy of note that Hon. Caleb Cushing, at a later period, proposed to "crush out Abolitionism" in Massachusetts and New England.

And yet the Courier says that now, the Abolitionists possess the commonwealth, and that they and others with them have just thrown more than 100,000 votes for an Abolitionist.

It is quite probable that the new squelching and crushing will produce an effect very much like the older efforts of the same kind.

NEW CARRIAGE FACTORY.—We are glad to learn that Capt. A. Bancroft, of Newburyport, is fitting up the old Lesley Machine Shop, in that city, for the purpose of manufacturing Carriages. Newburyport, and Portsmouth too, ought to make at least, as many carriages as they wear out; but few or no covered carriages have been manufactured in either city for some years.

HOW THEY DO THINGS IN PARIS.—Spiridion, of the Traveller, writes from Paris:—

The Bishop of Poitiers preached last week the funeral sermon of Mons. Gicquel, one of the Pope's volunteers; three days afterwards Mons. Gicquel called upon the Bishop and thanked him for the flattering manner in which he had praised him. It is unwise to be in haste to bury even dead men. The manager of the Hippodrome, gave a young poet an album, and asked him to write some stanzas in it; the young man took the album home, and not only put his own poetry into it, but his friends seeing it on his table added their thoughts and autographs; in the course of time the album became full and is worth $600.—The young man kept the album for himself, seeing it full of his friends autographs.—The manager brought suit and recovered it.

FROM THE SOUTH.—Milledgeville, Ga., Dec. 3.—The House passed the retaliatory bill on Saturday. An amendment that the State withdraw its confederated faith from those States interposing obstacles to the rights of Georgians under the Constitution, and absolving all the officers of the State from the obligations of their oaths to support the Constitution, was voted down by 53 majority.

CHARLESTON, Dec. 3.—The conviction that coercion will be attempted daily grows stronger. The collection of customs will precipitate the issue. Speculations concerning the strength of the forts form the talk of the town. Many Charleston volunteer companies have placed themselves at the Governor's disposition, to be ready for any emergency.

THE INDIAN DEPREDATIONS.—Fort Kearney, Dec. 3.—The whole tribe of Cheyenne Indians will be here to morrow. A party arrived here to-day who disclaim any participation in the recent depredations committed by the Sioux. This is considered favorable for keeping the road open for the Pony Express and the Pike's Peakers.

SAINT PAUL AND THE ANGLO-SAXON TONGUE.—"Harper" says that a very worthy minister, settled not a hundred miles from Boston, was one Sunday morning descanting upon the importance of plain speaking: "Why, my hearers," said he, "St. Paul never used any 'highfalutin' expressions. No! he always spoke plain Anglo-Saxon."

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.

THE SENATE met at 12 o'clock, Mr. Breckinridge in the Chair.

Messrs. Benjamin, Chestnut, Clay, Grow, Hammond, Harlan, Iverson, Johnson of Arkansas, Johnson of Tennessee, Mallory, Pugh, Sebastian, Slidell, Thompson, Toombs and Wilkinson were absent.

A Committee was appointed to notify the President.

Twelve o'clock was fixed for the hour of meeting.

THE HOUSE met at 12 o'clock.

About 200 members responded to their names.

Good humor prevailed among the members before the Speaker called the House to order.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Stockton.

Messrs. McKenty of Pennsylvania, in place of Mr. Schwartz, deceased, Burnett of Missouri, and John Young Brown of Ky. appeared and were qualified.

Mr. Grow called up his motion made at the last session, to reconsider the vote on the Homestead bill, and moved the previous question, but subsequently withdrew his motion.

The hour of noon was adopted as the time of meeting.

The members then proceeded to draw for seats.

The following members were absent at the opening of the House: Messrs. Gooch and Dawes of Massachusetts; Burr, Van Wyck, Olin, Clark, and B. Cochran of New York, and all but one of the Mississippi delegation.

Mr. Washburn of Maine was excused from serving on the Committee of Ways and Means, as he would vacate his seat on the first of January.

Mr. Grow renewed his motion of reconsideration in reference to the Homestead bill.

WASHINGTON MATTERS.—The President expects to be assailed bitterly by the extreme faction in the South, for opposing the doctrine of secession and maintaining his duty under the Constitution in executing the existing laws.

Fearing that the Republicans and Douglas men may get control of the Senate by the absenteeism of Democrats, the President has summoned the faithful.

Mr Cobb's Report is short, and contains only a practical exhibit of the state of the Treasury. There is not money enough at the command of the Secretary to pay members of Congress in full to-morrow without incurring the risk of being without funds to redeem the Treasury Notes which may be presented.

About $10,000,000 of Treasury notes including those already paid in, falls due early next month, and about $6,000,000 by June next.

Mr. Seward is expected to make an important speech on the condition of the country, soon after the delivery of the Message, and to take the role of pacificator.

The Republican members have come here in the best possible temper, with no desire to contribute to any excitement, and with every disposition to proceed with the public business promptly and efficiently.

Mr. Leach of North Carolina says his State will stand by the Union under all circumstances.

Mr. Bouligny of Louisiana says all his correspondence indicates undivided Union sentiments, and that the North can no more repeal their obnoxious measures under threats, than the South can remain in the Union under force.

Anderson of Missouri, Adams of Kentucky, and Burnett of Kentucky, are strongly Union.

Nelson and Etheridge say that Tennessee cannot be forced out except by actual northern aggression.

Members from the Cotton States say if the North should repeal all their Personal Liberty bills, and give the South carte blanche to write as many clauses in the constitution as they pleased, they would reject the offer, claiming that the States which would not respect the provisions of the present Constitution, would not hesitate to violate any new provisions inserted.

The N. Y. Herald's correspondent writes:

"A number of prominent, non-political influential southern planters and merchants of the highest respectability, arrived here on Saturday morning, and called upon the President. These gentlemen represent slave property to the amount of $4,000,000, which, while in the Union, they believe to be comparatively safe, while out of the Union they contend there is no safety.—The majority of them left here for their homes last evening, and hope to return in a few days with unmistakable evidence of the predominance of the conservative and Union sentiment of the South."

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—The Herald correspondent says the conclusion is almost unanimous among the Republican members of Congress that they will offer no compromise.

The Times correspondent says it is understood that the Republican members are a unit in favor of a compromise.

The naval estimates for the year are over eleven and a half millions.

The President's Message makes eight columns in the "Constitution." 3 1-2 columns are devoted to secession.

THE POST OFFICE.—According to official data there were 28,498 Post Offices in the the United States on the 30th of June last.

The Postal Expenditures last year for the Transportation of Inland Mails, Route Agents, Local Agents, &c.	$13,453,225 17
Transporting of Foreign Mails	469,624 13
For California and Oregon, via Panama	358,804 97
For pay of Postmasters, Clerks, &c. and balances to foreign countries	4,889,127 35
Total	$19,170,782 15
Deduct payments for 1859	4,296,009 26
Actual expenditures of 1860	$14,874,772 89
Actual revenue	8,518,067 40
Deficit	$6,356,705 49

NEBRASKA LEGISLATURE.—Omaha, Nebraska, Dec. 3.—The Legislature was organized to-day by the choice of Republican officers. The Governor's message will be delivered to-morrow.

EASILY SWINDLED.—The Lawrence Mass. Daily Journal, says that in the Police Court of Lawrence, Charles H. Garland was brought in on charge of obtaining money under false pretences. Garland, lately from Lowell, has been sending circulars to different individuals over the country, under the assumed name "E. B. Mason," promising in the same to mail any one, on receipt of one dollar, a recipe for "getting a living without work." A letter was taken from the office the other day, and opened through mistake, by Mr. E. J. Mason, and a dollar found in it. The writer said he had been trying to find a way of getting a living without work for some time, and had as often failed, that he thought it must be something like buying a lottery ticket, however he was willing to try him,—ergo the dollar. Mr. Mason handed the letter over to the City Marshal, who waited at the P. O. and arrested him. Some twenty-five letters from all parts of the country were found, directed to "E. B. Mason." It is supposed they all contain a dollar each.

His Honor the Judge decided that getting a living without work, was a theory which as yet had failed to be demonstrated, the case would go to a higher court; and therefore he ordered the young man of "circulars" to recognize in $1000 for appearance at the Superior Court to be holden at Salem, next January, in default of which, he was committed to jail.

COKE FOR SALE,

At the PORTSMOUTH GAS WORKS, at 20 cts. per barrel, cash on delivery, during the month of December. J. TRUNDY, Agent.

BUT ONE WEEK.

DR. B. C. PERRY,

THE CELEBRATED DERMATOLOGIST,

In accordance with the repeated solicitations he has received from some of the first citizens of Portsmouth during his stay in Portland, having closed his office in Portland after a successful practice of five months, has concluded to remain one week in PORTSMOUTH—when all who are suffering from

Loss of Hair, Premature Blanching, or any Disease of the Scalp,

can consult him.

DR. PERRY is prepared to treat successfully the following diseases, all of which are productive of a loss of hair.

Debilitation of the External Skin, Suppressed Secretion, Irritation of the Scalp, Dandruff or Thickened Secretion, Inflammation of the Sensitive Skin, Matterated Secretion, Hair Eater, Distended or Swollen Roots, and Premature Blanching.

This is the only method based upon Physiological principles which has ever been presented to the public for the restoration of the hair.

Dr. Perry's Theory of treating Diseased Scalps and Restoring the Hair.—There are eighteen diseases of the head and scalp, that cause a loss of of hair, and in some cases premature blanching, each requiring in its treatment different remedies. Where loss of hair has resulted from any of those diseases, the first thing to be done is to remove the disease, by a proper course of treatment, restore the scalp to its normal condition, keep the pores open so the secretion can pass off, and in every follicle that is open, new strands of hair will make their appearance

The philosophy of premature blanching is this: Iron and Oxygen are the principle constituents of Dark hair, Lime and Magnesia of Light hair. When the suppressed secretion between the skins contains an excess of Lime, it is taken up by the strands, causing the hair to turn white; by opening the pores the accumulation of Lime passes off with the secretions, the natural components of the hair resume their ascendancy, and the hair assumes its natural color.

Because persons have tried various preparations for the hair, and have been deceived by them, and in some cases their difficulty made worse by their use, they should not be discouraged. The one preparation system for any class of diseases, must necessarily be a failure. No one compound can be available for a dozen or more diseases; it may remove some difficulties—in other cases useless, in some positively injurious.

Dr. Perry's method is in accordance with the law of cause and effect. He makes a personal examination, ascertains what disease of the scalp has or is producing a loss of hair or premature whitening, prescribes such remedies, according to its nature and requirements, as will remove the disease. Hence his great success in treating capillary diseases.

ALL CONSULTATIONS FREE.

Special Notices.

Catarrh is the most difficult of any of the Diseases of the Breathing Organs to relieve or to cure. The Rev. Joshua Leavitt, editor of the Independent of New York, who had the Catarrh for more than twenty years, has been cured by using Dr. J. S. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron and Sulphur Powders, which are advertised in this paper. His testimonial is published in a pamphlet among others equally prominent who have been cured of chronic Throats and Lung difficulties, which will be sent free by mail.

Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas.

It is now generally admitted that all eruptive diseases depend upon some internal or constitutional cause, and that to use ointments or washes for them is a sure way to injure the system, and only to drive in, not to cure the disease. But HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC SALT RHEUM PILLS are a true specific for all such diseases. They cure Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Erysipelas, Pimples on the face, Ringworm, and Nettle Rash, by curing the cause upon which they depend, and restoring the skin to a state of health and purity. Thus not only is the disease cured, but the softness and beauty of the complexion restored.

Price, 25 cents per box, with directions. Six boxes $1.

Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

THE MOST EFFECTUAL REMEDY FOR COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION, &c.

The most solemn assurance is given that there is not a fact stated with respect to the powers of this invaluable remedy, which is not fully established in every class of cases for which it is recommended, by a mass of evidence which must carry conviction to the most skeptical mind; and the medicine, though thus highly effectual in its remedial character, is in the utmost degree innocent in its composition, and may be taken by the most delicate. It invariably gives relief within TEN MINUTES in all cases; and a few days' perseverance will be sufficient to effect a cure in all recent attacks of Coughs or Cold. They are pleasant to the taste, the active principle of the herbs being combined with sugar in the least objectionable form, and any child will readily take them.

The Great English Remedy!

Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female Pills

Prepared from a Prescription of

SIR J. CLARKE, M. D.,

Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

The Proprietors hold hundreds of testimonials to the virtues of SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS, but their peculiar nature prevents publication; but certain it is that they are the only safe and safe remedy in use for all those painful and dangerous diseases peculiar to the female constitution. In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed. They never fail to moderate excesses and to remove obstructions, from whatever cause. They are purely vegetable, and will not injure the most delicate constitution.—For particulars, send for a pamphlet to the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, by return mail. nov28 dawSm

WISTAR'S BALSAM WILD CHERRY

Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Quinsy, and the numerous as well as dangerous diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, prevail, in our changeable climate, at all seasons of the year; few are fortunate enough to escape their baneful influence. How important, then, to have at hand a certain antidote to all these complaints. Experience proves that this exists in Wistar's Balsam to an extent not found in any other remedy; however severe the suffering, the application of this soothing, healing and wonderful Balsam at once vanquishes the disease, and restores the sufferer to wonted health.

From a Respectable Druggist.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 8, 1860.

MESSRS. S. W. FOWLE & CO., Boston.—

Gents:—Please send me a fresh supply of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. We are selling large quantities of this long celebrated remedy for Coughs and Colds, and it bids fair to outlive most of the so-called specifics which are now in vogue. We can confidently recommend it as a remedy for what it is intended. Very truly yours,

NATHAN P. THACHER.

Mr. D. H. TEAGUE, of Turner Village,

Writes the proprietors of this great remedy, as follows:

TURNER VILLAGE, ME., July 31, 1860.

MESSRS. SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston.—

Gents:—I do not hesitate to recommend DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for coughs and pulmonary affections, having used it in my family for many years with great satisfaction; indeed it has done more good than all the other remedies I have tried, and their name is legion. If all the patent medicines in the market possessed but a portion of the merits of this excellent Balsam, there would be no occasion to condemn them as humbugs.

The medicine is also used by many of my friends and acquaintances in this town, and they have found it invaluable; and I hope that others who suffer may give it a fair trial. Very respectfully,

D. H. TEAGUE.

POLICE COURT, Nov. 3.—Before Justice Odell—Smith Chapman was fined $5 and costs, ($8,86,) for beating his wife Julia;—and put under $30 bonds to keep the peace till the next term of the Court.

☞In answer to numerous inquiries, and for the gratification of those who love to sing and to hear "the good old songs our fathers sung,"—we are enabled to state that it is proposed to call the Old Folks' Choir together at an early day, for a social sing, and to consider any business which may come before them.

☞The second annual SALE (of clothing, fancy articles, &c.,) by the Ladies' Domestic Missionary Society, of the Unitarian Parish, will take place on Wednesday, Dec. 5th, from 3 to 9 o'clock P. M., at the Court street Chapel. The proceeds of the sale are to be devoted to the Isles of Shoals Mission.

We would call the attention of the public to this Sale, this afternoon and evening. The Society has done a great amount of good, and its usefulness seems increasing.—We hope the hearts of the ladies (and through them, the subjects of the Mission) will be made glad by a crowd of liberal purchasers. And not only for its object, is the Sale worthy of notice; but also because many articles for use or ornament, may be procured there, which cannot be purchased elsewhere at any price.

REMOVAL—not political,—from office; it is not time for that sort of thing, yet.—But a change of location of stable-keepers, we mean. Messrs. Wm. S. Hadley (who is long and well known as a hotel-keeper in Portsmouth) and Moses H. Tilton, who have kept livery at the stone stable for two or three years past, on Tuesday removed their stock of horses and carriages to Lewiston Falls, Me., where they have just erected a new stable.

Mr. Nathan Jones has leased the Stone Stable, which we understand he is to conduct in connexion with his own livery on Vaughan street.

CAROLINA FINANCIERING.—The Charleston Mercury proposes that the State of South Carolina issue bills receivable in payment for all dues to the State, in order to raise money to arm the State. The annual State tax is $600,000, and $400,000 more is required for the special object named.

The Mercury also contains an article recommending the purchase of ever so many great guns of the most approved modern kind, in France and Germany:—and as time is pressing, and no money is to be had, it recommends the fitting out of an ocean steamer, to be loaded with cotton, and to go direct from Charleston to Europe, with a special commissioner, who shall trade off the cotton and bring home the great guns.

The article does not tell us who will make a donation of the cotton,—nor how much the steamer's trip will cost,—nor how much the cotton will sell for in Havre,—nor how much clear money will be left in the Commissioner's hands after the freight is paid.

But if the writer had put the question to any shipping merchant or broker in Charleston, How many great guns could be bought with the net proceeds of the steamer's cargo?—the answer would probably have been, Not many;—for the freight per steamer would eat a big hole in the cargo,—not to mention the insurance.

☞Election in Newburyport, Dec. 10th. The Herald says, "who shall be mayor?" is the question in the streets. They have now in Hon. Moses Davenport and Rev. D. P. Pike, the same candidates that met each other in so fierce a struggle in 1854, when the former was elected. Then as now Mr. Davenport was the citizens' choice, and Mr. Pike was then the Know Nothing candidate, and now the Republican. In that year the Americans swept the city as largely as the Republicans have now; and the result was as much in doubt.

INCENDIARY.—The Irish boy Winkley was examined before the Police Court of Newburyport, on Saturday, for arson, and was committed to jail for trial. The evidence is considered very conclusive. He is about 18 years of age, of a very unprepossessing cast of countenance, indicating an inferior mind. He undoubtedly has been the cause of most of the incendiary fires for a year past in Newburyport, and has had a good deal of cunning in being able to thus far escape.

☞A fine bull calf, Alderney and Durham, owned by P. J. Wheeler, Esq., of Newport, N.H., was recently sold to the Society of Shakers, at Enfield, for $100. The calf was 6 months old, and weighed 600 pounds.

☞We are glad to learn that the health of Rev. Dr. Whittemore continues to improve. He walked out on Thursday, and his friends are entertaining the warmest hopes of his recovery.

☞A dwelling house in North Norway, Maine, owned and occupied by Mr. Bela Noyes, an old gentleman, was destroyed by fire, and Mr. N. perished in the flames.

THE KANSAS TROUBLES.—Boliver, Mo., Dec. 3.—Col. Snyder has just returned from the border, and reports to the Governor that all was quiet. Fort Scott had not been, nor was there any probability of its being invaded. No one had been molested there. There was no occasion for the District Court leaving the Territory. Montgomery had hung Messrs. Scott, Hines and Harrison, and shot Bishop and Moore in the Territory. His force consisted of about 275 ragged, well armed thieves, whose only object was plunder.

WARSAW, Mo., Dec. 3.—Dr. Melton represents Fort Scott as quiet. Montgomery's band, 500 strong was at Sugar Mound. Weston was entirely deserted, the inhabitants fearing an attack. Several citizens had been ordered to leave under the penalty of death.

The citizens of Clinton held a public meeting and urged the Governor to hold all persons from Southern Kansas, who reported that there was no trouble there, as members of Montgomery's band and accessory to the murders committed there.—The meeting also declared for a Southern Republic if the country is not protected.

General Frost's Brigade is near Clinton, and a messenger says the cavalry must now be near the scene of trouble.

LEAVENWORTH, Dec. 3.—Montgomery attended church yesterday at Lawrence.

OLD SOUTH CHURCH.

"If the Lord will," meetings for worship and religious reading will be held at the "OLD SOUTH" MEETING HOUSE on SUNDAYS, at the regular hours.

The chief object of these meetings is to attract the attention and interest of persons not connected with any existing religious organization, and to excite and strengthen the feeling of the important bearing of these things on individual and social welfare.

It is designed that the operations shall embody the plan of a Free Church; at the same time giving an opportunity to all such persons as would prefer to contribute towards its expenses and for its permanent establishment; to do so.

Also it is not proposed to call personally for any outside aid—but if there are persons who would like to favor the enterprise, the first necessary application of a few (and but a few) dollars, would be to set the glass and slightly improve the outside of the building, thus preventing it from being any longer a disgrace to the city, and the Parish between whom and it are connected so many venerable associations.

In regard to the style of the services, the present method of most Congregational Churches will be varied by the introduction of the reading of the Psalms in alternate verses by the congregation—and for the present, in the absence of any regular preacher, to use the best published sermons.

The first one used will be the first great Gospel Sermon ever preached, which was from the mouth of our Lord Jesus Christ—"the Sermon on the Mount." A. J. PENHALLOW, in behalf of the cause.

N. B.—It is requested that all who can do so conveniently, should bring Bibles and Hymn Books. If singing is had, it will be by depending on volunteers.

Persons who would be subject, from the condition of the building, to cold and sickness, had perhaps best defer attendance for one or two Sabbaths, until some better arrangements can be made. dec4 daw 1w*

NEW FALL STOCK,

1860,

ANOTHER NEW STOVE

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL,

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY

Of Providence, R. I.

In introducing a new Cook Stove, of singularly novel construction and arrangement, it is proper that we speak of its peculiar merits.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven, with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is the most durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires: or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high-priced Air-Tight Cook Stoves, but will barely allude to them, viz:

1st. The double plates each side of the fire prevent any leak of ashes into the oven and make the stove more durable.

2d. The admission of external air between these plates, for the ventilation of the roasting oven, tends also to the preservation of the plates most exposed to destruction.

3d. The durable dump grate, with the ash box of ample size to receive the ashes and coals, is an attractive feature of the stove.

4th. The draft door, at each end of the fire box, is a great convenience when a quick fire is wanted

5th. The movable ash pan, which, though it forms a hearth to the stove, need not be used except once or twice a day for taking up and carrying away the ashes.

6th. The stove has but one damper, and but one division of flues on the back of and under the oven, ensuring a very quick bake.

7th The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and tin jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

This stove was thoroughly tested before brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial of the stove.

John Trundy, Esq., one of our most practical and scientific mechanics, who has had large experience in the construction of stove patterns in years past, and has for many years been using one of the Stewart Stoves, has purchased one of the MODEL COOKS, and after a fair trial pronounces it far superior to the Stewart or any stove he has ever seen, for economy, convenience and dispatch We might also refer to several other parties who are using the stove, and who award it the very highest praise.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be the stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is wanted.

We have nought to say against any other stove, believing that a man can sell his own goods without depreciating his neighbor's; but this we do say, that we honestly believe this is the best stove that can be found in the world; and what is more, we think others will agree with us after a trial of it. We invite any one to examine the stove, whether they wish to purchase or not.

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The best generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

Morning Chronicle.

A paragraph recently went the rounds that Col. Fremont's mines yielded $200 per day. The amount of deposits at Col. Fremont's bankers, from the Mariposa mills, was $51,000 for the month of September, and a fraction over $60,000 for the month of October. The "cleaning up" which occurs about once in ten days, shows an average yield per day of $2500.

'I'M SO SLEEPY.'—A mother says: 'One night my little girl crept into my lap, and ere I was aware of it, fell asleep. I took her up to her little bed, but before putting her in, I said, "Nellie must not forget her prayer." She commenced—"Now I lay me down to sleep—God knows the rest," she murmured, and the white lids closed over the bright eyes, and she was asleep again.'

☞ It will be seen, by the California news, that California and Oregon have both voted for Lincoln and Hamlin, who thus get the electoral votes of all the free states, except three in New Jersey.

An application for divorce was recently made in a neighboring State by 'a well-to do man' on the ground that his wife 'surported all her relations by stealing, and carrying away, and giving them his property.

☞ The boatswain of the American ship Jeremiah Thompson, of New York, lying in the Mersey, kicked a sailor to death, and then, fearing arrest, jumped overboard and drowned himself.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, Under the act of 1837.

70 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,

FOR MAKING

Broad, Tea Cakes

All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,

MANUFACTURED BY

EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,

Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,
NO. 33 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating house keepers, bakers, &c., &c.

Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferment, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a barrel of flour made in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a more natural and efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, made by the common method ordinarily makes about 250 lbs. gives by this process 290 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 10 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES.

Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

"I have analyzed the Concentrated LEAVEN manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in leavening dough and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, and I have no doubt, being but a vegetable salt, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast, while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook.

"The results of my analysis by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and prove this compound worthy of public approval and extended use. Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."

HOW TO USE IT.

We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.

BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour,) to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing two or three times through a sieve; rub in a tablespoonful of lard to the size of an egg, and make the paste thin with cold milk or water, (milk is preferable,) barely stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much handling should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.

LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.

GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal, sifted together, add one teaspoonful of salt, and make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.

BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonsful of Leaven in one pint of bran, and one pint of corn meal, all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make one quart of batter; add one egg, ben three teaspoonfuls of Leaven; beat to a froth, and cook quick.

DUMPLINGS.—Sift together one quart of flour and two teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; rub in a piece of butter half as large as an egg; mix with cold milk or water, and tie ten minutes.

CHAMBER STREET CAKE.—Sift together two large cups of flour and two teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; put in half a cup of butter and a cup and a half of sugar; add milk or water or milk to a stiff batter, and spice to suit the taste, and bake immediately.

CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs—the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth; then beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of milk, and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; flavor with two teaspoonsful of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.

JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three tea spoonfuls of Leaven; rub in one teacupful of butter; add a cup and a half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out, and bake quick.

ELECTION CAKE.—One quart of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; add a cup of butter, one pound of currants, two cups of white sugar, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon; mix with cold milk to a stiff batter, and bake in a slow oven.

CORN CAKE.—One pint each of flour and Indian meal, and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, well sifted together; add one gill of molasses and two eggs; make thin with milk and bake in a slow oven.

CUP CAKE.—Five cups of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one cup of butter, two of sugar, and two eggs, all well beat together; mix with milk; then add a cup of currants, and spice to suit the taste. Bake about half an hour.

CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE

PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions invariably are necessarily in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued attrition of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

IN NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the opinion of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old order, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and never heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of obstipation, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

IN DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, one of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when of various years of SECRECY, continued, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local disease, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been tried with EVERY EFFICACY, and is alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

Yet, all this would probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects—good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

The established popularity of this CHOICE OLD BOURBON as a medicinal agent, renders it superfluous to mention in detail the characteristics which distinguish it from the ordinary grade of Kentucky Whiskey.

Being distilled in 1848, and manufactured expressly for us with great care, it can be relied upon as a strictly pure stimulant, and peculiarly effective for the treatment of Lung Complaints, Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Stomach, Nervousness, &c.
